2016 SUPPLEMENT to Texas Probate System

Fourth Edition

JAMES E. BRILL, Editor and Project Director Emeritus RUSSELL W HALL, Editor and Project Director

This supplement updates the Texas Probate System, in part by recognizing the requirement of e-filing in all counties.

Digital Download

This supplement's complete digital download, containing the entire text of the System in PDF and all State Bar of Texas—copyrighted forms in Word, can be securely downloaded from our website at www.texasbarcle.com/probate-2016 (for details, go to http://texasbarbooks.net/download-tips/ or see the section titled 'How to Download This System' in volume 1).

How to Use This Supplement

This supplement consists of loose-leaf pages that replace or add to material in the System. The pages following these instructions are to be inserted in the Texas Probate System, fourth edition.

- 1. BE SURE that your System contains the 2015 supplement. Check the back of the title page in either volume; the copyright dates shown should include 2015. If you do not have the 2015 supplement, you should first obtain it and insert it before proceeding. To order the 2015 supplement, you may write to State Bar of Texas, Sales Desk, P.O. Box 12487. Austin, TX 78711 or call 1-800-204-2222 ext. 1411 (8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M., Monday through Friday).
- 2. Use the instructions following this list of steps to remove outdated pages and insert new ones. Set the removed pages aside.
- 3. When all the listed pages have been inserted and all superseded pages have been removed, the List of Effective Pages will remain. Use the List of Effective Pages to check each page in the System to ensure that the System is complete and that the correct version of each page is in place. (Note that the List of Effective Pages should not be in the System at this stage, because they will be used to check all other pages.)
- 4. After the pages have been checked, insert pages xvii–xx (the List of Effective Pages) in their proper place, immediately after page xvi and before the tab divider for How to Download This System.
- 5. Occasionally the printer accidentally omits some pages from the supplement, and sometimes pages from the original System will have been lost during use. We will be happy to provide new supplement pages and replacements for 'old' pages. If you don't find your missing pages in the stack of superseded pages you've removed and set aside, photocopy the List of Effective Pages, indicate which pages you're missing, and send the list, together with a label containing your

- complete mailing address, to State Bar of Texas, TexasBarBooks, Missing Pages, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, TX 78711-2487; you may also send your request via e-mail to books@texasbar.com or fax to (512) 427-4404.
- 6. When steps 1–4 have been completed, discard the superseded pages. These instructions may be discarded or filed for future reference.

James E. Brill, Editor and Project Director (1972–2014)

Jimmy Brill is a 1957 University of Texas Law School graduate and a solo practitioner from Houston whose practice emphasizes probate, estate planning, and real estate. He currently serves as principal author and project director of the Texas Probate System, first published by the State Bar in 1972 and updated eight times since. In the 1970s, he chaired the State Bar Continuing Legal Education (CLE) and Professional Efficiency and Economic Research (PEER) Committees.

In 2007 Brill was the recipient of the Dan Rugeley Price Memorial Award from the Texas Bar Foundation. In 2009 the Foundation recognized him with its award as one of the five outstanding fifty-year lawyers in Texas. In 2006, the Real Estate, Probate, and Trust Law Section of the State Bar of Texas presented him with its Distinguished Probate Lawyer Lifetime Achievement Award. He also received the Distinguished Service Award for 2000 from the Estate Planning, Probate and Trust Law Section of the Houston Bar Association.

The State Bar honored Brill with its Presidents' Award in 1978 as the outstanding lawyer in Texas, with the Gene Cavin Award for Excellence in Continuing Legal Education in 1994, and with a Presidential Citation in 2005 for chairing the State Bar Task Force on Starting Practice. The College of the State Bar recognized him with its 1999 Professionalism Award and in 2000 recognized his article 'Dealing With The Death Of A Solo Practitioner' as that year's best article from a State Bar course.

Brill previously served as a director of TLIE (Texas Lawyers' Insurance Exchange), a company that writes malpractice coverage for Texas Lawyers, and was a five-year member of the State Bar of Texas committee that unsuccessfully proposed revisions to the Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct.

In 1974 Brill was a founding member of what then was known as the Economics of Law Practice Section of the American Bar Association. He served on the council during its first five years and as an officer for the next three, and then, in 1982, chaired what became the Law Practice Management Section of the American Bar Association. He was honored by that section with its Samuel S. Smith Award for Excellence in Law Practice Management. He was inducted in 1994 into the first class and was elected as an initial trustee of the College of Law Practice Management and later served as an officer. For two and one-half years, he wrote a monthly column for solo practitioners in the ABA Journal. He received The General Practice, Solo and Small Firm Section of the American Bar Association Donald C. Rikli Lifetime Achievement Award in 2000.

Starting in 1994 Brill served as mentor to five women lawyers in their first year as solo practitioners and continued the group's monthly meetings for an additional four years. This group became a model for the mentor program of the State Bar of Texas. He has had three other groups, two of which related to probate practice. He was an organizer and for almost twenty years has led monthly meetings of a group of Houston lawyers known as Solos Supporting Solos. This informal group has met each month since September 1994 and provides solos with an opportunity to meet fellow solo practitioners in an informal setting.

Brill has been designated as a Texas 'Super Lawyer' by Texas Monthly in each of its compilations and is listed in The Best Lawyers in America, Trusts and Estates. His firm, James E. Brill, P.C., has been rated as a Tier One Best Law Firm for 2014 by U.S. News and Best Lawyers.

In 2010 Brill was one of five graduates of Lamar High School (Houston) to be recognized as a Distinguished Alumnus. In an unrelated field, he is recognized as an authority on the stamps and postal history of Pitcairn Island and has served as an officer in the international Pitcairn Islands Study Group.

Russell W Hall, Editor and Project Director (2014–2016)

Russell W. Hall is a graduate of the University of Houston Law Center with both a J.D. and an LL.M. (Tax), and he holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology from Rice University. He is board certified in Estate Planning and Probate Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. His firm focuses on estate planning and probate for the moderately wealthy, including foreign nationals.

Hall was on the Planning Committee for the State Bar of Texas 2007 Building Blocks of Wills, Estates and Probate Course and an author and speaker for the State Bar of Texas 2006 and 2007 Building Blocks of Wills, Estates and Probate Courses and 2007 Advanced Estate Planning and Probate Course. He was an author for the American Bar Association 2008 Midyear Meeting, Taxation Section, and served as an author and speaker for the TSCPA CPE Foundation CPE Family Conference, the 2010 Houston Bar Association Family Law Institute, and the 2010 Galveston County Bar Association Electronic Filing, Evidence & Computer Technology seminar. From 2007 to 2012, he was an editorial board member of The Advocate, the journal of the State Bar of Texas Litigation Section.

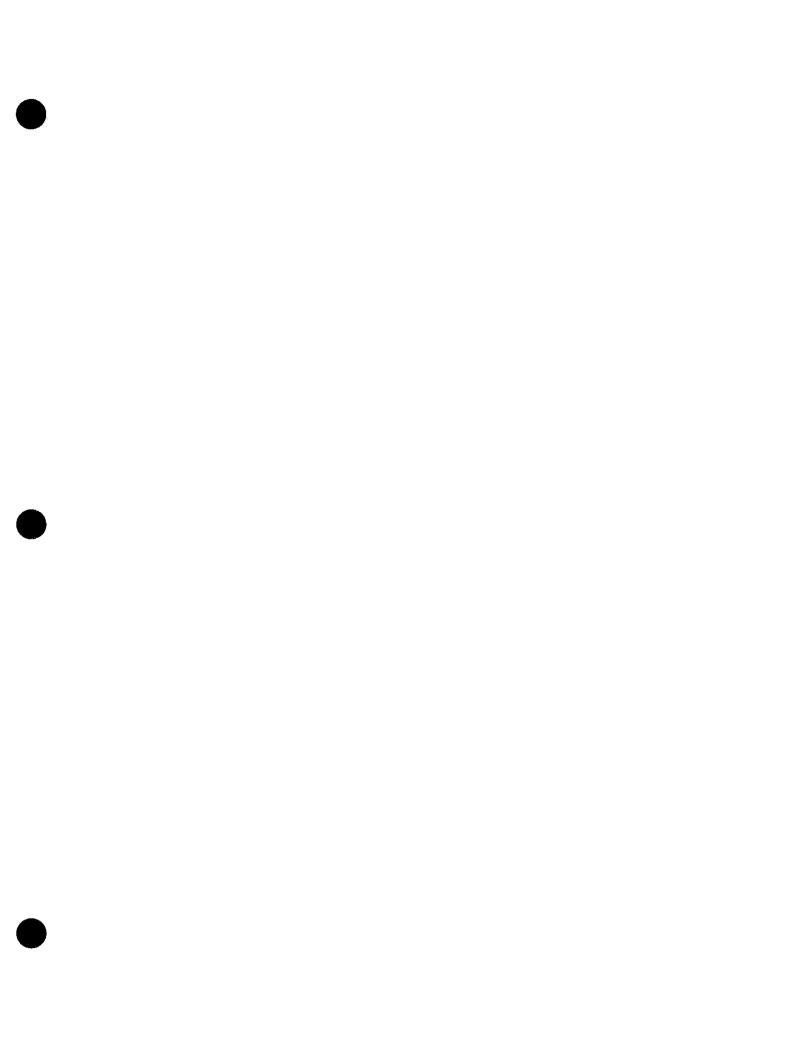

Before attending law school, Hall worked for the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) in the Houston District, the last several years as a special agent-criminal investigator. After law school, he joined Gulf Coast Legal Foundation, where he learned eviction and foreclosure defense, consumer litigation, and probate alternatives. He calls the experience 'a glorious chaos, in which his clients were 'often wrong, but seldom in doubt. When he happily left to start his own practice, he had a firm foundation in litigation, civil remedies, and client management. Before focusing on estate planning and administration, his private practice included business organizations, real estate, commercial litigation, and intellectual property. Although he does not practice immigration law, his tenure with the INS informs his estate planning practice. Perhaps 40 percent of the households he works with include someone born outside of the United States, often with family or property abroad. His LL.M. thesis considered whether the interest on lottery installments could be tax-free, like municipal bonds and other state obligations, and he frequently advises lottery winners.

