In the wake of Hurricane Ike, the Office of the Attorney General's Consumer Complaint Hotline has received hundreds of price gouging complaints from across the state. Most complaints allege price gouging on gas and lodging; others report price hikes involving food, water and power generators. The Office of the Attorney General (OAG) is investigating some consumers' claims that they were unlawfully charged inflated prices for necessities including fuel, hotel lodging and other items.

Although Hurricane Ike has left the state, the governor's disaster declarations are still active, so the OAG continues to have enforcement authority to pursue price gouging complaints in 99 Texas counties. Under Texas law, vendors are prohibited from charging exorbitant prices for necessities such as groceries, clothing, medical supplies, lodging, repair work and fuel during and after declared disasters.

The emergency Consumer Complaint Hotline continues to have staff available between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. to receive price gouging complaints. Texans who encounter

Dallas ISD Facing $64 Million Budget Deficit

District will utilize $120 million fund balance to cover

Dallas- Superintendent of Schools Michael Hinojosa announced last week that the Dallas Independent School District has an estimated $64 million shortfall for the 2007-2008 fiscal year.

The district will utilize its $120 million fund balance to cover the deficit.

"The majority of the deficit was caused by inadequate budgeting," said Hinojosa. "More money was allocated to campuses to hire additional staff last school year and we saw impressive student gains as a result. The cost of the additional staff, however, was not properly reflected in the budget."

A major reorganization of the district's finance and business services departments is being implemented.

"The lack of adequate systemic financial controls and the District's inability to reconcile accounts, input budget data, and control staff allocations created this deficit," said Hinojosa. "This is totally unacceptable."

The finance department will now report directly to Chief of Staff Arnold Viramontes. Viramontes has been directed to create a plan and make recommendations to the board to begin reducing cost for the 2008-09 school year. All options are on the table.

"Importantly, when the 2007-2008 books were closed, the District non-payroll related budgets were almost even and balanced," said Hinojosa. "It was the unbudgeted payroll costs that produced the lion's share of the current deficit."

Seagoville City Council Participates In Operation Comeback

Seagoville, TX – On Saturday, September 6, 2008, Seagoville High School officials and supporters from the Seagoville community participated in the Dallas ISD 'Operation Comeback' program.

Seagoville Mayor Sid Sexton, Mayor Pro Tem Brenda Thompson and Council Members Polnac, Magill and Hernandez joined the Principal of Seagoville High School, the Associate Principal, the Lead Counselor, the Community Liaison and the Registrar to walk the community and talk with those students who had yet to enroll in school.

Seagoville High School had 22 students who merited a visit. Out of those 22 students, 12 contacts were made. Three of those contacted on September 6th came to the school on Monday, September 8th, to enroll.

Seagoville City Council will continue to participate in activities sponsored by the faculty and staff of Seagoville High School to support the teachers and students; including another community walk which is planned for January 2009.

The Suburbia News To Debut American Profile Magazine

National Newspaper Magazine Celebrates Hometown Life

Franklin, TN – American Profile, a full-color national magazine with regionalized editorial content that celebrates the people, places and things that make America great, will debut in The Suburbia News on October 13, 2008 as an insert in the newspaper.

Each edition of American Profile will include a broad range of regular features, including stories of Hometown Heroes, regional calendars of events, as well as features on celebrities with hometown ties, health trends, entertainment, important current issues, and recipes. A special feature will also be a profile of one of America's great hometowns. "American Profile is one of the most exciting ideas for smaller newspapers that the industry has ever seen," said Travis Pugh. "This full-color magazine will complement our local news coverage by providing editorial content that celebrates the people and places that make up our hometowns. American Profile embraces the values and spirit of our readers, and we are pleased to bring it to them on a regular basis."

Until now, hometown and community newspapers have not had access to a magazine with quality content and production that meets or exceeds that of the Sunday magazines, according to Dick Porter, President and CEO of American Profile.

"Large market daily newspapers are well-served with the existing Sunday magazines, but weekly and small market dailies require fundamentally different approaches for editorial content, production and distribution. We are focusing our efforts solely on these markets," Porter said.

Beginning October 23, 2008, American Profile will be a regular insert in The Suburbia News every Thursday.

