Dear Grandfather

I received your last letter and I don't know whether to start to work now or wait a while. I have nothing to do now except to stay around the house and wait till Iago's school ends. I am learning Spanish now from a little Mexican who comes down every evening. I wrote to Iago the other day and it is near time for me to receive an answer. I am going to study this summer and see if I cant make two grades if o go next year. It has been cloudy every day here but it clears off about noon and does not rain. I make my bed upstairs on the gallery and last week when it rained I came near getting wet. I close giving my best regards to all.

Your Grandson
