Travis,

Jen suggested I contact you. Any time set up for interviews on Wed-Thu for the Texas Highways article? Or we could just take it on the fly.

I'll be focusing on copy this time....interviews with staff....maybe even some visitors and/or researchers if possible. I'll be planning out photos to do later....though I'll be prepared to shoot if something good comes up.

If you haven't already set up times, I'd like to start about 9'ish or later Wed morning and be done by 3'ish Thu afternoon, if possible.

I'm excited about diving into the HRC.

Randy,
Thanks for taking the time to get a sense of the Ransom Center. We can't wait for you to meet the experts and see some of the treasures.

For your information, I will be out of the office beginning Monday, May 26, and will return on Monday, June 9. Should you need answers to any questions or want to schedule an official tour please do not hesitate to contact Travis Willmann at [redacted] or via phone at [redacted].

It was a pleasure to meet you.
Best,
Jen Tisdale

Let's say about 2 p.m. I'll have 1-2 hours available. I'll call you after lunch if something changes.
Thanks, Randy

I will be doing an article on your new facility for Texas Highways magazine. Tomorrow (May 16), I will be on my way through Austin and would like to take a brief look at the site. That would help me plan my field work; I'll be doing story and photos. Let me know if you or someone else would be available in the early afternoon for a tour.
Thanks,
Randy Mallory
