The best ticket to the game

DART to Oklahoma State - Mississippi at the Cotton Bowl

Get through the red zone faster than a Tatum Bell run or an Eli Manning pass on the DART Cotton Bowl Shuttle, Friday, January 2.

DART's Cotton Bowl Shuttle whisks Oklahoma State Cowboy and Ole Miss Rebel fans to the SBC Cotton Bowl Classic from the east exit of Cityplace Station starting at 10 a.m., three hours before the 1 p.m. kickoff. Shuttles will leave for the Cotton Bowl approximately every 10 minutes.

Scoring a ride is easy

1st Down: Park free at a DART Rail station park & ride lot. Most DART stations have free parking. There is no parking at Cityplace Station.

2nd Down: Buy a Premium Day Pass from a Ticket Vending Machine. The fare for both rail and shuttle is $4.50, the price of a DART Premium Day Pass. The best game plan is to buy the Premium Day Pass in advance online at DART.org. Or, the passes are available on game day from ticket vending machines at all DART Rail stations, or from any DART bus operator, exact change only. DART customers with a Local Day Pass, Monthly Pass, Annual Pass or Reduced Pass can present their pass at the shuttle and get on board for just $2 more, exact cash.

3rd Down: Ride DART Rail to Cityplace Station.

Touchdown: Follow the signs to the station's east exit and catch the shuttle departing every 10 minutes to the Cotton Bowl.

After the Game

Return buses depart at the end of the game with the last bus leaving Fair Park one hour after the final whistle. Wheelchair lift-equipped buses are available.
