President's Notes

By Van D. Massirer

September 2003

Dear Friends:

Our annual meeting and convention is "just around the corner," and I hope that you are making plans to attend and help celebrate our 25th anniversary. This issue of The Journal, edited jointly by board member and Convention Coordinator Connie Krause and Executive Director Julia Germany, includes a detailed copy of the program. It is different this year and is designed to pique your interest with German heritage preservation activities that can be found in few places outside of the New Braunfels area. Please note that there are also traditional lecture-type sessions on Saturday for those who may prefer to remain in one place.

For those of you who like to dance and frolic a bit, Connie has arranged for a good local band to play a few polkas and waltzes for us on Saturday night. Rumor has it that we might even have some liquid "attitude adjustment" on hand. I plan to be there with a tankard in hand and wearing my very best dancing boots!

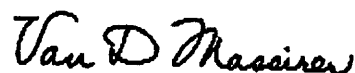

Both Connie and Julia have worked hard to put together a program that is worthy of our 25th anniversary celebration. I urge you to make every effort to attend and bring your children and grandchildren. The program includes activities that will appeal to the younger generation.

I would also like to call your attention to our upcoming Oktoberfest, which will be held on September 27 at the historic Richland Hall near Pflugerville. A German meal will be served, the members of the Austin Guild will be recognized for their many contributions to our organization, and the Fritz Hodde Band will play for dancing. Will liquid refreshments (you know, that attitude-adjustment stuff) be available? What do you think???

Richland Hall is a very old building with a wooden dance floor and natural air-conditioning, so plan to dress comfortably. And just in case you are wondering about the restrooms, rest assured that they are the modern indoor type. There will be no nostalgic "two-holers" this time; we couldn't find any Sears catalogs!

On a more serious note and in conclusion, please join us in one or preferably both of the aforementioned activities. We are striving to become a more member-friendly organization and provide activities that you will not only enjoy but that will fulfill our mission of preserving our wonderful German-Texan heritage.

Bis Später,

Executive Director's Update

By Julia G. Germany

Guten Tag, Y'All!

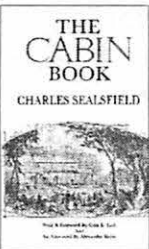

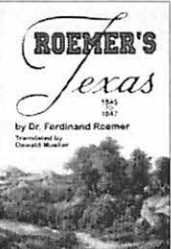

Can you believe summer is nearly over? Time truly does fly when you're having fun. I spent part of the summer scouting the field trip sites for our upcoming Annual Meeting, and I can assure you that you will have a wonderful time. I learned about places like Mission Valley and Fischer, barely a dot on the map today, but rich in German-Texan heritage – a heritage that is alive and well in these small and all-but-forgotten communities. Please bring your whole family and join us on this "share your heritage" adventure. As former GTHS board member Joyce Theis recently said in an e.mail to me: "If the tour to west Comal County led by Connie Krause on July 8 is a foretaste of the Annual Meeting, it will certainly be a treat for everyone. A good time was had by all."

For this special issue of the Journal, our Editor gave me the reins, so I will keep my comments here brief. I hope you enjoy the different look. For the first time in its history, the Journal now includes advertising from our members and friends in the communities we will visit next month. If you are interested in sponsoring an ad in a future issue, please get in touch with me and I'll give you the ad rates - which are very reasonable ☺

Looking forward to seeing you in New Braunfels!

GERMAN-TEXAN HERITAGE SOCIETY FACT SHEET

Founded in 1978, and with more than 1,200 members today located across the US & Germany, the GTHS fulfills its mission of promoting awareness and preservation of the German cultural heritage of Texas through a number of educational programs and publications. Although the following list does not include every contribution the Society has made to the community at large, we have made a noticeable impact during the past 25 years:

- 60,000+ Journals distributed since 1978. The Journal is the Society's member publication and includes original articles, reprints, book reviews and genealogy assistance. The Journal is published four times per year with an average of 100 pages totaling more than six million pages of German-Texan cultural and historical information distributed to our members and member organizations worldwide.
- 7,000 attendees at our Annual Meeting since 1979. Our Annual Meeting brings in folks from across the state for a weekend of informative meetings, presentations, workshops, field trips and German-Texan Gemütlichkeit.
- Hundreds of book reviews and genealogy queries appeared in our Journal. Genealogy assistance and book reviews are two of the many benefits of membership in the German-Texan Heritage Society.
- Nine books published by GTHS. The German-Texan Heritage Society enjoys a wonderful literary following and a number of published authors are members. Together with Eakin Press and the University of North Texas Press, GTHS has published nine books significant to preserving the German heritage of early Texas. These books are available for sale through the printers and the GTHS Gift Shop.
- Charles H. Trenckmann Memorial and Pioneer Library. The GTHS library contains over 1,300 books, maps, family histories and periodicals relating to Germany, Texas and German-Texan history and heritage. The Pioneer Library contains German books brought to Texas in the mid-1800s by German immigrants, some used as classroom textbooks.
- More than 19,000 visitors to the Old German Free School since 1993. In 1991, Dr. Kelly Stevens generously donated his home, the historic German Free School, to the GTHS to use as its headquarters. Originally built in 1857 by German immigrants, the German Free School was the first chartered school in Austin.
- German Language taught here. Since opening in the German Free School, the GTHS has provided dozens of members and the community at large the opportunity to learn German. We offer Beginning, Intermediate and Advanced German for adults, as well as Deutsche Samstagschule – Austin, a new Saturday school to teach children ages 4-11 German.
- Guest Speakers, Maifest, Fröhliche Weihnachten Y'all Christmas Market. Each year GTHS presents ten guest speakers and two seasonal cultural events. Area German singing clubs and high school German students participate by decorating the Old German Free School, and by performing traditional German songs and dances for these events.

