THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE AND BANKING

PERTAINING TO INSURANCE ONLY

AUSTIN, TEXAS, December 1, 1914.

To His Excellency, O. B. Colquitt, Governor of Texas.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith the thirty-ninth annual report of the Department of Insurance and Banking, covering matters pertaining to Insurance, for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1914, as required by law.

The following pages include statements and statistical tables showing specifically and in detail the names and compensation of all clerks employed in the Department, the receipts and expenses of the Department for the said fiscal year, the official acts of the Commissioner, the condition of all companies and associations doing business in Texas under the supervision of the Commissioner, and other information exhibiting the affairs of the Department.

A complete list of insurance companies and associations who have complied with the laws of this State and to whom certificates authorizing them to do business in Texas have been issued, is given. In this list the names and addresses of such general, State and special agents of the different companies as they have designated are given; the capital stock and surplus of each capital stock company, and the assets and liabilities of each mutual and assessment company and association on December 31, 1913, are also given, as well as the names and addresses of their attorneys for service upon whom legal process may be served. The certificates of authority issued to the companies and associations named in this list authorize them to transact business in Texas during the year 1914. They were all issued before August 31, 1914, and all of them will expire on the 28th day of February, 1915, except those issued to fraternal beneficiary associations, and these will expire on March 31, 1915.

Statements and tables are included herein showing particularly and in detail the receipts and disbursements of the Department; the fees and taxes collected from each and every company and association, and from all other sources through or by which the law authorizes the same to be collected, during the fiscal year ending August 31, 1914. They also show that all such fees and taxes have been deposited in the State Treasury.

Other statistical tables are included, showing the financial condition on December 31, 1913, of each and every company and association operating in Texas under a certificate of authority from the Commissioner. These tables show in detail the receipts and disbursements of each such company and association for the preceding calendar year, and its assets and liabilities on the last-mentioned date, together with such other matters and things contained in its annual report as discloses its financial condition.

I have carefully and conscientiously given attention, consideration and active service to the many and varied duties imposed by law in filing, examining and auditing the annual and other reports submitted, examinations of companies, issuing certificates of authority to the companies and associations and to their local agents. The licenses issued to local agents amount to about seventy-five or eighty thousand in number. I have also given careful attention to the registration and valuation of life insurance policies; the receipt of securities deposited by insurance companies in the State Treasury and in this Department, after examination and approval of same, and permitting withdrawals of such securities under the restrictions and requirements authorized by law. Other duties devolving upon me and which I have performed include the collection of fees and taxes required to be collected through this Department and depositing them in the State Treasury, the keeping of correct and comprehensive records of all transactions carried on by the Department, conducting a voluminous correspondence with the companies and associations and their officers and agents under my supervision, enforcing the insurance laws, as well as a wide correspondence with the public to the end that every individual desiring information concerning insurance matters might be specifically informed about the particular thing in which he is interested and about which he inquires. All these duties I have tried to perform in such a way that the interests of the State which have been placed in my hands might be handled in an open, accurate and businesslike manner, that the companies and associations under my supervision might be fairly treated and fully informed as to the laws they must obey, and that the insuring public and those interested in insurance matters might be fully informed as to their rights and privileges under our insurance laws.

The following insurance companies have been examined under my direction during the year:

There has been no session of the Legislature during the period of the fiscal year covered by this report at which any new law pertaining to insurance has been enacted. The Thirty-third Legislature, however, in the year 1913 did pass several laws, which did not become effective until late in that year and the effect of which could not have been determined or reported on until after September 1st. I refer especially to the new law regulating fraternal benefit societies, the State Fire Insurance Commission law, the new law regulating mutual fire, lightning, hail and storm insurance companies, the law regulating reciprocal associations, the Workmen's Compensation law and the "Blue Sky" law. As mentioned in the last (thirty-eighth) annual report of this Department, the supervision of all matters affected by these statutes is an additional duty imposed upon the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, and this necessarily added a considerable amount of labor and responsibility, involving special technical knowledge and skill. The Legislature failed to make any appropriation to pay for the employment of an additional clerk or for meeting the other expenses of putting these laws into operation and keeping them in force, except in the instance of making adequate appropriation for the maintenance of the State Fire Insurance Commission and for the operation of the law under which it was created and appointed. I have endeavored, however, to give special attention to these new laws and have endeavored to perform all the additional duties which they have imposed upon me.

FRATERNAL BENEFIT SOCIETIES.

The new law regulating fraternal benefit societies was to a large extent the re-enactment of the law under which these societies have been operating, with the addition thereto of certain provisions which are intended to require that adequate rates shall be collected from their members to provide for a reserve to meet their obligations under their policy contracts as they mature. These additional requirements are those contained in what is known as the "Mobile Bill." The enactment into law of this bill by a large number of States has of course tended to make the laws governing these societies more uniform and there is no doubt but that, if properly enforced with special reference to the new adequate rate and reserve features of the law, it will make and keep such societies solvent, and thereby protect their members better than they have ever been protected and enable them to carry fraternal life insurance with reasonable and satisfactory safety.

The auditing of the annual statements of the societies licensed in Texas this year has been done in the light of this new law, and all of them have been required to furnish a valuation of their policies as the law provides. These societies have, as a rule, cheerfully met the new requirements. A very few heretofore holding licenses have not been able to meet these requirements and could not, therefore, be licensed. In my judgment, this law will be of very great and permanent benefit to these societies and nearly all of them recognize this, and this Department will have their approval and support in carrying into final and successful operation these new and important additions to the law.

STATE FIRE INSURANCE COMMISSION.

The State Fire Insurance Commission, equipped with its office force, experts, inspectors and other facilities for carrying into effect the law passed by the Thirty-third Legislature, has been appointed and organized and is located in the west end of the corridor of the Capitol, within convenient distance from this Department. It has been and is now engaged in diligent performance of its duties in making and promulgating fire insurance rates, prescribing Texas standard forms of fire insurance policies, and carrying out in every detail the duties imposed by the law. So far as I am informed, the operations of this Commission under this law have been conducted in a manner which is satisfactory to the fire-insuring public, as well as to the stock fire insurance companies operating under the law. A statement of the Commission, showing its operations and containing information pertaining to the same, is included further on in this report.

MUTUAL FIRE, LIGHTNING, HAIL AND TORNADO INSURANCE.

A number of mutual insurance companies have been organized under the provisions of the law enacted in 1913 providing for the organization and operation of mutual fire, lightning, hail and tornado insurance companies, and these companies have been licensed by this Department and are operating. This law also authorized such mutual insurance companies as have been organized in other States to obtain a license to operate in Texas, and several mutual companies of other States have availed themselves of this privilege and have complied with this law and obtained licenses to operate in this State.

