THE PROPERTY TAX IN TEXAS: 1981

Ad valorem or property taxes totaling over $5.7 billion were levied in Texas during 1981 by approximately 3,250 local taxing units.

These taxes were the primary source of local government revenue in the state. They were used by the governing bodies of school districts, cities, counties and special districts (hospital, junior college, municipal utility, rural fire protection, navigation, etc.) to provide services of benefit to the community such as public education, fire and police protection, street construction and repair, utilities, and health care.

Actual tax levies for both 1981 and 1980 by type of taxing unit were as follows:

Type of Unit	1981 Tax Levy	1980 Tax Levy	% Change
School Districts	$2,864,940,000	$2,480,995,000	15.48
Cities	1,203,667,000	1,051,716,000	14.44
Counties	1,007,890,000	820,629,000	22.82
Special Districts	677,266,000	594,464,000	13.93
Totals	$5,753,763,000	$4,947,804,000	16.29

These totals were derived by statistical means from reports submitted by taxing units. They will differ slightly from the reported totals for school districts listed in Appendix C, and the county totals listed in Appendix D.

Growth in the property tax levy since 1970 is reflected in Figure 1: Total Property Tax Levies, 1970-1981. This figure reflects the total tax levy for each year from 1970 through 1981, with components identified by year for schools, cities, counties and special districts.

Figure 2: Property Tax Levies by Unit Type, 1970-1981 displays this same information in a different format, making it easier for the reader to observe trends among the various types of taxing units.

In 1981, 49.8 percent of all property taxes in the state were levied by school districts, compared to a 50.1 percent school district share in 1980. The city share of the levy was 20.9 percent, down from 21.3 percent the prior year. The county levy in 1981 represented 17.5 percent of the total tax burden, up from 16.6 percent in 1980. The levy attributed to special districts declined from 12.0 percent in 1980 to 11.8 percent in 1981.

Using data reported by all 1,072 school districts in Texas, the State Property Tax Board calculated the distribution of the 1981 school tax levy among the various classes of taxable property. Business real and tangible personal properties (Categories F & L) paid 32.3 percent of the school taxes, while owners of oil, gas, and other mineral reserves (Category G) paid 15.3 percent. School taxes paid by other business categories included banks (Category I), 2.0 percent, and utilities (Category J), 6.4 percent.

The owners of single-family residences shouldered 27.4 percent of the statewide school tax burden in 1981, while other categories accounted for lesser percentages. The full breakdown of school tax levy for all property categories was as follows:

Property Use Category	Approximate Share of Levy	% of Total
A. Real: Residential Single-family	$783,847,584	27.36
B. Real: Residential Multifamily	118,322,022	4.13
C. Real: Vacant Platted Lots & Tracts	87,380,670	3.05
D. Real: Acreage (Land Only)	188,799,546	6.59
E. Real: Farm Ranch Improvements	29,508,882	1.03
F. Real: Commercial & Industrial	555,511,866	19.39
G. Real: Oil, Gas, & Other Minerals	438,049,326	15.29
H. Tangible Personal: Vehicles	26,930,436	.94
I. Real & Intangible Personal: Banks	58,444,776	2.04
J. Real & Tangible Personal: Utilities	184,502,136	6.44
K. Tangible Personal: Farms & Ranches	12,892,230	0.45
L. Tangible Personal: Business	369,290,766	12.89
M. Tangible Personal: Other	11,459,760	0.40
N. Intangible Personal	88,316	0.00

At the time this report was prepared, an analysis of levy by category of property was not available for cities, counties, or special districts.

Review of the growth in overall property tax levies for calendar years 1970 to 1981 reveals that most of the change is attributable to inflation and population change. The accelerating shift in population to Texas from other states has created a need for improved community services, and inflation has made these services more expensive for local governments to provide.

In 1981, property taxes per capita in Texas totaled $335.08. However, when adjusted to a base year of 1970 for changes in the consumer price index (C.P.I.), the per-capita levy for 1981 falls to $143.06.

Figure 3: Reported vs. Real Property Tax Levies Per Texas Resident, 1970-1981 contrasts the change in the reported property tax levy per capita to the change in C.P.I. adjusted real levy. While the reported per-capita levy rose from $129.71 in 1970 to $335.08 in 1981, the real levy, as noted above, rose only from $129.71 to $143.06.

And, while property taxes increased from 1970 to 1981, property taxes as a percentage of total state and local taxes have decreased in every calendar year of that period except 1975 and 1979. The property tax accounted for 43.08 percent of the total local and state tax burden in 1970 but had declined to 37.07 percent of the overall burden in 1981.

Trends in this area are reflected in Figure 4: Property Taxes as a Percentage of Total State and Local Taxes, 1970-1981.

The state ad valorem tax ceased to be an important revenue source in 1980 when Sec. 26.04, Property Tax Code, reduced the assessment ratio for its collection to .0001 percent. In the fiscal year ending August 31, 1981, the tax statewide produced only $122.58 in current collections. During the same period, however, more than $2.4 million in delinquent tax was collected. From current and delinquent collections and the balance on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, nearly $12.6 million was cleared to the College Building Fund.

For the 1982 fiscal year, it is estimated that current state ad valorem tax collections totaled $162.28, while delinquent collections yielded approximately $1.5 million.

(In the November 1982 general election, the voters of Texas will consider a constitutional amendment repealing the state ad valorem tax and validating the .0001 percent assessment ratio enacted in the Property Tax Code.)

In fiscal year 1981, the school districts of Texas were allocated over $148.15 million by the Texas Education Agency for revenue losses resulting from state-mandated homestead exemptions and open-space land valuation in the 1980 tax year.