A Leading American Law Firm

Fulbright welcomes Dr. Klaus Aurisch, former Consul General of Germany for the Southwestern States and Dean of the Consular Corps in Houston, as advisor to the firm on European matters.

HISTORY OF LEAVE YOUR GERMAN MARK BY RODNEY KOENIG

The German-Texan Heritage Society is producing a 25th anniversary commemorative issue of the Journal. During these 25 years we have had six presidents of GTHS, including Mary El-Beheri, Ann Lindemann, W.M. von Maszewski, Rodney Koenig, Karl Micklitz and Van Massirer. I began writing this column in the fall of 1987 and I was privileged to serve under each and every president that GTHS has ever had. I initially called the column "Leave Your Deutsche Mark" and quickly changed it to "Leave Your German Mark". I joked about calling it "Leave Your German Euro". Many persons have left their German mark through their children, by maintaining German cemeteries, through memorials, through their writing, through maintaining genealogy on their family, through maintaining German recipes and school records and by capturing early German stories of the family.

There have been some spectacular ways in which people have left their German mark, perhaps the most obvious being Dr. Kelly Stevens who on August 2, 1991, deeded his home in Austin at 507 East 10th Street to GTHS, which home (the old German Free School) is now our beautiful state headquarters. He also left part of his estate to GTHS. My mother, Elva Koenig, and I visited with Dr. Stevens and assisted him in doing the paperwork, which accomplished the gift of his home to GTHS. Helga von Schweinitz has donated untold time in caring for Dr. Steven's dachshunds and home. Anita Killen recently left a cash bequest to GTHS in her Will. The Charles Trenckmann family also left a significant gift. Miriam York has made significant donations. Bette Williams donates tax services. Asta Grona donated monies to the University of Houston and monies to publish a history of the Houston Saengerbund and left her German mark. Chuck Kalteyer has worked tirelessly in fundraising. Eugenia Miller created the Luck & Loessin Collection Trust which supports Fayette Heritage Library in La Grange and left her German mark. A number of our members, including von Maszewski, Ted Gish, Glen Lich, Dona Reeves-Marquart, Terry Smart, Theresa Gold, Daphne Garrett, Fredericka Deberry, Gilbert Jordan, Meredith McClain, Anna Thompson, Hubert Heinen, Minetta Goyne and others have left their German marks by publishing books and articles regarding German heritage.

In addition to the above named persons, others who have donated generously include the 505 Club who donated to help acquire the lot next to our headquarters. These persons include Esther Miller-Strange, Anna Thompson, C.W. Schumacher, Jr., Mary & Rodney Koenig, Dr. Robert Neely, Julia Mellenbruch, Alicean & Chuck Kalteyer, Dr. Betty J. Edwards, Dr. Meredith McClain, Barbara & Ewing Evans, Anita C. Ladewig, Anita Killen, Paul Barnhart, Gunther Noeltig, Ursula Heinen, Blue Bell Creameries, Dr. Hubert Heinen and Miriam York. While I have endeavored to include persons who have donated generously at a high level, I feel certain I have overlooked some generous donors. Please call me and let me know how you have left your German Mark.

All of us have many lives, which in my case involves family, church, German matters, music, navy, law, university and other charitable matters, among others. My German life started on the farm in Fayette County where I was born and where my first language was German. We had no electricity and no phone, but a lot of love and friendship. I have been involved with the Eulenspiegelverein at U.T., the Houston Saengerbund, the Texas German Society, the German Gulf Coast Association, German-Texan Heritage Society, Houston Karneval Verein, Houston Liederkrantz, the German Departments at U. of H. and U.T., and as advisor to the German Consulate. Furthermore, I have been fortunate to travel to Germany, Austria and Switzerland a number of times. My German life has been rich and rewarding and my wish is that your German life is joyous as well.

The column, "Leave Your German Mark", has been present for the 10th anniversary, the 20th anniversary and now the 25th anniversary of German-Texan Heritage Society. God willing, I hope that this column will continue for a number of future anniversaries of the Society. It is my wish and hope that all who read this column will endeavor in some way to leave their German mark.

For assistance in this area, please call Julia Germany in the GTHS office or call Rodney Koenig at (713-651-5333). My email is rkoenig@fulbright.com; and Julia's email is GermanTexans@aol.com.

MEET YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

VAN D. MASSIRER, PRESIDENT

Born and reared on the family farm and ranch near Crawford, Van developed an early interest in his Austrian and German ancestry. He spoke "nur Deutsch" as a small child and began questioning his parents and grandparents about their ancestry in his teens. In later years, he traced his paternal ancestry to the mid-1500s in Austria and Germany.