Mutual fire insurance companies and reciprocal associations are exempted from observing the State Fire Insurance Commission law, and, therefore, they are not required to observe the rates and premiums made and promulgated by the State Fire Insurance Commission, but may apply and collect such rates as they may agree upon with their policyholders. They are not required to use the standard form of insurance policy prescribed by the State Fire Insurance Commission, and there is no law in this State which undertakes to prescribe, limit or regulate, in a definite manner, the rates and policy forms of these mutual companies. As a result of this exemption, which is not generally understood by the public, a large part of the correspondence of this Department consists in attempting to explain this exemption to inquirers and persons making complaints against the mutual companies because their rates and policy forms are not as prescribed by the State Fire Insurance Commission.

It is probably too soon after this law governing mutual companies became effective to reach any definite conclusion as to its benefit to the public or as to whether it has any serious defects requiring amendments. The companies now operating under it, all of them being new and, therefore, without much experience, apparently had little difficulty in organizing and beginning to do business, and so far as I have been informed they are meeting their obligations.

RECIPROCAL ASSOCIATIONS.

The law passed by the Thirty-third Legislature for the regulation of the issuance of contracts between individuals, firms or corporations, providing indemnity among each other, does not authorize nor provide for supervision of such associations themselves nor the offices or exchanges through which these contracts are issued, but merely provides that every attorney, agent or other representative through whom such contracts are issued shall procure a certificate of authority and shall make annual reports to this Department, and the Commissioner may refuse to issue, or may revoke such certificates of authority for reasonable cause. No certificate of authority, therefore, has been issued to any such association, but such certificates of authority have been issued to the managers and agents of about forty of such associations. These licensed managers and agents are all residents of the State of Texas, and the offices or exchanges through which these contracts are issued are located within this State. The law does not authorize the issuance of a license to a non-resident of Texas, nor to a person whose office through which the contracts are issued is situated outside of the State of Texas. I have, therefore, refused to issue such licenses to applicants who are non-residents and whose applications showed that the contracts would be issued from offices situated outside of this State.

In considering applications for licenses for representatives of reciprocal associations, the contracts proposed to be issued were carefully examined, to the end that their terms and conditions should be fair and easily understood by the holders, and should not be in conflict with the laws ordinarily applicable to such contracts. Some of these contracts provide for indemnity against loss or damage by fire for a period or term of six years, the premiums being divided into annual installments evidenced by a note executed by the policyholder, and these installments are not actually paid until they mature as specified in the note. The provisions for cancellation of such a policy refers, of course, to the entire six years' term and the premium for the entire term must be taken into consideration when the policy is canceled, which is at short rates when canceled by the policyholder. This has resulted in many misunderstandings on the part of policyholders who are required to pay the earned portion of their installment premium notes at short rates in order to obtain a cancellation under their contract. On all such contracts a short rate table covering the six-year term is required to be placed in order that the policyholder may understand his rights, as well as his obligations as to this cancellation feature of his contract.

I have refused to issue certificates of authority to applicants who desired to issue policies of life insurance on the reciprocal plan, as I do not understand that the law authorizes life insurance indemnity to be exchanged in this way. I have, however, issued several licenses to managers and agents of associations issuing policies indemnifying each other against the casualties of accident and ill health and others issuing liability and workmen's compensation insurance policies.

It should be understood by the public—and thousands of letters have been sent out of this Department giving this information—that these policies are not issued by incorporated insurance companies, that the associations in whose names the policies are issued are not incorporated nor licensed nor supervised by this Department any further than the issuing of certificates of authority to the attorneys, agents or other representatives thereof, and requiring these representatives to file annual statements, as required by law. The licensed representatives of these associations are held personally responsible for conducting the business assumed by them in a fair, honest and straightforward manner, and are required to see to it that the obligations undertaken through the contracts issued by them shall be met in accordance with the express terms thereof; otherwise the licenses issued will be revoked and the business must stop or these representatives will be subject to the penalties prescribed for those who undertake to do this kind of business without a license.

As indicated in the last report of this Department, I believe that a law which would provide for the organization and operation of such associations under supervision of this Department would be more satisfactory. Such a law should provide a specified form of organization, including some standard of financial strength, before the association is permitted to do business, and should provide for the licensing and also for examining the associations themselves, as well as their agents, and they should be required to pay such fees and taxes as will compensate the State for the expense of such supervision as will probably keep them in a safe financial condition, so that the people who insist upon having this kind of insurance may be properly safeguarded in their transactions with such associations.

The law as it has been enforced, and while some of those who were licensed as representatives of such associations have voluntarily surrendered their certificates of authority and retired from the business and a few have had their licenses revoked for cause, many others are still operating and a considerable amount of insurance in this State is being carried in this way and the obligations and contracts issued are being satisfactorily met. The business conducted through these reciprocal associations since this law became effective is much more satisfactory than it was before the law was passed. Many persons who were engaged as managers and agents of reciprocal associations prior to the enactment of this statute ceased operations and some of them moved out of the State when the law became effective. As to whether the law should be amended in accordance with my suggestions above set out, or in some other way, or whether it should be left as it is, are questions which I feel should be left to the sound judgment of the Legislature in the light of the conditions shown in this report.

THE "BLUE SKY LAW."

The law passed by the Thirty-third Legislature at its First Called Session for the regulation of the sale of the stocks of corporations became effective on November 20, 1913. This Department is concerned in the operation of this law and in supervision of the sale of stocks of corporations only in so far as such transactions are carried on by such corporations as are required by law to file their charters in this Department. The charters of all insurance companies are required to be filed in this Department, and, therefore, the sale of the stocks of all insurance companies in this State must be supervised by the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking under the provisions and restrictions of this law.

As soon as the law became effective, all the necessary blanks for making applications for certificates of authority and for issuing such certificates were prepared in this Department. While a number of inquiries have been made as to what would be required in order to obtain certificates authorizing the sale of stock and forms for making applications, together with full instructions, have been furnished in reply to such inquiries, no such applicant has complied with the requirements of the law and obtained authority to sell the stock of an insurance company since this law became effective. It is a fact, well known throughout this State, that in past years a very large amount of stocks in insurance companies has been sold to citizens of this State and that practically all of it was sold at a very high promotion commission, paid by the purchaser. In many cases the agent selling the stock was paid as much as 50 per cent of the amount received on all sales. These sales were made before there was any law in this State providing for any public supervision of the same. Since the enactment of this law, it appears, therefore, that the sale of stock in insurance companies has so far entirely ceased.

