FORTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE AND BANKING

PERTAINING TO INSURANCE ONLY

AUSTIN, TEXAS, December 15, 1915.

To His Excellency, Jas. E. Ferguson, Governor of Texas:

In compliance with the requirements of subdivision 16 of Article 4493, Revised Statutes of Texas, I respectfully submit herewith the fortieth annual report of the Department of Insurance and Banking having reference to all matters pertaining to insurance for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1915.

You will understand that this report covers matters and transactions coming under my personal supervision since I qualified as Commissioner by authority of your appointment on January 17, 1915, as well as the management of the affairs of the Department from September 1, 1914, to January 17, 1915, under the supervision of my predecessor, Hon. W. W. Collier.

The statements and statistical tables embraced in this report contain the names and compensations of the clerks in the Department, the official acts of the Commissioner, the condition of the companies doing business in this State and such other information as will exhibit the affairs of the Department.

Briefly recited, these statements and statistical tables include the names, positions held, amounts of salaries, vacations, sick days and dates of appointment and resignation of the clerks employed in the Department, a list of insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas, with their general and special agents, capital stock and surplus, showing a list of new companies licensed since September 1, 1914, and of the companies licensed in 1914 but which withdrew, retired or were not licensed in 1915, various tables showing fees, assessments and taxes collected and the disposition of these funds, as well as the amount appropriated for the support of the departments and how expended, various tables showing the financial condition of each company licensed, whether such companies were engaged in fire insurance, life insurance, or any other kind of insurance authorized to be carried on by the laws of this State.

My official acts are constituted largely of routine business of examining statements, issuing licenses to insurance companies and their agents, examining and approving securities for deposit, keeping the records of the Department, examining insurance companies and conducting a large correspondence in connection with enforcement of the insurance laws and the supervision of the business of insurance in this State.

Under my direction and that of Mr. Collier, my predecessor in office, the following insurance companies were examined during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1915:

Name of Company.	Location.	Examiner.	Date of Examination.
Citizens Co-Operative Life Insurance Co.....	Fort Worth, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	May 31, 1914
Amicable Life Insurance Co.....	Waco, Texas.....	J. E. Higdon, R. E. Daly.....	June 30, 1914 June 30, 1914
Texas Life Insurance Co.....	Waco, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	June 30, 1914
Guarantee Life Insurance Co.....	Houston, Texas.....	J. E. Higdon, R. E. Daly.....	Sept. 30, 1914 Sept. 30, 1914
Great Southern Life Insurance Co.....	Houston, Texas.....	J. E. Higdon, R. E. Daly.....	Sept. 30, 1914 Sept. 30, 1914
Wichita Southern Life Insurance Co.....	Wichita Falls, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Sept. 30, 1914
Gibraltar Life Insurance Co.....	Paris, Texas.....	J. E. Higdon.....	Sept. 30, 1914
Lone Star Insurance Union.....	Paris, Texas.....	J. E. Higdon.....	Oct. 24, 1914
Amarillo National Life Insurance Co.....	Amarillo, Texas.....	R. E. Daly, M. A. Sienan, T. J. McComb.....	Dec. 31, 1914
First Texas State Insurance Co.....	Galveston, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Texas Employers Insurance Association.....	Dallas, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Fort Worth Life Insurance Co.....	Fort Worth, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Dec. 31, 1914
San Jacinto Life Insurance Co.....	Beaumont, Texas.....	B. Werkenthin.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Southwestern Life Insurance Co.....	Dallas, Texas.....	B. Werkenthin.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Great American Mutual Fire Insurance Co.....	San Antonio, Texas.....	B. Werkenthin.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Colored Knights of Pythias.....	Waco, Texas.....	B. Werkenthin.....	Dec. 31, 1914
Wholesale and Retail Grocers Fire Insurance Association.....	Dallas, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Feb. 20, 1915
York State Fire Insurance Association.....	Dallas, Texas.....	R. E. Daly.....	Feb. 20, 1915
United Mutual Fire Insurance Co.....	Houston, Texas.....	B. Werkenthin.....	April 28, 1915

The insurance laws have not been changed in any material respect during the year. The only changes made being the enactment of a law amending the statutes concerning mutual assessment accident insurance companies, under which amendment such companies are now authorized to do health insurance and pay a funeral benefit of not more than one hundred dollars, being Chapter 149, Acts of the Thirty-fourth Legislature, and the enactment of a new law for the regulation of reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges, being Chapter 156, Acts of the Thirty-fourth Legislature, and which repealed Chapter 109, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature.

By reference to the list of insurance companies licensed in 1914, but which were not licensed in 1915, it will be observed that this list includes thirty-seven reciprocal associations. These concerns operated in Texas in the year 1914 under the provisions of Chapter 109, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature and under certificates of authority issued in that year to their agents, attorneys and other representatives. In making application for renewal of these certificates of authority, the attorneys and managers submitted annual statements of their financial condition. Such annual statements in most of the cases showed the association to be insolvent and unable to take care of their obligations.

Hence no renewal certificates of authority were issued to them. Believing that the statute under which these unincorporated concerns operated in 1914 was defective and that it did not provide for the safety and protection of the citizens of this State who accepted insurance contracts from them and also believing that the new statute, Chapter 156 of the Thirty-fourth Legislature, to be equally defective, and probably more so than the statute repealed by it, I sought the advice of the Attorney General's Department. In reply to my inquiries that Department furnished me a carefully prepared legal opinion to the effect that said Chapter 156, Acts of the Thirty-fourth Legislature, is in violation of the Constitution of Texas. I thereupon declined to renew the licenses or certificates of authority of all parties applying for such renewals, and further, I have not issued any certificate of authority to anyone this year granting permission to operate or represent a reciprocal association or an unincorporated inter-insurance exchange.

