LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

TEXAS STATE LIBRARY,
Austin, Texas, September 1, 1942.

To His Excellency, COKE R. STEVENSON, Governor of Texas:

SIR: Herewith is submitted the report of the Texas Library and Historical Commission, including the report of the Texas State Library, for the seventeenth biennium, ending August 31, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

DR. EDMUND HEINSOHN, Chairman:
LAURA ALINE HOBBY,
JOHN GOULD,
MRS. H. Y. BENEDICT,
L. W. KEMP.

SUMMARY OF PROCEEDINGS OF THE TEXAS LIBRARY AND HISTORICAL COMMISSION

The Texas Library and Historical Commission met January 15, 1941, in the Directors' Room of the American National Bank, Austin. At the request of the Commission a committee of four from the Texas Library Association met with the Commission to discuss the Lester-Noon Survey of the Texas State Library. The Committee stated that it approved in principle the recommendations contained in the Survey. The Survey recommended an expanded program for the library which would primarily depend upon an increased library budget. The Chairman and a Committee member drafted a letter to the American Library Association setting forth the conclusions of the joint meeting. The presidents of the Texas Library Association and of the Peoples Library Movement, members of the Committee, pledged the assistance of their respective organizations in endeavoring to secure increased legislative appropriation for the library.

The annual meeting of the Texas Library and Historical Commission was held February 9, 1942, in the Texas State Library. Dr. Heinsohn was elected chairman to succeed Miss Burleson, deceased, and Mr. Gould was elected vice-chairman. The Commission voted to meet twice a year, in January and July, as the traveling fund of the library had been increased. The Commission agreed that each member would take a particular division of the library to sponsor in developing. This should prove helpful, particularly in getting budget increases. The Commission will take action to amend the law so as to authorize the Archivist to certify to copies of documents in the Archives. The shorter name, Texas State Library, was adopted for general use rather than the name Texas Library and Historical Commission. The meeting of representatives of the various cultural institutions of Texas to consider Conservation of Cultural Resources in Time of War, as recommended by the National Resources Planning Board, Washington, was reported upon. Discussion of the safety of the archives followed. The library staff was re-elected.

The Texas Library and Historical Commission held its first mid-year meeting on July 27, 1942 in the State Library. A program for possible improvement in the library was discussed. The heads of the various divisions of the library were requested to come before the Commission and suggest ways of improving the library. A self-survey will be made of the library in the fall.

REPORT OF THE STATE LIBRARIAN

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

THE REPORT GIVEN HERE is for the seventeenth biennium of the Texas Library and Historical Commission. It is in accordance with Texas Revised Civil Statutes 1925, Article 5446.

MISS EMMA K. BURLESON, Senior member of the Commission and chairman since 1920, was removed by death June 16, 1941. Miss Burleson had been a member of the Commission since 1917 and her death was a distinct loss to both the Commission and the Library. The following resolutions were adopted in her memory:

WHEREAS, The death of Miss Emma Kyle Burleson on June 16, 1941 removed from the Texas Library and Historical Commission its highly respected senior member; and

WHEREAS, Miss Burleson had served on the Commission continuously since 1917 and as its chairman since 1920, giving generously of her time and interest over this period of twenty-four years; and

WHEREAS, Miss Burleson was peculiarly fitted for membership on the Commission, being the descendant of hardy Texas pioneers, the granddaughter of General Edward Burleson, hero of San Jacinto; the daughter of Edward Burleson, Jr., a Major in the Confederate Army; and the granddaughter of Colonel Claeborne Kyle, a colonel in the Confederate Army, she was imbued with the history and lore of Texas; and

WHEREAS, She was a unique person, of independent nature, outspoken in her opinions, loyal to her friends, generous in helping the poor, steadfast in what she saw as her duty; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the Texas Library and Historical Commission express their regret at the loss of this useful and affectionately esteemed member; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent the sister, Mrs. Lily Burleson MacDonnell, and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the meeting.