Washington Update

From Congressman Jeb Hensarling

The Fourth of July may have come and gone, but there is still an opportunity to celebrate America's independence this fall. On October 1, the current prohibitions on oil and gas exploration of our deep sea resources and in the oil-shale fields of the West will expire. This will give Americans the freedom to access their own energy and provide them with relief from sky-high prices at the pump.

For the foreseeable future, we have plenty of energy to produce in America. Unfortunately, Congress has made it illegal to produce much of it. Washington has taken 75 percent of our on-shore energy resources off the table, making it off limits to energy exploration and production. We have even greater energy off-shore in our deep sea resources, but 85 percent of that area Congress has made off limits as well.

Utilizing our American energy resources is needed to lower gas prices and to reduce our terrible dependence on foreign oil. Americans must understand this, because approximately 75 percent of Americans favor exploration and production of our deep sea resources in any poll that you see. That is why I have been fighting and demanding that the House leadership make any effort to allow this drilling to take place and not to renew the prohibitions that prevent greater American energy exploration.

It is my hope that on October 1, these deep-sea resources and oil-shale resources will become available, and we can together celebrate American Energy Freedom Day. And I can assure you that I will oppose any legislation that aims to do otherwise

Introducing Bailey Grey

Music Row's Country Breakout Artist of the Year & SeagoFest Headliner!

When Bailey Grey stepped up to accept her Music Row award as Country Breakout Artist of the Year, she didn't realize that she was also stepping toward a coveted contract with Lofton Creek Records. That was a year ago, but Lofton Creek president Mike Borchetta recalls the moment vividly. "I told my wife, Martha, 'That girl is going to be a star,'" he says.

One of Nashville's most respected talent spotters, Borchetta knew that Grey had already created a groundswell of enthusiasm in her native Texas. But witnessing her grace and self-assurance on stage convinced him she had a presence that matched her sound. "She captures you with her poise," Borchetta observes.

Bailey has been singing—with great skill and earnestness—since she was a toddler. She grew up in a home filled with musicians and music lovers, a situation that gave her a yen to perform and a wide repertoire to draw from. As she matured, she graduated from living room performances to singing at school functions, talent shows, weddings and local festivals.

At the age of 12, Bailey bowed to the urgings of fans and family and recorded her first album at Rosewood Studios in Tyler, Texas, under the guidance of producers Greg Hunt and Gary Leach. Choosing a mixture of her own compositions and personal favorites, Bailey presciently named her album Exit. As it turned out, the album did mark her exit from gifted amateur to determined professional.

Exit not only earned Bailey the opening spot for Mark Willis and other country headliners, it was also picked up for sale by Wal-Mart and Barnes & Noble. In the fall of 2006, Bailey established her own record label—Bailey Entertainment Group (BEG) Records, for which she cut her second album, Don't Look Down. With that album, she released her records to radio for the first time and wound up having cuts played on 105 radio stations around the country.

Since the creation of BEG Records Bailey has scored three Top 15 hits on the Texas Music Chart, three Top 5 hits on the National Independent Country Music Chart and, in 2007 alone, 28,000 radio spins for the Music Row Chart. It was this last accomplishment that won her the Breakout Artist prize.

Now Bailey has moved into the big time. Lofton Creek has just released "Beach Weekend" her latest single to radio stations that report to the Billboard Chart, the music industry's standard of airplay popularity.

"We believe Bailey is going to be one of those artists that will be around for a long time," Borchetta asserts. "She's a spell-binding singer and a great songwriter, as well." The hundreds who saw Bailey perform at Nashville's Hard Rock Café during the 2008 CMA Music Festival agree that she's something special.

These days, Bailey and her band are busy touring. In between dates, she's taking time to visit radio stations to promote the single. To learn more about Bailey Grey and sample her music, visit :www.myspace.com/baileyrecordings.

TAKE A LOAD OFF BY CONSERVING ENERGY

By Terri Shatter, Oncor

It feels good to take a load off. Conserving energy takes a load off our state's utility grid by reducing the demand for electricity and cutting the need for new power plants.