Hall is licensed to practice in Texas and before the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas, U.S. Tax Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and the U.S. Supreme Court. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas (International Law; Litigation; Oil, Gas & Energy Resources Law; Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law; and Taxation sections); the Houston Bar Association (International Law; Litigation; Oil, Gas and Mineral Law: Probate, Trusts & Estate; Real Estate Law: and Taxation sections); and the American Bar Association (Solo, Small Firm, and General Practice Division; Section of International Law; Law Practice Division; Section of Real Property, Trust, and Estate Law; and Section of Taxation). He is the president-elect and a director of the Houston Chapter of the Society of Financial Service Professionals and a member of the Houston Business and Estate Planning Council and the Houston Estate and Financial Forum.

Hall's interest in technology and practice management had its genesis when he was an undergraduate taking differential equations, which he never could pass. Unaware that he was fated for law school, Hall took machine language programming and team programming at Rice University, and for a time served as chief programmer of their Macintosh Development Group. As a young lawyer, his affinity for technology enabled him to make mistakes faster than any of his peers. It also provided him with the social skills to burn through eight paralegals, which he replaced and retrained, one after another after another.

The Texas Probate System was the beginning of wisdom for Hall. It offered a methodical yet flexible — approach that might fit any family, useful to any paralegal, that also rewarded the discerning reader with the collective wisdom of a generation of practitioners, all juried by the inimitable Jimmy Brill. What a gift.

Read the Instructions!

HOW TO USE THE SYSTEM

Every trade, every business, and every profession has its own specialized tools and specialized procedures. Although slow to embrace standardization, as though somehow it was demeaning and beneath a lawyer, more and more lawyers have been exposed to the advantages and benefits of organization and standardization.

Probate practice lends itself to systemization because there is a beginning (a death) and an end (closing the estate and distributing assets). Many of the documents and procedures must follow statutory requirements. These factors, coupled with careful analysis and standardization, can provide guidance for the inexperienced and serve as reminders to the seasoned lawyer.

Explaining the Tabs of the System

This System is divided into the following sections:

- 1. How to Download This System
- 2. Introduction
- 3. How to Use This System
- 4. Worksheets
- 5. Master Information List
- 6. Checkplan
- 7. Special Instructions
- 8. Significant Date List
- 9. Furnished Forms
- 10. Forms
- 11. Letters

2. The Introduction provides general information concerning the System.

<sup>1.</sup> How to Download This System provides information on licenses and installing the digital download, using the navigational toolbar to aid in preparing the Word forms and letters (see items 10 and 11 below), and removing metadata from those files before e-filing.

- 3. How to Use This System gives you the basic steps to follow and tells you how to use the System.
- 4. Worksheets are designed to guide you through proper decisions, to make calculations, or to maintain a single summary record of multiple related transactions (such as the status of transfers of different securities).
- 5. The Master Information List or MIL is the heart of the System. A separate MIL is used for each estate and is kept in the file for that estate. In some offices the MIL is kept in a notebook for that estate. The MIL is an interview guide that contains a list of questions to ask to obtain required factual information and provides a systematic means for recording that information. It also contains numbered and lettered spaces for the systematic recording of information concerning a decedent, the decedent's family, assets, taxes, debts, probate proceedings, and other affairs. Each fact has its unique number, and these numbers appear throughout this System.

By using the MIL, you will be able to record all information in one place rather than on the numerous scraps of paper you now use. Its use will also ensure that no essential information will be overlooked or be recorded in a haphazard fashion. Since most of this information is factual in nature, much of it can be obtained and recorded by a legal assistant or secretary.

For the System to function at its maximum potential, most of the MIL should be considered and, when applicable, completed before any documents are prepared. When the administration is concluded, the MIL should be preserved in the client's file as a record of the facts that were considered to form the basis for the decisions that were made.

6. There is a single Checkplan containing a comprehensive checklist of all activities to be considered and, if applicable, to be performed in handling a decedent's estate. Through its proper use and coordination with the other parts of the System, the gathering of information, the transfer of assets, and the preparation of forms and letters can be virtually self-administering. The Checkplan is precisely coordinated with the numbering system of the MIL, with the Significant Date List, and with the Letters, Forms, Furnished Forms, and Special Instructions. The Checkplan is a reminder of the common problems to be considered and tells you the routine action to take in most of these situations.

You will be well advised to carefully review the entire Checkplan before beginning action. If an item does not apply to that estate, mark the "NA" column and move on to the next item. If the next item applies to that estate, determine whether it will be performed by you or by a member of your staff and so indicate in the appropriate blank by entering the initials of the person to perform the task. When you follow this procedure, the Checkplan becomes a planning tool. As an activity has been considered and the proper action has been taken, the person taking that action should initial the proper blank and indicate the date that the action was taken. This Checkplan should be maintained in the client's file (or notebook). When the administration is concluded, the Checkplan should be preserved in the client's file as a record of the activities considered, the actions taken, the dates they were taken, and the identities of the persons who performed the services.

- 7. The Special Instructions provide detailed information concerning particular probate procedures. Essentially, these are footnotes. As you proceed in the administration of an estate, you will be referred to these Special Instructions for additional information or guidance. Since this System is grounded on the establishment of an efficient administrative process, many substantive and technical questions are not covered in detail, and you are cautioned to refer to other appropriate sources for the answers to your questions.
- 8. To assist you in calculating and recording important dates for all proceedings, there is a Significant Date List (SDL) that is used for each estate. While this SDL reminds you of the critical dates and deadlines, you must dovetail the calculated dates into your regular office reminder system. You should never put your file away until you have entered the next activity in that calendar. As you determine the date for a future activity, you should record it in your office calendar, reminder, or tickler system. This is particularly important as to those dates marked with an asterisk (*). The SDL for the estate is also kept in the file (or notebook) for that estate.

In addition to the Significant Date List and your office reminder system, the Probate Chart (Worksheet 15) can be used to provide a compact summary of all probate matters handled by your office. As you calculate dates for an estate on the SDL, you will post those dates to your reminder system and to this chart. No attempt has been made for overall chronological arrangement, since this is intended to be only a status chart. It should be posted in a conspicuous place in your office (but not where it is readily seen by clients).

- 9. Furnished Forms (FF) are printed forms furnished by governmental agencies or outside sources. The purpose of each form is printed at the top. To prepare a furnished form, it will be necessary for you to obtain the form from the appropriate agency or other source. In some instances, there is an online version of the furnished form that can be completed and printed.
- 10. Documents to be prepared for court proceedings are called Forms. The purpose of each form is printed at the top. General instructions for preparing many forms appear in boxes at the beginning of the form, and more specific instructions appear throughout at relevant points. Within many forms, optional paragraphs or items are identified by boxed instructions. Language in boxes is not to be typed in the finished document.

Two typefaces are used in the forms. Material in Times Roman (like most of this page) is appropriate for inclusion in a finished form. In contrast, Arial type is used for instructions. When the Arial type is used within the form itself (rather than in a boxed instruction), it appears in boldface for emphasis. Bold-faced Arial type is also used to indicate numbers that are cross-referenced to the numbers in the Master Information List (MIL) where the necessary data is to be recorded. If that portion of the MIL has been completed, the form can be prepared.

Several types of bracketed material appear in the forms. In a bracketed statement such as [executor/administrator], the user must choose between the terms or phrases within the brackets that are separated by forward slash marks. Alternative letters or phases may also be indicated by the use of brackets. A frequent example that appears in the forms is "executor[s]," indicating a choice between the words "executor" and "executors." In a bracketed statement such as [name of heir], the user is to substitute the name of the heir rather than typing the bracketed material verbatim. For a phrase such as "[and codicil]," the user must determine whether to include the phrase. Material such as [include if applicable: . . .] provides instructions for completing the finished form and should not be typed verbatim in the document. Bracketed statements at the beginning of most forms refer the user to Special Instruction 87 for instructions about composing the caption of the form.

Signature lines appear as blank lines. Spaces for dates, times, and amounts that would be filled in after the document is prepared also appear as blank lines.

To avoid the necessity of retyping, word-processing files of the forms are provided in the digital download. In those files, instructions and similar parts of the files are formatted in hidden text. Be sure to check behind the How to Download This System tab for important information on removing hidden text and other metadata from the forms before e-filing or otherwise electronically sharing them.