(Signed) ADA STONE BENEDICT,
FANNIE M. WILCOX,
EDMUND HEINSOHN,
Committee.

March 30, 1942.

CHANGES IN COMMISSION. Mr. John H. Payne resigned from the Commission on October 25, 1940 having been appointed on the Board of Directors of the Lower Colorado River Authority. The Governor appointed Mr. A. C. Bull of Austin, November 9, 1940, to succeed him. Mr. Bull's term expired September 25, 1941, and Governor Stevenson appointed Mr. L. W. Kemp of Houston, October 14, 1941, to succeed him. Mrs. H. Y. Benedict, of Austin, was appointed June 24, 1941, to fill the unexpired term of Miss Burleson. Dr. Edmund Heinsohn was elected by the Commission to succeed Miss Burleson as Chairman.

STAFF. A number of changes on the staff have occurred. This is mainly due to the present war crisis which has caused a general turn-over in employment. Changes on the staff follow. Miss Alice Green, General Assistant, resigned February 29, 1941, to become Assistant Librarian in the Amarillo Public Library. The position was filled temporarily until Miss Mattie Sue Mounce came June 9, 1941. Mr. Julian Freeman, Assistant in the Archives, resigned November 12, 1941, to enter the army and was succeeded December 1, 1941, by Mr. B. C. Driver. Mr. Driver resigned June 30, 1942, to go to Emory University Library and was succeeded by Miss Katherine Bridges August 1, 1942. Mr. Elton Gilliland, Night Librarian-Assistant, resigned August 31, 1941, to enter the army and Miss Frances Clark followed him September 1, 1941. She resigned April 1, 1942, to become librarian of Pulaski County Library, Arkansas. The position was temporarily filled until Miss Marie Blair was appointed June 15, 1942. Miss Blair had been Stenographer since December 1, 1941. She was succeeded June 15, 1942, by Miss Doris Nesbitt, at which time Miss Blair became Night Librarian-Assistant.

ABSENCES. The report of absences from September 1, 1940, through August 31, 1940, as required by a rider on the Departmental Appropriation Bill of 1941, is as follows:

MADE-TO-ORDER COLLECTIONS. These collections are made to meet the needs of borrowers. They are lent to clubs and other organizations to be circulated within the groups. During the biennium 38 collections containing 527 books were lent to Parent-Teacher Associations and Child Study groups. They were sent to the following places: Albany, Big Spring, Buda, Channing, Comfort, Cotulla, Dilley, Freer, Fredericksburg, Garnersville, Gravel Hill, Harper, Kirbyville, Lampasas, Luling, New Braunfels, Orange Grove, Pearsall, Pettus, Prairie Lea, Pidcoke, Raymondville, Rogers, Roscoe, Rotan, Sweetwater, Tahoka, Weslaco.

SERVICES FOR THE BLIND. Embossed Books. The Library has collections of books for the blind in the Braille and Moon Types, and is the circulation center for Texas of books provided by the Federal Government. Any blind person in the State may borrow these books which are mailed to readers free under franking privilege, and instructions for learning to read these types are lent upon request. There are 8,386 volumes of Braille and 1,935 volumes of Moon in the Library. One hundred and eighty-two readers of embossed types are registered with the Library and the circulation for the biennium was 4,904, of which 2,159 circulated the first year and 2,745 the second. An interesting feature of the Braille circulation of the past year is the fact that, while the increase in fiction circulation was slight, reading in the field of non-fiction was more than doubled. Talking Books. Talking Books consist of containers of sound reproduction records on which are recorded the reading of entire books. They are provided by an annual appropriation of Congress to the Library of Congress. The State Library is one of the twenty-seven distributing centers for these books. They are lent to any blind person who owns, or has borrowed from the Federal Government through the State Commission for the Blind a "Talking Book" machine manufactured by the American Foundation for the Blind. In Texas 524 blind persons are provided with machines. The Library has 1,506 containers of records. The circulation for the biennium was 14,302 containers of which 6,647 circulated the first year and 7,655 the second. The Library receives many letters from blind patrons and their friends expressing their appreciation of these services. The son of one reader wrote, "What with five hundred machines in Texas, you must have a job trying to keep all in books; but you have rendered a real service in his case. He has been blind for five years now, and I know of nothing which has given him more pleasure than has the Talking Book machine." Something of the value of this service to the aged is expressed in this letter: "O! how thrilled my Aunt was when she discovered you had sent her 'Gone With the Wind.' There were real tears of joy in her eyes, and I have sent for my mother, who is as old as Aunty, to come up and listen to the books, too. It is perfectly wonderful—this whole lovely project for the blind, and such a blessing. Thank you again and again." A blind patron who is also a worker with the blind says: "Let me express the thanks of the readers for the efficient service which your department has rendered for so many years. I believe it is something of a record for a government agency. Also, accept my personal thanks for a myriad of happy evenings." A friend wrote; "Mrs. _____ would like to take this opportunity of expressing great appreciation for the service you render, and for pleasure in the quality of the literature offered. It is a wonderful boon to the blind."

