Jill,

Here's the diskette with Lake Travis copy, WWH, and resources list. Photos will come separately to Mike before or close to deadline.

For the personal note....I've been poking around the shores of Lake Travis ever since I went to UT/ Austin in the late Sixties. This work helped me discover the "other" Lake Travis, the upper stretches which often go unnoticed.

(Just between T.H. and me, one of my most memorable nights on Lake Travis came when a friend and I stripped buck-naked and wandered across somebody's private hilltop, wondered at the stars and our place in the universe, and waded into cooling waters along the shore....it's a miracle I'm still here to tell about it.)

In any event, I trust you'll let me know if you need more or less.

P.S. Why can't I ever come up with a simple storyline....like visit Joe Blow's House of Card Tricks? It took me three days minimum just to do the WWH on Lake T.....but I've learned a lot and think it's pretty comprehensive.