11. Letters of a standard, routine, and repetitive nature are contained in that section. The purpose of each letter is printed at the top, and instructions for preparing the letter are reflected in the same manner as in the forms. The letters also contain bold-faced numbers that are cross-referenced to the MIL. Once again, if that portion of the MIL has been completed, the letter can be prepared. (Word-processing files of the letters are also included with the digital download; like the forms, they contain hidden text that must be deleted before the files are electronically shared.)

Every office needs at least one complete Texas Probate System for use in all estates. Each estate needs a Checkplan, a Significant Date List (SDL), a Master Information List (MIL), and a Probate Information List (Form 1). These items, plus the Worksheets and the Texas Lawyer's Creed, are contained as PDF files with the digital download. You may print out these items for each estate you handle, or you may print them out once and keep those copies as photocopy masters. The digital download also contains word-processing files of most parts of the System and Excel files of the Checkplan, MIL, SDL, and Worksheets. Finally, the digital download includes the entire Texas Probate System as a single PDF file for reference on screen or when the printed System is not readily available. The FAQs at http://texasbarbooks.net/f-a-q/ explain how to use all these files.

Additional copies of this System may be ordered from the State Bar of Texas, Sales Desk, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, TX 78711-2487, 1-800-204-2222, ext. 1411, or (512) 427-1411, or online at www.TexasBarCLE.com.

How to Begin

To access the proper materials through the use of the systems approach, begin with the Checkplan. The early steps direct you to the appropriate materials for gathering necessary information and determining the proper probate procedure.

Our MIL, numbering system, Checkplan, Forms, and Letters are precisely and delicately coordinated, but none of the content is sacred or to be regarded as Holy Writ. You should feel free to write your own letters and forms or to change ours to adapt to your own practice. If you do so, you must be careful not to destroy the numbering of your blanks, and you must remember to coordinate your blanks with the MIL. If you come up with suggestions for improvements for our System or for additions to it, please let us hear from you.

THIS VOLUME IS NOT JUST A FORM BOOK!

Throughout this System we have tried to guide you to the procedure requiring the least amount of activity to conclude the administration process. This effort on our part is not to be taken as criticism of any of the procedures provided by the Estates Code but is specifically designed to permit you to close the estate and get the assets to the family as rapidly and as inexpensively as possible. Regardless of the particular procedure you follow, you should make every effort to conclude the process as soon as is practicable.

This 2014 Texas Probate System supersedes all earlier versions of the System.

Federal Estate Tax Item 107

FEDERAL ESTATE TAX

Note: If total value of all of D's assets including insurance on D's life and D's retirement benefits is less than the applicable exclusion amount (Item 26.21 of MIL) and D had no history of making taxable gifts, a federal estate tax return is probably unnecessary. Regardless, for decedents dying on or after January 1, 2011, the surviving spouse may file an estate tax return, even if the estate is nontaxable, to elect portability of the Deceased Spousal Unused Exclusion (DSUE) amount. See Special Instruction 80—Federal Estate Tax.

WARNING: Sections 2701 through 2704 of the Internal Revenue Code were enacted in an attempt to halt the use of "estate freezes." Not surprisingly, the changes are broadly worded and vague, and there are many uncertainties. All intrafamily transactions must be scrutinized in light of those provisions. There are too many variables for coverage in this System.

- 103. Complete Worksheet 6 to determine if IRS Form 706, United States Estate (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, must be filed for D's estate.
- 104. If IRS Form 706, United States Estate (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return is not mandatory, determine whether the executor desires to file the return to elect portability of the Deceased Spousal Unused Exclusion (DSUE) amount.
  - a. If the executor is the surviving spouse, prepare and send Letter 122.
  - If the executor is not the surviving spouse, prepare and send Letter 123.
  - c. On receipt of the client's initialed copy indicating whether to elect portability, place in file folder entitled "Federal Estate Tax."
- 105. If IRS Form 706, United States Estate (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return is neither required nor desired, skip to Item 201 of this Checkplan.
- 106. If a return is to be filed, take appropriate action. No Checkplan, Furnished Forms, or specific instructions for preparing IRS Form 706 are included in this System.
- 107. If a return is filed and IRS closing letter is received, file it with clerk of court.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 29—PROCEDURES IN LIEU OF ADMINISTRATION

The Estates Code provides four separate and distinct procedures whereby the administration of an estate may be avoided if a court determines that there is no necessity for the administration of the estate. Three of these procedures are covered in this System: muniment of title (MT), proceedings to declare heirship (PDH), and small estates (SE).

Muniment of title proceedings are authorized by Estates Code, Section 257.001. These proceedings are available only if a person had a will and there are no unpaid debts owed by that person's estate except for those secured by liens on real property. If unpaid and unsecured debts exist, this shortcut procedure is not available. More detailed information about these proceedings appears in Special Instruction 73—Muniment of Title (MT).

Proceedings to declare heirship are provided for by Estates Code, Chapter 202, and are sometimes referred to as heirship determination procedures. If an application is filed within four years of decedent's death and if decedent died intestate and there are no unsecured debts at the time the application is filed with the court, it is possible to obtain an order that no administration is necessary. Such an order will protect persons dealing with the heirs. If unpaid and unsecured debts exist, this shortcut procedure is available but is impractical because of the lack of protection for purchasers of assets. More detailed information about these proceedings appears in Special Instruction 60—Proceedings to Declare Heirship (PDH).

Two separate provisions in the Estates Code relate to small estates. In this System we have included only the small estate procedures provided by Estates Code, Chapter 205, which is available only if decedent died intestate. To qualify, the nonexempt assets must exceed the known liabilities of the estate, and the gross value of the estate must not be more than $50,000 exclusive of eligible homestead and other exempt property. Since September 1, 2015, adult children have been unable to use these procedures to transfer title to the homestead, as the definition of homestead has been limited to exclude them. Estates Code, Sections 205.009, 353.051(a)(1). This proceeding is sometimes referred to as collection of small estates upon affidavit or as a small estate affidavit. More detailed information on both procedures relating to small estates appears in Special Instruction 63—Small Estates (SE).

This System does not cover the proceeding under Estates Code, Section 301.153(b)–(d), involving a judicial finding that there is no necessity for administration. Under the provisions of that section, an application for letters of administration is filed and, at a hearing, the court enters an order that refuses the application and recites that there is no necessity for administration of the estate. After such an order is entered, persons dealing with the heirs specified in the order may do so without liability to them or to creditors of the estate, but they apparently are not given protection against the claims of unknown heirs of an intestate decedent. Because of this danger, we do not recommend following the procedures under Estates Code, Section 301.153(b)–(d), but do recommend, in appropriate situations, proceedings to declare heirship and collection of small estates by affidavit.

Bond

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 46—BOND

Bond is required of the executor or administrator in all dependent administrations unless the representative is an authorized corporate fiduciary or decedent's will directs that no bond is required. Estates Code, Section 305.101.

In an independent administration created by agreement, bond is required unless the court waives bond on application. Estates Code, Section 401.005. In this System we have assumed that bond has been waived in an independent administration created by agreement. Check your court's policy if any distributee is a minor, disabled, or under a guardianship. Some will not waive bond if any distributee is an incapacitated person (see Estates Code, Section 22.016).

At the hearing, you should present evidence as to the amount of cash on hand and estimated to be needed for administrative purposes, revenue anticipated for the next twelve months, estimated value of securities, face value of life insurance or other policies payable to decedent or decedent's estate, estimated value of other personal property, and estimated amount of debts owed by the estate. Estates Code, Section 305.152. The amount of the bond is fixed by the court in an amount equal to the estimated value of personal property of decedent's estate, together with an additional amount sufficient to cover revenue anticipated to be derived during the next twelve months. Revenue includes interest, dividends, collectible claims, rentals, and installment payments other than Social Security payments. Estates Code, Section 305.153(a). The bond is to be secured by sureties or by deposits of cash or securities approved by the court in lieu of sureties. Estates Code, Section 305.156(a).

If the executor or administrator is also entitled to all of decedent's estate, the bond may be in an amount sufficient to pay creditors if that amount is less. Estates Code, Section 305.151(b).

Likewise, the amount of the bond may be reduced if the executor or administrator deposits funds or securities in safekeeping where their withdrawal is not permitted without an order from the court. Estates Code, Section 305,155.

Before coming to court, you should have the applicant prequalify with the surety company to ensure that the applicant is bondable.

The bond is to be filed within twenty days after the order granting letters. The court is to promptly review the filed bond and approve it if acceptable. Estates Code, Section 305.004(a), (b). However, in a temporary dependent administration (TDA) the bond must be filed no later than the third business day after the date of the order. Estates Code, Section 452.004(b).

You must determine the local custom concerning individual sureties, because in some counties individual sureties are acceptable, while in other counties they are not permitted. Even where they are permitted, the court cannot consider a bond with individual sureties until each proposed individual surety executes an affidavit stating the amount by which assets of that surety reachable by creditors exceed his liabilities. The total net worth of the sureties must equal at least double the amount of the bond. The affidavits must be presented to the court for consideration and, if approved, are attached to and made a part of the bond. Estates Code, Section 305.203. The bond is signed by decedent's executor or administrator as the principal and by the corporate or individual sureties. Estates Code, Section 305.107.

Additional procedures are specified for bonds and sureties in other situations. See Estates Code, Chapter 305.