CIRCULATION. The circulation of books from the Main Library to individuals and small groups for the biennium was 33,361 of this number 16,152 were circulated the first year and 17,209 the second. The statistics for traveling libraries and school collections are given in the report of the Assistant Librarian. The number of books lent through the Extension Division to communities is given in the report of that division, but statistics showing the circulation of books while in these communities are not available. Letters from all parts of the state show that individuals are making good use of the service of the State Library. A teacher said, "The books you sent were splendid. Both our Latin American History teacher and I were delighted by your selections for us and your speed in service to us." A club woman wrote, "I found the materials both interesting and instructive and have a program arranged that should be enjoyed. I appreciate the privilege of obtaining proper materials. I thank you again and assure you that I so appreciate the splendid work the State Library is doing." "I never knew that I could get so much good reading for so little money," a new borrower said, and a worker in the Parent-Teacher Association wrote, "You do not know what a service you and your department are rendering to the people who are unable to buy or borrow books that mean food for the soul." This letter came from an elderly rural woman; "Tonight, I write you a few lines to thank you for sending me the books. It is company to me to read. I am 61 years old—been sick about three years. We are very poor. I sure enjoyed the books and sure thank you." This request expresses a need created by the emergency. "Having recently moved to the country and, on account of the distance and the rationing, I do not get to attend church and the federated club to which I belong. I will miss these contacts. Could you send me a list of books available for the rural woman?"

BOOK STOCK. The Texas State Library, on August 31, 1942, contained 211,204 volumes. The collection of manuscripts in the Division of Archives and History numbers not less than 1,000,000 pieces.

During the biennium the library received approximately 3,482 official state documents from states other than Texas; 1,026 state documents from states other than Texas were transferred to the University of Texas library; 417 worn out books were withdrawn; 9,431 books were accessioned; 243 titles of "talking book" records for the blind were received; and there were bound 329 books, 413 magazines and 132 newspapers. During the second year of the biennium, the W.P.A. project workers pamphlet bound approximately 294 pamphlets and renovated several hundred books. Leather bound books totaling 3,578 volumes were oiled and 320 books, in addition to those mentioned above, were mended.

GIFTS. The most notable gift to the library was the bequest of the late T. U. Taylor, for many years Dean of the Engineering Department, University of Texas, of one-hundred fifty volumes. About half of these are books on Texas subjects, and half genealogical works and the West. The gift, which included many rare items, is much appreciated.

Other gifts to the library totaled four hundred and ten items.