I am including in this report a statement of the State Warehouse Commissioners, which gives full information as to all transactions and operations of said Commissioners in the supervision of State warehouses in enforcing the laws having reference to such warehouses.

A statement of the State Fire Insurance Commission is also included in this report and furnishes information concerning the operations of that Commission, together with such statistics covering the fiscal year as will be of public and general interest.

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Upon request from the Commissioner, the Attorney General's Department has furnished legal opinions forming the basis for rulings by the Commissioner concerning insurance matters, as follows:

October 27, 1914.—A charter for a mutual hail insurance company operating under the provisions of Chapter 29, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature, should not be approved or permitted to be filed until an amount equal to fifty per cent of the first year's premiums has been collected in cash and premium notes taken for the balance. A showing that ten cents an acre has been collected in cash and notes of ninety cents an acre for the balance have been taken, against which an annual assessment may be levied and collected, does not meet this requirement of the law. A by-law containing a similar provision is unlawful. The amount of liability assumed on the largest risk must also be shown in the affidavit making the statutory showing authorizing the charter of such a company to be filed. The by-laws of such a company must contain a provision showing the liability of a policyholder under assessments which may be collected from him. A by-law permitting members to retain their membership by paying one-half the annual premiums, if this restricts the statutory rights of the members, is unlawful. A by-law providing for a level rate or premium for all members, instead of a rate proportionate to the risk, is unlawful. The by-laws of such a company must contain provisions for accumulation of a surplus fund, and for bonding the officers of the company, and must not provide for a promotion fee. All expenses, including promotion must be limited to thirty-five per cent of the premiums, and must conform to the general statutes governing fire insurance companies.

October 27, 1914.—Life insurance is not a contract of indemnity and reciprocal associations organized to issue policies of life insurance, cannot lawfully operate under the law governing reciprocal associations. Chapter 109, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature.

December 11, 1914.—The life insurance companies cannot lawfully agree upon a uniform policy at a uniform rate, to be sold for the benefit of the students' loan fund or the assured, as this controverts the anti-trust laws of this State. The students' loan fund could not retain the proceeds of a policy in its favor, because it would have no insurable interest in the life of the assured.

January 16, 1915.—A foreign life insurance company licensed in Texas may lawfully reinsure the business of a Texas life insurance company which deposits securities covering its reserve with the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking.

January 18, 1915.—Casualty companies, although they are home companies, organized in Texas, are not exempt from gross premium receipt taxes.

February 18, 1915.—A title insurance company, in its policies insuring titles, must specify the time during which such policies are to run, and cannot issue such a policy without fixing a date therein when the risk assumed shall cease.

February 18, 1915.—A title insurance company which owns an abstract plant for facilitating its business may likewise sell abstracts to the public.

March 3, 1915.—“Outstanding Debts,” in Article 4930, Revised Statutes, refers to an ascertained and liquidated demand and not to suits or claims pending on policies unadjusted or not reduced to judgment. Securities deposited by an insurance company in Louisiana, under the laws of that State, are available assets. The pendency of litigation among stockholders is no ground for refusing a license to an insurance company. Ordinarily a corporation's stock is not reckoned as a liability in determining its solvency. If the capital stock of an insurance company should become impaired, the Commissioner would have power to proceed under the statutes authorizing him to suspend or revoke the license.

March 15, 1915.—All life insurance companies have the right to borrow money. A life insurance company which does not voluntarily make a deposit of its securities for the protection or benefit of its policyholders, chartered under the laws of Texas, has the right to borrow money and pledge its assets to secure the loan, and the excess of such collateral may be regarded as a part of the available or admitted assets of the company. An investment in land paper secured by real estate less than fifty per cent excess value is not void, but is unauthorized, and therefore an ultra vires act, but where small in amount and when a part of the purchase and sale of an office building, it is not ground for withholding a permit to the company or declining to consider the investment as a part of its available assets.

April 8, 1915.—The caption of an act of the Legislature must state the subject. The caption of House bill No. 66, Acts of the Regular Session of the Thirty-fourth Legislature, purporting to regulate reciprocal insurance associations, held insufficient, and the act unconstitutional. Provisions of the measure construed.

April 27, 1915.—A mutual assessment liability accident insurance company cannot be lawfully organized in Texas under the provisions of the statute authorizing the organization and operation of mutual assessment accident insurance companies.

May 4, 1915.—A mutual fire insurance company must have not less than seven nor more than thirteen directors. Its by-laws must be in harmony with its charter. Its charter should contain some formal words showing the purpose and intention of the incorporators to enter into the contract. An article stating the name of the company, vesting the management of the company in the board of directors and locating the principal office of the company, is not necessary in the by-laws; it is merely superfluous, not improper or illegal. The term of office of the officers should be fixed in the by-laws. The by-laws as an original proposition are to be adopted by the board of directors, but after their adoption they cannot be changed, except by vote of the shareholders or members, who, in a mutual company, are the policyholders; therefore, a provision in the by-laws that a director or a board of directors have authority to amend the same is contrary to law. The provision in the statute, governing mutual fire insurance companies, to the effect that the expenses of the corporation shall not exceed thirty-five per cent of the annual premium means thirty-five per cent of the gross premiums and not the net premiums. A by-law of such company limiting the purpose for which an additional premium may be collected for payment of loss only is contrary to the statute. This additional premium must be collected not only for the payment of loss but for expense as well. A by-law of such a company limiting the maximum liability to be assumed subject to any one fire to $1000, should not be approved. The by-laws of such company should state date of annual meeting of members; should provide for the collection of premiums, either in cash or part cash and part by note, such premium being based upon the greater or less risk on the insured property; should state clearly and plainly the extent of each member's liability to other members; should provide for the accumulation of a surplus fund to which must be added ten per cent of the company's annual saving; and must provide for bonding the officers of the company who handle the funds of the company.

