Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation

About the Department

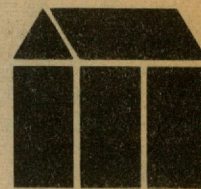

The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (TDMHMR) was created by the legislature in 1965 to conserve the mental health of all the state's citizens and to help the mentally retarded achieve their maximum potential.

A nine-member board, appointed by the Governor, sets the department's goals and operating policies and appoints a commissioner to administer the programs. The current commissioner is John J. Kavanagh, M.D.

The department supervises eight mental hospitals, 13 schools for the mentally retarded, a comprehensive mental health and mental retardation center, four human development centers, a center for youth, a research and training institute and a recreation center. The department also offers assistance and direction to 30 community mental health and mental retardation centers. Services at all of these agencies are based on ability to pay.

About the Directory

Each entry follows this format:

Name of facility

Mailing address (zip code)

(Location address, if different)

Area code-telephone number

Services offered and hours of operation

Problems treated

Age groups served

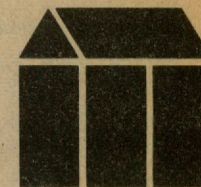

Auspices: Only TDMHMR-related facilities are listed

Serving: Geographical area the facility serves

Copies of the 1981 Directory of Services are available free on request from the address on the back cover. Copies for employees of TDMHMR-related facilities, however, are distributed by each facility's information director.

Included in this directory are programs sponsored in whole or in part by the facilities of TDMHMR and the community mental health and mental retardation centers. Facilities are listed alphabetically by city.

Certified Diagnostic and Evaluation Centers

The Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Art. 5547-300, V.T.C.S.) requires that any person thought to be mentally retarded has the right to receive a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation (D&E) to determine eligibility for mental retardation services. A comprehensive D&E must be performed at a center certified by a D&E committee appointed by the commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Of the 56 certified D&E centers, four are not under the auspices of a TDMHMR facility. All 56, however, are listed in this directory and designated "Certified Diagnostic and Evaluation Center." The list below is a guide to help you locate the full listing in the directory for each certified D&E center.