Van earned both bachelor's and master's degrees from Baylor University, spent four years in the Air Force with a tour of duty in Pakistan, worked for six years as a university registrar, and then returned to his roots on the family farm. Slowly transformed from a farm into a ranching operation, Massirer Ranch was recognized by the Texas Department of Agriculture in 1997 for 100 years of continuous operation by the same family.

Van has been a member of GTHS for nine years, has served as a director, and currently serves as president. He is also a long-time member of the Texas German Society, serving as a director and currently as first vice-president. He organized the Heart of Texas Chapter of the Texas German Society in Waco in 1997 and was its president for four years. Since 1987, Van has been a member of the Bukovina Society in Ellis, Kansas, and currently serves as one of its international directors.

Locally, Van is a member of the Central Texas Genealogical Society, the Crawford Historical Association, and the Crawford Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. MEET YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

THEODORA (TEDDY) VANDERWERTH BOEHM, VICE PRESIDENT

Teddy Vanderwerth Boehm was raised in Ledbetter in Fayette County, Texas, about 7 miles north of the John Vanderwerth League of land that was granted to her great-grandfather shortly after he arrived in Texas from Germany in 1834. She graduated from Giddings High School, Blinn College and the University of Texas in Austin with a B.A. degree in history. In 2001, she was awarded a Master of Arts with honors in history from Texas A&M. Her thesis was entitled "Robert Zapp, Immigrant Politician," and was a study of the German immigrant role in the Civil War and Reconstruction Eras in Texas.

Living in Brenham, Teddy serves as immediate past President of the Trinity Medical Center Board, as Secretary of the Board of the Brenham Economic Development Foundation, and on the Boards of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians Foundation, the Washington County Goodfellows, and the Washington County Council. She is a member of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, the Heritage Society of Washington County, the Independence Historical Society, the Brenham Fortnightly Club, the Texas German Society and Grace Lutheran Church. Previously, she served on the LCRA Board of Directors, was named the Outstanding Woman in Washington County and, in 1997, honored by the Lone Star Girl Scout Council as one of seven "Women of Distinction" of Central Texas.

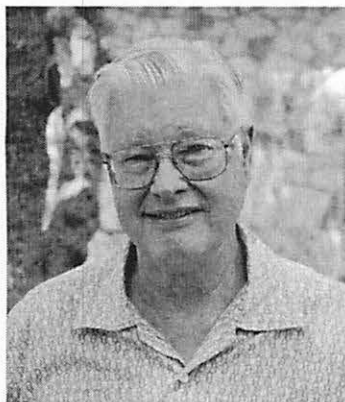

Teddy has been married to Dr Henry Boehm, Jr. for 43 years, and has four children, Kathryn Boehm Fannin, Dr Adelia Boehm Brannen, Dr Henry Boehm III, and Dr Teresa Boehm Cole. She enjoys her eleven grandchildren very much.

DR TERRY L SMART, SECRETARY

Dr Terry L. Smart of San Antonio has served as editor of the GTHS Journal for four years and presently is completing his second term on the Board of Directors. Terry is Professor of History at Trinity University, where he teaches European history courses that introduce students to political and religious developments in Germany since the time of Martin Luther and the Protestant Reformation. He has traveled widely through Europe, including several visits to Germany since its reunification. Born in Texas at Waxahachie, Terry was reared at Waco, Galveston and Houston. His German roots go back to Austin County where in the 1850s his maternal immigrant ancestors from the Kingdom of Prussia (Kraft, Meyer, and Heinemann families) settled as farmers in rural areas near Buckhorn and Sealy. When he was a young boy, Terry's grandmother taught him some German, but then World War II began. When almost all one's neighbors had family members fighting in the war, speaking German was not a popular thing to do in Waco and the family used English only. Later, as an undergraduate student at Indiana University, Terry studied German. He earned the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees in history, then during the Cold War served as a U.S. Army officer assigned to Military Intelligence. He and his wife Bridget returned to Texas in the 1960s with their three children and have been San Antonio residents almost forty years. Both joined GTHS in 1998. Today Terry's major research project is the preparation of an "encyclopedia" of German-Texan history, biography and culture for publication in 2004.

John is proud of his German heritage, including a great-great grandfather, who with his family settled in the Shelby-Round Top area in the 1850's, and fought in the Civil War as a member of Waul's Texas Legion.

CONNIE KRAUSE, DIRECTOR

Connie Schneider Krause, born in Seguin, Texas grew up in the largely German community in and around New Braunfels, Texas. She spent many a day visiting both Omas and Opas on their farms, located near Bracken in Comal County, and near Zorn in Guadalupe County. She speaks, reads, and writes German and is a sixth generation descendent of many of the Germans that settled in the Comal and Guadalupe county area, including the Braune, Erxleben, Dietert, Klaerner, Dreibrodt, and Wiederstein families.