May 5, 1915.—The statute authorizing the revocation of the license of an insurance company for filing suit in, or removing suit to, a Federal court does not apply to fraternal beneficiary associations. Such statute, however, is not unconstitutional.

May 7, 1915.—Casualty, surety, fidelity and guaranty insurance companies cannot lawfully issue a bond or policy in an amount in excess of the capital stock of the company, unless such excess is reinsured.

May 20, 1915.—The Insurance Commissioner is not authorized by the laws of this State either to approve or disapprove a life insurance policy, such policies, however, issued in Texas, must, nevertheless, be in accordance with the laws of this State.

June 1, 1915.—A company which does only a fidelity, guaranty and surety insurance business is not required to have its entire authorized capital stock (of more than $100,000) fully paid up in order to be entitled to a certificate of authority to do business in Texas.

August 28, 1915.—The statute of this State levies an occupation tax of $50 against State agents of fire insurance companies and permits counties and cities to levy one-half that amount.

This report should not be closed without an acknowledgment here of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Charles V. Johnson, Deputy Insurance Commissioner, and other employes in the office, not only in the preparation of this report, but in administering the affairs of the office.

Respectfully submitted,

JNO. S. PATTERSON,
Commissioner of Insurance and Banking.

REPORT
WAREHOUSE AND MARKETING DEPARTMENT.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, October 25, 1915.

Hon. John S. Patterson, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, Capitol, Austin, Texas.

DEAR SIR: Having been placed in charge of the active work of the administration of the Permanent Warehouse and Marketing Law, by the Board of Supervisors of Warehouses, we beg to report as follows:

The Permanent Warehouse and Marketing Law, as passed by the Second Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature, deals with the preparation, warehousing, financing and marketing of farm, ranch and orchard products. There was appropriated the sum of $30,000 to effectually carry out the provisions of the law. We have had the law indexed and printed and in order to facilitate the organization of companies under same have had printed with the law all necessary forms prepared by the Attorney General. These forms cover every phase of the law and were prepared for the use of ginners and private warehouse corporations in complying with the law. We have distributed a copy of the law to every ginner in the State, to every warehouseman and all marketing associations in the State, as well as many other interested parties.

We have prepared instructions to ginners, construing the different sections of the law as applied to them, for their information, and also have issued circulars to the different warehouse companies and marketing associations within the State, explaining the benefits accruing to them in operating under State supervision. We have waged a campaign of education throughout the State, through the medium of lecturers and by correspondence, for the reason that at the beginning there seemed to be a determined effort among some of the ginners to oppose and disparage the law, but we are glad to report that this sentiment is dying out, after they have come to realize the great benefits to be derived through the operation of the law, not only to their customers, the producers, but to themselves.

Section 2 provides that the Board of Supervisors shall have authority to employ experts, clerks and such other help as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and we herewith attach a statement showing the names of all employes of this department, their position, amount of salary, traveling expenses, time of vacation taken, days absent, date of appointment and date of expiration of service, together with trial balance showing receipts and disbursements to August 31, 1915.

GINS.

Section 4 provides for the regulation of public gins operating in this State and for the bonding of same. So far, over 4000 gins in Texas have received certificates from the Department. The ginners are required to take three fair, true and correct samples from each bale of cotton ginned, to weigh five and one-third ounces each, and to carefully gin each bale. They are also prohibited from placing any foreign matter or substance in the cotton or any water or anything that would increase the weight thereof during the process of ginning, or thereafter, while said cotton is in possession of the ginner, and also that all ginners separate all dirt from the seed.

Through the gins the entire crop must pass and at that point the cotton first comes within the reach of official or trade regulations. The gin plant is a vital point in the cotton handling situation and offers an effective agency through which to bring about improved conditions. It has been estimated by close study of the question that the present slipshod and wasteful system of handling cotton entails an annual loss to the grower of from twenty-five to seventy million dollars.

The provision requiring that the samples shall be taken at the gin is in harmony with the recommendation of Mr. Chas. J. Brand, the chief cotton expert of the Marketing Department of the United States. We quote the following:

“Coupled with the proper grading system the ginners’ samples will be made to furnish an acceptable basis for every necessary transaction between the producing and consuming organizations; eliminating the cutting and consequent robbing and deterioration of bales; obviating the patching and resultant changes in the tare at the compress points; removing the most common grounds for claims and reducing to the minimum the ‘city crop’ which is a needless tax on the industry.

“The custom of pulling samples is strongly entrenched, first, because of long usage, and, second, because it is highly profitable to public weighers, cotton yards, compresses, merchants, or factors who take cotton on consignment. Its continuance is naturally desired by those benefited, because each sample pulled has intrinsic value. The aggregation of these samples at the close of the season form the larger proportion of a bulk estimated at 100,000 bales, which has become known as the ‘city crop.’ Much loss is caused by this sampling to both the small and large farmers. The former class is numerous and contributes largely to the bulk of the cotton crop.”

After the cotton reaches the compress the bales are cut and samples drawn for the exporters, and a majority of these samples are drawn by some irresponsible negro, who cares little and thinks less of what he is doing, only that he will be able to get sufficient “loose” for those who give him employment.

The cotton is classed according to the color and amount of trash or leaf in the lint. The ginner, being a disinterested party, and having the full contents of the bale before him, is in a better position to take fair, true and correct samples from the bale during the process of ginning than any other intermediary. The process of ginning cleans the sample in the same manner as the balance of the bale; also, the color remains the same. The Federal Agricultural Department has established the fact, by placing expert classers or graders of cotton in the field, that the street buyers pay very little attention to the samples as drawn by themselves after they cut the bale and take the sample. It is a mere guess with them, as they often make a difference in price of $5.00 per bale between two bales of the same grade, purchased in the same market at the same time. This difference, as estimated by the Federal Agricultural Department, has even reached the unreasonable difference of $19.25 between two bales of the same grade, sold at the same time, on the same market.