In my judgment the provisions of this law are fair, safeguarding the interests of the purchaser of stock in new insurance companies or of proposed increases of stock in existing companies, limiting the amount which he will be required to contribute to promotion expenses and commissions, so that his stock will not be depreciated and robbed of its legitimate worth by the burden of unreasonably excessive promotion fees and commissions which in past times he has been required to pay. At the same time it allows the promoter and stock seller a fair compensation for his services, but deprives him of the privilege of exploiting investors and quickly enriching himself at the expense of those who bought his wares and which often resulted in leaving the corporation whose stock he handled embarrassed and stranded for lack of sufficient surplus with which to begin and successfully carry on the business for which it was organized. The stocks of insurance companies can be sold under the restrictions of this law in a safe and legitimate manner and doubtless this will be done in the organization of such companies where the business of the company itself is the first consideration of its promoters, rather than commissions of the stock seller, who, when his work is done, has often pocketed his profits and passed on, taking little or no interest in the future success of the company.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

The law passed by the Thirty-third Legislature authorizing the organization of the "Texas Employers' Insurance Association" and providing workmen's compensation insurance in Texas became effective on September 1, 1913. The directors of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association were duly appointed and proceeded with the organization of the same. As soon as the law became effective a number of insurance companies who were lawfully transacting accident and liability insurance in this State filed with the Commissioner their respective classifications of premiums and obtained his approval thereof as being adequate to the risks to which they respectively applied, and having in all other respects complied with the law authorizing them to insure the liability to pay the compensation provided in the law, proceeded to issue their policies insuring that liability, thereby operating and doing a workmen's compensation insurance business as authorized by the law.

After these companies had been operating under the law, and at the rates filed by them and approved by the Commissioner, for several months, the Texas Employers' Insurance Association filed a schedule of the rates at which it proposed to write workmen's compensation under the law as soon as the license or certificate of authority to do business should be obtained by it. At the time this schedule of rates was filed by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, the exact date being December 2, 1913, no application by it for a certificate of authority to do business was filed. The schedule itself as presented at that time was not in a satisfactorily complete form, but was sufficient to indicate the classifications and premium rates which the Commissioner would be requested to approve for the association. Under a provision of the law no other insurance company or association can lawfully write workmen's compensation insurance at any lower premium rates than those filed by and approved for the Texas Employers' Insurance Association. The proposed rates filed by this association on December 2, 1913, and which the Commissioner was requested to approve, were very much lower than the rates which had been previously filed by the companies operating under the law and which rates had been approved by the Commissioner as adequate. There was at once a protest on the part of these companies against the approval by the Commissioner of these lower rates filed by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association. In view of the lack of information in the hands of the Commissioner which would enable him to immediately determine whether these rates were adequate or whether the rates which were being applied by the companies were too high, as was claimed by the Texas association, he gave notice to all parties concerned that on a certain day in the latter part of the month of December, 1913, a hearing would be given to all those desiring to present objections to the approval of the proposed new rates. The date of the hearing was afterwards postponed until the first week in January, 1914, and all parties were invited to present any information available which would assist the Commissioner in arriving at a fair and just conclusion as to what the rates to be approved by him should be. Several days time was consumed at this hearing. At the conclusion of the same the Commissioner made a statement, which had been reduced to writing, giving his attitude as to the matters presented at the said hearing and that written statement is here set out in full as showing the Commissioner's position at that time, towit:

"January 10, 1914.

"For seven days I have listened with great interest to the testimony adduced during this hearing and have heard with pleasure, and I hope with same patience, the discussion of the matters in issue. At the close of the hearing yesterday afternoon it was found that it would take the stenographers some two weeks yet to transcribe the matters placed in evidence and that therefore it would be at least two weeks before I would be in a position to give the question of the adequacy or inadequacy of the rates under examination an intelligent consideration; nor would I be in a position to consider the question fully at that time, because the evidence consists not only of the oral testimony and discussions thereon, but of many hundreds of pages of printed and typewritten exhibits which must also be considered. In fact, the mass of information is so great that the only practical method for me to pursue in its consideration is to cause the same to be carefully examined, tabulated and summarized. This process, with the limited force at my command, would consume, if properly done, some two or three additional weeks, so that, looking at the matter, it may be safely said that it would be at least four weeks before I would be in a position to announce my decision and to make any suggestions which might be proper in establishing a correct rate in the event the rates tendered were not found to be adequate under the law. The question, in the first place, is one very hard to decide, because of the fact that safe and adequate and proper insurance rates may only be made upon experience, and there is practically no experience, and certainly none whatever from Texas, by which I might be governed in this matter. The only experience now available is that from the State of Massachusetts, which is an experience of six months, upon which the present rates in Massachusetts are based and which are the rates used by all the parties to this issue as the basis rates for the rates tendered by them.

"There is, therefore, very little experience for me to consider, either for or against the precise rates tendered by the association or by the contestants, and I would be compelled to reach my conclusion by long and intricate processes of analysis and comparisons, which, as this evidence emphatically discloses, is not such a safe or reliable guide as would warrant me in using the same to establish a rate for the State of Texas if it is practical to follow a better and more reliable method.

"However, the situation is not incapable of solution, for we will have in my Department, in less than ninety days, eighteen months experience of all the insurance companies of the country under the Massachusetts Employees' Compensation Law, of which law the Texas law is a substantial copy, save and except the Texas law imposes a burden 65 per cent greater than does the Massachusetts law; that is, the Texas law imposes 65 per cent more liability than does the Massachusetts law.

As to this last proposition, as I understand it, all parties are agreed. At the end of the time suggested I will have also at my command six months experience under the Texas Employees' Compensation Law, so that within ninety days I will have at my command as much as two years experience under compensation laws which are practically similar, with the exception above stated, and I will, therefore, be in a better position to judge of the adequacy or inadequacy of rates than has been any other insurance commissioner in the country, outside of the Commissioner for Massachusetts.

"I therefore suggest that in lieu of requiring me to now pass upon the direct questions in issue that a manual of rates be filed by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association sufficient to permit the stock companies, as well as itself, to write insurance during the pending ninety days while I am gathering the information from which proper rates may be determined. This suggestion, if it can be carried out, will avoid immediate expensive, and perhaps disastrous, litigation so far as the Employees' Liability Law of this State is concerned.