After graduating from the University of Texas, she married Michael Krause in a German Service on his family ranch. Connie and Michael then moved to the Austin - Leander area where Michael works. On weekends they continue to return home to New Braunfels to visit with family and to work on Michael's family ranch. She and Michael have been involved with the GTHS and the Annual GTHS Christmas Market in Austin for the last 10 years. About 3 years ago she moved back to New Braunfels and has helped Michael run the Krause Ranch, which was started by Michael's great great grandparents, Wilhelm and Augusta Kopplin Dierks in 1865. Her faithful ranch companions include their two German Shorthaired Pointers, Nikolas and Fritzie, named after Michael's Oma Elfrida Guenther. MEET YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MEREDITH MCCLAIN, DIRECTOR

Meredith McClain is a native Texas from Georgetown, a flutist (B.Mus., Oberlin Conservatory, and junior year at the Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria) and an Associate Professor of German at Texas Tech (M.A. and PhD. Degrees from UT Austin). As an active member of GTHS for 25 years, she has hosted the Society in Lubbock and publishes on topics concerning German immigration to Texas.

As Director of the Southwest Center for German Studies at Texas Tech University, Dr McClain has spent almost 27 years connecting Germans and Texans in programs ranging from faculty/student programs in German, Engineering, Banking and even English, to meetings of German cowboys with ranchers and citizens of the Llano Estacado. Currently her work is on view in Germany in the form of a traveling exhibit on the German-Texans on the Llano Estacado.

Her recent research and publications on the German fiction writer, Karl May (1842-1912), still today the best selling writer of travel stories set on the Llano Estacado, have led to an International Karl May Symposium in September 2000 on the Tech campus and the official opening of the Karl May Archive in the Southwest Collection. The success of the Karl May activities in Lubbock, Texas has attracted the attention of national and international press, with major articles in two leading German newspapers (and 60 smaller ones), the front page of the Wall Street Journal in April 2001, and a major follow-up article in press now in Germany in the weekly magazine, Focus. There have been two German TV documentaries on her work and an interview on NPR and a major interview with the BBS to be aired in England soon.

In recognition of Dr McClain's long track record of support of German-American friendship and understanding, she was awarded the Lucius D Clay medal in Germany (2001) and the Bundesverdienstkreuz by the German Consul General in Houston (2002). Photo: Texas Tech Student Media by Jeremy Moore

DAN SCHOPPE, DIRECTOR

Dan Schoppe is a retired businessman who lives with his wife, Agnes, in Arlington, and teaches Tai Chi for Health in the Tarrant County area.

Dan is the President of the Tarrant County chapter of the Texas German Society and is actively involved with the City of Arlington's relationship with its sister city, Bad Koenigshofen, Germany.

JANICE WARNCKE THOMPSON, DIRECTOR

Janice Thompson of Houston has been a member of GTHS since 1996 and a Board Member since 2000. Janice and her husband, Charles, have two sons, daughters-in-law and four grandchildren, all of Houston.

Her maternal great grandfather, Johann Hartung, his parents and five siblings were among the first group to arrive in New Braunfels in 1845. The Hartung family, founding members of the First Protestant Church in New Braunfels, lived on their town lots until they moved to the farm lots at Solms where the elders lived until their deaths in the late 1890's. Janice's great grandfather sold his farm and bought a farm near Zuehl, Texas on Cibolo Creek. Janice's paternal grandfather, Diedrich Warncke, immigrated, with his parents and siblings to La Vernia in 1885. Eventually he and his family made their home in San Antonio.

Born in San Antonio in 1938, Janice lived on the Hartung farm in Zuehl until the age of eight, when the family farm was sold. As in most German families, German was spoken in the home and she learned her English in Clemens School, a two-room school in Zuehl where her mother had attended in her youth.

Janice and her husband were married in 1957 and moved to College Station where Charles attained a degree in Architecture. They spent two years in France with the Army, which afforded her opportunities to travel in Europe. She assisted her husband in the establishment of an architectural practice in Houston and eventually established and operated her own florist until 1985. Janice has spent most of her married life as a homemaker caring for her family. They are active members of Christ the King Lutheran Church, in Houston.

Janice is very proud of her German heritage and the contributions made to Texas and the nation by those who pioneered it.

HOW OUR SOCIETY STARTED

Dona Reeves and Mary El-Beheri have been feeling sorry about the loss of the German-Texan culture for four or five years. Both are so involved in teaching and in other endeavors that they just talked. Then Dona and Glen Lich put together the Southwest Texas State University Symposium on the Texas Germans and talk became activated. There was interest. Over four hundred excited people attended that symposium. And Patrick McGuire reminded them that nearly 5,000 attended the Institute of Texan Cultures' German Christmas party in 1977. Wow! On a very hot summer day Dona, Patrick, Anna Thompson, Maria Watson and Susan Clayton met in San Antonio at Mary's apartment and that was the first meeting of the German-Texan Heritage Society. The second meeting was held a month later in San Marcos. Our organization is six months old with the publication of this first Newsletter.

Much of the old German heritage in Texas has died. It is time to bring it back to life! And if it is only lost, let us find it.

Are you or one of your neighbors German, Alsatian, Swiss, Austrian, Russian-German, etc., and don't know it? Every third Texan has a German-speaking ancestor or two.

Copies of the Newsletter may be ordered from the Society, $2.50 (members) or $3.00 (non-members). Please include 68¢ for postage/handling. Published in February and in July at A U S T I N, Texas.

WHO ARE THE EDITORIAL BOARD MEMBERS OF THE GTHS?

Anna Thompson was born in Germany and became a German-Texan through marriage. Anna is vitally interested in the attempts by Texans to revive German cultural activities. She attends every festival and German-related activity that comes along. Anna's own children learn to speak German so that they will never lose contact with the culture.

