Hello, OLLI at UNT Family!

Welcome to OLLI at UNT's Virtual Summer Semester. Like each of you, OLLI has had to adapt to the unforeseen circumstances brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic. Because your health is of utmost importance to us, we are offering our summer program online, to be enjoyed from the comfort and safety of your own home. We are so grateful to the amazing OLLI faculty who pivoted quickly to record the educational lectures that have made this virtual semester possible. We are also thankful to you, our fantastic OLLI members, who have been patient, flexible, and understanding with the temporary changes we have had to make to ensure your safety.

This summer catalog includes 16 exclusive pre-recorded video lectures from new and returning OLLI faculty members. In addition to these videos, we have purchased three incredible multi-lecture courses from The Great Courses to share with you. In total, we've assembled over 50 hours of educational videos for you to watch on your own time from June 1st through August 31st. Additionally, we have compiled a list of free and public resources for learning, like virtual museum tours and digital archives, for you to enjoy. Although travel might not be on the front of your mind right now, be sure to check out the three amazing trips we're offering for next year. Our 2021 Trip Reveal is also virtual this summer, in the form of a video presentation that's now available on our website.

Although this summer semester is different than semesters past, we believe you will enjoy the content that has been made just for you during this difficult time. Our OLLI at UNT staff remains available to you via email. We miss seeing your smiling faces and look forward to the day when we can learn together in person. Until then, enjoy our first ever virtual semester!

Warm regards,

Stephanie Reinke, Ed.D.

Director, OLLI at UNT

LEARNING FROM HOME

HOW WE ARE ADAPTING TO COVID-19

This summer, instead of enrolling in courses that meet in one of our classrooms, members will request access to pre-recorded lectures and view them on a computer or mobile device. No special software is required to view these lectures, only an internet connection. As always, there are no tests or grades involved with our lectures.

Due to the uncertainties caused by COVID-19, we are not offering annual memberships to new members at this time. New members can join at a special single semester rate of $40 for this summer. We will announce our membership options for our Fall 2020 semester at a later date.

At the time of this catalog's release on May 29, all OLLI at UNT staff are still working remotely. Sending an email to olli@unt.edu is the best way to contact us for the time being. However, we're able to listen to voicemails that come in to our office phone number: 940-369-7293. If you leave a detailed message that includes your email address, we will respond to you via email during our normal business hours, which remain Monday - Friday from 8:00am - 5:00pm.

For the latest updates on our pandemic-related policies, visit olli.unt.edu/covid-19. We will notify all members once our staff is cleared to return to work in our offices at 1716 Scripture Street in Denton.

BECOME A MEMBER

Summer 2020 Membership Fee: $40 per person

Register Online: olli.unt.edu/virtual

New members who join OLLI at UNT during our Summer 2020 Virtual Semester will be granted exclusive access to all video lectures in this catalog (over 50 hours of educational video content) until August 31, 2020. No additional fees are required.

RETURNING MEMBERS

All active annual memberships are being extended by one semester to compensate for the six weeks of scheduled courses we lost this spring due to the pandemic. All members who were active during our Spring 2020 semester will have access to our Summer 2020 video lectures at no additional cost.

Members who paid an additional fee for a trip or special event that was cancelled due to the pandemic have a credit for that amount in their OLLI account. This credit can be used towards future trips, special events, or membership renewal. In order to claim this credit, please contact olli@unt.edu or 940-369-7293 before registering and paying for a future event or membership renewal.

GIFT MEMBERSHIPS

Do you know someone who would enjoy a summer membership in OLLI at UNT? Go to olli.unt.edu/gift to learn how you can purchase a membership for them.

ENROLLMENT INSTRUCTIONS

Beginning on Monday, June 1, use any of the methods below to access our video lectures (including The Great Courses).