WORK PROJECTS ADMINISTRATION. The W. P. A. Statewide Library Project has been continued with the Texas Library and Historical Commission as sponsor. The Project Proposal as drawn up for 1941 was for $2,072,180. There was no Project Proposal signed for 1942 but the project was continued. The Statewide Records Project was put under the Library Project. Through the Project Technician, the Research and Records Program turned over to the library, in May 1942, the imprints inventoried in Texas libraries. These consisted of six cartons of imprints, some of which are carbon and some penciled copies. In the summer of 1941 the Statewide Library Project ordered 4,357 books for the use of eight defense areas in Texas. In addition to these the Project has a collection of about 14,000 volumes. These are lent under certain terms to towns or communities throughout the state. In November 1941, Mr. Arthur R. Curry, who had been State Supervisor since the beginning of the project, resigned and was succeeded by Miss Bonnie F. McAfee. During the biennium the Project has continued along the same lines as before. W. P. A. helpers have been placed in schools and libraries throughout the state. Many club and subscription libraries have been opened free to the people through the help of W. P. A. workers. It has given hundreds of citizens access to small libraries where there were none before. With the Federal Government turning all efforts to defense work, and with the absorption of numerous W. P. A. workers in this work and private enterprise, it is anticipated that W. P. A. will cease altogether in a few months.

THE VICTORY BOOK CAMPAIGN sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations was carried on in Texas from January through April, 1942. The State Librarian was State Director and Mr. Donald Coney, President of the Texas Library Association, was Associate Director. Headquarters were at the State Library. A State Executive Board, with representatives from the sponsoring organizations and other state organizations, was organized. The state was divided into twelve districts, each under a district director and these districts were similarly divided. The public schools and colleges added much to the campaign. Citizens manifested much interest and by the latter part of April, 123,652 books were collected. Books have continued to come in throughout the summer, but no accurate count has been made. The books were assorted at numerous collecting centers and those suitable for use were sent to the various camps in the state. The W. P. A. Statewide Library Project cooperated in assorting and repairing books. As Texas is in one of the two areas of the United States having the most men in the armed forces, it could not supply the needs, hence books from other states were sent in. Ten warehouses were established throughout the country from which to distribute books. Fort Worth, with the Public Library as the distributing agency, was made one of these depositories. The motor freight lines were most generous in giving free transportation of the books. President Roosevelt made a national proclamation designating April 17, 1942, as Victory Book Day, and Governor Stevenson made a similar proclamation for Texas. Letters from those in charge of the books in numerous camps showed that the books were gratefully received.

BY DIVISION

ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN AND CATALOGUER

MARY E. GOFF

TRAVELING LIBRARIES. This division sends collections of books to communities that do not have adequate library facilities. Application is made by a group who will sponsor the care and circulation of the books to the whole community. The only expense is cost of transportation and refunding the cost of lost books. The collections are shipped in cartons by book post, freight, or motor transport. Three hundred forty-three collections totaling 21,447 volumes were lent and the returns show that the books had a circulation of 67,430. One hundred seventy-four books were withdrawn, 78 were lost in circulation and paid for by the borrowing communities, and 90 were worn out. One thousand seven hundred nineteen new books, totaling a cost of $2,367.49, were purchased. This leaves a collection of approximately 8,545 volumes.

CATALOGING. During the biennium 4,698 volumes in the general collection were catalogued, 14,514 cards were added to the card catalog. The World War I material was reclassified and catalogued. United States government documents were catalogued and analyzed as follows: Periodicals 182, serials 114, and pamphlets 4,938. Catalog cards for 458 new books for the blind, totaling 1,603 volumes were made.

DIVISION OF ARCHIVES AND HISTORY

HARRIET SMITHER, Archivist

The work of making the Archive resources more readily available for use has gone steadily but slowly on during the biennium. The enlistment papers of the Texas National Guard, thousands upon thousands of them, have been alphabetized. The bonds and oaths of officials of Republic and State have also been alphabetized; and work is going forward slowly on the proper arrangement of state warrants, those of the Republic having been completed. Card-indexing the microfilm of the Eighth Census for Texas, 1880, has been begun, a work in which the Department of Public Welfare has assumed the responsibility of the salaries of the reader and the typist. The repair of documents and binding of newspapers and pamphlets has continued as in the last biennium. Work continues on the second and third volumes of "The Journals of the Sixth Congress, 1841-1842." The following Library publications have been sold: Lamar Papers, 7 volumes; Journals of the Fourth Congress, 5 volumes; Senate Journals of the Sixth Congress, 4 volumes. The usual number of translations from the Spanish have been made for the Governor's office and other departments and for the members of the Legislature.