The so-called water packed bales are due chiefly to leaky pistons, resulting from equipment that is out of date or in disrepair, and in some instances, from steaming the bale by the ginner. Also, gin cut cotton is caused by defective equipment or ginning the cotton while too damp. All of this is wholly preventable, as the ginner can readily detect these conditions and should not be permitted to gin cotton in this manner.

In the interest of good, straightforward business, and for the protection of the producer, the ginner should carefully gin each bale of cotton as the preparation for the market is wholly in his hands. He regulates his charges for the ginning and his customers meet his requirements as to the charges, and the requirements of carefully ginning each bale of cotton will eliminate the water-packed, mixed-packed and plated bales and furnish his customer a package that is staple and honest and one that will receive recognition in the trade and add greatly to its price. Reports show that during the season of 1913-1914 sixteen per cent of the cotton bales exported to Manchester, England, were water-packed and mixed bales. This abuse and reckless ginning and handling of cotton has assumed such dimensions that the attention of Congress has been invoked by the spinners and American consuls abroad.

In the separation of dirt from the seed the ginner is only practicing honesty and increases the price of the seed and guards the integrity of his customers. We have information from oil mills that purchase seed, that after this regulation has become effective the amount of dirt in the seed is nominal, and where they formerly had to clean out from under the condensers two or three times a week, up to the present date, October 1st, they have not been compelled to remove any dirt that usually accumulates. Separation of the dirt from the seed not only increases the price of seed but will save the soil usually taken from the farm.

"Section 46. The Board of Supervisors shall have the power one year after this act is effective, to provide the character of bagging to be used in the baling of cotton." This section is likewise in keeping with the recommendations of the spinners and manufacturers abroad. The ginner places at the gin four per cent of tare on each bale of cotton, while the spinner is compelled to deduct six per cent at the other end because the broker places ten pounds of rags or junk on each bale of cotton to cover the holes caused by the cutting of the bale, therefore the producer receives pay for only 470 pounds of cotton in a 500-pound bale, while in fact he puts 480 pounds of cotton in such bale.

The South has exported since 1870, 5,300,000 bales annually. We, therefore, can readily determine that the producer has lost, in the forty-four years that the difference between the four per cent and the six per cent tare has existed, approximately 5,000,000 bales of cotton through these manipulations.

The character of American cotton bales, both as to condition and covering, has been a source of complaint and criticism for many years. In 1907 a conference held in Atlanta, Georgia, by the International Congress of Cotton Spinners, manufacturing associations and leading cotton producers of the Southern States adopted the following resolution:

"We condemn the bagging now in use, first, because its rough and coarse nature invites rough treatment, and, second, it does not hold the marks; third, on account of its great weight and bulk it entails heavy loss on freight. We, therefore, recommend the use of a light burlap or covering made of cotton, such as Osmaburg, 10-ounce weight per yard, forty inches wide, etc. * * *"

At a meeting of the International Federation held in 1906 at Barcelona, Spain, the question of purchasing net weight was discussed and the following resolution was adopted:

"That this Congress confirms the convenient means resulting from the net weight cotton contract and urges the members of each affiliated association to buy at least a portion of their cotton requirements on its basis, the Congress being of the opinion that only by the adoption of such contract the American cotton producers can be induced to adopt the new system of baling and handling cotton as previously recommended by the International Federation."

It rarely happens that one sees a carefully prepared bale of American cotton, and it is equally as rare to see a carelessly prepared bale among foreign cotton.

Aside from the impairment by the cutting of the cotton for samples the use of second-hand bagging is contributory to the ragged condition of the American bale. The cotton can be completely covered at the gin at a nominal expense, and the producer will receive in return about three times as much as the cost incurred.

No commodity that enters into the foreign trade of any country is so carelessly prepared and so inadequately covered as American cotton. It is the only commodity that has resisted the progress of the age and which continues to enter the markets of the world in the form and garb of days prior to the Civil War.

Maritime insurance will be lessened ten per cent in favor of all entirely wrapped and protected bales. If a uniform bagging is accepted and used, the spinners have expressed their willingness to buy cotton on actual tare, which can easily be established if a uniform bagging is used.

WAREHOUSES.

Cotton yards, compresses and private warehouses, which were accustomed, previous to the inauguration of the campaign, to better care for the greater part of the cotton, usually furnished only a place for the accumulation of cotton, and in some instances added shelter for the cotton and simply issued a receipt calling for one bale of cotton.

Also, farm storage of ginned cotton, as practiced at the present, is wholly undesirable. This way of storing is the most prolific source of country damage and occasions a large waste in the industry. It has been estimated that in 1913 and 1914 the loss from this damage alone in Texas, on account of cotton being exposed to the weather, reached the stupendous sum of sixteen million dollars, which would have easily equipped the State with all necessary warehouse facilities, together with paying the cost of storage and insurance for housing the cotton.

Farmers, merchants, scalpers and any other handlers of cotton who can afford to hold their cotton should secure facilities for the proper protection of same, and place themselves in a position, if necessity demands, to obtain loans, and to do this it is absolutely necessary to not only care for the product, but be able to present a negotiable receipt, showing title to the property as well as its value, as shown by weights and grades.

We now have fifty-three private corporations operating under the Permanent Warehouse and Marketing Law; also one hundred and fifty-six warehouses under our supervision, which operate under Chapter 37 of the First Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature, and we have adopted and prescribed all forms of receipts and books necessary for such warehouses to operate, so that their operation will be uniform and thoroughly systematized, as required under the law.