"There are now seventy thousand employes of the State who are insured under the Employes' Liability Law of this State, forty-five of whom are being injured each day, and a large percentage of which are either on or are daily being placed upon the compensation payrolls of the various companies and associations doing this class of insurance in the State of Texas. The business is too large and a matter of too much importance to be treated lightly by either the companies, the association or my Department, and whatever we may do should be done with the view of preventing disastrous litigation concerning the Employees' Liability Law of Texas. If a temporary manual of rates is filed, as suggested, it will obtain only for ninety days, and until such time as accurate and proper rates, so far as that experience will permit, may be determined, and then the immediate legal question at issue between the parties may be litigated with practically no expense, and upon agreed statements of facts. I refer, of course, to the legal question insisted upon by the Employers' Insurance Association, which is that the association should be permitted to file a schedule of rates sufficient for its purpose to write the business at exact cost and without any allowance in the way of agents' commissions for procuring the business; in other words, the insistence of the Employers' Insurance Association that it should be permitted to file a manual of rates which would not carry the 17½ per cent loading charge for agents' commissions or the other machinery used by stock companies for procuring business, and without any percentage for profit or taxes, it being the theory of this association that the law of its creation means that it and other mutual companies shall be permitted to monopolize the Employees' Liability Compensation insurance business of the State by making a rate which would not be adequate for the stock companies. As to the merits or demerits of this position, I express no opinion, as that is a matter concerning which it is my purpose to accept the advice of the State's legal department, but I realize from the earnest insistence made by the Employers' Insurance Association that should I be advised to rule against their position thus stated that they will at once institute a proper suit against me officially to determine the issue in the courts of this State; on the other hand, I also realize that should I rule in favor of the Employers' Insurance Association on this issue, then the stock companies will immediately likewise take the legal action suggested. In either event the litigation is impossible to avoid, but at the end of the time suggested it will be possible for all parties to agree upon an adequate rate for stock insurance companies and an adequate rate for the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, and, therefore, leave for determination only the naked legal question suggested, which may be determined at practically no expense within not exceeding two weeks' time, and without disturbing the insurance business of the State or endangering in any way those who hold policies insuring compensation to their employees. It is altogether the better and preferable method, so far as the business affairs of the State is concerned, and so far as maintaining the efficiency of the law is concerned and the welfare of the seventy thousand employees of Texas who now look alone to this law to protect them in life and limb. So I, therefore, say to you gentlemen representing the contesting interests in the matter before me that whatever may be your personal views of the matter or whatever might make for the immediate and effervescent welfare of your company, you owe it to the employees of Texas and to their employers as well and to the people of the State,—for in this matter you may correctly be regarded as trustees of the public's welfare,—to sacrifice in some measure your private views and your personal interests to prevent possible disasters and to accomplish in the end certainly a great good. I do not make too great an insistence, but make this as a request. If you do not consider that I am right in the matter, then I will, as soon as possible, make my ruling on the pending issue.

"The Employers' Insurance Association has suggested during this conference that if it should agree to file a schedule of rates carrying a loading charge for procuring the business, then that it would be unjust to those members of the association which have voluntarily joined the same and for the business of which the association has not been and will not be out any expense; and this position is peculiarly well taken in the event the court should decide that the association has the right to make a rate of insurance adequate for it without any loading charge in the rate for agents' commissions or procuring the business; that this situation is one which ought to be considered in the event the association files a schedule of rates, as suggested, which carries the loading charge.

"In response to this, I beg to say that this difficulty may be obviated by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association's placing a rider on all policies issued by it for insurance which has come to it or may come to it voluntarily; that in the said rider it shall be agreed that in the event the legal question above referred to shall be determined in favor of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, then that such association shall have the right to return to its voluntary policyholders the loading charge of 15 per cent estimated now as being that part of the usual agents' commission which the association would not embrace in its rates if permitted to file rates adequate only for its business; provided, also, that in the event the association was out any expense in procuring the business then that this expense should be deducted from the 15 per cent stated in the rider above; provided, however, that policies obtained by solicitation other than by letter shall be considered as the policies obtained through the agents' assistance and the 15 per cent premium shall not apply.

"A summary of the essential elements of the suggestion here made is as follows:

"(1) That a manual of rates sufficient for the stock companies and the Texas Employers' Insurance Association be filed and approved by the Commissioner and the companies and the association be permitted to write at the approved rates for a period of ninety (90) days from this date.

"(2) That at the end of ninety (90) days, and at a time when the Commissioner shall have the experience covering a period of six months in Texas and eighteen (18) months in Massachusetts a new manual, or new manuals, shall be prepared by the companies and tendered or filed; and that upon the rejection of the manual tendered by the stock companies, or of that tendered by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, the aggrieved party shall have the right to bring a mandamus suit in the Supreme Court of the State, upon an agreed statement of facts, to test out the legal question as to whether or not the rates specified in the statutes as an adequate rate means one which is adequate only for the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, or one which must be adequate for the stock companies; and in the event the Supreme Court shall, upon jurisdictional or other grounds, fail or refuse to decide the merits of said question in any such mandamus proceeding, then such aggrieved party may pursue such other remedy, legal or equitable, or both, that such party may deem expedient to secure or protect its rights in the premises.

"(3) That, pending the determination of this last named legal question, the Texas Employers' Insurance Association shall have the right to place a rider on the policies issued by said association, in which it will be agreed that in the event the legal question above referred to shall be determined in favor of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association then that such Texas Employers' Insurance Association shall have the right to return to its voluntary policyholders 15 per cent of the premium, less whatever other expense the Texas Employers' Insurance Association may have been to in order to obtain the policy; provided, however, that policies obtained by solicitation other than by mail shall be considered as the policies obtained through the agency system and the return of the 15 per cent of the premium shall not apply.

"Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) "W. W. COLLIER,

"Commissioner of Insurance and Banking."

The above suggestions were agreed to by those who were present and who participated in the discussions, and this agreement was signed by the following parties:

Texas Employers' Insurance Association, by Homer R. Mitchell, Manager.

American Indemnity Company, by George Sealy, Vice-President and Secretary.

Stanley L. Otis, representing Aetna Life Insurance Company, Fidelity and Casualty Company, Maryland Casualty Company, Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation, Royal Indemnity Company, Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company, Standard Accident Insurance Company.

After the execution of this agreement the Commissioner issued the following notice as constituting the substance of his final conclusions and ruling concerning the matters brought before him and discussed at said hearing, towit:

"Austin, Texas, January 14, 1914.

"To all Insurance Companies, Including Mutual and Reciprocal Organizations, Their General Agents and all Other of Their Representatives Transacting Workmen's Compensation in Texas:

"You are hereby advised:

"First. That I have today approved as adequate Workmen's Compensation Insurance Classifications and Rates as this day filed by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, as printed by the Case, Lockwood & Brainard Company, Hartford, Connecticut, Form No. 5568, with the following amendments, which are also approved:

"(a) As amended by insert pages 67 and 68.

"(b) As amended by eliminating from lines 1 and 2, page 135, the words, 'operating no warehouse and.'

"(c) As amended by striking out from page 135, line 17, opposite 'Cottonseed Oil Manufacturers, including Refining,' the rate '$5.00,' and by striking out the note at bottom of page 135 the figures '$70,' and inserting the figures '$10.'

"Second. That such rates are effective as to existing, renewal and new business on and after January 15, 1914.

"Third. That these rates are the only Workmen's Compensation Classification and Rates to be used by companies writing this class of insurance from and after January 15th, and until other rates are approved by me.

"Fourth. That these rates are not retroactive.

"Fifth. That the classification and rates are to be construed and applied in accordance with the rules contained in said manual Form No. 5568.

"Sixth. That if any company fails to observe the rules, classifications and rates, and writes business in violation of same, I shall be compelled to cancel its license to do business in the State of Texas.

"All companies and general agents receiving this ruling will notify their local agents."