Additions to the Archives by purchase are as follows: Papers of John C. Duval, a soldier of Fannin's command; Edwards Letters of the period of the fifties; Diary of W. N. King, Confederate soldier, 1861-1865; file of the Telegraph and Texas Register, 1862-1865; microfilm of the Eighth Census for Texas, 1880, thirty-four volumes. Also the following films from the National Archives and various libraries: Texas Diplomatic Notes, 1836-1845; Galveston Dispatches and Consular Records, 1817-1845; Texas Consular Letters, 1825-1844; Matamoros Consular Dispatches, 1837-1851; Texas Legation Letters, 1836-1845; Mexican Diplomatic Notes, 1821-1851; 30 films concerning United States forts in Texas; 4 volumes Gail Borden, Jr. Papers; 55 films of miscellaneous Texas newspapers.

The following gifts have been received: One pair of Texas Steer Horns from Miss Annie Cook, Austin; scrapbooks and other papers of Judge T. S. Maxey, the gift of his son, Mr. Robert Maxey, Austin; Autobiography of George W. Trahern, a Mier prisoner, a transcript, the gift of Mr. J. Frank Dobie; a picture of the Constitutional Convention of 1875 from Mrs. Lily Burlison McDonnell, Austin; The Isaacs Clan by Judge S. J. Isaacs of El Paso, the gift of the author; transcript of Memorial to the Legislature by William B. Victor, the gift of Mr. L. W. Kemp of Houston; "Directory of Officials of Refugio County, including Town and District, 1834-1938," compiled by Mr. Hobart Huson of Refugio and presented by him; "Camp Logan, a History of Auxiliary Remount Depot, No. 324, Houston, Texas, 1917-1919," compiled by Alvin T. Jackson, the gift of the compiler.

The following transcripts and photostats have been made: Transcripts of Nacogdoches Archives in the Court House at Nacogdoches, made through the courtesy of Mr. R. B. Blake of that city; photostats of papers of Thomas Jefferson Chambers through the courtesy of Hon. Price Daniel of Liberty; transcript of Dr. John Charles Beales et al. vs. The United States, copied through the courtesy of Dr. C. C. Rister of Oklahoma University; photostats of Lee-Boner Confederate letters made through the courtesy of Mrs. Sallie Boner of Austin; transcripts of the Beardsley Letters made through the courtesy of Mr. Nugent Brown of Austin.

Transfers have been made from the departments under the statute which provides for the transfer of "all books, maps, papers, manuscripts, documents, memoranda and data not connected with or necessary to the current duties of said offices relating to the history of Texas" (Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, Art. 5441, Sec. 4):

From the State Department: Original Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925; 20 boxes of documents, consisting of campaign expenses, election returns, and lists of notaries public; Record Books, House and Senate Bills, 1871-1929; Judiciary Committee Books, 1871, 1873 and 1881; House Committee on Finance Book, 13th and 17th Legislatures; Governor's Proclamations, 1929; Expense Accounts, 38th Legislature; Stationery Book, 1890; Texas State Auditor's Report on Investment of University Oil Leases and Royalties; University Lease Abstracts and five books of certified photostats supporting University leases; Shipping Book, 1874-1876; Specifications of Materials and Workmanship required in building the new State Capitol; Books listing Corporations and giving information on each, 1896; relinquishment of the copyright to State Song, "Texas, Our Texas," by W. LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE DIVISION

DORIS H. CONNERLY, Librarian

The Forty-seventh Legislature of Texas set a new record in the length of its regular session in 1941, which lasted 171 days, beginning on January 14 and ending at midnight of July 3. A brief special session of 11 days, September 9-19, was held to consider one problem, the road bond assumption law, and adjourned as soon as the measure passed.