Under the Permanent Warehouse and Marketing Law it is not only required that cotton be fully protected from the elements, as well as fire, but each warehouse has responsibilities and issues a receipt that will convey absolute title to the product stored, and assumes all responsibility for the grade, weight, or anything else connected with the cotton. Such a receipt can be traded in to a better advantage than the bale of cotton itself, and thereby each warehouse creates within itself a marketing system.

Cotton being one of the very best of collaterals in the market, such a negotiable receipt could be traded in in the financial institutions of the world. Also, these receipts give to the customer of the warehouse a knowledge of his product, which knowledge places him in a position to know the value of the product that he has to offer for sale.

The Department was able to secure from the State Fire Insurance Commission a ruling creating a dual rate on cotton warehouses, one to be applied to cotton in season and one to be applied on grain in season.

The Department secured an amendment to the concentration rules through the Railroad Commission granting the privilege to warehouses that will permit the producer to concentrate his cotton to a warehouse, where his locality is without the means of such facilities.

We were also able to secure and were instrumental in having the rates on insurance reduced on about forty warehouses, saving to the warehouse companies and the customers thereof a great amount of money in premiums.

The Department has waged a campaign of instruction and education covering the proper warehousing and gradual marketing of farm, ranch and orchard products, and in conjunction with the State Bankers' Association, who approved the law in convention, have worked and secured the erection of a greater number of facilities for cotton within this State, and we are able to state that at this time there are sufficient facilities for the proper care of cotton should these facilities be utilized. Such education and preparedness on the part of the State to properly take care of the present crop we feel has been a great lever in causing the present prices to prevail.

MARKETING.

We are still publishing the Marketing Bulletin and are receiving many encouraging letters from the associations and producers of benefits derived by them through this medium.

While numbers of cotton buyers are still antagonistic, especially to the co-operative marketing feature of the law, yet we have been able to secure from cotton people of high standing their sanction, as they state that the wasteful and antiquated manner of handling cotton is a burden on the producer and should be eliminated. Of course, those who now prey upon the producer and reap the benefits of the waste entailed and also absorb the differences in the net tare and the tare charged have their own selfish ends to protect, and, naturally, have fought corrections.

Too much stress cannot be placed on the intelligent and gradual marketing of our cotton and other products. With the commerce of other countries closed to us; ocean rates and insurance excessive, and the rate of exchange practically prohibitive and almost unprocurable, we are confronted with a condition that almost precludes the sale of cotton other than to our own country, and necessity will compel us to withhold our cotton crop from the market until there is a demand created and normal conditions prevail, and for the protection of the cotton from the weather, and also to create a liquid asset for the commodity, it will have to be warehoused, in order that the producer will be able to secure approved receipts which will show that the cotton is protected from the weather, the weight, grade and insurance charges, liens, and that the cotton will be delivered on presentation of the receipt. Warehousing will create a co-operative marketing system, as it permits the producers to bulk their sales and furnish to them a knowledge of the grades they have and its value, thereby taking the monopoly of knowledge out of the hands of dealers and placing it where it rightfully belongs—both with the seller and buyer. Such knowledge will enable the seller to realize a reasonable price for his product.

Hon. Jno. S. Patterson, Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, Capitol, Austin, Texas.

DEAR SIR: We hand you herewith a statement of the receipts and disbursements in the operation of the Emergency Warehouse Law from the date of organization of the Emergency Warehouse Department, September 16, 1914, to its expiration, August 31, 1915, together with a list of warehouses organized, their capacity, number of bales handled by them, charges rendered against each warehouse so operating.

We are also handing to you herewith a list of the employes of the Emergency Warehouse Department, together with amount of salary paid to each and length of service rendered by each.

Also, attached is a report covering the operation of this Department.

Respectfully submitted,

F. C. WEINERT,
PETER RADFORD,
Managers.

EMERGENCY WAREHOUSE LAW--HOUSE BILL NO. 1.

By an act passed by the Second Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature, known as the Emergency Warehouse Law, approved September 14, 1914, the sum of $100,000 was appropriated for the purpose of establishing and putting into operation warehouses under the supervision and control of the State.

Beginning so late in the season, September 16, 1914, in the face of unprecedented financial conditions, by the 1st of October, 1914, the Department was organized and all necessary receipts, supplies, rules, regulations and forms of stationery for use of the emergency warehouses were prepared and ready for distribution, to effectively carry out the provisions of the law.

There were established eighty-six (86) State warehouses, with an aggregate capacity of 118,670 bales of cotton, in which were stored 56,686 bales of cotton. Also, there were approximately 156 warehouses operating under the Public Warehouse Law passed by the First Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature, which were also under the supervision of the Emergency Warehouse Department, and approximately 300 private warehouses, totaling 542 warehouses in operation throughout the State.

A contract was devised by the Department taking over warehouses under State supervision and control, each warehouse so established guaranteeing to pay all insurance premiums, local operating expenses, and for all necessary supplies furnished by the State, the State allowing the lessor to retain the gross receipts for storage charges. A storage rate was promulgated, as uniformly as possible, so as to make each warehouse self-sustaining.

All cotton in State warehouses was insured in favor of the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, and this Department has kept close watch on such insurance, receiving daily reports of operation of the warehouses under its supervision, showing the number of bales received, number of bales shipped, amount of insurance carried and the balance of cotton on hand at the close of each day.

Since organization and up to the expiration of the law on August 31, 1915, only one loss by fire has been sustained. On February 3, 1915, State warehouse No. 51, at Bullard, Texas, was totally destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of 435 bales of cotton. The loss was adjusted by this Department two days after the fire occurred, and a settlement was made by the insurance companies carrying the risk for the full value of the cotton destroyed, based on the market price of cotton on the day on which the fire occurred, and each holder of receipts was paid in full for the loss sustained.