Member Portal

- Sign in to the Member Portal (olli.unt.edu/members) and click the Categories menu option on the top right corner of your screen.
- Select the Videos category and then click the Add to Cart button beneath the video lecture you'd like to watch.
 - You will then be taken to your cart. If you need to continue adding videos, click your internet browser's back button to return to the previous page and continue adding videos to your cart.
- Once you have added all of your desired videos to your cart, complete the check out process. No payment will be required. When you've finished, the Member Portal will display a message letting you know that your order has been completed.
- You will receive instructions on how to access each video in a confirmation email.

Phone or Email

- Call 940-369-7293 to let us know which video lectures you would like to access.
 - If we're not in our office due to pandemic-related restrictions, please leave a detailed voicemail including the videos you'd like to access and your email address. We're able to listen to voicemails while working from home and will respond to you via email.
- Email olli@unt.edu to let us know which video lectures you would like to access.

EVALUATIONS

When you've finished watching one of our instructors' videos, please go to oli.unt.edu/evaluations and complete an evaluation form for the lecture. All submissions are anonymous. We welcome constructive criticism that is worded respectfully so that we can provide our faculty with feedback from members in their own words.

Since we aren't able to host face-to-face courses this semester, our evaluation form now includes a field for members to submit questions to each faculty member. We will pass along member questions on a regular basis and post any written responses we receive on the handout page of our website. More details on this process are included below.

FACULTY HANDOUTS AND Q&A

We post the handouts we receive from our faculty on our website: oli.unt.edu/handouts. As stated in the section above, we will also be posting written faculty responses to member questions on our handout page.

Like the rest of the world, we have begun using video conferencing technology to stay connected. This semester, we are offering an online Q&A session with one of our summer faculty members. Dr. Laura Evans, who has produced two video lectures on art theft and will also be leading one of our international trips in 2021, has agreed to participate in a Zoom Q&A session on Thursday, July 2 from 2pm - 3pm.

Learn more about how you can use Zoom to join us for this session at oli.unt.edu/zoom.

OLLI AT UNT VIDEO LECTURES

SUMMER 2020

The following video lectures are being made available exclusively to OLLI at UNT members.

Introduction to the World's Longest History Lesson

In this lecture, Dr. Andrew Torget explains how and why he set a Guinness World Record in 2018 for the World's Longest History Lesson. Dr. Torget's record-breaking lesson lasted 26.5 hours, covered Texas History from prehistory through the Great Depression, and ultimately helped support The Portal to Texas History. This lecture serves as a primer for those who want to watch all or part of the World's Longest History lesson on The Portal to Texas History.

Dr. Andrew Torget is a historian of 19th century North America at UNT, where he directs a digital humanities lab. A veteran of pioneering work in digital scholarship, he has been a featured speaker at Harvard, Stanford, Rice, Duke, Johns Hopkins, and the Library of Congress. His book, Seeds of Empire, won twelve major book prizes and was hailed by by Texas Monthly as "the most nuanced and authoritative rewriting of the Texas origin myth to date."

Once you've watched Dr. Torget's introduction, go to olli.unt.edu/torget to view his entire record-breaking lesson, divided into manageable units of about an hour or less.

Vexillology: Texas Style

Vexillology is the scientific study of the history, symbolism, and usage of flags or, by extension, any interest in flags in general. What do you know about our Lone Star Flag? Enjoy this lecture and learn a few new facts about what makes her special.

Professor Emeritus Diana Mason holds a Ph.D. in Science Education with the emphasis in chemistry. She taught chemistry for 33 years until her retirement from UNT in 2012. In 2016, she was commissioned by Governor Abbott as an Admiral in the Texas Navy, recognizing her passion for the great state of Texas.

Maintaining & Improving Your Mental Skills As You Age

This video lecture focuses on the aging of our mental skills, the complex picture of growth and decline and the reasons for such changes. Specific recommendations and techniques for maintaining and improving one's mental skills as persons grow older are provided.