After the sending out of the above ruling and notice, all those insurance companies and associations which had in all other respects complied with the provisions of the said Workmen's Compensation Law authorizing them to do business thereunder filed with the Commissioner the same rates that were filed by the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, which rates were duly approved, and these companies and associations proceeded to write workmen's compensation insurance in Texas at these rates. It was understood by them, however, that the approval of the rates was temporary only, and that at the end of ninety days from the date of approval, and after the Commissioner had made an investigation and obtained the experience of the companies writing this business in Texas for six months from September 1, 1913, as well as the experience of the companies doing such business in the State of Massachusetts from the time the similar law of that State became effective up to March 1, 1914, the approval of these rates might be withdrawn and the Commissioner would require new rates, based upon said experience, to be filed before he would approve the same and permit the said companies and associations to continue to do this class of insurance in Texas.

The Texas Employers' Insurance Association, although the schedule of rates filed by it formed the manual of rates under which all other companies were required to do business, did not itself make application for a certificate of authority to do business and did not at any time transact any business under these rates.

A request was sent to all companies and associations for their experience in Texas from September 1, 1913, to March 1, 1914, to which response was duly made. A statement was also obtained from the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Massachusetts, showing the experience in that State under the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Law of Massachusetts up to March 1, 1914. After careful consideration of the information thus obtained, I reached the conclusion that the temporary rates which, under my approval, were put in operation in Texas on January 15, 1914, were higher than they should be and that I would approve lower rates. Notice of this conclusion was sent to all companies and associations qualified to write workmen's compensation in Texas, as well as to the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, which had not yet qualified, and in said notice I indicated that I would approve the schedule of rates which had been approved by the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Massachusetts for use in that State, increased to the extent of 25 per cent thereof. In my opinion, the said 25 per cent increase was sufficient to cover the increased liability imposed by the Texas law over and above that imposed by the Massachusetts law.

On May 18, 1914, the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, having complied with all the requirements of the law, including the filing of its rates which were approved, obtained the certificate of authority to do business in Texas prescribed by the statute and proceeded to transact the business of writing workmen's compensation insurance. On the same date I sent the following notice to all other companies and associations which had been operating under the temporary rates approved on January 15, 1914, towit:

"Austin, Texas, May 18, 1914.

"The Texas Employers' Insurance Association of Dallas, created and operating under the provisions of Chapter 179, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature of Texas, has filed with the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking its classification of premiums to be applied in the transaction of its business, and the same have been approved by me as adequate to the risks to which they respectively apply. These premiums so filed and approved are a 25 per cent increase over and above the premiums which were approved by the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Massachusetts on February 2, 1914, for application in that State, together with schedule of credits by which the basic schedule may be reduced on manufacturing risks as much as 20 per cent.

"You are, therefore, hereby notified that any policy issued or renewed in Texas after this date, May 18, 1914, must not be at any higher premium than that of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association which has been filed and approved as above indicated."

Afterwards those companies and associations which desired to continue to operate under the Texas Workmen's Compensation Law filed and had the Commissioner to approve their respective schedules of rates, which rates were and are identical with those filed by and approved for the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, and no company which has not filed these rates and had the same approved by the Commissioner can lawfully do this class of business in Texas.

Following is a correct list of companies and associations that have met this and all other requirements and are, therefore, qualified and authorized to write workmen's compensation insurance in this State:

American Indemnity Company, Galveston, Texas.

Aetna Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn.

Southwestern Surety Insurance Company, Denison, Texas.

Southern Surety Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Texas Employers' Insurance Association, Dallas, Texas.

Texas Fidelity and Bonding Company, Waco, Texas.

General Accident, Fire and Life Assurance Corporation, Limited, Perth, Scotland.

Royal Indemnity Company, New York, N. Y.

Maryland Casualty Company, Baltimore, Md.

Employers' Indemnity Exchange, Houston, Texas.

Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation, Limited, London, England.

Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company, Boston, Mass.

Cottonseed Crushers' Liability Underwriters, B. P. Bailey, Manager, Paris, Texas.

Lumbermen's Indemnity Exchange, Beaumont, Texas.

Security Mutual Casualty Company, Chicago, Ill.

Texas Indemnity Exchange, Fort Worth, Texas.

Georgia Casualty Company, Macon, Ga.

The Workmen's Compensation Law of Texas should probably be amended in several particulars. The constitutionality of some of its provisions has been questioned and these provisions should be amended with the view of removing all doubt on this point as far as possible. There are also some provisions in the act which apparently contradict one another, and necessary amendments removing all such discrepancies are advisable. The general purpose of the act is in every way commendable as protecting and safeguarding all workingmen and employees in the various industries of the State, and in my judgment the most careful attention should be given it by the Legislature, to the end that the law shall be so strengthened and perfected by proper amendment that all employees in Texas and their families shall receive the surest and best protection that can be provided for them under such a law, with the special object in view of providing that whatever compensation is paid to the employee or his beneficiary shall be paid as promptly as possible and at the least possible trouble and expense to him, at the same time affording their employers and the insurance companies, through whose contracts these compensations are to be paid, fair and just consideration.

The difficulties encountered in arriving at a final conclusion concerning approval of the premium rates for workmen's compensation rates were due, in a large degree, to lack of the necessary clerical and expert assistance which the Department ought to have in properly handling such matters in an expeditious manner. No appropriation was made with which to pay for the employment of such special assistance, and the work which was done, therefore, fell upon the Commissioner and his ordinary clerical force, and was necessarily slow and was not as complete and scientificly accurate as I would like for it to be. In this connection I wish to say that in my opinion the business conducted under the Workmen's Compensation Law would be greatly benefited and would be much more satisfactory to all parties interested, including the employee who is to be protected under the law, the employer who makes and holds the policy contract, the insurance company who issues the policy, the Commissioner who supervises the operation of the law and the board who makes settlements thereunder, if the premium rates approved by the Commissioner could be applied to the risks under a merit rating system, to be supervised by the Commissioner, and I recommend that provision be made by the Legislature for the organization and operation of such a system, and that a sufficient appropriation be made for that purpose.

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

During the year covered by this report it became necessary from time to time to make rulings and to announce the construction placed by the Department upon various provisions of the insurance laws. These rulings were based upon legal opinions furnished at my request by the Attorney General's Department, as follows:

September 19, 1913. The board of directors of a mutual fire insurance company cannot lawfully transfer all their powers to an executive committee, and the by-laws of the company should not attempt to do so. The powers and duties of the executive committee should be limited and clearly defined in the by-laws, and in such a way as to leave the actual management of the company in the hands of the directors, and not with the committee. The by-laws can be amended only by the members (policyholders) of the company and cannot be lawfully amended by the directors except as instructed by the members.

December 10, 1913. The board of directors of a co-operative life insurance company have no lawful power to reinsure the business of the company nor to liquidate its affairs until after its policyholders, in a meeting called for that purpose, or without such meeting, shall, by a four-fifths vote in writing, authorize such reinsurance or liquidation. A majority vote as to the reinsurance alone might be sufficient, but if such reinsurance is a part of the process of liquidation the four-fifths would be necessary.