SPTB determined the actual revenue loss to be $148.6 million, of which $122.4 million was lost due to new homestead exemptions and $26.2 million resulted from open-space valuation under Art. VIII, Sec. 1-d-1, of the Constitution.

Taxable value lost to the school districts totaled nearly $16.2 billion, with $13.1 billion of this resulting from state-mandated homestead exemptions and $3.1 billion from 1-d-1 valuation.

PRELIMINARY 1981 SCHOOL VALUES SUMMARIZED

As noted elsewhere in this report, one of the major functions of the State Property Tax Board is to conduct a biennial study of the market and index values of school districts (see pages 7 and 11). The study, mandated by Sec. 11.86, Texas Education Code, is used by the Legislature and Texas Education Agency to provide a basis for equitable allocation of state funds to school districts.

The study of school district values for the 1981 tax year was conducted by SPTB in 1982, and preliminary findings certified to the Commissioner of Education on August 31, 1982. At the time this report was written, school district appeals were being heard, with a final certification to the Commissioner and the Legislature required by January 1, 1983.

If school districts had been carrying all taxable property on their tax rolls at full market value in 1981, it is estimated by SPTB that market values statewide would have totaled more than $621.5 billion, as opposed to the 1981 school tax roll value of $379.1 billion.

In the prior study of 1979 values, SPTB assigned a full market value of $407.1 billion while school districts carried that same property on their rolls at $254.3 billion.

A table summarizing the preliminary 1981 school district values follows:

LEGAL BASIS OF THE PROPERTY TAX: 1981

Property taxes differ from other types of taxes (sales, income, excise, franchise) in that they are locally generated and collected. While tax administration is a local function, however, all jurisdictions are subject to the guidelines and restrictions found in the Texas Constitution and statutes.

In the operation of the property tax system, four constitutional principles are vital:

- ★ All real and personal property within a taxing unit is taxable except that which is excluded or exempted by federal or state constitutions or laws made pursuant thereto;
- ★ All property must be valued according to market value factors, unless it qualifies for special-use valuation;
- ★ All taxation must be equal and uniform; and
- ★ No property can be appraised above its market value.

For the 1981 tax year, statutory guidance for administration of the property tax system came in part from the Property Tax Code, enacted by the Legislature in Senate Bill 621 to be partially effective on January 1, 1980, and fully effective on January 1, 1982, and from various provisions scattered through the Revised Civil Statutes, Texas Education Code, and Texas Water Code.

For 1982 and later tax years, property tax administration will be guided primarily by provisions in the Property Tax Code.

Those portions of the code which became effective on January 1, 1980, and hence were in effect for the 1981 tax year, included the following provisions:

- ★ School Tax Assessment Practices Board was replaced with the State Property Tax Board.
- ★ Responsibilities of the comptroller and of the State Tax Board regarding property tax administration were transferred to the State Property Tax Board.
- ★ Appraisal districts were established by law for each of the 254 counties. (Board members serving in 1981 began their two-year terms on January 1, 1980.)
- ★ The assessment ratio on state ad valorem taxes was reduced to .0001 percent.
- ★ Methods of appraising transportation business intangibles and railroad rolling stock took effect.

On September 1, 1980, appraisal district budget provisions for 1981 became effective. On January 1, 1981, assessment ratios for local property taxes were abolished.

By October 3, 1981, any multicounty taxing unit was required to designate one appraisal district to appraise all its taxable property beginning in 1982 if it did not elect to have separate appraisals made by the appraisal district of each county into which the unit extended.

The 67th Texas Legislature, meeting in a special session called by Gov. Bill Clements, enacted House Bill 30 making numerous amendments to the Property Tax Code. Among the highlights of H.B. 30 are the following items:

- ★ Effective August 14, 1981, county participation in the appraisal district became mandatory. Counties were made liable for their proportionate share of previously incurred appraisal district costs. (This provision implemented Art. VIII, Sec. 18, Texas Constitution, which was ratified by the voters in the November 1980 general election. The constitutional amendment mandated a single board of equalization to serve all taxing units.) Until passage of H.B. 30, county participation in the appraisal district had been voluntary; however, 215 counties had chosen on their own to participate.
- ★ Any multicounty taxing unit which had chosen to participate in only one appraisal district was given the option of choosing another district before October 1, 1981.
- ★ Qualification for membership on an appraisal district board of directors was changed. An individual is not ineligible to serve on the board because he or she is also a member of the governing body of a taxing unit, but a board of directors may not have more than one employee of a taxing unit within its total membership.
- ★ Changes, designed to protect the substantive rights of larger taxing units, were made in the three-fourths rule as it applies to director elections and budgetary matters.
- ★ Budgets and other decisions of an appraisal district board of directors were made subject to a veto by a majority of the district's voting taxing units.
- ★ Changes were made in the tax-rate rollback election provisions of the code. Beginning in 1982, an election must be held to roll back a property tax increase in excess of eight percent of a taxing unit's calculated effective tax rate if at least ten percent of the qualified voters sign petitions to force such an election. Related provisions in S.B. 621 had different requirements for numbers of signatures and the specified minimum voter turnout of 25 percent was deleted.
- ★ By local option, full implementation of an appraisal district could be postponed until 1983 or 1984. Two-thirds of the voting units in a district were required to pass and file postponement resolutions before October 1, 1981, for a postponement to be effective. Under the postponement to 1983, all taxing units remained liable for their share of the appraisal district's costs. If the postponement to 1984 was elected, a phase-in of implementation must occur in 1982, 1983, and 1984 as prescribed in the act. This plan also provided a - modified method of cost allocation.