Dr. Bert Hayslip, Jr. received his doctorate in Experimental/Developmental Psychology from the University of Akron in 1975. He was on the UNT faculty from 1978 to 2013, where he is now Regents Professor Emeritus. He has taught Psychology of Aging, Life Span Developmental Psychology, and Death and Dying at UNT as well as many courses relevant to lifelong learning for OLLI at UNT.

Improving Your Memory: How To Remember Not To Forget

This lecture will enable members to understand the ways in which we understand memory in later life. The lecture explores the many influences on memory and enable members to learn new skills to improve your memory.

Dr. Bert Hayslip, Jr. (see bio above)

Child Abuse: The Problem & The Response

From the US Gymnastics Team to the Catholic Church, it seems like reports of child sexual abuse have skyrocketed lately. Watch this lecture to learn the dynamics of abuse: who is committing these crimes, how do they do it, and what can we do to stop it?

Kristen Howell, LMSW, is the Chief Executive Officer of the Children's Advocacy Center of Denton County. Kristen has worked in the field of social work and family violence for the last 23 years. She graduated from Baylor University with a Bachelor's in Social Work and the University of North Carolina with her MSW.

Detective Joe Adcock is a nationally recognized child crimes expert who works in the Flower Mound Police Department.

International Relations and the Coronavirus Pandemic

This video lecture focuses on the challenges in coordinating an international response to the COVID-19 pandemic and explores the consequences of the pandemic for international relations.

Dr. Michael Greig is a Professor of Political Science at UNT with a primary research and teaching expertise in international relations. His work explores the forces that cause the outbreak of conflict and the tools that are most effective in transitioning war to a stable peace.

F is for Forgery: Art Crime at SMU's Meadows Museum of Art

When billionaire Algur Meadows, founder of the Meadows Museum of Art, decided to collect art, he did so with much enthusiasm, but with no experience in art collecting. His new affection for art attracted some unsavory characters from the world of art crime that were keen to exploit Mr. Meadows' fortunes. Learn how Mr. Meadows came to own a spectacular collection of forgeries created by Elmyr de Hory, a renowned art criminal who has been called "the greatest forger of our time."

Dr. Laura Evans is an Associate Professor of Art History and Art Education and the Coordinator of the Art Museum Education Certificate at UNT. Evans has interned or worked at galleries across the world.

Missing: Goya's Duke of Wellington & da Vinci's The Mona Lisa

In 1961, Francisco Goya's famed portrait of the Duke of Wellington was stolen from Britain's National Gallery. It was a scandal that rocked and enthralled the country. Uncover the mysterious motives of the art thief, how British law was changed due to the heist of the Duke, and why James Bond is connected to the Duke of Wellington. Then dive into the theft of The Mona Lisa from the Louvre in 1911 and discover what connects these two infamous thefts of art.

Dr. Laura Evans (see bio above)

Q&A with Dr. Evans

Ask Dr. Evans about her video lectures or the trip she's leading for us in 2021!

Your Family History: Thinking About Different Ways To Share Your History

Family history is the story of the lives of family members and their relationships. With the advent of the Internet, you now have the option of producing your family history in multiple ways, i.e., blogs, websites, videos, and Facebook, to name a few. This video lecture will introduce you to a variety of family history stories and provide you some the key elements you need to consider when writing.

Dr. Emily C. Richardson worked in higher education for 30 years as an administrator and a tenured faculty member, before retiring in December 2018 to follow her genealogy passion and open her genealogy business, Kinsearchers. She has done genealogy research for over 40 years and has taught this topic to college students, adult learners and in two other lifelong learning institutes.

Resilience: Your Most Important Muscle

This lecture on resilience is based on research and studies proving that our personal and professional resilience is an intentional habit that directly affects our feelings of fulfillment, gratitude, and grit. The lecture includes strategies on shifting our focus to serving others, deliberately placing our stressors into proper perspective, and clearing the mental fog to power forward through times of personal and national turbulence.