December 20, 1913. The acceptance of a note without interest as payment of a premium on a life insurance policy is a rebate, and for a company or its agent to take such a premium note at a certain rate of interest from one person and such a note bearing a different rate of interest from another, is discrimination and in violation of the law against rebating and discrimination.

February 19, 1914. A life insurance company ordinarily has no authority to buy its own stock and to sell it. Exigencies, however, might arise where the buying of its own stock would be to the interest of the company and where there is no fraud in the transaction, and in such cases it would probably not be in violation of law. In such cases the certificate of authority of the company should not be revoked by the Commissioner, but the company should be required to file with the Commissioner a transcript of minutes, correspondence and other papers connected with the transaction.

February 25, 1914. The tax of 1¼ per cent on gross premiums received by fire insurance companies for support of the State Fire Insurance Commission must be levied and collected on the premiums on fire insurance only, and cannot be levied on premiums collected on any other class of business.

March 9, 1914. A general complaint that certain insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas have violated the law requiring all reinsurance of Texas business to be placed with companies authorized to do business in Texas, without specifying the times, places and circumstances of such violations of law, is sufficient to require the Commissioner to make an investigation of such charges.

March 12, 1914. A mutual casualty insurance company cannot lawfully be organized in Texas, and a foreign mutual casualty insurance company cannot be licensed to do business in Texas, because the laws of this State contain no provision for organizing or licensing such mutual companies.

March 14, 1914. Insuring automobiles against fire is fire insurance, and a company writing such insurance in Texas is subject to the laws applicable to fire insurance and must pay the tax required of fire insurance companies for the support of the State Fire Insurance Commission, and if a foreign company it must give the bond required of foreign fire insurance companies.

April 1, 1914. The lists of licensed insurance agents on file in this Department are public records, but are not subject to unqualified inspection by the public. The Commissioner has the right to refuse inspection which would be prejudicial to public interests. To permit persons connected with one insurance company to make and carry away copies of the names and addresses of the agents of another company would be prejudicial to public interests. Such inspection should not be permitted except for the protection of a private right or for the enforcement of law.

April 2, 1914. The charter of a mutual fire insurance company must be in accord with the statute prescribing its requisites, and must show the number of its directors, and its by-laws on the same subject must be in accord with the number of directors specified in the charter. A by-law providing for levying assessments should follow the requirements of the statute and should not conflict therewith nor contain provisions not authorized thereby. It is contrary to the statute and unlawful for such by-laws to provide for the creation of a reserve fund as capital of a mutual company which shall belong to the company and not be subject to distribution or division among the policyholders, and prohibiting persons who have ceased to be policyholders from having an interest in such reserve fund. It is also unlawful for such by-laws to provide that at the dissolution of the company such reserve fund shall be divided only among those who may be policyholders at the time of the dissolution. Such by-laws must clearly provide for the collection of adequate premiums and assessments, based upon the greater or less risk of the property insured. By-laws cannot be amended by the directors or officers, but this may be done only by the stockholders, who, in a mutual company, are the policyholders.

April 11, 1914. A mutual assessment accident insurance company, organized and operating under Articles 4794 to 4808, Revised Statutes, may provide in its by-laws that the money from which its policy obligations are to be paid shall be the dues paid by the members, instead of assessments, and in such case the by-laws may also lawfully provide that no extra assessments shall ever be levied upon those members who join the association after the passage of such by-law.

April 16, 1914. An accident and health insurance company, organized under Texas laws, and of whose officers or directors are likewise officers or directors or a loan and trust company, cannot make such loan and trust company its fiscal agent. The fact that the officers or directors of such insurance company are stockholders (but not officers or directors) of a loan and trust company would not prevent the insurance company from employing such loan and trust company as its fiscal agent.

April 17, 1914. An accident policy which requires notice of the accident or injury to be delivered to an agent "authorized to receive the same" is more restrictive than Article 5714, Revised Statutes, requires, and should not be approved. A provision in such a policy requiring notice of accident to be given within five days is also contrary to the statute, and should not be approved.

May 1, 1914. Reserves on life insurance policies represent what the company issuing the policies must at all times have on hand to meet its liabilities on its policies. In determining the percentage of total Texas reserves which must be invested in Texas real estate securities in order to obtain a reduction of premium receipt taxes, the amount of Texas policy loans should not be deducted from the amount of legal reserve on Texas policies. Such policy loans are themselves an investment, but not an investment in real estate securities which would tend to reduce the said taxes.

May 27, 1914. The by-laws of a mutual fire insurance company attempting to provide that officers of the company shall hold office for five years should not be approved because contrary to the law which requires that the directors of a corporation shall be elected annually and shall then elect the officers from their own membership. A by-law providing that the secretary shall receive for his services and all other expenses of the company 35 per cent of the premiums should not be approved. A by-law attempting to exempt the officers and directors from liability for the company's obligations should not be approved. A by-law attempting to limit the place where suits may be brought against the company to a single county in the State is contrary to law and should not be approved. A by-law providing that the policyholders of such company shall participate in the profits and losses of the company should not be approved. A by-law attempting to give the officers of the company authority to make rates on risks is not in conformity with the statute on this subject. A by-law providing that no dividend shall be declared until its surplus amounts to $100,000 and that 10 per cent of the annual savings should be added to the surplus should be in such language as to make the meaning clear.

May 29, 1914. Capital stock insurance companies have the power to write workmen's compensation insurance and may have and exercise all the rights and powers conferred by law on the Texas Employers' Insurance Association, but they must be subject to the same restrictions, and are held to be subject to the provisions of Sections 13, 14, 15 and 16 of Part III of the act governing the Texas Employers' Insurance Association in writing workmen's compensation insurance.

June 12, 1914. Corporate surety companies may lawfully become sureties on bonds of all State and county officers, including collectors of taxes.

June 22, 1914. A workmen's compensation policy is an accident insurance policy, and the form must be filed with and approved by the Commissioner before it can be lawfully issued in Texas. Any company failing to obtain such approval before issuing in Texas should have its license revoked.

June 22, 1914. The word "purchase" in Article 4760, Revised Statutes, means acquired, either by purchase or rental. A life insurance company has the right to secure, hold and convey a lease on a building for a period of time, with option of purchase at expiration of lease. The aggregate amount to be paid for the lease extending over a long period of time is not a debt which could amount to impairment of the capital of the company. Ownership of such building or lease is a chattel real and as such is real property and an investment by the company therein is lawful.

July 27, 1914. A life insurance company doing business under the assessment or natural premium plan (Article 4791, Revised Statutes) is required to pay occupation taxes as required by Article 4779, Revised Statutes. The provision in Article 4791, Revised Statutes, that foreign companies are subject only to the provisions of the chapter of which said article is a part, means as to admission into the State and does not exempt such companies from taxes and other regulatory laws.

