Dear Mr. Dunne,

It looks like once again you are my lucky charm. Thank you so much for the quote you gave me for my Jerry Hall feature (attached). I have already received tremendous feedback on it and I am most appreciative.

I saw Liz Smith and Iris Jones this weekend – they were in for the Texas Book Festival gala honoring David McCullough, S. Rushdie, Dan Rather, et. al. It was a great group that was gathered. For your next book we'd love to have you in for it. I am hoping your next book is just as spectacular as the previous ones have been – no doubt it will be.

You are my literary hero and the world is a smarter place thanks to your amazing insight and point of view. More, more, more!

Take care and as always, please let me know how I can ever enhance your efforts in any way. My best to you from

Your #1 fan,

Lance Avery Morgan
