Com. petition James et al. vs. Smith

Whereas the Estate of Isaac Smith, deceased the petitioner represents that there is a portion of the property of said Estate that every annual income should be disposed of before an inventory and appraisement can be made and returned regularly, the instance there is a lot of fresh hogs (about twenty five) that have been fattened upon the farm they are now fat and ready for pork and they are still consuming the corn of the estate beside the season for saving pork will soon pass and they cannot then be disposed of, and the negroes of said Estate are impressed for and unprotected and the present is the season for hiring and the time at which every person wishing to hire will supply themselves and said negroes are now an expense upon said Estate whereas they would yield a revenue and the land should be rented for this is peculiarly the season for renting and in a short time it will be impossible to rent it Your petitioner therefore prays for an order to sell and rent said property for the term of Twelve months on under Mrs Court

James A. Smith administrator of the Estate of Francis Dennis does would represent that there is a large amt of the personal property of the Estate he represents of a wasting & perishable character and which must require much time, attention, and money to secure its preservation; for instance the Corn is insecure & subject to the ravages of insects; the Hogs, Cattle, & horses require much expense in food & care to prevent them from straying; The farming atticles are wasting by decay, the household furniture by use, the only means of preservation without expense, would soon be consumed.
 The premises considered your petitioners pray for an Order of Sale on a twelve month credit, at the late residence of Decedent, of all the perishable property of said Estate

And this administrator would respectfully represent that there are still some claims out standing against the Estate that have not been presented but that there will be so far as has come to his knowledge there is an amount of outstanding liabilities to the estate more than sufficient to discharge the whole indebtedness as will appear from the foregoing exhibit and he would further represent that the claims in favor of said estate are large & are not likely to be very promptly met unless considerable time must be taken up in their collection, so that he does not deem it necessary to make any other showing to the Court until the said claims (which have not long been due) shall be collected & the liability of the Estate as far as has been presented paid off. And he would further represent that a large part of the property that came into his possession with said Estate is the separate property of the Deceased's husband who is living & does not reside in this State & that there is also a portion the separate property of the decedent & a large portion of it that estate, none of which it is thought will be required to pay the debts.

He therefore prays that such property may be passed into the hands of the distributees & proper owner & that he may be discharged of it as early as practicable in such way as to give honor shall seem meet & that this be taken as his annual show ing and that this matter stands continued until we shall be able to clear it, & we will ever pray &c.