Receipts issued by warehouses operating under the control and having the guarantee of the State transformed cotton into a negotiable security, and the warehouses operating under the State have been systematized, uniform receipts acceptable in financial centers have been prescribed, as required by law, and are in general use. All public warehouses were regularly examined and their entire method of business brought within the requirements and under the operation of the law governing them.

The purpose has been to give our warehouse system the same careful, convenient and yet practical supervision as that given our State banks, and we are confident that in this we have been reasonably successful.

So far as we can learn, the system is growing in favor with those who have products to store and those who advance money on warehouse receipts. In fact, we are confident that had the banks been in a position to lend money on warehouse receipts generally our system of warehousing would have handled several hundred thousand bales of cotton. We think that lack of funds has been our most serious handicap.

All cotton stored in warehouses has sold at a premium over cotton exposed to the weather. On all cotton stored in emergency warehouses the owner received over $10 per bale advance in price by holding same, which gave them as a whole a net profit of over a half million dollars.

In February, 1915, acting under instructions from the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, the Emergency Warehouse Department was placed under the direct management of the managers of the Permanent Warehouse and Marketing Department.

Warehouses have been examined also, with the view of securing, if possible, a reduction in the rate of insurance placed on same, and the Department has been able to secure a reduction in rates on about forty (40) warehouses, of from 25 cents to 80 cents per hundred, which has been a great saving to the customers of such warehouses.

The amount of money expended in the organization, operation and handling of the Department is nominal, taking into consideration the education given, as we have not only covered warehouses operating under the emergency law, but have covered all public warehouses, examining, regulating and making uniform the operation of same. Also, all private warehouses have been examined, suggestions offered and information given so that the proper care could be given to all cotton, and so that receipts issued would be uniform and would be acceptable collateral.

The great holding movement we attribute to a great degree to State warehouse measures, and the present advance of practically six cents, from the low level, is due largely to such agitation and has saved the producers of this State millions of dollars.

At all times the Emergency Warehouse Department has had in view the operation of the Permanent Warehouse Act, and has secured information and data which is now in our files, which will be a great saving and of great benefit to and will greatly facilitate the operation of that Department.

Respectfully submitted,

PETER RADFORD,
Managers.

REPORT
STATE FIRE INSURANCE COMMISSION

AUSTIN, TEXAS, December 15, 1915.

To His Excellency, James E. Ferguson, Governor of Texas, Capitol.

DEAR SIR: We have the honor to submit to you herewith the second annual report of the State Fire Insurance Commission, embracing certain features of its operation which we think are pertinent, together with various exhibits, for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1915.

In the discharge of our duties we have organized the Department under the following heads: Rating, Engineering, Fire Prevention, and Statistical, and this report will present a brief resume of its operations.

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 106, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature, the same being the State Fire Insurance Commission Law, its object and purpose is to provide rate of premiums to be charged by all stock fire insurance companies operating in this State, in order that just and equitable rates may be charged, thus avoiding discrimination between the large and small insurers, and it has been the consistent endeavor of this Commission to discharge its duties with impartiality, both with reference to the insuring public and the insurance companies.

RATING DEPARTMENT.

In this Department fire insurance rates are made covering all property located within the State, and requests for ratings on the various properties are usually forwarded us by local agents throughout the State, and we in turn promulgate rates applicable to the risks submitted, through the medium of supplements which show the various charges that go to make up the final rate, in order that the assureds may know whether there are any physical hazards existing that can be removed; or in other words, each policyholder may ascertain for himself the various charges that go to make up his rate, thus, in many instances enabling him to secure a minimum rate under provisions of the schedules. This necessarily embraces a large amount of detail work, but we are pleased to advise that all revisions in rates are promptly transmitted to the local agents in the town from which the request emanated.

During the past year this Department, through its corps of rating inspectors, has visited eighty-eight towns for the purpose of rerating, which is a very tedious task. In the cities and towns visited our inspectors made complete maps of them showing in detail the construction and physical condition of all buildings in the mercantile section, as well as the various special hazards, such as factories, municipal plants, mills, etc., and where deficiencies existed, the property owner or occupant was called upon and was shown such fire hazards that existed so they could be removed in order to reduce the fire hazard to a minimum, as well as to secure the lowest rate possible. These inspections resulted, in many instances, in reducing the rates on the different risks. Our representatives also endeavored to secure the co-operation of the mayors and commercial organizations in the towns visited, and we are pleased to report that in practically every case they received the hearty support of the various interests. The inspections, therefore, were conducive of material improvement in the different cities and towns inspected and gave an impetus toward improving general conditions from a fire insurance standpoint. We also endeavored to impress upon the insuring public that whatever the fire waste, so must be the rate. A complete list of the cities and towns inspected and rerated is herewith attached. A continuation of these reratings and inspections will be made from time to time in so far as the finances allotted to this Department will permit.

Under the provisions of our schedules, allowing credit in insurance rates to cities and towns having a good fire record during the year 1915, there were seventy-one cities that enjoyed the benefits of this credit, sixty of which secured the maximum credit of 15 per cent, five 12 per cent, two 6 per cent, and four 3 per cent, and a table showing these cities and towns which received the credit during the year 1915 is appended hereto, together with amount of credit allowed each. This credit is allowed from data submitted showing the net premiums and losses for each city or town for the three preceding years, and the municipal authorities for these cities and towns throughout the State are notified by circulars each year relative to this credit and the necessary blanks upon which to submit the data are furnished to such municipalities free of charge by the Department. These credits resulted in a material reduction in fire insurance premiums to the cities that enjoyed a good fire record. A discrimination, however, exists in our schedules, as they do not provide charge for towns having a bad fire record, but the Commission has this matter under consideration and will doubtless remedy the inconsistency at an early date.