Mercedes Ramirez Johnson narrowly survived a commercial airplane crash in 1995 that killed 160 people, including her parents. She presents her proprietary Second Chance Living concept, an innovative mindset and approach with a proven track record, to organizations such as General Electric, ExxonMobil, Microsoft, NASA, Chevron, and the various branches of the US Armed Forces. Mercedes and her story have been the subject of considerable national and international media coverage.

Protecting Your Good Name: Identity Theft

In this lecture, UNT Police Community Relations Officer Causey discusses what identity theft is, what to look for, and ways to protect yourself.

Officer David Causey is the Community Relations Officer for the UNT Police Department. He has been with the Department for 8 years (7 years on patrol). He is a graduate of UNT, Certified TCOLE instructor, a certified Gracie Survival Instructor, and a Field Training Officer.

Understanding the Partisan Divide

In this video lecture, members will learn about the Graves Theory of human psychosocial development, and explore how it applies to them and their interactions with their families, friends, and our society in general. The objective will be to better understand the strong divisions we see in our country today.

Rick Thomas has been a university professor, a manager with the IBM Corporation, and a Life Coach. He enjoys helping others in their quest to better understand themselves and the world we live in.

UNTold Stories: Capturing Your Memories Through Audio & Video

What better way to ensure your memories last a lifetime than by capturing them using audio and video? In this video lecture, you will learn the basics of telling a compelling story and how to record your story using simple audio and video tools. You will then have the option to upload your recording to UNT's UNTold Stories project, the StoryCorps audio library, or both.

Erin Cristales currently serves as a Communications Strategist for UNT's Division of University Brand Strategies and Communications. She is a Certified Journalism Educator who previously taught multimedia storytelling strategies in Red Oak and Denton ISDs and worked for newspapers including the Abilene Reporter-News and The Dallas Morning News.

St. Patrick's Day Celebrations: Beyond Parades, Music, and Pubs

A religious holiday to honor St. Patrick, who introduced Christianity to Ireland in the fifth century, St. Patrick's Day has evolved into celebrations and recognition of things Irish worldwide but especially in the United States. For example, since the 1950s, the Irish Taoiseach (Prime Minister) annually visits the White House and ceremoniously presents shamrocks to the president on Paddy's Day. Events related to the ceremony played a major role in the Northern Ireland peace process in the 1990s.

Rudy Ray Seward is a descendant from Mary Davis born on Christmas Day in 1792 in County Tyrone, Ireland. He first visited Ireland in 1971 and in 1998 was Research Fellow at National University of Ireland, Galway. In 2012, he was designated Professor Emeritus at UNT after 39 years on faculty. He has authored a book, book chapters, and journal articles dealing with family issues, including Irish families, fathers, demographic history, and work/family balance.

Discovering Afrofuturism

Following the 2018 release of the Marvel superhero movie Black Panther, interest in the somewhat obscure realm of Afrofuturism skyrocketed. Learn about the history of this artistic movement (including its surprising connection to Martin Luther King, Jr.) and explore examples ranging from Star Trek to the mysterious space jazz of Sun Ra.

Jordan Williams received his Bachelor's degree in Creative Writing and Master's degree in Literature, both from UNT. His writing has appeared in American Microreviews & Interviews and the Tulsa Voice.

The Mysterious & Secret World of the Dark/Deep Web

The layers of the Internet go far beyond the surface content that many can easily access in their daily searches. The other content is that of the Deep Web, content that has not been indexed by traditional search engines such as Google. The furthest corners of the Deep Web, segments known as the Dark Web, contain content that has been intentionally concealed. The Dark Web may be used for legitimate purposes as well as to conceal criminal or otherwise malicious activities. This lecture will give members a basic understanding of the Dark Web and what is on it.

Dr. Scott Belshaw is the director of the UNT Cyber Forensics Lab, where his goal is to connect with as many police departments and federal agencies as possible to accelerate investigation processes.