- ★ Requirements that annual applications be filed for homestead and charitable organizations exemptions and for 1-d-1 productivity valuation were repealed and replaced with a one-time application requirement.
- ★ A requirement was added that all property be reappraised by the appraisal district at least once every four years.
- ★ The State Property Tax Board was required, beginning in 1984, to make annual "ratio studies" and determine the percentage of market values actually appraised in each appraisal district.
- ★ The tax calendar was generally extended by one month. (See Tax Calendar on page 15.)
- ★ Exemption provisions in the code were changed to allow exemption of farm and ranch implements owned by individuals or families, and to specify certain requirements for administering exemptions such as late filing for homestead exemptions, and a definition of acreage to be included with a rural homestead exemption.

In the November 1981 general election, the voters approved three constitutional amendments concerning property taxation. All three provide for new exemptions from property taxes.

Proposition 1 added Section 1-g to Article VIII of the Constitution. This new section authorizes cities, towns, and other taxing units to encourage the improvement, development, or redevelopment of certain areas through granting exemptions from property taxation and through issuing bonds and notes payable from the increase in revenue generated by the increase in value of properties resulting from improvement and redevelopment.

Proposition 5 amended Art. VIII, Sec. 19, to include livestock and poultry in the definition of exempted farm products in the hands of the producer. The amendment did not affect the 1981 tax year but became effective automatically on January 1, 1982.

Proposition 6, authorizing new local-option homestead exemptions on a percentage basis, added Subsection e to Art. VIII, Sec. 1-b.

The addition allows any political subdivision (taxing unit) to exempt a percentage of the market value of a residence homestead, in addition to other exemptions on homesteads already in effect in the unit. Beginning in 1982, a governing body may authorize any percentage to be exempted which does not exceed 40 percent for tax years 1982-84, 30 percent for years 1985-87, and 20 percent for 1988 and subsequent years.

Unless the Legislature prescribes other monetary limitations, the dollar amount exempted may not be less than $5,000 on any property.

The second section of the proposal amended Art. VIII, Sec. 21, Subsection (c), to eliminate the requirement that reappraisal notices state the amount of taxes that would be due on the reappraised property if neither the preceding year's tax rate nor assessment ratio is reduced. Instead, the notice must include a reasonable estimate of taxes due if the total amount of taxes for the unit is not increased.

Proposition 6 was an effort by the Legislature to offset a possible shift in the tax burden to homeowners during property revaluations either planned or in progress in appraisal districts under the Property Tax Code. The change in reappraisal notices was proposed to lessen the possibility that property owners would be misinformed or misled about the effect reappraised values would have on their current-year taxes.

At the time this report was prepared in FY 1982, approximately 232 governing bodies had approved new local-option percentage homestead exemptions for the 1982 tax year.

OVERVIEW OF SPTB DUTIES & ACCOMPLISHMENTS: 1981

The State Property Tax Board (SPTB) was created effective January 1, 1980, under provisions of Senate Bill 621, 66th Texas Legislature. Combined to form the nucleus of the new agency were the School Tax Assessment Practices Board and the Ad Valorem Tax Division of the State Comptroller's Office.

The board is composed of six members who serve without pay, each appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate to six-year overlapping terms. The terms of two members expire on March 1 of each odd-numbered year. All board members must have been residents of Texas for at least five years and, after March 1, 1983, at least two must be certified by the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners.

These board members were serving on August 31, 1981:

* Mr. Burnette was appointed July 17, 1981, to replace Judge Jim W. Weatherby of Kerrville, whose term expired March 1, 1981.

 Mr. Jones was appointed July 20, 1981, to replace Judge Sergio Gonzales, Jr. of Del Rio, whose term expired March 1, 1981.

Key administrative employees as of December 31, 1981, were Kenneth E. Graeber, executive director; Bill Carnes, Ed.D., deputy director; H. Jack Woods, general counsel; Larry Luedtke, associate director for valuations; Jim Robinson, associate director for education & standards/publications; Charles E. Harrison, Jr., chief fiscal officer; and Mike Farren, chief of data processing.

The agency has a broad statutory mandate under the Education Code and the Property Tax Code. Some of the major responsibilities are:

A. Major Responsibilities under Education Code

1. To conduct a biennial study using comparable sales and other generally accepted techniques whereby estimates are generated of the market value of all taxable property in each of the state's 1,072 school districts. The study shall determine the taxable market value of all property in each class of property within each district and the productivity value of all open-space, agricultural, or timber land which qualifies for agricultural or open-space valuation within each district. In conducting the study, the board shall use appropriate standard valuation, statistical compilation, and analysis techniques to generate the value estimates. The market and index value totals produced are to be used by the Legislature and the Texas Education Agency in the determination of districts' local fund assignments and equalization aid entitlements.

2. Administration of reimbursement to school districts for revenue lost as a result of implementation of specific sections of the Tax Relief Amendment.

B. Major Responsibilities under Property Tax Code

1. Adoption of rules establishing minimum standards for administration of local tax assessing offices and appraisal districts.

2. Development of educational materials and programs for local tax officials on the technical, legal, and administrative aspects of property taxation.

3. Preparation and issuance of a broad range of published materials including appraisal manuals; cost, price, and depreciation schedules; news and reference bulletins of a technical nature; annotated law digests; guidelines and schedules of factors affecting the valuation of agricultural land in each county; compilation of an annual report summarizing the operations, tax rates, and assessment ratios of local taxing jurisdictions; and issuance of pamphlets advising taxpayers of their rights and remedies.

4. In cooperation with local assessors, conduct of a statewide public information program designed to inform citizens of key deadlines in the tax year and related actions necessary to apply for exemptions and productivity valuation, or to appeal values placed on their property.

5. Provision of technical assistance to local tax offices, including assistance necessary to ensure an orderly and efficient transition from multiple assessing offices to a single appraisal district in each county. This responsibility includes preparation of materials and conduct of educational programs for boards of directors and chief appraisers, and distribution of state funds appropriated to assist each appraisal district in implementing the Property Tax Code.

