

Washington, D.C., Sept 30 1903

Dear Father:-

Have arrived in Washington in plenty time to catch train to Annapolis. Have seen lots of my classmates who are on their way back and have seen one or two of those who were held over this Sept.

I have one of the petty offices that were distributed among our class.

By tonight we will be at studies again so goodbye until next Sunday when I will write a long letter.

Best love to Mother and all the rest from Chester.