Under the provisions of the law this Commission requires of the insurance companies operating in this State monthly classification reports showing premiums and losses on the various classes. These classification reports are carefully checked and compiled, and show the amount of liability assumed, premiums collected, losses adjusted, number of fires, average rate, burning ratio, loss ratio and average loss of the various classes. The object of these classification reports is for the purpose of ascertaining those classes which produce a profit and likewise showing those classes that show a loss, in order to enable the Commission to adjust the rates upon an equitable basis. A complete statement showing the combined figures for the four years commencing July 1, 1911, and ending July 1, 1915, is enclosed herewith.

At the commencement of the period of this report there were licensed by the Insurance and Banking Department 116 stock fire insurance companies, 24 of which were reinsurance companies, and the total amount of net premiums, losses and the loss ratio for each company as compiled by this Department and duly promulgated for the year 1914, is herewith attached. The total figures show that the net premiums for Texas for the year 1914 aggregated $10,648,433.58, with losses of $8,698,901.87, or a loss ratio of .816. The admitted expense ratio for all fire insurance companies being 35 per cent of the net premiums added to the loss ratio of .816 totals 116.6 per cent, which shows that the fire insurance business in Texas for the year 1914 was transacted at a 16.6 per cent loss above receipts. Inasmuch as fire insurance is a recognized commercial necessity to the welfare of the State, we feel it is only reasonable and right to suggest that insurance companies are entitled to a fair profit on their business, the same as banks, merchants, manufacturers, etc. The excessive loss ratio above referred to, to our minds, is attributable to inferior construction of buildings, carelessness and indifference on the part of the insuring public with reference to the elimination of fire hazards and in many instances, over-insurance on the part of local agents and failure of the insurance companies writing risks to properly inspect and supervise their business in so far as their underwriting is concerned, but more particularly in the dwelling class, to shingle roofs and metal and unsafe flues, this class contributing practically one-third of the total premiums received. Other elements, however, which unquestionably enter into this high loss ratio, are the effect of the valued policy law and the technicality bill, which by virtue of their existence place a premium on incendiarism and procure no benefits for the honest insurer, the result being that the burden of insurance taxation is not equally distributed. We, therefore, recommend, in this connection a repeal of the valued policy law as well as the technicality bill. The technicality bill voids many conditions of an insurance contract, and if upheld by the courts, would make the policy contract covering on personal property nothing more nor less than a liquidated demand whenever a fire occurs, and the effect of this is very far reaching, as it offers an incentive toward fraudulent fires by reason of the ease in collecting under the policy after the fire occurs. We further recommend the amendment of the anti-co-insurance law, for the reason that it exempts certain classes to the detriment of others and precludes an even distribution of the insurance tax. The evil effect of the anti-co-insurance law more particularly applies to fireproof buildings and sprinklered risks. The effect of this is, in substance, class legislation, because it permits certain classes of property owners to contract for co-insurance and denies the same right to others. We, therefore, think that this law should be amended, making it optional with the insuring public as to whether they desire to avail themselves of the benefits accruing by virtue of co-insurance.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

Embodied in the Texas General Basis Schedules and made a part thereof is to be found the key rate schedule. By the term "key rate" is meant the specific rate of each individual city, town or community which, when added to the specific rate on an individual risk, will produce the final rate on the risk in question.

Anti-discriminatory in its nature and constructed for the purpose of classifying municipalities throughout the State, under its provisions any city or town may so improve general public conditions that the burden of fire insurance taxation will not fall heavily upon its citizens. The key rate of each municipality is made from existing conditions relative to fire department, waterworks and water supplies, police protection, condition of streets and alleys, building conditions in general, provision for city fire marshal, and the nature of construction throughout.

It is the policy and practice of the office to invite and encourage all municipal authorities to take up with the Commission for discussion, key rate charges applicable to the various cities and towns, to the end that full and complete information may be at hand for the purpose of improvements that would warrant the minimum total key rate charge. The field operations of the Commission's engineer and his assistants in connection with key rate work and inspections is well represented in the table at the close hereof, showing those municipalities in which key rate changes were made during the fiscal year.

Through the medium of correspondence, prints and surveys and by the services of engineers and experts, the Department has been able to furnish practical suggestions for improvements in individual plants and risks for the purpose of minimizing the danger from fire and, at the same time, lending its aid to the effort at minimizing rates on such properties. This particular branch of the work has reached a considerable magnitude and we are pleased to say that vast improvements in construction of buildings and protection, both of individual risks and plants, and in cities and towns, has resulted. A like practice is applied in large manufacturing plants, and fireproof and sprinklered risks. When it is desired that a hydrant system for fire protection be installed a standard layout is made up and blue prints thereof furnished the applicant showing how the installation should be effected and the reduction in insurance rates secured thereby. During the fiscal year the Engineering Department prepared sixty-seven protection layouts, together with specifications for proposed improvements, consisting of sprinkler layouts and private outside and inside protection. The Department has, as well, inspected and issued reports and diagrams to fire insurance companies coming within the meaning of the State Fire Insurance Commission Law, on 206 special hazard, cotton, sprinklered, fireproof and improved risks, and in connection therewith, given recommendations to the owners of each of such risks in writing, stating the reduction to be allowed in individual rates for compliance with such recommendations.

While the results thus far accomplished by this important branch of the Commission's service are highly pleasing, it is our purpose to continue with renewed energy the effort to enlist the aid of every local officer in Texas in the work of fire prevention and the bettering of fire protection.

FIRE PREVENTION DEPARTMENT.