August 1, 1914. A foreign life insurance company which has reinsured policies of a Texas company and which afterwards merged with another foreign company, such consolidated company not being authorized to do business in Texas, may withdraw from deposit securities in excess of the reserve on such reinsured policies, such securities having been deposited under the provisions of Article 4751, Revised Statutes. The excess deposit over amount of reserve must be calculated to date of the withdrawal.

August 5, 1914. The constitution and by-laws, as well as the certificate or policy, of a reciprocal association should provide that the service of legal process may be upon the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking. Such constitution, by-laws and certificate providing for notice of accident to be given to the home office of the exchange is too restrictive. They should provide that such notice may be given to the nearest or any other convenient local agent of the exchange.

August 8, 1914. A mutual fire insurance company, organized under the statutes governing mutual fire insurance companies, cannot amend its charter so as to authorize it to do any other kinds of insurance than such as are mentioned in said law governing mutual fire insurance companies, and cannot therefore avail itself of the provisions of Chapter 108, Acts of the Thirty-third Legislature, which refers only to capital stock companies and not to mutual companies.

CONCLUSION.

I respectfully beg to recommend that the Departments of Insurance and Banking be separated, and the office of Insurance Commissioner created to handle all matters pertaining to insurance.

This recommendation is made in the interest of the public good and in order to obtain the best administrative results. The Departments have grown to such magnitude and the duties are so intricate and voluminous that it is impossible for one executive to give the affairs of the several departments which have been placed under the supervision of the Commissioner of Insurance and Banking that close personal attention which is necessary in order to obtain the best results.

I wish to express my thanks to Your Excellency for your continued zealous interest in this Department, and your confidence in this Commissioner, which has been often manifested.

I also desire to publicly express to the various employees of the Department my appreciation and thanks for loyal and intelligent service. Especially do I desire to thank Hon. Chas. V. Johnson, Chief Clerk, for most valuable assistance rendered in preparing this report.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. COLLIER,
Commissioner of Insurance and Banking.

REPORT

Hon. W. W. Collier, Chairman, State Fire Insurance Commission.

DEAR SIR: It is our pleasure to submit the first annual report of the State Fire Insurance Commission. We are pleased to make this report because we feel that after trial of two different methods of supervision of fire insurance rating by the State, the operation of the present law of absolute State control has been highly successful. The results obtained have shown that the State can control rate making and fix reasonable rates in a manner just to the people and equitable to the insurance companies.

The State Fire Insurance Commission Law, being Chapter 106 of the General Laws of the Thirty-third Legislature, became effective July 1, 1913, and repealed the State Insurance Board Law, being Chapter 8 of the General Laws of the Thirty-first Legislature. Under this law every insurance company issuing a contract or policy of insurance against loss by fire on property within this State (with the exception of mutual and reciprocal insurance companies) are made subject to the provisions of the law and are required to agree to transact business in this State subject to its provisions, the expense of operation being obtained by assessment of 1¼ per cent of the gross premiums of such fire insurance companies.

The Commission created by this law is composed of three members. The Commissioner of Insurance and Banking is made chairman thereof and two Commissioners appointed by the Governor, one to act as secretary of the Commission and the other as State Fire Marshal. It being essential for the practical and successful operation of the law and to perform the duties encumbent upon the Commission to establish reasonable and just insurance rates in Texas, the Commission was compelled to exercise its authority under the law, to require the transfer of insurance maps, rating surveys and other data in the possession of the companies' joint agent at Dallas, to Austin, and this was done and the necessary office force, including experts and engineers, employed.

In order that rates should be made on a scientific basis and that there would be no discrimination between risks or classes, the Commission adopted the general basis schedules of fire insurance rates compiled by the former State Insurance Board and adopted the Texas Standard Fire Policy and all forms and clauses approved by the Board and continued in effect the specific rates previously approved, which action also resulted in continuing stable conditions, as the rates on most of the property in this State had already been satisfactorily established. The Commission felt that to make just and reasonable rates without discrimination, it was necessary to use a scientific system of schedule rating whereby property is rated according to the fire hazard. Through the system of schedule rating poor construction and fire hazards are penalized in the insurance rating and in this manner the insuring public is encouraged to eliminate fire dangers, which is resulting in the beneficial effect of reducing the great loss by fire in this State. The key rate system which is used, whereby cities and towns are classified scientifically according to general construction, width of streets and alleys, general fire hazards and municipal protection, grades each city and town according to its individual merits from the standpoint of safety from fire. This also has had the effect of encouraging cities and towns to enact ordinances for public safety and to improve waterworks systems for fire departments.

To carry on the work of rate making it is necessary that inspection be made of buildings and of cities and towns, and this work has been conducted and rates printed and promulgated to companies and their agents. A great amount of clerical work, correspondence and printing is done in the operation of the office, and, through an efficient force of employees, the Commission has been able to do this work, it is believed, satisfactorily to all parties at interest.

The value of inspection and of information that is given without charge to individuals in cities and towns is becoming to be recognized more and more and this office is being looked upon as the proper source through which to obtain information as to standard requirements for safe construction and efficient fire protection. This information is furnished to anyone seeking it and wherever desired blue prints and specifications are furnished for the installation of private and public fire protection of every character. Through the elimination of fire hazards and improvement in fire protection and construction, the rates are being reduced continually on individual risks and key rates of cities and towns lowered. We feel certain the public appreciates the justification of the Commission's position that the only sound basis upon which rates may be reduced is by improving conditions and thus reducing the fire loss.

The law requires that data be collected and compiled classifying the fire loss of this State according to cause of fire and amount of loss on different classes of buildings, and classification systems inaugurated by the State Insurance Board have been continued, as it was recognized that such statistics are most valuable only when they cover a period of years. Accompanying this report are copies of the report showing the causes of 42,000 fires reported between December 10, 1910, and October 1, 1914, and a combined classification report for all companies for the year 1913. The classification report is intended to serve as a means to determine if the rates produced by application of the general basis schedules are equitable and while the report has only been kept long enough to be suggestive of results, it will certainly be of incalculable value in the future.

The successful operation of the law has been due to a large extent to the co-operation of our public officials, the insurance companies interested and the local fire insurance agents throughout this State. The law provides that the Commissioner of Insurance may revoke the certificate of authority of any company, official, agent or representative for violating any of the provisions of the law, and further provides penalties in the form of fines and imprisonment upon the conviction of anyone violating the law, but so far it has been unnecessary to invoke these penalties. There have been instances reported where policies of insurance are written at incorrect rates, but this has been due principally to unintentional errors on the part of local agents and in very few instances has evidence been furnished which would indicate that the provisions of the law have been wilfully violated.