Joseph Wilson is a native Texan, who has lived in Germany, and lives today in Houston for his work and on his (actually his wife's) LaGrange/Giddings area farm for fun. Joe is an outspoken defender of the Wendish and Czech cultures in Texas and believes that his LaGrange/Giddings/Brenham area is sadly neglected in all annals of German-Texan history. Joe is presently involved in an archaeological project on his farm - did you see him on EYES OF TEXAS? Joe collects slides of monuments, grave and cornerstones in German, Czech and Wendish.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.....from the editor

If a child learns that great grandpa came from Germany, landed after weeks at sea in Indianola and went by wagon to central Texas, that child has a heritage. And great grandpa always smoked a long wooden pipe, had a beard, and spoke German. His wife made her own sauerkraut and cheese, and scrubbed the floors twice a day. How does a child find out about these things? Parents usually talk about them and in this way customs are born. The child hears those same parents speak German and an interest in learning another language is born. This is living history. Much of this type of simple history was lost because Germans were afraid to be too German after and during the two world wars. Many old-timers kept their German heritage to themselves and either failed or refused to share it and to promote it with new generations. There is no need anymore for embarrassment among German-Texans, for their heritage is based on pride and joyful remembrance. It is time for us to tell our children about this great heritage and to inspire them with its vigor. It is time to make all Texans aware of the contributions Germans made to the life-style of 20th century Texas. It is not too late to revive an ethnic entity which hid itself, but never died. German-Texans are all around us - some had German-speaking ancestors here long ago, some have come recently from a German-speaking country, others are of German ancestry from other states who somehow landed in Texas. We must not exclude those who, out of love or interest, have become devotees of the German-Texan culture. We all have a common bond. Let us go forth to spread our enthusiasms for all things relating to our German-speaking heritage.

THE GERMAN FREE SCHOOL

BY ANITA LOCY JOHNSON

FROM RESEARCH MATERIAL COMPILED BY SHERRYL BROWN,
MARGARET HITZFELD, MERLE PRINZ AND ANITA LOCY JOHNSON

Germans of all classes came to America in the 1830s to 1850s to escape constant European warfare and to seek religious and political tolerance.¹ They were drawn to Texas by glowing reports in newspapers and letters of readily available land, with the weather and soil productivity nearly ideal. They founded the German settlements of Industry, New Braunfels, Fredericksburg, Comfort and other smaller communities. Many also settled in established Texas communities such as San Antonio, Houston, Galveston and Austin.

The Texans welcomed the new German immigrants as being “hardy and industrious...farmers, mechanics, and persons of almost every trade and vocation...ready and anxious to work.”² These German-Texans thought it was critically important to match their growing material advancement with strong cultural and intellectual development.³ From their earliest days in Texas, they organized societies (agricultural, dramatic, literary, social, political and musical) and institutions (newspapers and schools) to further this goal.⁴

Public education was of particular interest to the German immigrants. In their homelands, they had been educated in schools that were maintained and supported by the state and were free to all children. They naturally expected similar benefits for their children, and were shocked and dismayed to discover that no system of public education existed in Texas.⁵ On May 15, 1854, a statewide meeting of concerned German-Texans called for public free schools without military training or sectarianism.⁶ At this time, however, the Texas school laws of 1854 and 1856 only established a subsidy system for private schools.⁷ Schools received greater funding for students who could not pay. Many people looked upon this public funding as charity; schools that catered to the “better families” often refused to accept state-funded students.⁸ The German-Texans on the other hand, while continuing to demand completely public free schools, were determined to make the best of this system, organizing schools across the state and paying for teachers and buildings with a combination of state funds, donations and tuition.⁹

On September 12, 1857, a public meeting was held in Austin to establish a German school for the city. It was reported that “the necessary funds were raised, and the school will be opened as soon as a house can be prepared and teachers employed.”¹⁰ Wilhelm von Rosenberg, a civil engineer and draftsman in the General Land Office, immediately purchased a lot on Mulberry Street near Red River for $35 and later donated it to the school.¹¹ School lore says that he also donated $1,000 in gold for the construction of the building. Von Rosenberg had been a member of the nobility in his native Prussia, but had immigrated to Texas in 1849 because of his outspoken democratic views.¹² By October 21, 1857, a German and English teacher had been hired and construction of a school building had begun, with plans to open on January 1, 1858.¹³ The rammed earth method of construction which was used was a “simple, yet a fast technique.” The building had two large classrooms, a small basement and space in the yard for physical exercises.¹⁴

When the German Free School opened in 1858, it was the first chartered school in Austin, incorporated by an act of the Texas legislature as the German Free School Association.¹⁵ It was one of many German free schools established in the United States during that period. Trustees were Wilhelm von Rosenberg, Charles Pressler (a surveyor and draftsman at the General Land Office, later chief draftsman and cartographer),¹⁶ Joseph Martin (a draftsman),¹⁷ Henry Steussy (a lumber merchant),¹⁸ Dr. J.A. Brown, William Sattler (a bookbinder)¹⁹ and Christian Wilhelm (a carpenter).²⁰ Other than von Rosenberg, these men were typical of the German tradesmen who lived in Austin at the time: men of modest means but great dreams for their children. The charter for the school states as its purpose “the education of youth, the promotion of useful knowledge and the advancement of sciences... accessible to all alike without regard to religious opinions.”²¹

