21 (B) anger and distrust; and

22 (C) difficulty in communicating about and

18 continuing relationship between each parent and the child [and a
19 dispute resolution process to minimize future disputes].

20 Sec. 153.602. [~~REQUIREMENT FOR TEMPORARY~~] PARENTING PLAN
21 NOT REQUIRED IN TEMPORARY ORDER. [~~(a)~~] A temporary order [~~that~~
22 ~~establishes a conservatorship]~~ in a suit affecting the parent-child
23 relationship rendered in accordance with Section 105.001 is not
24 required to include [must incorporate] a temporary parenting plan.
25 The court may not require the submission of a temporary parenting
26 plan in any case or by local rule or practice. [~~The temporary~~
27 ~~parenting plan must comply with the requirements for a final~~

1 ~~parenting plan under Section 153.603.~~

2 ~~[(b) Subject to Subsection (c), if the parties cannot agree~~
3 ~~to a temporary parenting plan, the court may, on the motion of a~~
4 ~~party or on the court's own motion, order the parties to participate~~
5 ~~in a dispute resolution process to establish a temporary parenting~~
6 ~~plan.~~

7 ~~[(c) At any time before the court orders the parties to~~
8 ~~participate in a dispute resolution process under Subsection (b), a~~
9 ~~party may file a written objection to the referral of the suit to a~~
10 ~~dispute resolution process on the basis of family violence having~~
11 ~~been committed by another party against the objecting party or a~~
12 ~~child who is the subject of the suit. After an objection is filed,~~
13 ~~the suit may not be referred to a dispute resolution process unless,~~ 14 ~~on the request of a party, a hearing is held and the court finds that~~
15 ~~a preponderance of the evidence does not support the objection. If~~
16 ~~the suit is referred to a dispute resolution process, the court~~
17 ~~shall order appropriate measures be taken to ensure the physical~~
18 ~~and emotional safety of the party who filed the objection. The~~ 19 ~~order may provide that the parties not be required to have~~
20 ~~face-to-face contact and that the parties be placed in separate~~
21 ~~rooms during the dispute resolution process.~~

22 ~~[(d) If a dispute resolution process is not available or is~~ 23 ~~not successful, a party may request and the court may order an~~
24 ~~expedited hearing to establish a temporary parenting plan.]~~

25 Sec. 153.603. REQUIREMENT OF [FINAL] PARENTING PLAN IN 26 FINAL ORDER. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b), a [A] final 27 order in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship must

1 include [~~incorporate~~] a [~~final~~] parenting plan. [~~A final parenting~~
2 ~~plan must:~~

3 [~~(1) establish the rights and duties of each parent~~
4 ~~with respect to the child, consistent with the criteria in this~~
5 ~~chapter,~~

6 [~~(2) minimize the child's exposure to harmful parental~~
7 ~~conflict,~~

8 [~~(3) provide for the child's changing needs as the~~
9 ~~child grows and matures, in a way that minimizes the need for~~
10 ~~further modifications to the final parenting plan; and~~

11 [~~(4) provide for a dispute resolution process or other~~
12 ~~voluntary dispute resolution procedures, before court action,~~
13 ~~unless precluded or limited by Section 153.0071.]~~

14 (b) The following orders are not required to include a
15 parenting plan:

16 (1) an order that only modifies child support;

17 (2) an order that only terminates parental rights; or

18 (3) a final order described by Section 155.001(b) [~~In~~
19 ~~providing for a dispute resolution process, the parenting plan must~~ 20 ~~state that:~~

21 [~~(1) preference shall be given to carrying out the~~
22 ~~parenting plan; and~~

23 [~~(2) the parties shall use the designated process to~~
24 ~~resolve disputes].~~

25 (c) [~~If the parties cannot reach agreement on a final~~
26 ~~parenting plan, the court, on the motion of a party or on the~~
27 ~~court's own motion, may order appropriate dispute resolution~~

1 ~~proceedings under Section 153.0071 to determine a final parenting~~
2 ~~plan.~~

3 ~~[(d)]~~ If the parties have not reached agreement on a final
4 parenting plan on or before the 30th day before the date set for
5 trial on the merits, a ~~[each]~~ party may ~~[shall]~~ file with the court
6 and serve a proposed ~~[final]~~ parenting plan. ~~[Failure by a party to~~
7 ~~comply with this subsection may result in the court's adoption of~~ 8 ~~the proposed final parenting plan filed by the opposing party if the~~
9 ~~court finds that plan to be in the best interest of the child.]~~

10 (d) This section does not preclude the parties from 11 requesting the appointment of a parenting coordinator to resolve
12 parental conflicts. ~~[(e) Each party filing a proposed final~~
13 ~~parenting plan must attach:~~

14 ~~[(1) a verified statement of income determined in~~
15 ~~accordance with the child support guidelines and related provisions~~
16 ~~prescribed by Chapter 154; and~~

17 ~~[(2) a verified statement that the plan is proposed in~~
18 ~~good faith and is in the best interest of the child.]~~

25 (3) alleging that the child's present circumstances
26 will significantly impair the child's physical health or
27 significantly impair the child's emotional development;

1 (4) to enforce; or

2 (5) in which the party shows that enforcement of the
3 requirement is precluded or limited by Section 153.0071.

4 SECTION 5. Section 153.605, Family Code, is amended to read
5 as follows:

6 Sec. 153.605. APPOINTMENT OF PARENTING COORDINATOR. (a)
7 In a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, the court may,
8 on its own motion or on a motion or agreement of the parties,
9 appoint a parenting coordinator to assist the parties in resolving
10 [~~issues related to~~] parenting [~~or other family~~] issues [~~in the~~ 11 ~~suit~~].

12 (b) The court may not appoint a parenting coordinator [~~if~~
13 ~~any party objects~~] unless, after notice and hearing, the court
14 makes a specific finding [~~findings~~] that:

15 (1) the case is [~~or is likely to become~~] a
16 high-conflict case; or

17 (2) there is good cause shown for the appointment of a
18 parenting coordinator and the appointment is in the best interest
19 of any minor child in the suit.

20 (c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter,
21 a party may at any time [~~prior to the appointment of a parenting~~
22 ~~coordinator~~] file a written objection to the appointment of a
23 parenting coordinator on the basis of family violence having been
24 committed by another party against the objecting party or a child
25 who is the subject of the suit. After an objection is filed, a
26 parenting coordinator may not be appointed unless, on the request
27 of a party, a hearing is held and the court finds that a

1 preponderance of the evidence does not support the objection. If a
2 parenting coordinator is appointed, the court shall order
3 appropriate measures be taken to ensure the physical and emotional
4 safety of the party who filed the objection. The order may provide 5 that the parties not be required to have face-to-face contact and

26 conservatorship or possession of and access to the child.

27 (c) The parenting coordinator may not modify any order,

1 judgment, or decree [~~but may urge or suggest that the parties agree~~
2 ~~to minor temporary departures from a parenting plan if the~~
3 ~~parenting coordinator is authorized by the court to do so~~]. If a
4 suit is pending, any [~~Any~~] agreement made by the parties with the
5 assistance of [~~and~~] the parenting coordinator must [~~may~~] be reduced
6 to writing, signed by the parties and their attorneys, if any, and