Thank you, Andrea!

During her 8 years of service in our department, Assistant Director Andrea Tuckness worked hard to schedule our classes and plan the logistics for all of our trips and events. We wish her the best as she and her fiancé start the next chapter of their lives.

THE GREAT COURSES®

OLLI MEMBER ACCESS

OLLI at UNT members can sign in to the Member Portal or email olli@unt.edu to request access to the streaming video of these Great Courses titles.

America after the Cold War: The First 30 Years

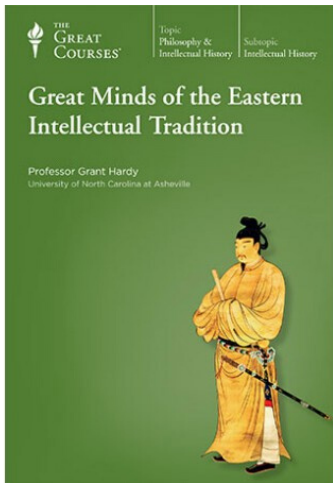

Contemporary life is changing so rapidly that it can be daunting to take a step back and tell a cohesive story from 1990 to 2019, but this is precisely what "America after the Cold War: The First Thirty Years" offers. Taught by esteemed professor Dr. Patrick Allitt of Emory University, these 12 fascinating lectures tie the threads of contemporary life together to give you a rich understanding of the United States after the threat of war with the Soviet Union had passed.

Leonardo da Vinci and the Italian High Renaissance

This 36-lecture course—packed with illustrations and animations that bring you closer than ever before to Leonardo's paintings, sculptures, sketches, and notebooks—is like touring an imaginary and comprehensive exhibit devoted to his entire career. Through Professor George R. Bent of Washington and Lee University, you'll gain fresh insights into da Vinci's iconic paintings, his important anatomical studies, and his astonishingly prescient visions for machines we now take for granted. But more than that, you'll experience what it was like to live in Leonardo's world and to understand the High Renaissance as it swept through great Italian cities such as Florence, Milan, and Rome.

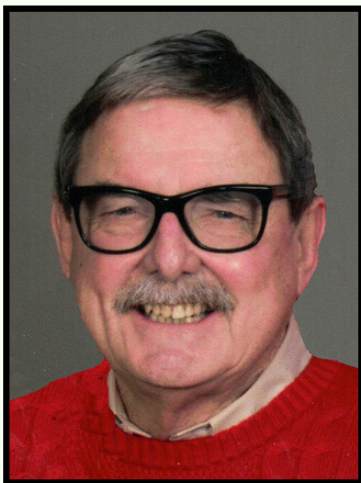

Great Minds of the Eastern Intellectual Tradition

In 36 lectures, award-winning Professor Grant Hardy of the University of North Carolina at Asheville introduces you to the men and women responsible for molding Asian philosophy and for giving birth to a wide variety of spiritual and ideological systems, including Hinduism, Daoism, Confucianism, Sufism, and Buddhism. By focusing on these key thinkers in their historical contexts, you'll witness the development of these rich traditions as they shaped and defined Eastern cultures through the rise and fall of empires, the friendly and hostile encounters with each other and with the Western world, and the rapid advancements of the modern age.

GEORGE WALLACE "WALLY" DAVIS (1938 - 2020)

Our friend Wally Davis passed away in February. The following words of remembrance were submitted to us by his partner, Dr. Arminta Jacobson.

"Wally loved OLLI! He scheduled everything around OLLI classes and events. He mentioned often he wished he had majored in history, his favorite subject, in college. OLLI's History and Texana classes were his favorite! This California State Long Beach alum, raised in southern California, delighted in his mother's Texas heritage. For those who knew Wally, you know he loved people. And the friends he visited with at OLLI were among his favorite. His family and friends are grateful to OLLI and UNT for the fun and excitement of new knowledge and ideas Wally experienced during his retirement."