By the end of 1858, the German Free School was “flourishing.”²² August Weilbacher²³ and Julius Schutze were its first teachers. Schutze was the main teacher between 1859 and 1864.²⁴ Between 1858 and 1862, the German Free School always had the highest number of non-paying students of any school in Austin, and was one of the largest schools in Austin.²⁵ When state funding ended in 1862,²⁶ in the difficult times of the Civil War, the school continued to operate and provide a free education for needy students. An advertisement for “Julius Schutze’s English-German School” in 1864 offered free tuition for “soldiers’ children, orphans, and the children of widows...”²⁷ During this time, the school was true to its charter with students of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

In 1864, Schutze fled to Bastrop to avoid persecution for his Unionist sympathies, but the school continued to operate. From 1865 to 1870, it was often called the German-English School, the German-American School, or simply the German School.. In 1867 it was reported that the school had an average enrollment of 30 pupils, both boys and girls, but could accommodate up to 120 students. It had a cistern, gymnasium (probably the basement) and playground. Tuition was $2/month and the age range was 8 to 13.²⁸ It is not known whether any free tuition was offered in these years.

THE GERMAN FREE SCHOOL

With the new Reconstruction government in Texas in 1870 came the first serious attempt at free public education in Texas: the School Law of 1871.²⁹ The German Free School Association immediately moved to make their school a public school for the 1871-72 school year.³⁰ It had a new principal, Professor Philip Bickler, and had an enrollment of 129 students.³¹ The conversion was not a success; rent and teachers were paid late or with devalued warrants.³²

With no workable public school system in sight, in 1872 the German School went back to being a private tuition school. The Association then borrowed $900 from Professor Bickler to finance a building expansion.³³ A thirty-foot long two-story section was added to the main building, resulting in 4 large schoolrooms "with suitable school furniture and apparatus, and put in the charge of first-class teachers."³⁴

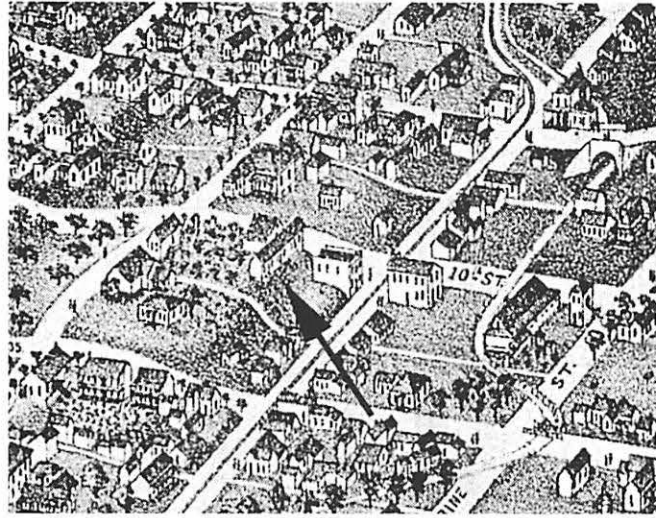

In August 1873, a statewide convention of German-speaking Texans once again called for the fundamental right of citizens to a workable public school system.³⁵

1873 also marked the first Texas teaching job for 23-year old Jacob Bickler, who took an assistant teacher's job for his uncle Philip Bickler at the German School.³⁶ Jacob Bickler left the school when Philip left in 1875, but returned as principal in 1876-1877.³⁷ Jacob left again in 1877 to start his own Austin school.³⁸

After Jacob Bickler's departure in 1877, the Association considered selling the school property to finance a German-American college near the Turner Hall, northwest of the Capitol. The greater part of Austin's German population now lived "back of the Capitol" and the present location of the German School was termed "objectionable."³⁹ This plan was not carried out, and the school reopened in the fall of 1877 with funding under yet another "public" school bill, the School Law of 1876.⁴⁰ The school advertised that it would be open "as long as the school fund paid the teacher."⁴¹ During this time, the school building was also used as a meeting hall.⁴²

After an absence of 16 years, during which he served as Bastrop County judge, state legislator and publisher,⁴³ Julius Schutze returned to the school in 1880 as the head teacher⁴⁴ and moved his wife, six children and a boarder into part of the school building.⁴⁵ With the establishment of Austin's true public schools in 1881⁴⁶, the German Free School's purpose was ended; the last mention of the school is in the 1881 Austin City Directory, which lists the German-English Free School on the south side of Mulberry (now East 10th Street) between Neches and Red River, with Julius Schutze as principal and attendance of 75.⁴⁷ In 1883, the original charter expired and was renewed by the German Free School Association for another 25 years. However, the school never reopened. In 1883, Schutze began editing and publishing Texas

Vorwaerts, a German language newspaper, with its office at the old school building.⁴⁸ He later moved the newspaper office out, but his family grew to eight children and stayed on.⁴⁹

In 1884 the Germania Verein, a German social club, bought the building⁵⁰ and it is said that they unsuccessfully attempted to evict Schutze and his family. It is possible that the club took over the school portion of the building while Schutze continued to occupy the family quarters.⁵¹ The Schutze family later gained title to the property in 1891.⁵² When Schutze died in 1904, his widow Julia and her children continued to reside in the building. The curbed garden terraces, always full of flowers, were in place during this time.⁵³