6. Prescription of the content of all forms necessary for local tax administration and provision of model forms for local reproduction.

7. Ad valorem tax administration functions including determining the value for local taxation of transportation business intangible properties and railroad rolling stock; approval of county assessor bonds (transferred to the State Comptroller's Office by House Bill 30); approval of delinquent state tax collection contracts; rendition of Permanent University Fund lands and representation of the state on appeals; and administration of the state ad valorem tax.

8. Effective in 1984, conduct of an annual ratio study to determine the percentage of market values actually appraised in each appraisal district.

Additionally, the agency provides staffing and administrative support to the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners. That board has statutory responsibilities related to the registration and certification of individuals who are engaged in the practice of assessing.

Overall Accomplishments

During 1981, the State Property Tax Board acted in a broad manner to carry out the agency's mandate under the Property Tax Code and other legislation. Among highlights of the year were these:

★ School district revenue losses for 1980 due to state-mandated homestead exemptions and productivity valuation of open-space agricultural land were certified to the Texas Education Agency to assist districts in obtaining partial reimbursement from state appropriated funds.

★ The agency conducted three special seminars for tax administrators in Austin, and 25 in the field. Those held in Austin included an annual chief appraisers' seminar, January 14-16, 1981, at which nine topics related to the administrative aspects of organizing and operating an appraisal district were presented, and a mapping systems seminar for chief appraisers on May 9. Also conducted in Austin was an instructor training course in November to help develop the teaching skills of tax administrators who would be conducting courses in property taxation.

Field training seminars conducted by agency staff included 13 regional meetings in July on new tax legislation, SPTB rules, and truth-in-taxation, and 12 regional meetings during September on House Bill 30 amendments to the Property Tax Code.

★ SPTB board members met on several occasions to adopt necessary rules, approve sections of the General Appraisal Manual or other materials prior to publication, and to act on policy and budgetary matters.

At its February meeting, the board approved 18 measures on tax office record requirements, including rules setting minimum standards for exemption forms and the report of decreased value.

In March, the board adopted 10 rules setting minimum standards for a uniform tax records system. The rules each contained a substantial compliance clause which allows an appraisal office to be in compliance with any rule if a record substantially equivalent to that required has been established.

Meeting again in June, the board adopted several amended sections of the agency's General Appraisal Manual, and considered and approved the associate degree curriculum in property tax administration developed by the Education & Standards Division. The curriculum for an associate degree had been established by year's end at more than a dozen junior colleges and included 30 hours of courses in property tax administration, 24 hours of support courses including English, business math, building construction technology, economics, government, accounting, and so on, and a six-semester-hour internship.

At their August meeting, members of the board acted on three rules dealing with appeal procedures, tax maps and the record of movement of mobile homes. The board approved amendments to the tax map rule initially passed by the School Tax Assessment Practices Board in July 1979. The mapping rule retains a completion date of January 1, 1983, but language was added to note that offices may either complete the system or show substantial progress toward completion by that date. The board also adopted four more updated sections of the General Appraisal Manual.

In September, members of the board approved a rule on rendition requirements and 18 forms accompanying the rule. Shortly thereafter, appraisal districts were sent model rendition forms. Earlier, they had been mailed models of the 17 exemption application forms and the report of decreased value.

At the board's final meeting of 1981, held in December, members adopted four tax record requirement rules dealing with notice of exemption application requirements, special-use valuation application forms, applications for exemption of solar and wind-powered energy devices, and minimum requirements for current and delinquent tax receipts.

★ Major publications projects completed during 1981 included preparation and distribution of model forms packets to chief appraisers (these were camera-ready to reduce local form-preparation expenses); publication of special pamphlets such as Compliance Package '81 (Truth-in-Taxation); HB 2333 (reappraisal notice requirements); HB 30: Revisions to the Property Tax Code; Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities! (detailed information on property taxation for taxpayers); Guidelines for the Valuation of Open-space Land (productivity valuation procedures); and two pamphlets to guide taxing units and county clerks in the conduct of appraisal district director elections.

Additionally, the agency published and distributed several revised General Appraisal Manual sections and contracted for production of a nonannotated version of the new Property Tax Code to be issued early in 1982.

A total of 12 issues of SPTB's monthly news and reference bulletin, STATEMENT, were prepared and circulated to tax administrators. These issues included a variety of technical articles on new legislation, appraisal district operations, property valuation, notices, collections, and other topics related to tax administration.

★ A master list of 17 proposed property tax administration courses was adopted and work progressed on course development and issuance.

★ A slide program on administrative aspects of ag-use valuation was produced for use by tax administrators.

★ The agency conducted a broad, statewide taxpayer information program in cooperation with appraisal districts, taxing units, and the news media of Texas. Attention was paid to ensuring that property owners were made aware of rendition requirements and deadlines, exemption and productivity valuation application procedures, appeal rights, and so on.

During 1981, routine functions of the State Property Tax Board were carried on by an executive director and supporting staff. Generally, the staff was organized to conform to the specific areas of activity or responsibility detailed in either the Education Code or Property Tax Code.

Office of the Director

The Office of the Director is responsible for overall agency administration including coordination of total resources to ensure that legislative mandates and board policies are discharged in a timely and effective manner. Sections within the Office of the Director, in addition to the executive director and his personal staff, include the Offices of the Executive Director and Deputy Director, and the Office of the General Counsel. The Office of the Director serves in a supportive role to the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners under an interagency contract.

This office is responsible for coordination of total resources so as to ensure that legislative mandates and board policies are discharged in a timely and effective manner. The executive director is assisted by a deputy director, who aids particularly in the administration and coordination of ongoing agency functions.