Check with the clerk to determine the proper procedure for filing the bond.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 47—SALE OF REAL PROPERTY DURING ADMINISTRATION

Most wills grant a power of sale of real property of an estate, in which case no court order is required, although specific provisions of the will relating to sale must be followed. Estates Code, Section 356.002. If decedent left no will or the will does not authorize the executor to sell real property, the court may grant an independent executor or independent administrator any power of sale agreed to by all the interested distributees. Estates Code, Section 401.006. Otherwise, real property of an estate may be sold only by order of the court. Estates Code, Section 356.001.

Even without the power of sale's being granted in decedent's will or by agreement, real property may be sold pursuant to the provisions of Estates Code, Section 356.251, when it is necessary or advisable to do so to pay expenses of the administration, funeral expenses, expenses of last illness, allowances, and claims against decedent's estate or when selling the interest is considered in the estate's best interest.

Sales in lieu of a partition as permitted under Estates Code, Section 360.202, are not covered by this System. Likewise, public sales are beyond the scope of this System.

Private sales are covered and the procedures are set forth in Estates Code, Chapter 356, Subchapters F, G, J, and L. A private sale may be conducted after decedent's inventory has been filed and approved by the court. It begins with the filing of the Application for Sale of Real Property (Form 39) with Verified Exhibit Showing Condition of the Estate (Form 40). The clerk then issues a citation informing all persons interested in the estate of the right to file an opposition within the time prescribed by the court. Estates Code, Section 356.253. A hearing is required only if an opposition is timely filed, but the court may determine in its discretion that a hearing is necessary even if no opposition is filed. The date of the hearing is set by the court. Estates Code, Section 356.255. If the court finds the sale is necessary or advisable, the court will authorize the sale of the property by signing the Order of Sale of Real Property (Form 42). See Estates Code, Section 356.256.

Following this order, decedent's executor or administrator may enter into a contract to sell the property. Note that the cash down payment must be at least 20 percent of the purchase price, and any credit sale must be evidenced by a note bearing interest of not less than 4 percent per year, with installments due at least annually, providing for acceleration of maturity on default, and secured by a retained vendor's lien and a deed of trust with foreclosure provisions. Estates Code, Section 356.302. Note that IRC, Section 1274, may bear on the interest rate.

After the contract has been signed, a report of sale is filed with the court. In some Texas counties the court also may require an appraisal of the property by a court-appointed or other appraiser. The Report of Sale of Real Property (Form 43) must state the purchase price and terms of the sale (Estates Code, Section 356.551) and must be on file with the court for at least five days before the court may enter any order concerning the property. Estates Code, Section 356.552. If the details of the sale are approved by the court following the expiration of this five-day period, the judge will sign an Order Confirming Sale of Real Property (Form 44). Estates Code, Section 356.556. When the judge signs this order, the Deed (Form 45) may be executed by decedent's executor or administrator and title to the property passes to the purchaser. Estates Code, Sections 356.557 and 356.558. Note that a general warranty deed should not be given, because decedent's executor or administrator does not have the power to bind decedent's estate or its beneficiaries. A deed without warranty or a special warranty deed should be used.

Careful note should be made of the need for an accurate description of the property in the application, order of sale, report of sale, order confirming sale, and deed. The most accurate means is to photocopy the property description and attach it to each of these documents.

Attaching copies of the earnest money contract, appraisal, and tentative HUD settlement to the report of sale is recommended. If the administrator has a bond, it will be increased to cover the cash proceeds from the sale.

Should the sale fall through and not be consummated, the order of the court authorizing the sale should be set aside by the filing of Application to Set Aside Report of Sale and Order Confirming Sale and the proposed Annuities Special Instruction 62

Special Instruction 63

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 63—SMALL ESTATES (SE)

Two proceedings for "small estates" are authorized under the Estates Code. The first is the collection of small estates on affidavit as authorized by Estates Code, Chapter 205. This procedure is included in this System. The second is the order of no administration authorized under Estates Code, Chapter 451, which is not included in this System.

The collection of small estates by making an affidavit and following the procedures of Chapter 205 of the Estates Code is one simple method to entirely dispense with the administration of a small intestate estate. This procedure is limited to estates of decedents who died intestate. Estates Code, Section 205.001. If a decedent's eligible homestead is the only real property in the estate, title to the homestead may be transferred under the affidavit. Estates Code, Sections 205.006(a), 205.009. Thus, a Chapter 205 affidavit generally is not available if a decedent had a will, and it transfers no real estate if decedent had any nonhomestead real property—for example, a mineral interest.

To qualify as a small estate, the gross (not net) value of the probate assets as of the date of death, exclusive of eligible homestead and exempt property, cannot exceed $50,000. Additionally the value of the probate assets, exclusive of eligible homestead and exempt property, must exceed the known liabilities exclusive of liabilities secured by eligible homestead and exempt property. These are mandatory requirements, and unless the estate is within these limits this proceeding cannot be used. Estates Code, Section 205.001.

The utility of these procedures to adult children is limited. Since September 1, 2015, references in Chapter 205 to "homestead" or "exempt property" mean only those assets that would be "eligible" to be set aside under Estates Code, Section 353.051, if the estate were being adminstered. Estates Code, Section 205.009. Exempt personal property may be set aside for certain adult children (Estates Code, Section 353.051(a)(2)), but a homestead may not (Estates Code, Section 353.051(a)(1)). Because the "eligible" homestead excludes adult children, even if incapacitated or unmarried, only decedent's surviving spouse or minor children may transfer title to the homestead using this procedure. Worse, rarely is the homestead worth less than $50,000. If its value must be included absent a surviving spouse or minor child, adult children may qualify for a small estate affidvit only if there is no homestead.

This procedure cannot be used if a petition for the appointment of a personal representative is pending or has previously been granted, and in any event the affidavit cannot be filed until at least thirty days have elapsed since the date of death of decedent. Estates Code, Section 205.001(1), (2). This procedure does not transfer title to any real estate except the homestead. Estates Code, Sections 205.006(a) and 205.008(b).

Finally, this procedure should not be used if a survivorship action to recover damages is contemplated.

Not only must the affidavit include a complete listing of all known estate assets and liabilities (indicating which assets the applicant claims are exempt), but it also must include the names and addresses of the distributees and the relevant family history facts concerning heirship that identify and show the rights of all of the "distributees" (heirs, beneficiaries, devisees, or assignees of an interest in the estate) to receive money or property from decedent's estate, and the affidavit must be sworn to and signed by all of these people, the natural guardians or next of kin of minors, the guardians of any other incapacitated distributees, and two disinterested witnesses. Estates Code, Section 205.002.

Approval of this affidavit by the judge is normally routine and is frequently, if not generally, acted on without a hearing. However, approval is discretionary, giving the judge an opportunity to question the distributees and even to require that all debts be paid before the affidavit is approved. Estates Code, Section 205.003.

Once the affidavit has been approved by the judge, it is recorded as an official public record (in the Small Estates Records of counties that have not adopted a microfilm or microphotographic process). Estates Code, Section 205.005. A certified copy of this affidavit and order is then obtained and is furnished to a debtor or transfer agent (Estates Code, Section 205.004), who may safely rely on the truthfulness of the representations contained in the affidavit in transferring funds or delivering assets to the distributees. Estates Code, Section 205.007. Section 205.007 also provides a means for the distributees to force payment in an action against any person who does not deliver the assets in accordance with the affidavit and order.

Procedures for collection of small estates on affidavit begin at Item 27 of the Checkplan.

The second possible small estate proceeding, generally referred to as an order of no administration, is not covered in this System. This procedure, permitted by Estates Code, Chapter 451, is an alternative method for avoiding an administration. It involves more judicial action than the collection of the estate on affidavit as described above.

The proceeding under Chapter 451 is available only if a decedent is survived by a spouse or minor children (or, if decedent died on or after September 1, 2011, adult incapacitated children), and then only if the value of the assets of the estate, exclusive of homestead and exempt property, does not exceed in value the amount of the family allowance to which the surviving spouse and children are entitled. Estates Code, Section 451.001(a). It is quite difficult to determine with certainty the amount of the family allowance before having a hearing, and this is one reason for the difficulty in determining if this procedure is applicable.

When this procedure is followed, the application is to be filed in a court having venue for purposes of administration in general and is to contain a request that the court fix the amount of the family allowance and enter an order that no administration is necessary. Estates Code, Section 451.001. This procedure may be used even if a proceeding for the appointment of a personal representative has already been filed but not granted. Although the court may hear the application at once and without notice (Estates Code, Section 451.002(a)), it is better practice to give notice and have a hearing to determine the appropriate facts. Citation should be required to permit creditors and others to have the opportunity to contest the family allowance or the claim that no administration is necessary.

If the court concludes that the facts contained in the application are true and that the expenses of the last illness, funeral charges, and expenses of the proceeding have been paid, the court must make a family allowance, and if the entire estate, not including homestead and exempt property, is exhausted, the court enters its order that no administration is necessary and that the entire estate is to be set aside to the surviving spouse and eligible children. Estates Code, Section 451.002(b). Since funeral expenses and expenses of last illness and of administration are the only expenses that take precedence over the family allowance, if nonexempt assets are consumed by these expenses and by the family allowance, there is no longer any need to have an administration for general creditors.