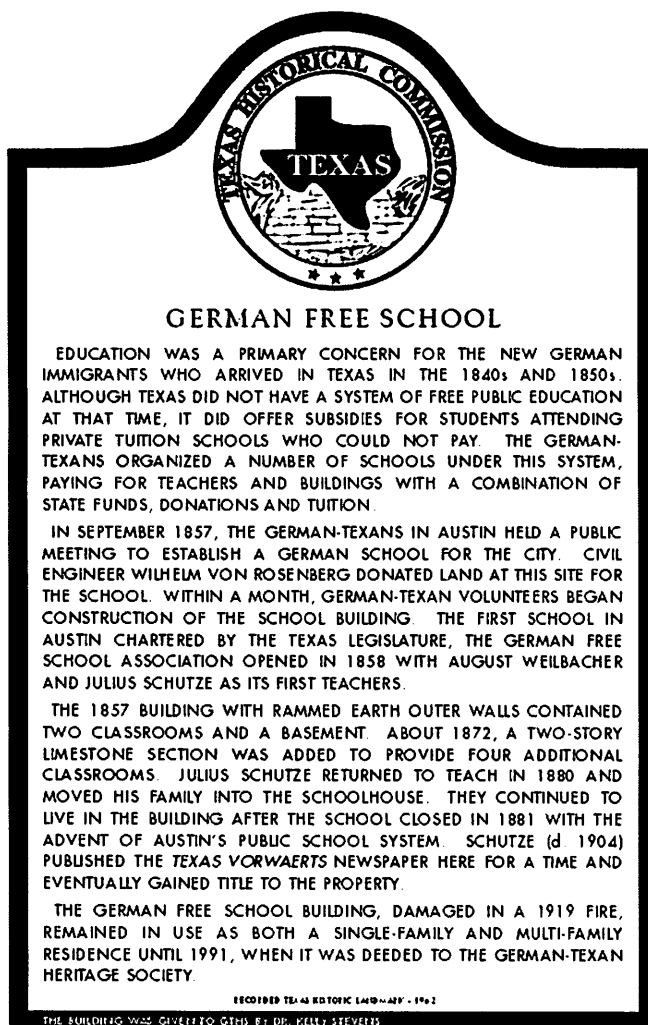

In 1910 Julia Schutze moved out and sold the property to D.A. Porter for $3,500. A fire in 1919 caused extensive damage to the original one-story portion.⁵⁴ The house remained in use as a single-family and multi-family residence until 1948, when Dr. Kelly Stevens purchased it.

Dr. Stevens, an artist and art teacher, was aware of the building's historical significance. He made it his residence and embarked on an ambitious project to save the exterior, renovate the interior and improve the grounds. He had the screened-in porches on the northern second story level removed, replacing them with four colonnades and an upstairs landing. When St. Mary's Academy was demolished in the mid-1950s, Dr. Stevens bought the stone staircase, had it dismantled and brought it to his property to form an imposing entry to the landing on the second level. The downstairs space was made into an apartment with kitchen, bedroom and living room, which he rented to students from the University of Texas and the Texas School for the Deaf. Dr. Stevens lived in the building until his death in 1991. His will left the property to the German-Texan Heritage Society, a statewide non-profit organization whose mission is to promote awareness and preservation of the German cultural heritage of Texas.

The offices of the German-Texan Heritage Society are located in the building, along with a pioneer and research library on German-Texan topics. The building and grounds also function as a cultural center for Texans of German decent and for anyone interested in sharing German-Texan heritage.

SOME NOTES ON NAMES

The German immigrants often Anglicized their own names and those of their children as they grew older. For example, Wilhelm von Rosenberg later styled himself "William." Carl became Charles, Franz became Frank, Friedrich became Frederick, etc. Umlauts were dropped in favor of "ue" or even just "u"; for example, Schütze became Schuetze and eventually Schutze.

Girls' names that ended in "e" were pronounced as though they ended with an "a" (the same as in Germany): Louise was pronounced "Louisa", Wilhelmine was pronounced "Wilhelmina", etc.

Another source of confusion for researchers is that people of that time (not just the Germans) were not always consistent about what they called themselves or how they even spelled their own names. A girl named Amelie might go by Emilie, Amelia or Emily. As in families today, there were always nicknames; for example, "Minna" or "Mina" is a nickname for Wilhelmine and "Fritz" for Friedrich.

It was also common for people to be known by his or her middle name. Carl Wilhelm von Rosenberg was known as Wilhelm; his brothers' names were Carl Hermann, Carl Eugen, Carl Alexander, Carl August and (surely for variety) Johannes Carl.

Historical Development of the German Language in Texas A Request for Support

The following is a request from GTHS member Marcus Nicolini, who lives in Germany. If you are interested in supporting his German-Texan heritage project, please contact Marcus either by email or post.