B. Office of General Counsel. This office advises the board and staff on legal issues related to property taxation and is responsible for conducting administrative hearings arising from rule-making or value assignment actions. The office researches and provides materials to be published in annotated digests of law, legal portions of appraisal manuals and open-space guidelines, and other pamphlets.

C. Board of Tax Assessor Examiners. While this report does not constitute an annual report of the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners, comments have been included to document the type and volume of support work performed by SPTB staff assigned to support the Board of Tax Assessor Examiners. During the fiscal year some 3,421 registrant renewals were processed and over 1,127 new applications were accepted from persons entering the assessing field. The Registered Professional Assessor (R.P.A.) designation was awarded to over 209 registrants during the fiscal year, bringing the total number of R.P.A.s statewide to over 809. The staff conducted certification examinations at various locations during the year, classified registrants into the four appropriate classification levels, and proctored examinations administered by such professional groups as the Texas Association of Assessing Officers.

Office of Business Affairs

This office has the major responsibilities of fiscal management, internal audit, facilities management, and personnel administration. It also serves in an advisory capacity on data-processing management. During the 1981 fiscal year, this office processed agency claims, purchase orders, and consultant contracts. The Information Analysis Section worked closely with consultants in the design of a data-base management system and hardware configuration to serve the agency's future processing needs.

A. Fiscal Management. Indication of the workload for the Office of Business Affairs included 1,809 vouchers processed during the year, 102 professional service contracts administered and 764 purchase requisitions processed. Included in this section is the responsibility to efficiently respond to the fiscal impact of certain proposed legislation (fiscal notes). During the Regular Session of the 67th Legislature this office responded to 132 fiscal notes, with 81 fiscal notes being addressed during the first called session.

B. Personnel. Assisting the Director's Office, business affairs personnel actively participated in the development of detailed job descriptions and performance evaluation instruments for all agency employees. During fiscal year 1981, 172 payroll changes were documented and processed by the Personnel Office.

C. Data Processing. This section maintains the agency's computerized records and provides the data-processing services necessary for other divisions to perform complex valuation and tax administration functions. The agency uses computer systems at four different state agencies and universities, and added some in-house processing capacity during fiscal year 1981. In late 1981, this section was restructured as the office of Data Processing.

Education and Standards/Publications Division

The Education and Standards/Publications Division of the State Property Tax Board provides technical assistance to local officials and taxpayers on property tax administration; researches and provides materials of a technical nature to be published for distribution to individuals and officials involved in tax administration; compiles data to be published and distributed to taxpayers regarding their rights and remedies; prescribes minimum standards for the administration of tax offices and countywide appraisal districts; and approves, develops, and conducts seminars and courses for appraisers and other tax administrators. Sections within the division include the Associate Director's Office and the Education, Technical Assistance, and Publications and Tax Information Sections.

During the fiscal year ending August 31, 1981, the division made a record 52,048 technical assistance contacts, including more than 16,000 telephone calls to or from persons seeking assistance. More than 1 million copies of technical publications and forms were produced and disseminated.

In the same fiscal year, 600,000 copies of the Taxpayers Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities! pamphlet were printed and distributed to citizens through local tax and appraisal offices. Information concerning the property tax system was disseminated through some 7,879 news media contacts.

Enrollment in property tax administration courses rose from 1,820 persons in the prior fiscal year to 4,799 for the period covered by this report.

The growth in technical assistance contacts and course enrollments is directly attributable to interest in new property tax legislation throughout the State.

- A. Associate Director's Office. This section is responsible for overall administration of the division including supervision of the various operating sections. The associate director also coordinates the agency's tax information and internal safety, fire protection, and security programs. An assistant director aids the associate director in the administration and coordination of ongoing divisional activities.
- B. Education Section. This section is responsible for developing texts and instructor materials in the field of property tax administration, approving or sponsoring courses of instruction offered by colleges and professional organizations, and conducting special education programs related to specific matters of interest. During the fiscal year the course development emphasis shifted from the preparation of course outlines to the writing of actual texts as noted above. It is felt that this change will improve the quality of tax administration educational programs and promote more uniformity in teaching of the subject matter.
- C. Technical Assistance Section. This section is responsible for providing technical information and assistance to local officials and taxpayers on property tax administration. This activity is conducted by telephone, through correspondence, by preparation of articles and pamphlets, and by conducting meetings and/or seminars. In addition to these duties, this section is also responsible for assisting the Office of General Counsel in development of rules promulgated by the State Property Tax Board prescribing minimum standards for appraisal districts and tax offices.

consolidated with the Education and Standards Division in December 1980. Responsibilities include editing, designing, and publishing all printed materials developed by the agency; coordinating a statewide tax information program; producing audio-visual materials for use by all elements of the agency; and operating the agency's mail services. During the fiscal year ending August 31, 1981, a study of agency printing requirements was conducted which led to establishment of an internal printshop effective September 1, 1981.

Valuation Division

The Valuation Division of the State Property Tax Board is required to conduct a biennial study to determine the market and index value of all taxable property by classification of property within each school district, and to handle the associated appeals process. The division was also charged during 1981 with aiding distribution of state funds to appraisal districts by determining the number of parcels of property in each; compilation of materials to be published in appraisal manuals; development of agricultural productivity valuation guidelines; and state ad valorem tax functions including valuation of transportation business intangibles and railroad rolling stock, rendition of Permanent University Fund lands, and other ad valorem accounting responsibilities.

The biennial school district market value study provides the basis on which state equalization aid funding is allocated to public schools throughout Texas, and is used by the Legislature and Commissioner of Education in determining the school district local fund assignment. The study, mandated by Sec. 11.86 of the Texas Education code, is conducted every two years to afford greater equity in funding distribution.