Although the proceeding under Chapter 451 of the Estates Code is available if a decedent dies with or without a will, we do not recommend following that procedure if there was a will.

Perhaps the biggest danger in the use of this second proceeding arises from the provisions of Estates Code, Section 451.004. This section authorizes a proceeding to revoke an order of no administration within one year after its entry on proper application by a creditor who can show that the property described was incorrectly valued, that property was omitted from the application, or that other property has been discovered. In such a case, the court will inquire into such claims. If the court sustains the claim of the creditor, the order of no administration can be set aside and a full administration of the estate can then be required. The problems thus created should be obvious.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 64—TRANSFER ON DEATH DEEDS

A variety of deeds pass title to real estate on death without probate, including deeds retaining a life estate, deeds retaining a life estate with a power of appointment ("Ladybird deeds"), and joint tenancy deeds. See "What Real Estate Attorneys Need to Know about Wills and Probate" by Patricia Flora Sitchler, 2015 Advanced Real Estate Law Course, State Bar of Texas.

Effective September 1, 2015, the Texas Real Property Transfer on Death Act authorizes a new deed with unique characteristics that are markedly different from other deeds. See "Legislative Update" by Richard A. Crow, 2015 Advanced Real Estate Law Course, State Bar of Texas. The Act applies to only a deed that is executed and acknowledged on or after September 1, 2015, by a grantor who dies on or after September 1, 2015. Estates Code, Section 114.003. The Act expressly excludes prior deeds, as well as subsequent ones that do not comply with the Act. See Estates Code, Section 114.002(a)(6).

Unfortunately, the new form is statutorily defined as a "transfer on death deed," inviting confusion with other deeds that enjoy none of the attributes of the new form. The Act neither invalidates nor enhances other deeds that transfer real property on death. Estates Code, Section 114.002(a)(6), 114.004.

In addition to the September 1, 2015, requirements described above, a statutory transfer on death deed must (1) contain the essential elements and formalities of a recordable deed, (2) state that the transfer of an interest in real property to the designated beneficiary is to occur at the transferor's death, and (3) be recorded before the transferor's death in the deed records where the property is located. Estates Code, Section 114.055.

In this System, "transfer on death deed" or "TOD deed" means the statutory transfer on death deed defined by Estates Code, Section 114.002(a)(6).

Contractual, not testamentary, capacity is required. Estates Code, Section 114.054(a). A TOD deed may not be created with a power of attorney. Estates Code, Section 114.054(b).

During the owner's lifetime, the beneficiary of a TOD deed has no interest in the property and the owner retains full power to transfer or encumber the property or to revoke the deed. Estates Code, Section 114.101. Divorce revokes a TOD deed in favor of a former spouse if the judgment is recorded in the deed records before the transferor's death. Estates Code, Section 114.057(c). Inter vivos transfers, including a subsequent TOD deed, effectively revoke a TOD deed if the conveyance is recorded in the deed records before the transferor's death. Estates Code, Section 114.102. A will, however, may not revoke a TOD deed. Estates Code, Section 114.057(b).

Passage of title to the designated beneficiary is subject to survival by 120 hours and other requirements. Estates Code, Section 114.103.

Title passes subject to all encumbrances. The TOD deed is considered recorded at death, allowing creditors to perfect liens even after the TOD deed is recorded. Estates Code, Section 114.104(a). Although property subject of a TOD deed is not considered a probate asset, the usual claims process applies to secured creditors. Estates Code, Section 114.104(b).

Property subject of a TOD deed is liable for the claims of unsecured creditors, expenses of administration, estate taxes, allowance in lieu of exempt property, and the family allowance, but only if the probate estate is insufficient. Proceedings to enforce those liabilities are subject to a two-year limitations period. Otherwise, property subject of a TOD deed is not considered a probate asset and is not subject to Medicaid Recovery. Estates Code, Section 114.106.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 81—IDENTIFICATION INFORMATION IN PLEADINGS

The Civil Practice and Remedies Code provides that the initial pleadings of a party in a civil action filed in a district court, county court, or statutory county court include the last three numbers of the party's driver's license number and of the party's Social Security number. Civil Practice & Remedies Code, Section 30.014(a). On its own motion or that of a party, the court may order that an initial pleading be amended to include that information, and the court may find a party who does not amend the pleading as ordered to be in contempt. Civil Practice & Remedies Code, Section 30.014(b).

The provision does not apply to proceedings in statutory probate courts. Inclusion of this sensitive personal information appears to serve no useful purpose in any probate proceeding, and we recommend that the information be omitted from applications unless, in a nonstatutory probate court proceeding, the applicant is ordered to amend the application.

Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21c, as worded when it became effective on January 1, 2014, provides privacy protection for that identification information and for financial account numbers, home addresses, birth dates, and the names of persons who were minors when an underlying suit was filed. Unless inclusion of this sensitive data is required by statute, court rule, or administrative regulation, the data must be redacted before the document is filed. If the document must contain the sensitive data, the clerk must be notified that the document contains sensitive data. A document that is not electronically filed must contain, on the upper left-hand side of the first page, the phrase "NOTICE: THIS DOCUMENT CONTAINS SENSI-TIVE DATA." If the document is electronically filed. it must be designated as containing sensitive data when it is filed. Practitioners have reported difficulties in designating these e-filed documents in such a way that court clerks actually become aware of the designation. For this reason we recommend that the notice be placed on the first page of the document even if it is e-filed.

Special Instruction 82 E-Filing

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 82—E-FILING

The Texas Supreme Court has ordered electronic filing in all civil, family, and probate cases, excepting only municipal or justice courts and juvenile civil cases. A rolling phase-in began with the largest counties on January 1, 2014, adding more counties each July and January until July 1, 2016, when no county will be exempt from the e-filing mandate. See http:// www.txcourts.gov/All_Archived_Documents/ SupremeCourt/AdministrativeOrders/miscdocket/ 13/13909200.pdf.

Local electronic filing rules are preempted by new Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21c, and amended Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rules 4, 21, 21a, and 502.1, effective January 1, 2014. See http://www.txcourts.gov/All_Archived_Documents/SupremeCourt/AdministrativeOrders/miscdocket/13/13916500.pdf.

Generally, all documents must be e-filed, except wills. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(4). Read alone, Rule 21 permits but does not mandate e-filing of wills. Regardless, the original will should always be filed with the court clerk. Estates Code, Section 252.201. When an application to probate a document as an original will is electronically filed, the original will must be filed with the clerk within three business days thereafter. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(12). The clerk may designate an electronically filed document as the official court record and is generally not required to keep both paper and electronic versions; however, the clerk must retain an original will filed for probate in a numbered file folder. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(13).

These changes would end the practice of filing original wills and applications together, since the application must be e-filed and the will cannot be.

E-filed documents may be signed with either (1) an electronic or scanned digital image of the signature or (2) "/s/" and name typed in the space where the signature would otherwise appear. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(7).

Some documents must still be signed by hand. Even if e-filing, "/s/" and a typed name do not suffice for notarized or sworn documents. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(7)(A).

Absent approved provisions for e-filing at the court-house, counsel must apparently return to the office to scan and e-file proofs and oaths.

Documents e-filed before midnight in the court's time zone are considered filed that day, except, if transmitted on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the document is deemed filed on the next business day. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(5).

E-filed documents must be in PDF format, text searchable, and, if possible, printed to PDF rather than scanned. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(8).

Digital Assets Special Instruction 83

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 83—DIGITAL ASSETS

Digital assets include e-mail, voicemail, websites, social media (blogs, Facebook, Twitter), music, photos, and files (iTunes, iCloud, Dropbox), online backups (Mozy, Carbonite, Skydrive), and the online accounts to manage offline assets and liabilities such as bank accounts, investments, U.S. savings bonds, employee benefits, life, health, and property insurance, frequent flyer and other rewards programs, Pay-Pal, debit and credit cards, Social Security, and recurring expenses like phone, Internet, gas, water, electric, and alarm systems, newspaper and magazine subscriptions, mortgage and credit payments, and prescription drugs. The user IDs and passwords to access these things ("credentials") are themselves valuable digital assets.

Letters testamentary do not always enable access to decedent's credentials. Social media terms of service may prohibit postmortem access to a user's account. State and federal privacy laws may require the user's consent; if so, not even a fiduciary's consent may suffice. Some hosts rely on private key encryption technology: they never possess decedent's credentials in the first instance.

The need for access can be acute. Rewards programs may be documented online and nowhere else. Decedent may have elected paperless statements for investment or retirement assets. Recurring payments may need to be cancelled online. Blog or other copyrighted material can waste if infringers run rampant before the content is removed. Social media invites postmortem identity theft, including financial transactions through applications linking one site to others that have stored decedent's credit card (for example, Facebook Con-

Some credentials expire every sixty days, others survive until the autorenew finally fails, perhaps a year or more following death or cancellation of decedent's debit and credit cards. An executor may be tempted to ignore digital assets, but it's important to assert control before someone malevolent does. Until each of decedent's accounts can be closed, the executor should log in and replace each of decedent's credentials with new ones, including user IDs, passwords, e-mail addresses, challenge questions, mailing address, and phone number. Gaining control of decedent's e-mail accounts is highest priority, because (1) inbox messages can identify other digital assets and (2) an e-mail address is often sufficient to reset passwords to other accounts (thank the ubiquitous "Forgot password" button).

