NOTES ON THE ISSUE

2

This charter edition of the Texas Register represents a slight departure from the content of future issues. We have included messages from the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House, and the Secretary of State. In addition, we have presented information that we feel will be of general interest to our readers, such as the publication schedule for the Register, and lists of statewide agencies.

We have also made explanatory remarks for each section of the publication to give you an idea of what to look for in following editions. These sections in subsequent issues will contain material submitted as agencies begin to respond to the filing and publication procedures that went into effect January 1.

We're proud to present the Texas Register. We hope you will find the Register to be as useful a tool as it is designed to be.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, TEXAS 78711

December 17, 1975

DOLPH BRISCOE
GOVERNOR

FELLOW TEXANS:

The Texas Register truly marks the beginning of a new era in putting the administration of State government before the people. I encourage Texans to use the Register to inform themselves about agency policies and practices and to make their voices heard.

Where government is open to the people, government is strong. I look forward to the role the Texas Register will play in that process.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Dolph Briscoe".

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

The State of Texas
Office of the Lieutenant Governor
Austin

December 15, 1975

The Honorable Mark White
Secretary of State
Austin, Texas

Dear Secretary White:

Congratulations on the publication of the first issue of the Texas Register. This represents another step in the continuing process of making state government more open to the people. The regular publication of notices from all state agencies will give the people affected by those agencies the opportunity to participate in the governmental process.

As the role of state government in protecting the public's interest has grown over the years, more and more decisions by administrative and quasi-judicial agencies have had an impact on our daily lives. In order to protect our individual rights in these decisions, we have to know who plans to do what when. The Texas Register under the provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act will provide this information to everyone interested twice a week. I welcome this needed addition to the service of the people of Texas.

Sincerely,

Bill Hobby

December 6, 1975

Dear Mark:

It has always been perplexing using a roundabout route to find current information about state agency rules, decisions, notices and documents. Therefore we in the Legislature welcome the Texas Register.

Because there has been no comparative, unified body of rules and notices compiled for the general public, significant state agency regulation changes have often gone unreported.

This situation will be improved because of passage of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act in the last legislative session. A principal feature is the Register, through which I am sure we will get a compilation of up-to-date state government information.

Many people bemoan the existing apathy toward state government. But public disinterest in the business of the state is often only unawareness, the result of insufficient information about current decisions. The Register will provide this information to anyone interested.

The Texas Register will indeed serve a valuable public service. Now it will not be such an impossible task to find out about regulations, meetings and decisions. Every Texan will have easy access to the latest information on his state government.

My congratulations on the launching of this important service.

Yours very truly,

Bill Clayton

Mark White
SECRETARY OF STATE

Bruce Hughes
ASST. SECRETARY OF STATE

Dear Reader:

I am pleased to present the people of Texas with a document that will fill a need for communication between state government and the people. In the Texas Register you will have a single, up-to-date source of accurate information on the actions of the Governor, Attorney General and the various statewide agencies.

The responsiveness of your state government depends on your participation. The Register will give notice of pending policy decisions so that your voice, your opinions can be heard before final action is taken. I urge you to take advantage of this opportunity.

The Texas Register represents the final product of a cooperative project of massive scale. Over the last few months, state agencies have worked closely with this office to comply with the standardized rulemaking and reporting system mandated by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act. Their efforts to make their work more open and accountable to Texas citizens are truly exemplary. I thank and commend them for the cooperation they have given us.

Sincerely,

Mark White
Secretary of State

THE GOVERNOR

8

This section will contain executive orders and selected proclamations of the Governor. These documents deal with a wide variety of subjects, such as the calling of special sessions of the Legislature and the creation of special task forces and advisory commissions. For copies of proclamations not appearing this section, please call the Governor's Office, at (512) 475-3021.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

---

This section will contain summaries of opinions of the Attorney General and summaries of requests for such opinions. Opinions will sometimes appear in the form of letters advisory and open records decisions.

EMERGENCY RULES

10

This section will contain rules that are enacted on an emergency basis. An agency may adopt such a rule if it finds "that an imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare requires the adoption of a rule on fewer than 30 days' notice." An emergency rule may take effect immediately on filing with the Secretary of State without prior notice and may be effective for a maximum period of 120 days, renewable once for a maximum period of 60 days. The agency's reasons for the emergency adoption will be published with the emergency rule.

PROPOSED RULES

This section will contain notices of agencies' intentions to adopt rules. A rule may be adopted no earlier than 30 days after the publication of the proposed rule in the Register. The purpose of the proposed rule is to give interested persons an opportunity to review the proposal and make oral or written comments. In certain cases, public hearings may be held to solicit outside comment and discussion on the proposed rule.

This section will contain rules adopted by agencies after the review and comment period has ended. Rules may be adopted 30 days after the first appearance of the proposed rule in the Register. Adopted rules may take effect no earlier than 20 days after filing with the Secretary of State.

Numbering System-- Each rule is designated by a unique 10-digit number which is divided into four units by decimal points. The first unit (three digits) indicates the agency which promulgates the rule. The second unit (two digits) indicates the category of rules to which the rule belongs. The third unit (two digits) indicates the subcategory of rules, if any, within the category. The fourth unit (three digits) indicates the individual rule.