The provisions of the law relative to the duties and powers of the State Fire Marshal are identical with the provisions of the former State Insurance Board Law and the State Fire Marshal, with the assistance of special deputies and inspectors, has actively investigated the fires occurring in this State reported to be of incendiary origin. There are now 146 city fire marshals in this State, who obtain their authority through the enactment by their respective cities and towns of the fire marshal ordinance recommended by this Commission. These city fire marshals make a report to this office on blanks furnished them of each and every fire occurring in their localities. They are also required to make inspection of buildings in their city and order the removal of unsafe conditions and report the result of such inspection to this office every ninety days. The limited authority given the State Fire Marshal under the law has made it impossible to obtain convictions in many instances; however, the moral effect upon those criminally inclined has been beneficial and we feel that the number of incendiary fires has been greatly lessened. The State Fire Marshal has given attention to the liability of personal injury from fire and panic, especially in public buildings and with this in view has inspected the majority of the motion picture theaters in this State and has pointed out to the owners thereof and to the local authorities the defects that exist which would cause injury to patrons of motion picture theaters and increase the liability of fire. As a result, these places of amusement, where more people are congregated during one day than in any other character of public assembly, have been greatly improved and made safer.

The last legislative appropriations act contained a provision requiring that all buildings for which appropriations were made should be of fireproof construction and that the plans and specifications for buildings and fire protection be made subject to the approval of the State Fire Insurance Commission. Accordingly, plans and specifications for buildings and fire protection for State institutions have been submitted to this Department by the architects and contractors and they have been checked over and criticised, having in view safe construction and efficient fire protection. When the plans were made in accordance with the standards recommended by this Department, they were approved. We have also made careful inspection of all State properties, making recommendations to the heads of the different institutions for elimination of fire hazards found to exist and installation of standard fire protection. A report covering this work is being compiled and copies thereof will be ready for distribution at an early date.

During the fourteen months that the law has been in effect there has been no unified complaint made by the people of the State or the insurance companies of the rates, rules and orders promulgated by the Commission, and not a single request made for a public hearing before the Commission. This, we feel, is significant of confidence in the law and tends to emphasize the economic benefits thereof.

In concluding this report, we wish to tender you, as Chairman of the Commission, our thanks for the business-like and courteous manner in which you have presided over the affairs of the Department at all times, without which the degree of success we believe has been attained in administering the law could not have been reached.

Respectfully submitted,

A. H. HAYNES,
Secretary.

S. W. INGLISH,
State Fire Marshal.

APPENDIX.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Supervision of building and loan associations was placed in charge of this Department by Chapter 33, Acts of the First Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature. In compliance with this Act the following associations have filed their by-laws and a certified copy of their charter and obtained permits from this Department to pursue the business of building and loan associations, towit:

No. of Certificate.	Name of Association.	Location.
1	Dallas Building and Loan Association	Dallas.
2	Mechanics Building and Loan Association	Houston.
3	Security Investment and Development Co	Houston.
4	Hesperian Building and Savings Association	Gainesville.

6	Hearne Building and Loan Association	Hearne.
7	Houston Building and Loan Association	Houston.

19	Fort Worth Building and Loan Association	Fort Worth.
20	Waxahachie Building and Loan Association	Waxahachie.
21	Home Building and Loan Association	Paris.
22	The Wakefield Loan and Building Association	Wakefield.
23	Cooper Building and Loan Association	Cooper.

All the above associations are Texas corporations.

In addition to the above associations the following foreign association has complied with the law applicable to foreign building and loan associations, towit, National Loan and Investment Company, Detroit, Mich. The above foreign association did not deposit $100,000 in securities, but was licensed under the exemption in subdivision 3, Section 27, of the law, upon filing an affidavit that it sold stock only where loans were actually made at the time of the sale.

No other foreign building and loan association has complied with this law, although this Department has reason to believe that there are some other foreign associations operating within this State. It is the duty of the local officers of each county to prosecute the agents of such corporations, under Section 35 of said act, and this matter should receive the careful attention of the local officials of each county.

It is made the duty of the Commissioner under this act to have such building and loan associations examined, but owing to the fact that the Legislature made no appropriation to cover the expenses incident to such examinations, he regrets to report that it has been impossible to comply with this requirement.

The act referred to requires that the license of foreign building and loan associations shall be obtained from the Secretary of State. It is the Commissioner's belief, and he so recommends, that the licensing of such associations should be placed wholly under this Department, as it has always worked unsatisfactorily to divide the administration of any one law between two departments.

The entire act referred to should be redrafted, made more specific and plain, and a limitation should be placed upon the amount of entrance fees which any association shall charge. As the bill is drawn it is more or less vague, hard of interpretation and not altogether satisfactory.

LOAN AND INVESTMENT COMPANIES.

The act above referred to is not specific and clear as to whether or not it governs so-called "loan and investment companies," which have heretofore operated under a permit to accumulate and loan money, and which companies, instead of selling stock, sell monthly payment contracts, with the promise of a loan at some future date. A few of such companies have been guilty of gross mismanagement of their subscribers' funds and in a large number of cases it will be found, upon a careful inspection of the contracts, that there is very little legal liabilit yattached to the companies. The fraudulent selling of such contracts by irresponsible parties to the uninformed citizens of this State should not be permitted under our laws, and this Commissioner strongly recommends that in redrafting this building and loan association law it be made to specifically govern the operations of such concerns, and, furthermore, that they be required to obtain approval of this Department of any contract which they may issue before offering same for sale to the public.

PUBLIC WAREHOUSE LAW.

Under Chapter 37, First Called Session of the Thirty-third Legislature, the previous law providing for bonded public warehouses was amended, making it the duty of this Department to examine such warehouses carefully at least once annually. The act, however, provides that such warehouse shall be licensed by the county clerk of the county in which they are situated, upon their making bond. This procedure left this office without any information as to where such warehouses were located, when the warehouse procured its license, or any other information concerning the operation of such warehouses. The only method by which this Department was able to obtain this information was by writing a letter to each county clerk in this State, requesting them to send the names of such warehouses as they may have licensed. By this means the names of thirty-eight warehouses which have obtained licenses have been secured. A large number of the county clerks did not respond to the inquiry, and since there are no means of compelling response, it may be that other warehouses have been licensed in this State, the names of which could not be procured. These warehouses are now being examined, as provided by law.

It is respectfully recommended that the law be amended so that license will be obtained from this office and bond filed in this Department, in order that we may have a record of each such warehouse.

This law also provides that an open yard may be bonded as a public warehouse, which provision, in the opinion of this Commissioner, works a hardship upon closed warehouses, and he does not believe that the same character of receipt should be permitted to be used by cotton yards, with their cotton exposed to the weather, as is permitted by closed warehouses.

This law also requires this office to provide forms of receipts to be used by public warehouses. Such forms have been prescribed by this Department and a large number distributed upon request.

Very respectfully submitted,

W. W. COLLIER,
Commissioner of Insurance and Banking.