There were many controversial measures before the Legislature at its regular session, and the resulting activity necessarily called for extra work from all divisions of the library. The Legislative Reference Division continued the arrangement which had proved satisfactory at previous sessions, whereby the student assistant stayed at night to handle personal inquiries. He also prepared the card index of the daily house and senate journals. The two full time members of the Division handled the rest of the work during the day. A small amount of bill drafting was done, but other demands limited the scope of this activity.

Usually elections come in the even years, legislative sessions in odd years, and requests are thereby spread out, but in 1941 the two conditions came together when a special election for the office of United States Senator was held in the summer, to fill the unexpired term of Senator Morris Sheppard, who had died in the Spring. The election was won by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, who resigned as governor and took the oath as senator in August, 1941. Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson succeeded to the office of governor. This election increased the demands on the Division, as the race was close and hotly contested.

In contrast the 1942 primaries made only light claims on the Division. The war was evidently responsible for this unusual situation, as election year usually calls for a great deal of research into legislative records. To balance this slackening, the Division began collecting material bearing on war problems, to be considered by the 1943 session, and outlines and compilations were prepared. Several changes in personnel in the student assistant position were caused by the war, and this was a considerable handicap. Nevertheless, it was possible to prepare a card index of all reports of investigating committees of the Legislature from 1900 to date, as well as to continue the card index of selected articles in Texas periodicals.

The problem of storage space for the extra copies of Texas documents, always serious, has now grown crucial. This recurring situation, in which space must somehow be found for expanding material, takes a great deal of time each year—time which could be more profitably employed. Every few months it is necessary to thin out reports, and shift them about, with no hope of any permanent solution.

During the past two years the Division, in its document shipments, sent out 7 legislative documents to 60 libraries, and 329 other state documents to 150 libraries—a total of almost 50,000 items. In addition there is a large and growing demand from law libraries for copies of the annual report of the Texas Civil Judicial Council, and for the Monthly Reports of the Attorney General. Both of these require special mailing lists in addition to the regular mailing list.

The various state departments, like those of the national government, are making increased use of the mimeograph method of reproducing reports and when this is done, copies are not furnished to the Texas State Library for distribution to other libraries. In such instances requests for copies should not be sent to the State Library, but direct to the issuing department. Only reports printed with state funds are distributed through the State Library.

The mimeographed Texas bulletin seems a hardy perennial and is still distributed regularly, not only by the State Library, but also by several other state departments, to which it is furnished in ample quantity on request. This bulletin was listed in the summer of 1942 in the Vertical File Service Catalog of the H. W. Wilson Company, and numerous out of state requests for copies came in as a result.

The Directory of Texas State Officials, a rudimentary, mimeographed booklet, was issued only once during the biennium, on November 15, 1941.

Data for the Statesman's Year-Book and the Americana Annual were checked again each year, and various questionnaires, official and semi-official, were answered. The pamphlet files were thinned and checked, all obsolete items being discarded. The renovation of the library room was disruptive and threw the routine work several weeks behind schedule.

EXTENSION DIVISION

MRS. DOROTHY C. JOURNEYAY, Extension Director

NEW LIBRARIES. Despite the deterring effect of war on all normal peace-time progress, public library establishment and development have gone on in Texas, as they have throughout the nation, at an excellent rate. Since the beginning of World War II in 1939, 251 county libraries have been established in the United States, eight of them in Texas. Five of these have been established during the 1940-1942 biennium, as well as two city public libraries, which means that about 150,000 additional people of Texas have access to free public library service, and that the annual income for such service has been increased more than $87,000.