And we're leading the way with energy-efficiency initiatives that are critical for Texas. Since 2002, our investments in energy efficiency programs have helped save enough electricity to power about 75,500 homes for one year. The amount of energy saved in 2007 alone was enough to run almost 13,000 homes.

Our innovative Take a Load Off, Texas<sup>SM</sup> campaign encourages Texans to save energy by making simple, inexpensive changes such as keeping the thermostat set at 78 degrees during the summer and using compact fluorescent bulbs in light fixtures. We're taking a specially equipped van on the road this year to demonstrate these and other specific ways that residents can increase energy efficiency and comfort at home.

We also manage programs that help residents on fixed and low incomes, homeowners, small and large businesses, schools, and governments with conservation efforts. These programs are designed to:

- Reduce energy consumption
- Encourage the installation of energy-efficient technologies
- Make energy efficiency available to all consumers in the areas we serve, regardless which retail electric provider they have chosen

These initiatives represent the largest energy conservation program in the state. But we're just getting started. In addition to our current initiatives, over the next four years, we will be offering new programs focusing on consumer education and advanced technologies.

We're proud to deliver electricity to millions of Texans, and we're committed to enhancing the wise use of our state's resources. I invite you to learn more at www.oncor.com/efficiency.

Catfish Patterns Changing With Cool Weather

By Luke Clayton, Outdoor Editor

East Tawakoni- The way in which Mother Nature subtly changes patterns that affect the daily lives of fish and wildlife from one season to the next has always been awe inspiring for me. In truth, it's all quiet logical; they're only reacting to stimuli such as cooling water and air temperatures, decreasing amounts of sunlight and changing food sources in efforts to most effectively find food and insure the survival of their respective species.

If you're a fisherman or hunter, learning to decipher these predictable changes through the seasons is key to being successful.

I just got off the water at Lake Tawakoni, situated about an hour east of Dallas, with my friend guide George Rule, and learned first hand how catfish react to cooling Fall temperatures.

"Luke, we've seen a shift in the pattern of catfish the past few days. Tawakoni is full of both blue and channel catfish and the channels are still stacking up around holes baited with soured grain, hitting punch bait fished near bottom. This is a pattern that began back in May and will continue until sometime in November when the water cools and the fish's metabolism slows. We've entered an 'inbetween' pattern for blue cats. In a few weeks, when the water cools to around sixty degrees, the trophy blue catfish bite will begin. We'll begin drift fishing with big pieces of cut bait for them and regularly put fish weighing between 25-60 pounds in the boat. We've just entered the early stages of this bite. The big boys haven't started biting but we're enjoy good action drift fishing for smaller blues." said Rule before the trip.

Regular readers of this column might remember the mention of an older gentleman that I encountered at Tawakoni a couple weeks ago that had a cooler full of smaller blues, all landed while drift fished from his float tube. This was a good indicator that the early stages of the Fall blue catfish bite is underway.

"When driftfishing for these smaller blues, we use bass tackle instead of the heavy rod and reels we'll put to use in a few weeks when the trophy blue season begins," says Rule as we motored out from Anchor Inn Marina. "I have some smaller shad for bait while we're drift fishing. Of course, there's plenty of Magic Baits 'Stick It' punch bait to use on the channel catfish later. We'll rig the shad on 4-ought circle hooks. When we target the big boys in a few weeks, we use 9 or 10-ought hooks and pieces of cut bait as big as your hand.

Wind speed is key to successful drift fishing and conditions were less than ideal. Even with the use of a drift sock to slow our drift, our baits were covering the lakes bottom at a clip that Rule deemed a bit too fast. Rule uses a 'Santee Rig' for drift fishing (note picture) which is a basic Carolina rig with a small float situated about six inches up from the bait and a 'worm' weight that consists of several double ought buckshots inside nylon boot lace. "This type weight really helps avoiding hang ups and the small float keeps the bait/hook up off bottom. It's a deadly rig for drift fishing."

After making a long drift that covered some prime blue catfish waters, we managed to connect with a couple of smallish blues. Altering plans is what successful fishing is all about and Rule and I were thinking the same thing. "Ready for some fast paced catfishing?" he said as he pulled in the drift sock. "We'll come back and drift for blues on a day when the wind isn't quiet so strong. Let's head to one of my holes baited with soured grain and hammer a cooler full of channel catfish. What do you think?" I simply love to catch fish and have been fishing long enough to know altering plans is what successful fishing is all about. If one pattern doesn't produce, change to one that does!