A. Associate Director's Office. During 1981, the division was organized into two sections, each headed by an assistant director. They are Complex Properties, consisting of Ad Valorem, Industrial, Minerals, and Utilities Sections, and Local Properties, consisting of Land Studies, On-Site Review, and Reports and Audits Sections.

During the report period, the two sections completed development of recommended methods and procedures for appraisal of various types of property for publication as guidelines in the 700-page General Appraisal Manual. The manual, which encompasses 17 sections, was furnished to local tax offices for review.

The General Appraisal Manual is mandated by the Property Tax Code and Texas Education Code. The manual serves as an aid to local tax offices in the performance of official duties and responsibilities and is a valuable reference for offices appraising property for local tax purposes.

B. Ad Valorem-Intangible Tax Section. This section is charged by statute with various functions, including providing information to county tax assessor-collectors and taxpayers regarding ad valorem-intangibles taxation. During the year, some 12,860 intangibles tax accounts were reviewed to determine if an assessment was necessary. Quarterly and annual reports of the 253 county assessor-collectors were reviewed and recorded, including collections, delinquent tax reports, and statements and final reports for assessor-collectors leaving office.

The section reviewed and approved 254 county reports of property values and 263 bonds of new reports of property values, 263 bonds of new county assessor-collectors, and 133 contracts between counties and their agents to collect delinquent taxes.

The section rendered Permanent University Fund lands to the 20 counties containing these lands, applied for agricultural-use valuation, and established the correct values of the lands on the assessment rolls in the 20 counties. In agreement with the Comptroller of Public Accounts, the State Property Tax Board apportioned the appraised value of railroad rolling stock to the appropriate counties, developed and monitored tax policy, and prepared material on recent changes that counties would encounter acting as agents for the state.

- C. Industrial Section. This section conducted reviews of industrial appraisals for the market value study, compiled materials for inclusion in the appraisal manual, assisted in school district appeals of values, and provided technical assistance regarding industrial valuation methods.
- D. Minerals Section. This section conducted appraisals of mineral properties for the market value study, compiled materials for inclusion in appraisal manuals, assisted in school district appeals of values, and provided technical assistance regarding mineral valuation methods.

- E. Utilities. This section conducted appraisals of utility properties for the market value study, compiled materials for inclusion in appraisal manuals, assisted in school district appeals of values, and provided technical assistance regarding utility valuation methods.
- F. Land Studies. This section, in an ongoing mapping project, obtained school district boundaries for the districts contained in approximately 147 of 254 counties and the school districts in those counties into the agency's computer data base, and printouts received from this data showed the area of the counties as well as the the areas of districts or portions of districts within each.
- G. On-Site Review Section. Section staff prepared a 60-page appraisal guide to be used by 55 reviewers contracted for the On-Site Review portion of the 1981 market value study. Additionally, staff members prepared various reporting forms for use in the study. Separate forms were developed for the collection and recording of sales data.
- H. Reports and Audits Section. This section revised, distributed, and audited 1,072 school district self-reports of property values by category from the districts' tax rolls. Section staff developed and distributed to counties a parcel-count questionnaire to provide the basis for distribution of state appropriated funds to central appraisal districts in accordance with the statutory formula. These report forms were reviewed by the section and cross-checked with other available parcel-count information prior to certification for payment of aid funds.

APPRAISAL DISTRICT OPERATIONS: 1981

During tax year 1981, most appraisal districts were still in the preliminary stages of becoming operational. In approximately 80 counties, however, the appraisal district provided valuation services to one or more taxing units by interlocal contract during 1981. These same services were provided by six appraisal districts during 1980.

Each appraisal district, as provided in the Property Tax Code, is governed by a board of directors who are representatives of the taxing units within the district. A chief appraiser is responsible for the operations of the district and is hired by, and serves at the pleasure of, the board of directors.

The principal functions of the appraisal districts, effective January 1, 1982 (unless implementation is postponed to 1983 or 1984), are to appraise all property, both real and personal, in the district; to handle all rendition forms, exemption applications, and applications for productivity and other special-use valuation; and to prepare appraisal records for equalization by the appraisal review board.

All taxing units with the authority to levy ad valorem property taxes were required to join a central appraisal district, with the exception of the counties. As noted previously in this report, however, county participation became mandatory effective August 14, 1981, due to ratification by the voters of an amendment to the State Constitution and enactment by the Legislature of House Bill 30. Some 215 county governments joined their appraisal districts in 1980 on a voluntary basis.

Incorporated cities and towns, school districts, and counties are entitled to vote in the election of the board of directors. A taxing unit's voting entitlement is calculated according to a statutory formula which can be altered if three-fourths of the voting taxing units approve the change. When elections were held in the fall of 1981 to choose board members for a two-year term of office beginning January 1, 1982, the method of director election was modified in 55, or 21.6 percent, of the appraisal districts; while 199, or 78.4 percent, chose the method prescribed by statute.

A total of 28 appraisal districts, or 11 percent, used the three-fourths rule to increase the size of their boards from the prescribed minimum of five to some larger number, not exceeding 13. A total of 226 districts, or 89 percent, elected five-member boards in 1981.

During 1981, appraisal district boards of directors chose to establish their own appraisal offices in 202 counties, or 79.6 percent. In 52 counties (20.4 percent), the appraisal office was operated by a taxing unit under interlocal government contract.

To assist appraisal districts in establishing their offices, the 66th Legislature appropriated $2,887,000 for distribution by the State Property Tax Board in 1980 and an additional $2,887,000 for allocation in 1981.

Additionally, the 67th Legislature appropriated $5,000,000 for distribution prior to the end of the 1981 calendar year.