TAKING PART IN THE WAR EFFORT. The fact that books and trained library personnel are of significant importance, even in the war effort, is evidenced by the provision which the Federal Government has made and is making for the libraries in army camps, air bases and naval stations throughout the country. Large sums of money have been allocated for the purchase of books and the employment of qualified librarians, and, in many instances, for separate library buildings. The Extension Division of the Texas State Library has kept in touch with the Librarian of the Eighth Corps Area at Fort Sam Houston, and visits have been made to army camp and air base libraries to consult with officers in charge concerning the distribution of Victory Book Campaign books, to give aid where possible in organization, and to offer the full cooperation of the Texas State Library.

FIELD TRIPS. During this biennium thirty-eight field trips were made, on which 165 towns in 148 counties were visited, besides visits to sixty-three public city and county libraries and sixteen camp libraries. Addresses were made to seven county commissioners' courts and to seventy-two other groups, the latter resulting in the formation of twenty-one county library committees.

DEMONSTRATION COLLECTIONS. There were 11,696 books lent from the Extension Division in demonstration collections to the counties over the State. The largest collection, one of 5,000 books, was lent to Hidalgo County in an effort to demonstrate to the nearly 100,000 people in the county, what free public library service might mean to them. A collection of 3,195 books was lent to Dallas County, which, for the past four years, has had a strong active movement by the people going on for county library establishment. The books were divided and lent through the libraries in the towns and schools of Grand Prairie, Irving, Mesquite, Vickery, De Soto, Seagoville, Carrollton, Cedar Hill and Lancaster. The loan has resulted in helping the County Library Committee to obtain an annual appropriation of $3,060 from the County Commissioners Court for support of the demonstration. The Wilson County Library was lent 1,000 books on the agreement of the County Commissioners' Court to double the book appropriation. Other demonstration collections were lent to Polk, Gonzales, Hunt, San Augustine and Val Verde counties.

BOOKS IN THE EXTENSION DIVISION. The Extension Division has continued to do its own book ordering, cataloging and processing. In December, 1941, and January, 1942, an inventory was taken of the book collection, and during July and August, 1942, the card catalog was revised. These processes have resulted in more accurate records of the books. At the beginning of the biennium there were 7,888 volumes in the demonstration collections, and during the biennium 3,143 were added. With 402 books withdrawn there were, on August 31, 1942, 10,629 volumes.

PUBLICATIONS. "Texas Libraries," quarterly publication of the Texas State Library, has continued during this biennium to be edited, mimeographed and mailed from the Extension Division. It is sent to over three hundred libraries, state library commissions, and library schools in the United States and its possessions, and to Canada, Mexico, England, and China. Libraries and their part in the war effort have been featured in every issue under the various subjects of national defense, democracy, the national emergency, soldiers' reading tastes, libraries as war information centers, the Victory Book Campaign, and lists of timely books and pamphlets. The quarterly has also noted the activities of the Texas Library Association, and called attention to special features concerning the American Library Association, in as far as obtainable, to the public libraries over the state.

BOOK WEEK EXHIBITS. Both in 1941 and 1942 the Extension Division observed Book Week primarily with book lists in local newspapers and book exhibits in the Austin Chamber of Commerce window. Both exhibits included books of timely interest and those which would follow out the theme "Forward with Books" which had been adopted for both years. Another display, on the occasion of the annual meeting of the Texas Congress of Parent Teachers Association, was the subject of an editorial by Walter Greep in the Austin Tribune of June 5, 1941. Mr. Greep said in part:

"One of the most interesting collections of books that I have seen in many a day is on display at the Chamber of Commerce. It is a collection of recent books dealing with world conditions and was arranged by the Texas State Library. In the center of the display is a chart outlining the activities of the State Library. Every Texan ought to read this list. It will surprise many to find how great is the scope of this splendid State agency. . .

"The display at the Chamber of Commerce contains only books that deal with the present world crisis. In selecting these books and arranging them for the reader's convenience, the State Library has rendered a real service. So many books are being written and published nowadays concerning the world situation that few of us have time to read more than a small per cent of them. But by reading and digesting the contents of the ones selected by the State Library, the reader may gain a fairly accurate idea of what is going on in the world. That is about the best any of us can hope to do in these confusing times."