Rule eased the big pontoon boat up to a big tree situated in water 21 feet deep. I tied the bow rope snug and we tossed out a coffee can full of soured maize. "We've been baiting this spot for several days," says Rule. The catfish should already be here but

Pirates Plagued By Turnovers

By Greg Rhea, Sports Editor

Carrollton- Entering Friday night's game against the Carrollton Ranchview Wolves, the Pirates were riding pretty high. After an impressive offensive outburst in week one against Princeton, followed up by a come from behind win in week two against Commerce, the Pirates had reason to feel good about themselves. As good as the first two weeks had been, week three for the Pirates was a total nightmare.

This was a game that got away from the Pirates in a hurry. Similar to week two against Commerce, the Pirate offense turned the ball over multiple times in the 1st quarter and put the team in an early hole. The only difference this week was that it was a hole that they would not be able to climb out of. The Pirates fumbled the ball over to the Wolves three times in the 1st quarter. The Wolves took advantage as they scored a touchdown off of each turnover and led 21-0 after the 1st quarter.

Things did not get any better for the Pirates in the 2nd quarter. Pirate QB Tucker Mallon had to leave the game due to an injury and the Pirate offense never was able to get on track. The Wolves added two more touchdowns to take and 35-0 lead and they added one more on top of it before the half came to an end. With the Pirates driving for their first score of the game late in the 2nd quarter, the Pirates threw a costly interception that was returned 68 yards for a Carrollton Ranchview touchdown bringing the Wolves lead over the Pirates to 42-0 heading into halftime.

The Pirates were finally able to get on the score board in the 3rd quarter. Pirate kicker Tanner Dykema was able to knock home a 27 yard field goal for the Pirates first points of the game. Unfortunately for the Pirates, it would be their only points of the game. Without Mallon in at quarterback, the Pirates offense just didn't look the same. The Wolves tacked on 10 more 2nd half points and when this game was finally over, the Pirates left Carrollton suffering their first loss of the year, a 52-3 blowout at the hands of the Wolves.

The Pirate offense which looked pretty good in the first two weeks was held to just 131 yard of total offense last Friday night. Jared Pellman and Austin Kvapil led the Pirates in rushing as they each ran for 43 yards. Brett Russell led all Pirate receivers with 4 catches for 34 yards.

The Pirates will look to bounce back this Friday night as they make a trip out to Ft. Worth to take on F.W. Castleberry. Kickoff is set for 7:30. Following their game against Castleberry, the Pirates will return home on September 26th against Fairfield. The 26th will also be homecoming for the Pirates.

Dragons Unable To Return To Win Column

By Greg Rhea, Sports Editor

Terrell- The Seagoville Dragons entered last Friday nights game looking to grab their first win of the year. The Dragons had lost their first two home and were hoping for better luck on the road as they traveled to Terrell to tangle with the Terrell Tigers.

As this game began Seagoville got the ball on offense first but was not able to generate any kind of early offense. The Terrell Tigers were able to draw first blood in this one as they scored on a 4 yard pass play for an early lead. The extra point was good and the Tigers led 7-0. Following the Tiger touchdown, the Dragons offense still could not get in gear. Seagoville QB Dunston Owens was able to put a couple of passes right on the money but the Seagoville wide receivers were not able to hang on to them. Before the quarter was over, Terrell got the ball back and put it in the end zone for another touchdown. The extra point was once again good and after 1 quarter of play, Terrell had a 14-0 lead over the Dragons.

The Dragons were finally able to get on the board in the 2nd quarter thanks to their special teams. The Dragons were able to block a Tigers punt and recover the ball with great field position. The Dragons wasted little time scoring as they drove the ball down the Tigers throat. Owens finished off the drive with a 1 yard touchdown run. Moises Hernandez knocked home the extra point to cut the Tiger lead to just 7. Before the half was over however, Terrell was able to push their lead back up to 14. The Tigers were able to score just before the half was over on a 1 yard run to take back the momentum. Their extra point was good and the Tigers led 21-7 over the Dragons heading into the locker room.