Of each of these allocations, one-fourth was divided into equal portions among all the districts, with the provision that no district would receive more than $25 per parcel of real property from any one allocation.

The remaining three-quarters of each allocation was divided among the districts according to the ratio of the number of taxable real property parcels in the district to the number of taxable real property parcels in all districts. Amounts allocated to each district in the fiscal year ending August 31, 1981, are listed in Appendix B. That portion of the allocation which occurred after September 1, 1981, will be reported in this agency's 1982 annual report.

In addition to receiving state assistance, appraisal districts were supported by the participating taxing units. Funds were acquired by apportioning costs among the units according to extensive statutory directives in the Property Tax Code. Calculation of a unit's share of district costs was based on the proportion of its tax levy in the district to the total amount of taxes imposed in the district by all participating taxing units.

Provisions were made in the code for a district to change this method of cost allocation if the change were approved by three-fourths of the voting taxing units.

Under code provisions added by H.B. 30 in 1981, the budget allocation method may be changed by the appraisal district's board of directors, but this action may be vetoed by any voting or nonvoting taxing unit. Under an alternative method, the governing bodies of three-fourths of the voting taxing units may change the method of allocation by resolution. Any such change is invalid, however, if it requires any taxing unit, without the consent of its governing body, to pay a greater share than it would pay using the tax levy formula.

According to data reported to SPTB by the appraisal districts, only nine of the 254 used the three-fourths rule in 1981 to change the method of budget allocation for 1982. A total of 245 districts, or 96.5 percent, allocated their budget costs under the normal tax levy formula.

Since 1981 appraisal district budgets were actually adopted in the fall of 1980, this report will review budgets for 1982 which were adopted by district boards of directors in late 1981.

Those budgets totaled $111.4 million, or approximately 1.94 percent of the 1981 tax levy of $5.75 billion. The average cost of appraisal services statewide was $14.30 per real property parcel.

In order to present meaningful information on appraisal district budgets, SPTB grouped data submitted by chief appraisers by district size. Districts were placed into one of six size groups and this statewide summary information is detailed on the next page.

District size	No. of districts	Average budget	Cost per parcel			Average chief appraiser salary
			Low	High	Average
Below 20,000 parcels	166 (65.3%)	$166,831.00	00.00	39.54	16.52	$21,777.00
20,000 - 34,999 parcels	41 (16.1%)	$331,486.00	04.14	21.72	12.68	$28,406.00
35,000 - 49,999 parcels	18 (7.0%)	$592,917.00	07.02	40.16	14.83	$34,155.00
50,000 - 74,999 parcels	15 (5.9%)	$875,929.00	07.55	21.56	13.75	$35,562.00
75,000 - 150,000 parcels	8 (3.1%)	$1,492,033.00	07.61	19.49	13.64	$44,993.00
Over 150,000 parcels	6 (2.3%)	$5,734,172.00	07.91	17.95	13.79	$53,670.00

Certain qualifications must be taken into account when using the budget data shown above for comparative purposes. First, the parcel counts were those used for distribution of state funds and were derived from adding the number of real property parcels reported in 1980 by county tax assessors to the well count reported by the Railroad Commission. Actual experience has demonstrated that the county assessor parcel numbers were low in many cases. Additionally, these numbers do not include personal property accounts, the valuation of which has constituted a significant amount of appraisal districts work during both 1981 and 1982.

The budgets adopted by the 14 appraisal districts which delayed implementation until 1983 and the one which delayed until 1984 are unusually low in some cases. For example, one county reported no budget adopted for 1982.

Also, when comparing chief appraisers' salaries, it should be noted that in the 52 counties where the appraisal office is being operated by a taxing unit, the reported salary includes only that increment paid by the appraisal district and not that which was paid by the contracting taxing unit.

When the annual report is prepared for 1982, parcel counts based on actual appraisal district experience will be used for purposes of cost allocation, and salary supplements paid the chief appraiser by any jointly employing taxing unit will also be considered.

In addition to SPTB's review of appraisal district budgets, a study of unit costs of operation in 53 counties located in Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSAs) was conducted by the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A & M University. That study, entitled Analysis of Tax Levies in Texas 1979-81, reported "a strong positive relationship between total operating budgets and chief appraiser's salary. The budget also increases as the number of parcels increases but the rate of increase declines as the size of tax roll grows. This means that average cost declines with size, indicating economies of size exist in CAD operation."

Concerning costs of reappraisal and collection by appraisal districts, the study reported, "The data contains no evidence that districts conducting reappraisals have higher budgets than comparable districts not doing reappraisals. Neither did performing collection chores contribute statistically significant amounts to CAD budgets."

The report continued, "Realistically, each of these activities should increase the expenses of the CADs. The statistical nonsignificance indicates no presence of strong evidence of such an increase. Perhaps many of the so-called 'reappraisals' do not reflect an intensive reexamination of the properties in the tax base. In some instances, reappraisals have been conducted from the office using some mathematical formula to adjust current values. Such an exercise may cost very little."

Noting that actual cost figures reflect the experience of the CADs in their infancy, the study concluded that the "long-run situation of these agencies may substantially differ from the conclusions provided" by the analysis. "For example, reappraisal may materially affect costs as CADs adopt more sophisticated appraisal techniques. An accurate appraisal of CAD costs should come after they have established a longer history of operation."

The Texas Real Estate Research Center study was conducted by Charles E. Gilliland, a member of the center's staff.

Data analyzed by SPTB staff reflects that, during 1981, 87 appraisal districts, or 34.2 percent, had entered into contractual arrangements with one or more taxing units to provide collections services during 1982. In the remaining 167 counties, collection would be accomplished by the taxing units themselves.