During the past fiscal year the State Fire Marshal, assisted by special deputies and inspectors, investigated sixty-six fires reported believed to be of incendiary origin. The result of these investigations to date are tabulated elsewhere in this report.

The State Fire Insurance Commission, in its efforts to prevent fires, has continued to urge upon the various cities and towns throughout the State the passage of fire prevention ordinances, especially the ordinance known as the Fire Marshal Ordinance, and the appointment of a city fire marshal to enforce its provisions. There are, at this time, two hundred and fifty fire marshals in this State, being an increase of one hundred and four since the last annual report.

The State Fire Marshal has also organized a corps of special fire inspectors, who, under his direction, conducts general inspections of the cities and towns in the State and whose work, in conjunction with the city fire marshals and other officials interested in fire prevention, has already accomplished a great deal of good, and has reached the point of efficiency where, in the opinion of the Commission, the fire waste in this State should be substantially reduced by reason of the harmonious campaigns against fires that are conducted by the various cities and towns co-operating with the State Fire Marshal's Department. A list of the cities and towns inspected during the fiscal year will be found in this report.

The State Fire Marshal has continued to give close attention to the liability of personal injury from fire and panic in public buildings, and especially in motion picture theaters in this State. The corps of special fire inspectors has made inspections of 528 picture shows during the year and has examined the arrangements for showing pictures in all theaters and opera houses in the cities and towns they have visited. As a result of these inspections, more than 75 per cent of the picture theaters have made improvements varying from the correction of minor defects to the elimination of very dangerous conditions, and many of these places of amusement have been brought up to the standard of efficiency, both in construction and management recommended by this Commission.

Between December 10, 1910, and August 31, 1915, 54,000 fires occurring in Texas were reported to the State Fire Marshal; a classification of these fires with reference to cause and also whether preventable or non-preventable will be found herein. A careful study of these classifications will sustain the conclusion that every activity of the Commission heretofore exercised, having for its purpose fire prevention, is abundantly justified. Furthermore, this Commission is of the opinion that these tables reveal a fire prevention field of such magnitude and one fraught with such potentialities for good that it is justified in asking the cordial co-operation and support of every municipality, every commercial and civic organization and every good citizen in the State in every legitimate effort to stop preventable fire waste.

STATE PROPERTIES.

In the spring of 1913 the State Fire Marshal filed with the Department his report compiled in connection with a systematic inspection conducted for the purpose of ascertaining and recording the exact physical condition of every building at the several State institutions with regard to liability to destruction by fire.

On December 1, 1914, this report was followed by a general reinspection of the institutions enumerated in said report and attached hereto is to be found copy of such revised report showing fire dangers found and outlining remedies suggested.

The Thirty-third Legislature, recognizing the need for better buildings for safeguarding the wards of the State housed and cared for in the State institutions, very wisely wrote a provision into appropriations bill for the period beginning September 1, 1913, and ending August 31, 1915, to require that all structures to be erected under the provisions of that act be of fireproof type and that the plans and specifications therefor be approved by the State Fire Insurance Commission. As a result, the Department is pleased to point out that it has approved the plans and specifications for the below enumerated buildings, which are to all intents and purposes fireproof in their nature and mark the advent of a new era in building construction in Texas that can in time only further prove the theory that cheap buildings and shoddy workmanship are costly at any price.

October 17, 1913.—Laundry, College of Industrial Arts, Denton.

November 8, 1913.—Old Ladies' Ward, State Lunatic Asylum, Austin.

December 9, 1913.—Manual Arts Building, North Texas Normal, Denton.

February 6, 1914.—Hospital, Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute for Colored, Austin.

March 3, 1914.—Industrial Building, Orphans' Home, Corsicana.

March 20, 1914.—Nurses' Home, Medical College, Galveston.

March 27, 1914.—Dormitory, Juvenile Training School, Gatesville.

April 29, 1914.—Store and dormitory, Deaf and Dumb Institute, Austin.

May 9, 1914.—Store and dormitory, Tuberculosis Colony, Carlsbad.

May 12, 1914.—Library and auditorium, Tuberculosis Colony, Carlsbad.

June 3, 1914.—Woman's Building, Southwestern Insane Asylum, San Antonio.

June 16, 1914.—Negro ward, State Lunatic Asylum, Austin.

June 24, 1914.—Powerhouse, Tuberculosis Colony, Carlsbad.

June 24, 1914.—Male and female ward buildings, Southwestern Insane Asylum, San Antonio.

August 14, 1914.—Dormitory, Tuberculosis Colony, Carlsbad.

August 20, 1914.—Cottage, Epileptic Colony, Abilene.

September 1, 1914.—West Texas Normal, Canyon City.

September 4, 1914.—Armory, Camp Mabry, Austin.

September 10, 1914.—Cottage, College of Industrial Arts, Denton.

August 8, 1915.—Ward building, State Lunatic Asylum, Austin.

The natural growth and prosperity of the State, year by year, add to the volume of business to be transacted by this Commission, and, in our judgment, the time is near at hand when additional funds will be needed to enable the Department to properly and efficiently take care of all of the demands made upon it for services by the general public and the fire insurance companies affected by the operation of the law. It is, therefore, suggested that the limit of \$100,000 now written into the State Fire Insurance Commission statute be removed and that the full $1\frac{1}{4}$ per cent assessment provided for be made available for expenditure by the Department in the discharge of its official acts required by law.

In conclusion, we desire to thank Your Excellency for the patient forbearance in evidence at all times when we have had occasion to place before you the affairs of the office for your consideration, and particularly do we appreciate the sound business advice so unstintedly received from you throughout the period in which we have had the honor to serve as the Department's heads under your administration.

JNO. S. PATTERSON,
Chairman.

A. R. ANDREWS,
Secretary.

S. W. ENGLISH,
State Fire Marshal.