A thoughtful decedent will have used a password manager (LastPass, 1Password, KeePass) and left those credentials in a safe deposit box, enabling access to all of the decedent's digital assets. Others may use escrow services such as Legacy Locker or AssetLock, especially for confidential content such as an unpublished book or software. Finally, always look for a typed or handwritten list of credentials.

Some decedents leave all their credentials in a password-protected file on their computer. A computer forensics expert may be able to find and unlock those files to recover the credentials within. To locate one, visit Microsoft Pinpoint at pinpoint.microsoft.com/ en-US/home and search "forensic."

Commercial password recovery software is available at modest prices—for example, Passware Kit Standard at www.lostpassword.com/kit-standard.htm (resets Outlook, Adobe, Excel, and Word passwords; recovers e-mail login details). Such software allows anyone to search for protected files and unlock them, even if the name and location of decedent's password file is unknown.

When resetting passwords, be aware the new credentials may be mailed to decedent's address. For that reason, a forwarding order or change of address with the U.S. Postal Service should be in place first.

If passwords cannot be recovered, social media hosts should be informed of decedent's death. If nothing else, the terms of service may compel the host to restrict account access and to suspend financial transactions.

If decedent or the estate is in litigation, the executor may have a duty to retrieve and retain social media and other digital assets and to instruct vendors to preserve data. See Joshua Briones & Ana Tagvoryan, Social Media as Evidence: Cases, Practice Pointers, and Techniques ch. 2 (2013) (Retrieval and Retention of Social Media Data).

Every executor is challenged with how to identify, marshal, administer, safeguard, and distribute digital assets. Resources on estate planning with digital assets are thus equally relevant to estate administration, for example, Gerry W. Beyer, Planning in the Digital Age

© STATE BAR OF TEXAS SI-141 Special Instruction 83 Digital Assets

(Nov. 11, 2012) (available at SSRN: http://ssrn.com/abstract=2166422) (model information form), and Jim Lamm's www.digitalpassing.com.

Computer-savvy executors will find a password manager—for example, LastPass at www.lastpass.com—the most efficient, safest way to manage an estate's digital assets. Best practice is to use multifactor authentication—for example, a YubiKey—so that something more than a user ID and password is required to access all the estate's credentials.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 84—EXECUTION OF DOCUMENTS

Administration of an estate requires execution of documents by the executor or administrator, individual distributees, and sometimes heirs, trustees, and the surviving spouse, to name a few.

The same individual—for example, the surviving spouse—may play multiple roles. Matters are further confused when individuals sign for corporations and other business entities.

When executing documents, care is needed to distinguish the capacity of the individual signing and to avoid technical errors that bring the transaction into question. Each document begins with the challenge, "How do we sign this?"

The answer is complicated by the human condition, which includes the foreign, the disabled, the blind, the illiterate, minors, the bankrupt, and, recently, the digital.

Estate administration also requires scrutiny of others' documents to answer the question, "Is this signature effective?"

Subscription, acknowledgment, delivery, acceptance, and completeness all bear examination, but few attorneys know what to look for.

An executor's counsel needs a desk reference and a trouble-shooting manual. Both are available in "Execution of Documents" by James Noble Johnson, 2012 Real Estate Law 101, State Bar of Texas. Look for the most recent version in the Online Library at www .texasbarcle.com.

A useful complement, especially for distribution deeds, is the Texas Title Examination Standards, by the Title Standards Editorial Board of the Section of Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law and the Oil, Gas and Energy Resources Law Section of the State Bar of Texas. The Texas Title Examination Standards may be found in the Cumulative Annual Pocket Part to 1 Vernon's Texas Codes Annotated, Property Code, and at http://static.legalsolutions.thomsonreuters.com/static/pdf/texas/TXTitleExamStandards.pdf.

Family settlement agreements present particular challenges. They may secure beneficiaries' consent to an independent administration or settle a will contest or trust suit. Proper parties may include named beneficiaries, heirs at law, successor trustees, and contingent, unborn, and unascertained beneficiaries. Mistakes in identifying parties and defining capacities, critical elements of any agreement, may prove fatal. For a thorough discussion with detailed examples, including signature blocks, see "Settlement Agreements: Considerations when Negotiating, Drafting and Enforcing Settlement Agreements Involving Probate, Trust and Guardianship Disputes" by Sarah Patel Pacheco and Mickey R. Davis, 2009 Advanced Estate Planning and Probate Course, State Bar of Texas. Further coverage is beyond the scope of this System.

Lost Wills Special Instruction 85

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 85—LOST WILLS

If the original will is not available, additional information and steps are required for probate. Estates Code, Sections 256.054 and 257.053 (application), 258.002 (citation), 256.156 (proof), and 256.203 (findings).

The basic procedure for each application is generally still followed, but the will proponent must supplement this System's application, proof, and order forms and offer additional evidence.

The clerk must issue different citation, and personal service on decedent's resident heirs is required. Estates Code, Section 258.002. The will may not be probated before the required service, and so the clerk's file should be reviewed to confirm compliance. Estates Code, Section 258.003.

When a lost will was last seen in the testator's possession, additional evidence that the will was not revoked is required to overcome the presumption of revocation. Estates Code, Section 256.152(a)(1); In re Estate of Glover, 744 S.W.2d 939 (Tex. 1988).

Once a will not produced is admitted, certified copies of the contents as established by the order have the same dignity as certified copies of original wills and may be recorded in other counties and used in evidence. Estates Code, Section 256.203.

These rules apply only where the will is offered for probate. A will not produced may be offered in evidence to prove revocation of a prior will even if it cannot be admitted to probate. Estates Code, Sections 253.002 and 256.156; In re Estate of Page, 544 S.W.2d 757, 761 (Tex. Civ. App.—Corpus Christi 1976, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

For wills not produced, the application forms in this System must be supplemented with (1) the reason the will cannot be produced, (2) the contents of the will, and (3) the name, address, and relationship to decedent of each devisee and of each heir at law and whether the person is an adult or a minor. See Estates Code, Sections 256.054 and 257.053.

The proof forms in this System must be supplemented with (1) the cause of nonproduction, (2) evidence that the will was not revoked, and (3) the contents of the will. The cause of nonproduction must satisfy the court that the will cannot be produced by any reasonable diligence. Contents must be proved by testimony from someone who read the original or a copy of the will, heard it read, or can identify a copy. See Estates Code, Section 256.156; Glover, 744 S.W.2d 939.

"Reasonable diligence" generally includes searching the testator's books and papers, searching any safe deposit box, reviewing a copy of the will for the drafting attorney (the State Bar may have an address and phone number for the attorney or the law firm), reviewing a copy of the will for the notary (the secretary of state may have an address or insurance agency for the notary), checking with each county clerk where the testator resided after making the will, and checking with clerks of each court that may have jurisdiction of the testator's estate.

Clerks accept wills under a variety of statutes. No search is exhaustive that stops with the county clerk where the testator resided at death. Estates Code, Section 252.001, allows a testator to deliver his will to the county clerk of the testator's then-current residence. Post mortem, Estates Code, Section 252.201, requires the custodian to deliver the will to the clerk of the court with jurisdiction of the testator's estate. Where a safe deposit box is examined under court order, Estates Code, Section 151.002, requires delivery of the will to the clerk of the court with probate jurisdiction where the examination order issued. Where a safe deposit box is examined without court order, Estates Code, Section 151.004, permits delivery to the named executor or else to the clerk of the court with probate jurisdiction where the testator resided.

The order forms in this System must be supplemented with the contents of the will. See Estates Code, Section 256.203.

When a copy of the will is available, it may simply be attached to the application and order and incorporated by reference. If the copy is signed, some courts instead require that it be handled as an original—and both mailed and e-filed—so that the judge may present the "original" copy to the witness for identification.

Special Instruction 18—What to Do at Hearing remains a useful model but should be modified accordingly and edited to include testimony establishing (1) the cause of nonproduction (and the futility of any reasonable diligence), (2) that the will was not revoked, and (3) the contents of the will. For example:

Q. Are you Mrs. Harry D. Green, the decedent's widow?

- A. Yes.
- Q. Do you have your husband's original will?
- A. No.
- Q. Why not?
- A. I can't find it.
- Q. Where was it last seen?
- A. In my husband's desk drawer at home. He filed it there the day we signed it, and he showed me where.
- Q. Did you and your husband live in that same house until the day he died?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Did you look in the desk drawer after he died?
- A. Yes, but all I found was the copy
- Q. Where else did you look?
- A. We looked everywhere. The kids and I looked in his office, in our safe deposit box, and we went through the entire house.
- Q. Did you ask anyone about the will?
- A. Yes, I called our lawyer, I talked to his banker, and I even spoke with his doctor.
- Q. I now show you a document dated July 10, 2007, which purports to be a copy of Mr. Green's last will and testament. Do you recognize this document?

- A. Yes, it is a copy of his will.
- Q. How do you recognize this document?
- A. It's similar to the one I signed the same day, and I recognize my husband's signature.
- Q. Did Mr. Green mean to revoke this will?
- A. No. When he was in the hospital the last time he told me that I would get everything and that I would find his will in his desk drawer.