Concerning the conduct of countywide reappraisals for 1982, some 143 districts, or 56.2 percent, reported to SPTB that such a reappraisal was in progress. Of the 111 remaining appraisal districts, it should be recalled that approximately 80 did some form of reappraisal and provided tax values to one or more taxing units in either 1980 or 1981.

Of those districts which in 1981 said a countywide reappraisal would be conducted for 1982, a total of 46, or 32.1 percent, planned to produce the new appraisal records by use of in-house staff. An additional 49, or 34.3 percent, employed a private firm to conduct the reappraisal. Some 44, or 30.8 percent, indicated that a reappraisal would be conducted by a combination of in-house staff and private appraisal firm, and four, or 2.7 percent, indicated that some other method would be used.

Additional information on reappraisal plans will be compiled for inclusion in this agency's 1982 annual report.

STATE PROPERTY TAX BOARD

FINANCIAL DATA: FY 81

APPENDIX A

The State Property Tax Board operated on a total budget of $5,309,843.00 for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1981. For a complete breakdown of this budget, by operating cost centers, the reader is referred to Exhibit 1. A line-item detail of the entire financial activity of the board is provided in Exhibit 2.

A significant recurring expense is professional fees and services. Consultant usage plays an important role in the ability of the board to execute the numerous statutory mandates assigned by the Legislature. Typically, the spending pattern fluctuates dramatically between fiscal years, because the Valuation Division has conducted a market and index value study in every even numbered fiscal year. Exhibit 6 provides a categorical breakdown of the $258,478.69 spent on a total of 71 professional service contracts during fiscal 1981.

Employment of full-time staff has grown steadily at the State Property Tax Board as new mandates have made it necessary to increase divisional workloads. The schedule at right reflects the growth in personnel as of August 31st of each respective fiscal year, with a comparative statistic showing the total number of professional contracts authorized for that year:

LEGISLATIVE ASSISTANCE TO APPRAISAL DISTRICTS : FY 81

FISCAL YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 1981

For the fiscal year ending August 31, 1981, the Legislature appropriated a total of $2,887,000 for grants to assist countywide appraisal districts in establishing their appraisal offices. The law required that each district receive an equal grant of $2,841.53, or one-fourth of the total appropriation, and that the remainder be allocated on the basis of parcels of property.

Each appraisal district received a grant during this period, with the exception of Gray and Loving counties which had not established offices at the time of fund distribution. Those districts received their FY 1981 allocation during calendar year 1982.

The Legislature appropriated an additional $5,000,000 for distribution in FY 1982 prior to December 1, 1981. Since those funds were allocated during FY 1982, the distribution by county will be reflected in the State Property Tax Board's annual report for that year.

Grants distributed during FY 1981 were as follows:

SCHOOL DISTRICT REPORT DATA: 1981

APPENDIX C

Section 5.09, Property Tax Code, requires the State Property Tax Board's Annual Report to include for each school district the total appraised values, assessed values, taxable values of taxable property by class of property, the assessment ratio, and the tax rate.

This information, summarized on the following pages of Appendix C, came from reports which school districts are required to file each year with the State Property Tax Board.

The school district data lists 14 property categories, including single-family residential; multifamily residential; vacant platted lots and tracts; acreage (land only); farm and ranch improvements; commercial (industrial) real; oil, gas and minerals; vehicles; banks; utilities; farm and ranch personal; business personal; other personal; and intangible personal property.

The figures reflect the total appraised values of the districts' tax rolls, the amounts of general homestead exemptions, over-65 exemptions, exemptions for the disabled, and loss in value due to agricultural use of land.

Also shown is required information on tax rates. Section 26.02, Property Tax Code, prohibits the use of local assessment ratios, effective January 1, 1981. Accordingly, no assessment ratios are listed.

Reports for the 1981 tax year were received from all 1,072 school districts in the state.

In Appendix C, school districts are listed numerically by county and district number. To assist the reader in locating data for a particular district, an alphabetical index begins on page C 182.

A summary sheet which lists state totals for all school districts may be found on page C 181.

COUNTY

REPORT DATA: 1981

APPENDIX D

Section 5.09, Property Tax Code, requires the State Property Tax Board's Annual Report to include for each county the total appraised values, assessed values, taxable values of taxable property by class of property, the assessment ratio, and the tax rate.

Beginning with the 1981 tax year, counties were asked to categorize their taxable property using the same 14 classifications used by school districts. These categories are single-family residential; multifamily residential; vacant platted lots and tracts; acreage (land only); farm and ranch improvements; commercial (industrial) real; oil, gas and minerals; vehicles; banks; utilities; farm and ranch personal; business personal; other personal; and intangible personal property.

The reports which follow were compiled from information submitted by county tax assessor-collectors and are arranged by county in alphabetical order. Reports list the total taxable value in each category before exemptions and without reduction of acreage values due to granting productivity valuation.

After each county's total value, the report lists the reduction which was applied to acreage due to productivity valuation of qualified agricultural land.

Next follows information on the three constitutional funds for which counties levy an ad valorem tax: Farm to Market Roads & Flood Control (F.M. & F.C.), General Revenue Fund, and Road & Bridge Fund.

Homestead exemptions applicable to either the Farm to Market & Flood Control levy or General Fund levy are reported, followed by the total levy for that particular fund.

Next listed is the Road & Bridge levy to which no exemptions are applicable.

Finally, the report summarizes the total county levy for the three funds outlined above.

Section 26.02, Property Tax Code, prohibits the use of local assessment ratios, effective January 1, 1981. Accordingly, no assessment ratios are listed for any of the counties.

Reports for the 1981 tax year were received from 250 of the 254 counties in Texas. At the time this summary was compiled, reports were unavailable from Bastrop, Concho, Polk, and Smith counties.

A summary sheet which lists state totals for all except the four nonreporting counties may be found on page D 66.
