

NATIONAL TELECONFERENCE

PRODUCED BY THE NATIONAL RESOURCE CENTER FOR THE FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE®
& STUDENTS IN TRANSITION, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

CULTIVATING CAMPUS CULTURES THAT VALUE STUDENT SUCCESS

The culture of any organization has an enormous influence on what happens to members of that group. For any of us who seriously contemplate making our campuses more effective in promoting learning and success in our first-year students, we must consider the powerful role played by campus culture. Before initiating change, we need to understand what works and what doesn't on our campuses.

- What does your institution value?
- What people and activities are celebrated?
- Do your standard operating procedures reflect what your mission says is desirable?
- Do you feel change is necessary to achieve campus goals, but feel powerless to accomplish it?

Join our panelists, who have successfully influenced campus cultures, as they tackle these and other fundamental questions, and offer strategies to broach this all-important conversation on your campus.

The live, interactive teleconference offers you the opportunity to ask questions of the panelists via phone, fax, or e-mail.