In the 3rd quarter, neither team's offense was able to establish themselves. The Tigers scored the only the only points of the 3rd quarter as they kicked home a 23 yard field goal to increase their lead to 24-7. With only 1 quarter left to play, the Dragons found themselves once again in a too familiar spot, trailing.

The Dragons would come out in the 4th quarter though and prove that they have a lot of fight and a lot of heart. Sparked by the play of Owens and great play by the defense, the Dragons would mount a 4th quarter rally to put themselves right back in the game with a chance to win. Owens got things started for the Dragons as he broke loose and scored on a 40 yard touchdown run. Hernandez's extra point was once again good as the Dragons began to chip away. The Dragons defense stepped up to the plate as they stopped the Tiger offense. The Dragons offense took over once again and Owens struck again, this time through the air. Owens was able to connect with Tim Fields for a 42 yard touchdown pass. Hernandez kicked home his third extra point of the night and all of a sudden the Dragons were only down by 3 points. On the kickoff however, Terrell Tiger Joel Wren was able to bust loose for a 75 yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The Tiger extra point was good and their lead was back up to 10. As disheartening as that kickoff return was, the Dragons continued to add to his impressive night as he connected with Timothy Hatton for a 75 yard touchdown pass. The Hernandez extra point was good and with just 25 seconds left, the Dragons were again to within 3. The only hope that the Dragons had left was to recover an onside kick. The Dragons attempted to do just that but the Tigers were able to come away with the ball. Tiger QB Barrett Calverly just took a knee to run out the clock as the Dragons comeback attempt came up a little short as they fell to Terrell 31-28.

For the second week in a row, the Dragons offense was not able to get on track until the 4th quarter. Dunston Owens had another outstanding game for the Dragons. Owens led the Dragons with 125 yards rushing and 160 yards passing. Owens had a hand in all 4 of the Dragons touchdowns. Timothy Hatton led the Dragons in receiving with 3 catches for 102 yards.

The Dragons will have a bye week this week to try and regroup before they open up district play on Friday September 26th against the Pinkston Vikings. That game will be played in Seagoville and kickoff is set for 7:30.

Bad Weather Doesn't Slow Down SYSA

Last Saturday was week # 4 in the SYSA Football season. Week 4 produced more good games and some bad weather. Every player gave it their all. The Flag Division featured two close games decided in the 2nd half. The Sophomore Division featured one real close game and another ending in a tie. The Senior Division featured an exciting game that was closer than the score indicated and the Junior Division had a bye week.

The first game of the day in the Flag Division was won by the Cowboys 20-7 over the Texans. At halftime of this game, the score was tied at 7 with Chris Miller scoring on a 7 yard run for the Texans and Devon Daniels breaking loose for a 65 yard score for the Cowboys. In the 2nd half, the Cowboys defense was able to shut down the Texans offense while their offense was able to put up 13 unanswered points led by Oliver "PJ" Parker with a 65 yard sprint and Cord Fowler on a 23 yard score. The second game saw the Broncos remain undefeated with a 25-20 comeback victory over the Pitbulls. The Pitbulls one-two punch of Cameron Lee and Stephan Kirk were able to give the Pitbulls a 14-13 lead at the half as they each scored from 65 yards out. The Broncos scored twice in the 1st half with Dylan Warren scoring from 65 yards out and Jacob Acuna scoring from 12 yards out. In the 2nd half, Dylan Gidley scored for the Broncos on a 1 yard plunge and Harvest added another Bronco touchdown from 12 yards out. Lee was able to score another touchdown for the Pitbulls from 70 yards out but it wasn't enough to overcome the strong 2nd half from the Broncos.

In the Sophomore Division first game the Cowboys and Texans fought hard and ended in a rare 0-0 tie. The game was one of the best defensive games that we have seen in a long time. This one came down to both defenses not willing to give up a score. The game featured a lot of hard hitting action and good sportsmanship. The second game in the Junior Division saw the Broncos pull out a 13-0 victory over the Pitbulls. Led by their quarterback Zach Demars, the Broncos were able to pull off the victory. Demars was able to score on runs of 70 and 35 yards. The Pitbulls were unable to get their offense rolling while the Broncos defense stepped it up as the Broncos moved a step closer to first place with a big game against the Cowboys coming up.