German-Texan Heritage Society (GTHS)
President Van D. Massirer
507 East 10th Street
Austin, Texas 78768

Dear Mr. Massirer,
Dear Ms. Germany,

In late June, I completed my Ph.D. dissertation and the final doctoral exams at the University of Vechta, Lower Saxony, Germany. The topic of the dissertation is the historical development of the German language in Texas. The work has been based on my master thesis (in German) on several Texan churches and communities (see GTHS Journal, Vol. 22, No. 1, Spring 2000, p. 64/65). The dissertation is to be published in German by Peter Lang Publishing House, Frankfurt/Main, Germany. It will make the results of my dissertation available for further academic research by linguists interested in the Texas German dialect, such as Hans Boas with his Texas German Dialect Project. The costs for the publication will be €1340 - €1740, or approximately US $1,510 - US $1,960.

My question: Could the GTHS (or anyone who is interested) support the printing of my dissertation financially? I am a GTHS member. Any help will be deeply appreciated and acknowledged in the book. Furthermore, the German version of my book could not only be an important basis for linguist research, but a basis for a translation into English to make the results of my research available even for scholars not capable of reading German. If necessary, I could send you translated versions of the experts' opinions on my Ph.D. thesis. One expert was Dr. Jürgen Eichhoff, former Professor of German at Pennsylvania State University and the University of Madison-Wisconsin. Donations could be made to a US bank account.

Thank you very much for any support. I am looking forward hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,
Marcus Nicolini

GTHS 25th Anniversary Celebration

October 10, 11 and 12, 2003

New Braunfels, Texas

The 2003 German-Texan Heritage Society Annual Meeting will be held the weekend of October 10th in historic Comal County. The theme of the weekend will be "Share Your Heritage." The festivities begin on Friday evening with a German Biergarten setting at the Conservation Plaza of the New Braunfels Conservation Society. Gemütlichkeit, good music and delicious food and drink will help us set the atmosphere for our gathering.

Saturday morning we will meet for a short Welcome before boarding air-conditioned vans to take us to the various historical German-Texan destinations in the county. There are numerous organizations that also believe our culture and traditions need to be shared and preserved, and they have volunteered to teach us their historical art or craft. Some of the choices will be 9-pin bowling, Family Homestead or Cemetery Preservation, Schützenverein (target shooting the old-fashioned way), Skat (19th century German card game played by millions today), 42 (dominoes), cane-pole fishing for those young or young at heart, and much, much more. Speakers at each stop will tell us fascinating facts about the area, as well as teach us the designated activity. These are activities that you will want to share with your family, including your children and grandchildren.

Saturday evening enjoy dancing, dinner & vendors at the infamous Germania Farmer Verein Hall in Anhalt. Start Sunday morning with an ecumenical German-Texan church service near the Founder's Oak in beautiful Landa Park, followed by a light Wurst lunch.

The pre-registration fee for the weekend is $55 for members and $65 for non-members of the German-Texan Heritage Society. Pre-registration is strongly recommended, as some of the events on Saturday will be limited to 50 people per activity. All the events mentioned above, as well as all meals (except breakfast), will be provided.

Exhibitors and vendors are welcome to set up tables on Friday and Saturday evening. PLEASE NOTE: Each evening activity will be held at a different location, so you will have to pack up your items each evening and store them until setting up again the following evening. Genealogy, Preservation, Historical and Heritage Societies, craftsmen and individuals are invited to share their historical arts or cultural crafts. Please reserve your table by submitting an exhibitor registration form no later than October 1, 2003.

The Rodeway Inn (TEL: 830-629-6991) in New Braunfels at Hwy 46 and IH 35 S, has reserved a block of 40 rooms for the GTHS Annual Meeting until September 10th at a special rate of $39.99 + tax / per night for 1-2 persons, including breakfast.

Remember: We cannot preserve our heritage and pass it on to future generations if we do not share it with our family today. We hope that you will invite your entire family, even make it a family reunion weekend, while celebrating the Silver Anniversary of our Society!

The Sophienburg New Braunfels Archives and Museum of History

A "must see" in New Braunfels

The Sophienburg has been collecting, cataloging and displaying artifacts since 1933. Visit this Texas treasure on historic Sophienburg Hill to learn the unique story of the German immigration to Texas, and the settling of New Braunfels, "City of a Prince". The blending of German and other ethnic groups birthed a true Texas town steeped rich in heritage, history, industry, religion, and celebration.

Then: Grand Opening October 1933

A walk through the Museum displays and artifacts is a float back in time to the German immigrant landings in Texas and the growth and development of early New Braunfels. Most fascinating is the craftsmanship of the immigrants who brought their skills and traditions to a new land, and used the natural resources of the area to make New Braunfels the fourth largest community in Texas within seven years of their arrival. The German's focus on the future while preserving their heritage helped change the face of Texas.

Our gift shop is open daily in the museum. We specialize in imported German Christmas collectibles and gifts, German and Texana books, and cookbooks. Discounts for Members.

Through document preservation, The Archives chronicles the story of the German immigration to Texas and the settling of New Braunfels from 1842 to present. The collection includes editions of the New Braunfelser Zeitung (1852-1957 in German), The New Braunfels Herald (1896-1957 in English) and The Herald Zeitung (1957 to present). Well over 2 million photographic images have been preserved, including ambro-type, glass negatives, tintypes and modern photography, dating back to the 1850s. The "Reflections" oral history project is the largest in Texas with over 1000 recordings. Most prized is the Solms/Braunfels Collection, including 72 volumes relating to the colonization project of the Society for the Protection of German Immigrants to Texas 1842-1860.

Now: Open Daily