Too often, lulled by decedent's reassurances, family is confident the original will is safe, only to discover a copy instead of the original. This testimony includes evidence required when the will was last seen in the testator's possession—that is, that the will was not revoked.

Absent a court order to examine a safe deposit box, the testimony that the testator did not change his residence precludes the possibility that the clerk of another court might have been authorized to accept the testator's will.

Note: Imagine that the widow Green did not probate her husband's will and, following her death, her children consult you regarding both husband's and wife's wills. If probate of Mr. Green's will proves unnecessary, you should advise the children of their duty to deliver the original to the clerk of the probate court that has jurisdiction of Mr. Green's estate. Estates Code, Section 252.201. The same advice applies to both wills if the children do not retain you.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 86—SIGNATURE BLOCKS

Pleadings signed by attorneys must name the attorney and identify the attorney's State Bar number, address, phone, and fax. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rules 57 and 191.3(a)(1).

If the pleading is e-filed, the attorney's e-mail address is also required. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(2).

E-filed documents may be signed with either (1) an electronic or scanned digital image of the signature or (2) "/s/" and name typed in the space where the signature would otherwise appear. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 21(f)(7).

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 87—CAPTIONS AND TITLES

Pleadings begin with the cause number, the parties, the court, the county, and a title.

The caption contains the cause number, parties, court, and county.

The title identifies the document—for example, Original Application for Probate of Will and Issuance of Letters Testamentary. If supplemented or amended, the title must reflect the change, so the court and other parties can order the pleadings—for example, First Supplemental Original Application for Probate of Will and Issuance of Letters Testamentary, or First Amended Application for Probate of Will and Issuance of Letters Testamentary. Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Rules 78, 64, and 83.

In some courts the form is prescribed by law—for example, divorce or adoption in the family courts. Family Code, Sections 6.401(a) and 102.008(1). In probate, custom and the local rules are the main guides.

ORIGINAL APPLICATION FOR PROBATE OF WILL AND ISSUANCE OF LETTERS TESTAMENTARY

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 88—INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION BY AGREEMENT WHERE DECEDENT LEFT A WILL (TBA)

Independent administration is the administration of an estate without supervision by a court.

Independent administration is far more convenient, efficient, and inexpensive than any other kind of administration. There is more flexibility in the management of the estate, and there usually will be substantial savings in court costs and attorney's fees. However, if the estate is insolvent or potentially insolvent, an independent administration might not be the best procedure.

Independent administration may be created by agreement in a testate estate where the will did not provide for independent administration or where it did but no named executor is available or willing to serve. Estates Code, Section 401.002.

Where the will names a qualified executor but does not provide for independent administration, the court may allow independent administration and appoint the named executor as independent executor, provided all the distributees agree and consent. Estates Code, Section 401.002(a).

Where no executor is named, or, if named, is not available or qualified, the court may allow independent administration and appoint any qualified person agreed by the distributees as independent administrator. Estates Code, Section 401.002(b). The term "independent executor" includes an independent administrator. Estates Code, Section 22.017.

The court may not allow independent administration by agreement if the procedure or the agreed personal representative would not be in the best interest of an incapacitated distributee. Estates Code, Section 401.004(c). Check your court's policy if any distributee is a minor, disabled, or under a guardianship—that is, an incapacitated person as defined by Estates Code, Section 22.016.

Whenever independent administration is created by agreement, service of citation and notice of the application is required on each distributee who does not waive citation or enter an appearance. The definitions of distributee and the means of establishing consent are detailed, and they should be reviewed carefully. See Estates Code, Section 401.004, which enables a representative to consent to independent administration under some circumstances. Estates Code, Chapter 51, sets out procedures regarding notice that are unique to probate.

Following decedent's death, the independent executor or administrator appointed under these provisions files the will for probate, has it admitted, and takes and files the oath. On filing the oath, the independent executor or administrator is qualified and, unless limited by the will, has the power to perform any act necessary to settle the estate that might be done under the authority of a court in an administration where no will existed. In addition to those powers, the independent executor or administrator has any additional discretionary authority granted by the will. Estates Code, Section 401.006, enables a power of sale by agreement. Although there is no provision for a representative's consent, Property Code, Section 114.032(c), may permit a parent to agree for a minor.

After the will has been probated and the executor or administrator has qualified by taking the oath, the executor or administrator must prepare and file an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims, to be approved by the court. Estates Code, Section 309.051. Alternatively, in some circumstances for the estate of a decedent who died on or after September 1, 2011, the independent executor or administrator may file an affidavit in lieu of the inventory. Estates Code, Section 309.056. After such approval or filing, as long as the estate is represented by an independent executor or administrator, there is no further action of any nature to be taken in court except where the Estates Code specifically provides for some other action. Estates Code, Section 402.001. Estates Code, Chapters 308 and 404, are exceptions to that rule.

Most of the general Estates Code provisions for giving notice to creditors and for establishing claims against an estate apply to independent administrations. These provisions require an independent executor or administrator to observe all provisions of the Estates Code regarding notice to creditors and classification and priority of claims once such claims have been presented. Similarly, the Code requires an independent executor or administrator to set aside and deliver exempt property and allowances as if under court order. See Estates Code, Chapter 403.

Procedures for independent administration by agreement in a testate estate begin at Item 38 of the Checkplan.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 89—INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION BY AGREEMENT WHERE THERE IS NO WILL (IBA)

Independent administration is the administration of an estate without supervision by a court.

Independent administration is far more convenient, efficient, and inexpensive than any other kind of administration. There is more flexibility in the management of the estate, and there usually will be substantial savings in court costs and attorney's fees. However, if the estate is insolvent or potentially insolvent, an independent administration might not be the best procedure.

Independent administration may be created by agreement in an intestate estate under Estates Code, Section 401.003. In such an estate, the court may allow independent administration and appoint any qualified person agreed by the distributees as independent administrator. The term "independent executor" includes an independent administrator. Estates Code, Section 22.017.

The court may not allow independent administration by agreement if the procedure or the agreed personal representative would not be in the best interest of an incapacitated distributee. Estates Code, Section 401.004(c). Check your court's policy if any distributee is a minor, disabled, or under a guardianship—that is, an incapacitated person as defined by Estates Code, Section 22.016.

For decedents dying on or after September 1, 2011, a proceeding to declare heirship is required before creation of the independent administration. Estates Code, Section 401.003(b). The application for independent administration may be heard and granted in the same proceeding, provided the judgment declaring heirship precedes the order authorizing independent administration. See Special Instruction 60—Proceedings to Declare Heirship (PDH).

Applications for letters of administration in an intestate estate, whether independent or dependent, require different information from those for independent administration of a testate estate, including applicant's relation to decedent and decedent's heirs, children, and divorces. Compare Estates Code, Section 301.052 (Contents of Application for Letters of Administration) with Estates Code, Section 256.052 (Contents of Application for Probate of Will Generally).

Whenever independent administration is created by agreement, service of citation and notice of the application is required on each distributee who does not waive citation or enter an appearance. The definitions of distributee and the means of establishing consent are detailed, and they should be reviewed carefully. See Estates Code, Section 401.004, which enables a representative to consent to independent administration under some circumstances. Estates Code, Chapter 51, sets out procedures regarding notice that are unique to probate.

On filing the oath, the independent administrator is qualified and has the power to perform any act necessary to settle the estate that might be done under the authority of a court in a regular administration where no will existed. Estates Code, Section 401.006, enables a power of sale by agreement. Although there is no provision for a representative's consent, Property Code, Section 114.032(c), may permit a parent to agree for a minor.

After the administrator has qualified by taking the oath, the administrator must prepare and file an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims, to be approved by the court. Estates Code, Section 309.051. Alternatively, in some circumstances for the estate of a decedent who died on or after September 1, 2011, the independent administrator may file an affidavit in lieu of the inventory. Estates Code, Section 309.056. After such approval or filing, as long as the estate is represented by an independent administrator, there is no further action of any nature to be taken in court except where the Estates Code specifically provides for some other action. Estates Code, Section 402.001. Estates Code, Chapters 308 and 404, are exceptions to that rule.

Most of the general Estates Code provisions for giving notice to creditors and for establishing claims against an estate apply to independent administrations. These provisions require an independent administrator to observe all provisions of the Estates Code regarding notice to creditors and classification and priority of claims once such claims have been presented. Similarly, the Code requires an independent administrator to set aside and deliver exempt property and allowances as if under court order. See Estates Code, Chapter 403.

Procedures for independent administration by agreement in an intestate estate begin at Item 41 of the Checkplan.

Missing Heirs Special Instruction 90

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 90—MISSING HEIRS

Following the court's settlement of the final account, the executor or administrator is ready to make distributions of the assets remaining in the estate. From time to time, however, an heir is missing and cannot be located. This is especially likely if decedent was elderly, died without a will, and had a large family or multiple marriages.

Assuming that the estate assets have been liquidated and the only asset remaining is cash, the easiest method of distribution is to obtain cashier's checks from the estate's bank for the heirs who can be located. Good practice indicates mailing the checks and proposed receipt and release by certified mail, return receipt requested, to all known heirs. When a receipt and release is returned, it will be filed with the court.

If a check is returned unclaimed, or if heirs are unknown or cannot be located, further steps are required. The court must order the executor or administrator to deposit in the court's registry all money to which a person who is unknown or missing is entitled. Estates Code, Section 362.011(c).

