Governor Appoints New Board Member

Governor George W. Bush appointed Elvira Pascua-Lim, M.D., of Lubbock to the board, replacing Paul G. Meyer, M.D., who resigned. Dr. Pascua-Lim is a native of the Philippines and a graduate of the University of the Philippines, College of Medicine. She completed her general psychiatry residency training at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center and her forensic fellowship training at the University of California, Davis. She is the medical director of Lubbock Regional Mental Health Mental Retardation and maintains a private practice in clinical and forensic psychiatry.

New Executive Director Named

The Board has selected Donald W. Patrick, M.D., J.D., as Executive Director of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. He began working at the Board on September 17.

Dr. Patrick, 63, graduated from Baylor College of Medicine in 1962 and trained in neurosurgery at Baylor and the University of Washington. He served in the U.S. Army as the Chief of Neurosurgery at the 24th Evacuation Hospital, Long Binh, Vietnam, which, during his tour of duty in 1967-68, was the busiest neurosurgical trauma hospital in the world. He received a Bronze Star Medal for his work there.

Dr. Patrick began practicing in Austin in 1969 as a neurosurgeon and has been the Chief of Staff at both Brackenridge Hospital and The Rehabilitation Hospital of Austin (now Health South). He served as an on-call neurosurgeon at the Brackenridge Hospital Emergency Department for 23 years.

He was elected President of the Texas Association of Neurological Surgeons in 1988-89. He is a Distinguished Alumnus of Texas A&I, now Texas A&M Kingsville.

Dr. Patrick was named to the Travis County Medical Society EMS Committee in 1976 and served as Chairman of that Committee for 20 years. He was named Co-Chairman of the EMS Transition team by the Austin City Council and the Travis County Commissioner's Court and continues in that capacity.

Dr. Patrick received his law degree in 1996 and practiced law in the firm of Chin & Patrick with Daniel Y.S. Chin. He has also maintained a full-time spinal neurosurgical practice in partnership with Ronald E. Manicom, M.D.

He was Chief of Surgery at Round Rock Medical Center in 2001.

Dr. Patrick is married to Dr. Carolyn Biebas, an anesthesiologist. They have a five-year-old daughter, Paige, and Dr. Patrick has three grown children.

He has spoken regularly to legal and medical seminars. He has authored numerous articles for professional magazines, and has written four unpublished books.

Profiles Mandatory September 1

Texas Physician Profiles, enacted by the Legislature in 1999, became mandatory on September 1. Beginning with annual registration applications mailed in September with an expiration date of November 30, 2001, physicians must provide all profile information as specified by the legislation and TMB rule. Profile information was collected on a voluntary basis during the past year as a pilot project.

At least 12 other states have passed physician profile legislation with content similar to the Texas profile. Legislation passed by the Texas legislature this spring created profile requirements for other professions including attorneys, chiropractors, podiatrists, optometrists, physical therapists, occupational therapists, dentists, psychologists and pharmacists.

Many Texas physicians have already provided all of their profile data during the voluntary pilot period. The first profiles became available to the public in September as required by the legislation.

Much of the information in the profile was already available to the public through license verifications. Profiles provide additional information about education and training, along with new information about patient services such as Medicaid acceptance, accessibility for persons with disabilities, hospital privileges and any language translation services offered. The legislation also requires that physicians provide a description of any criminal charges and discipline taken by another state licensing board. Profile reports must also include any disciplinary actions taken by TMB and the results of any investigations the Board conducted as a result of malpractice claims.

Some physicians expressed concerns about publication of their mailing address in the profile. In response, the board has proposed rules to exclude the mailing address from the profile report. However, it will continue to be public information and will be reported in license verifications as it has been previously.

The law requires the Board to collect and update the Profile data at the time of annual registration of physician permits. Therefore, the size of the annual registration application has increased to four pages. The annual registration application will now display any profile information previously submitted by the physician in the pilot year as well as any Board restrictions or actions taken.

A New Annual Registration Process

The implementation of profiles has meant changes to the annual registration process. Physicians and others handling annual registration applications should pay close attention to the application and instructions to avoid delays in receiving a permit. Always allow at least five working days for processing of the application and fee. Following are some changes that should be noted:

n Data entry is being performed by an outsource vendor and the completed application, along with payment, must be sent in the return envelope provided. Sending a completed application and fee directly to TMB offices will delay the registration process since the application must be rerouted to the vendor for processing.

n Do not separate the payment coupon from the rest of the application. Both parts must be mailed intact along with payment in the same return envelope to avoid delays.

n Annual registration applications will be pre-populated with some profile information. A majority of physicians provided at least some of the profile data during this year's pilot project. This information will be printed on your application. Other information already held by TMB, such as disciplinary actions, will also be displayed so physicians can see what is being reported in their profile. You will need to complete all sections of the form that are not pre-populated as well as review the pre-populated data and make corrections as necessary to any information you previously submitted.

Update on Opinions from the Office of the Attorney General

Opinion No. OR 2001-0355 (1-30-01)

Question: Whether certain information included in the TMB compliance and monitoring file on a licensee under a board order is excepted from public disclosure.

Response: The exceptions to disclosure under the Open Government Act do not apply to certain information included in the TMB compliance and monitoring file.

Follow-up: During the recent Legislative session, HB 3600 amended the Medical Practice Act to provide that the identity and reports made to the TMB by a physician performing or supervising compliance of a licensee under a board order are confidential.

Opinion No. JC-0342 (2-20-01)

Question: Whether TMB is authorized to adopt rules that prohibit all physician advertising containing testimonials.

Response: The Texas Legislature enacted §101.201 of the Texas Occupations Code, which prohibits health profession advertising that is false, misleading, deceptive, or not readily subject to verification. The statutory language specifically includes testimonials in the list of prohibited categories. This statute authorizes TMB to adopt rules that prohibit the use of all testimonials in physician advertising.

Follow-up: TMB will continue to consider the use of testimonials in physician advertising as prohibited under statute and Board Rules.

Opinion No. JC-0379 (5-23-01)

Question: Whether a licensed acupuncturist may perform spinal manipulation.

Response: The acupuncture technique called Tui Na involves some manipulation of the spine and is considered a form of energy flow exercise. The statutory definition of acupuncture provides that a licensed acupuncturist may recommend energy flow exercise. However, the statutory language does not authorize the administration of such energy flow exercise.

Follow-up: The Board of Acupuncture Examiners and TMB will discuss reconciliation with current board rules.