NEWS CLIPPINGS. The news clipping service which the Library subscribes to is, for the Extension Division particularly, the source of much information concerning the libraries and library interest over the state, especially for items which most libraries, large and small, do not have the time to send in regularly to this central library agency. After they have been read, these clippings are arranged and filed under the county or special subject to which they belong. Thus, there is a fairly good history of library interest and development on file here since 1920, when the clipping service was begun to be used.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS. The employment file, available to both employer and employee librarians, has been maintained as usual in the Extension Division. Every effort is made to keep it active and up-to-date, so that the librarians over the state may have help in finding qualified personnel, and that trained librarians may be aided in finding positions or in making changes.

Annual report blanks for city and county public libraries, and for college and university libraries, as well as for club and community libraries, have been sent out regularly from this Division. The majority of librarians have responded excellently and have sent in their reports promptly. However, several of the larger libraries of the state, even on several requests, do not send them in, and a large portion of college and university libraries fail to send in reports. This means that although the Extension Division has endeavored to maintain accurate figures of library service over the state, the figures can never be complete. Also, having to write over and over again to obtain what reports are sent in entails clerical work which should be used in much more needed channels.

THE LONG VIEW. The goal that we are setting for Texas is now, as always, adequate free public library service, in all of its aspects, available to every person in the State. Today, with more than 3,000,000 people in Texas without access to such service, we are still far from that goal. The majority of people without public library service live in small towns and rural areas. For those towns and counties with small populations and low assessed valuations, regional or inter-county libraries will need to be established for any sort of adequate service. But broad inter-county cooperation, as well as cooperation between towns within the same county, is almost entirely lacking. In several notable instances such cooperation is lacking between similar institutions within the same city limits. Thorough education for cooperation will need to be accomplished before regional public library systems can be established. State and federal aid could be a real factor in helping to bring about such cooperation. There is also need for revised and strengthened legislation to provide new means for library establishment and support.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The scope of the library is increasing from year to year, but adequate appropriation and increased staff have not grown accordingly. It is recommended that every effort be made to increase the budget and get additional staff assistants. The crowded condition of the library remains the same. It is recommended that any vacant space, either in the capitol or other state-owned building be sought for the library, until a permanent building can be obtained.

Respectfully submitted,

FANNIE M. WILCOX,

State Librarian.

Austin, Texas, September 1, 1942.

STATE BOARD OF LIBRARY EXAMINERS

In compliance with the rules and regulations of the State Board of Library Examiners, a report of the work of said Board is incorporated herein.

The members of the Board on August 31, 1942 are as follows:

Fannie M. Wilcox, Librarian, Texas State Library, Austin.....	Ex officio Chairman
Donald Coney, Librarian University of Texas, Austin.....	Ex officio member
Doris Wood, Librarian Tom Green County Library, San Angelo.....	July 24, 1941
Juanima Wells, Bexar County Librarian, San Antonio.....	July, 24, 1943
J. S. Ibbotson, Librarian Rosenberg Library, Galveston.....	July 24, 1945

The State Board of Library Examiners met March 10, 1941 at the State Library. The Board considered the revisions of its various printed forms as recommended by the consultants from the Department of Educational Psychology, University of Texas. After discussion and slight revisions the following forms as recommended were adopted: the general information sheet, the scoring directions, the interview form, the reference letter and the application blank. A rule exempting librarians having certain specified qualifications from the technical parts of the examination was adopted. Miss Juanima Wells was elected to succeed Mrs. Frances S. Henke, resigned.

The State Board of Library Examiners met January 9, 1942 in the State Library. The cases of several librarians holding county librarian's certificates that were up for renewal or for permanent issue were discussed and the kind of certificate in each case decided upon.

During the last biennium there have been twenty-eight new certificates issued. Four permanent certificates have been issued and thirty-one renewals granted. There are now eighty-four librarians in Texas holding county librarian's certificates.