If an heir (other than a resident minor without a guardian) has not demanded that heir's share within six months after the date of the settlement of the final account, the court must order the executor or administrator to pay to the Comptroller of Public Accounts that heir's share, including any portion that had been deposited in the court's registry. Estates Code, Section 551.001(a). The executor or administrator must obtain from the comptroller a receipt for the payment, with an official seal attached, and file the receipt with the clerk of the court. Estates Code, Section 551.006. Failure to pay the funds to the comptroller within thirty days after the date of the order subjects the executor or administrator to a significant penalty. See Estates Code, Section 551.102.

If the estate assets have not been liquidated before the order to deposit funds into the court's registry, the court must order the executor or administrator to convert into money any remaining nonmonetary assets to which a missing or unknown heir is entitled. Estates Code, Section 362.011(b). This procedure for conversion of nonmonetary assets is not covered in this System.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION 91—ANCILLARY PROBATE (AP) OR RECORDING (RW) OF WILLS PREVIOUSLY PROBATED ELSEWHERE

The will of a decedent who was not domiciled in Texas at the time of death may be admitted to probate in Texas pursuant to Estates Code, Chapters 501 and 502, if the will affects property in Texas, including litigation here. Estates Code, Sections 501.001(1) and 502.001(a)(1). If administration is necessary and the will has been probated in another state or a foreign country, it may be admitted to ancillary probate in Texas. See Estates Code, Chapter 501 (Ancillary Probate of Foreign Will). Original probate is also available in certain circumstances. See Estates Code, Chapter 502 (Original Probate of Foreign Will), and the discussion in Special Instruction 15—Jurisdiction and Venue.

If no administration is necessary and the only concern is to have the Texas real property records reflect the ownership of bequeathed real estate, a simple procedure for recording a will that has been probated in another state or a foreign country can be used. See Estates Code, Chapter 503 (Recording of Foreign Testamentary Instrument).

Informative coverage of considerations and procedures involving foreign wills is contained in "Administration of the Estate with Cross Border Issues" by R. Glenn Davis, 2014 Advanced Estate Planning and Probate Course, State Bar of Texas.

Ancillary Probate

The will of a decedent who was not domiciled in Texas at the time of death that would affect any real or personal property in Texas may be admitted to ancillary probate at any time on proof that it was probated or otherwise established in another state or a foreign country. Estates Code, Section 501.001. The general four-year limit does not apply to a foreign will. Estates Code, Section 256.003. The procedure for ancillary probate depends on whether the will was probated in the jurisdiction in which decedent was domiciled at time of death or in another jurisdiction. Ancillary probate of a will probated in a nondomiciliary jurisdiction is beyond the scope of this System.

If the will was admitted to probate in decedent's domiciliary jurisdiction, the application need only indicate that Texas probate is requested on the basis of the authenticated copy of the foreign probate proceedings, and no citation or notice is required. Estates Code, Sections 501.002(a) and 501.003(a). The application must include a copy of the foreign will and the order admitting it to probate, attested and certified as required by Estates Code, Section 501.002(c).

The clerk must record in the judge's probate docket, without the necessity of a court order, the foreign will and evidence of its probate. Estates Code, Section 501.004(a), (c). When the foreign will has been filed and recorded in the probate docket, it is considered to be admitted to probate and has the same effect as if the original will had been admitted to probate by a Texas court. Estates Code, Section 501.005.

When dealing with foreign estates or beneficiaries, U.S. banks, brokers, and life insurance companies may insist on an apostille or acknowledgment before a U.S. consular official before distributing nonprobate assets to named beneficiaries. Either an apostille or acknowledgment before a U.S. consular official is also sufficient when authenticating a will or order from another country. It is permissible, and simpler, however, to use a local notary. Whenever a will, order, or other document is in a foreign language, attach sworn translations of the document and each notarial certificate or stamp. Cf. Civil Practice & Remedies Code, Section 121.001; Property Code, Section 11.002. More cumbersome procedures will be necessary in a contest, where the rules of evidence may be strictly enforced. See "Administration of the Estate with Cross Border Issues" by R. Glenn Davis, 2014 Advanced Estate Planning and Probate Course, State Bar of Texas, at 9 (Probate of Wills Written in a Foreign Language).

An executor named in a foreign will admitted to ancillary probate in Texas is entitled to ancillary letters testamentary on proof that the executor has qualified in the foreign jurisdiction and is not disqualified from serving in Texas (Estates Code, Section 501.006(a)(1), (2)) and that there is a necessity for administration in Texas. If the will is admitted to ancillary probate in Texas after the fourth anniversary of decedent's death, proof must also be made that the executor continues to serve as executor in the foreign jurisdiction. Estates Code, Section 501.006(a)(3). A court order directing issuance of ancillary letters testamentary to the executor is to be entered when that proof is made. Estates Code, Section 501.006(b). This System calls for attaching to the application for ancillary letters an authenticated copy of the letters testamentary from the original jurisdiction to prove the executor's qualification. Other facts may be established by affidavit. Local practice may require a hearing. The Estates Code does not.

If the will does not appoint the executor as an independent executor but the foreign jurisdiction allowed the personal representative to serve independently, the Texas court generally will also allow an independent administration. If the foreign jurisdiction does not allow independent administration but independence is warranted, the appropriate procedure would be to obtain consent of all the distributees pursuant to Estates Code, Sections 401.002 and 401.004 through 401.006.

The Code is unclear, but this System assumes that on issuance of ancillary letters testamentary to the executor the usual requirements and exceptions apply for an oath, bond, inventory, and notice to beneficiaries and creditors.

Following ancillary probate under Estates Code, Section 501.002, a foreign personal representative need not apply for letters testamentary under Estates Code, Section 501.006, to prosecute a wrongful death or survival action. Civil Practice & Remedies Code, Sections 71.012 and 71.022. If ancillary letters are not sought, the relevant forms, letters, and procedures in the System must be altered accordingly.

Procedures for ancillary administration begin at Item 44 of the Checkplan.

Recording in Deed Records

A copy of a will that conveys or disposes of Texas real estate and that has been probated in another state or a foreign country, together with a copy of the order admitting it to probate in the foreign jurisdiction, may be filed in the deed records in any Texas county in which the real estate is located. Estates Code, Section 503.001(a). Certified copies are inadequate. Instead, both the will and the order should be authenticated according to Estates Code, Section 501.002(c). Estates Code, Section 503.001(b). The original signatures required by Section 501.002(c) are not required, however, for this recordation procedure. Estates Code, Section 503.002. The recorded documents function as a conveyance and as notice of title. Estates Code, Sections 503.051 through 503.052.

Review "Ancillary Probate," above, for considerations in authenticating and, if necessary, translating the will and order.

If the recorded will gives the executor the power to sell property located in Texas, no court order is needed to authorize a sale and conveyance by the executor, although any specific directions in the will concerning the sale of estate property must be followed unless annulled or suspended by court order. Estates Code, Section 505.052.

Procedures for recording the will in the deed records are at Item 45 of the Checkplan.

Re: [style or description of case]

Dear [name]:

Thank you for [visiting our office/your call/your letter] regarding administration of the estate of your [relationship, name].

This letter confirms our conversation of [date], in which [you decided not to engage our firm/we decided it is premature to engage counsel/I concluded our firm will not be able to represent you]. [Include if applicable: I have [enclosed/previously returned] your documents [include if applicable: , including the original will].]

Probate may become necessary laer. Please be aware that four years from the date of death is the usual deadline to probate a will. It should be offered for probate several months before then, to allow time for a hearing before the deadline.

Include the following paragraph if the prospective client has the will.

If you do not probate the will now, Section 252.201 of the Texas Estates Code requires you to file it anyway with the clerk of court with jurisdiction, typically in the county where the decedent resided.

Continue with the following.

Nine months following death is the tax deadline for a qualified disclaimer or an estate tax return. September 30 of the year following death is the deadline to determine IRA or other plan beneficiaries. These techniques can fix broken estate plans but are lost if not timely used.

Thank you for considering our firm, and we wish you the best. [Include if unable to represent prosepective client: I urge you to contact another attorney as soon as possible.] [Include if willing to represent prosepective client: If circumstances change and you think we can help, please contact us promptly.] Unless we exchange a written engagement, our firm does not represent you and will not remind you of any deadlines.

Yours very truly,

LIST OF EFFECTIVE PAGES

This list shows the current version of each sheet that should be in the Texas Probate System, after incorporating into it the 2016 supplement. After this supplement has been inserted, use this list to check the completeness of the System. Only the right-hand pages are listed; next to each page number is the date of the current version of that sheet, which should be the same as the date printed in the lower right corner of the page, underneath the page number, in the System. Pages that have not been replaced by supplementation do not bear dates. The first sixteen pages in volume 1 (half-title through Contents page) and the first six pages in volume 2 (half-title through Contents page) do not bear dates. Please note that pages xvii through xx are the List of Effective Pages and will be inserted in the manual after you have checked all other pages against this list.

Every page that is printed in a supplement bears the supplement date underneath the page number if that page includes a page number, even if the page contains no changed substantive content. It is often necessary to reprint pages with unchanged content because of the reflow of text following added, amended, or deleted text, and occasionally pages are reprinted to simplify the task of removing and replacing pages.