The Senior Division featured a battle for first place between the Broncos and the Texans. When it was all said and done and all the smoke had cleared, the Broncos were able to come away with a 26-0 win. Nathaniel Banks was able to lead the Broncos attack as he scored on runs of 50, 60 and 45 yards. The Broncos offense was able to put lots of points on the board while the Texans were unable get into any kind of rhythm. Eric Ross was also able to score for the Broncos on a 15 yard run while Kelton Grimes completed a two point conversion to Dakota Allen for the rest of the Broncos scores. With the win the Broncos take over sole position of first place in the Senior Division.

DONNA'S DAY: CREATIVE FAMILY FUN

Share Everyday Moments With Grandchildren

By Donna Erickson

No matter when they arrive, Karla Nigh's grandkids know they are welcome before they even walk through the front door of her Victorian house, perched on a hillside overlooking North California's Monterey Bay. Lined up in perfect symmetry across a weather-worn bench by the front porch stand four colorful, kid-size watering cans each with the name of a grandchild hand painted across the top.

"When the grandkids come over, we share and celebrate everyday things, whether we're making pizza, watering the flowers or planting a small vegetable garden," said 62-year-old Karla. "I have to confess, we tried to grow pumpkins until the deer ate the plants. That's when the kids lost interest. But today we're out of the garden and off to town for school supplies."

There's more than teaching life skills and memory-making going on when Karla looks at her role as a grandmother. "Parents need a break from the daily demands of raising kids," she emphasizes. "My husband and I invite the grandkids for weekend sleepovers occasionally so that their parents can have time alone. It's important for their marriages; as lay marriage counselors at our church, we see a lot of young, exhausted couples who need a break and time to 'go on a date' with one another without the demands of kids around 24/7," she said. "We can step in once in awhile, and everybody wins."

While you might not have a large garden to tend with your grandkids, or even live nearby, every grandparent has something to offer. Be a fan and show up at your grand-daughter's soccer match, rake leaves and get a chore done together, or go out for an ice-cream cone for a Saturday-afternoon treat. Even if you live far away, every gesture is special. Send a text message now and then, e-mail photos or call on the phone and sing a silly song together.

It's the little, simple things that grandparents do with their grandkids that bring them back with smiles time after time.

E-mail tip: If you are a tech-shy grandparent, like my 83-year-old mom, who doesn't use a computer, you might feel like you are out of the family communication loop. We've come up with a simple solution. Now my mom can receive e-mail and full-color digital photos from the grandkids without a computer or Internet connection with a Presto Printing Mailbox and the Presto Mail Service. She simply uses her existing phone line and an electrical outlet. For more information: www.presto.com.

Just Talkin

By Brother Mike Allcorn, Pastor of Point View Baptist Church

Hurricanes...Gustav, Hannah, Ike all devastating somewhere. It just so happens that Ike has affected us here in North Texas. As I listened Friday and Saturday and on into the next week, my mind went back to the warnings that had been given for people to evacuate Galveston. Then there were those that made a conscious choice to stay. They, no doubt, thought as many times before "I will be alright, nothing is going to happen." As all of us know that was not so. I am reminded of the 911 calls that came in, in the middle of the storm crying for help only to have the dispatcher say that there was no help, help would not be coming.

My mind went back to a verse of scripture that was left for the child of God...I will never leave you or forsake you... simply put I will be with you wherever you are. Do we have storms in our lives? Yes. Are they pleasant? Not always? Do we feel the pressures of them? Most definitely. The Bible says Casting all your cares on him (Jesus) for He cares for you. Dear friend in the midst of the hurricane, the tornado, the storms, the calm, God can give a peace that passes all understanding. I don't know where you and your family are right now but God does and He is there to answer every 911 call with Help is on the way. Just Talking or maybe Just Thinking.

 price gouging should call the hotline at (800) 252-8011. Information collected is relayed directly to agency investigators.
 A disaster declaration triggers heightened enforcement authority for the Office of the Attorney General under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act. This authority protects Texans by prohibiting exorbitant prices for necessities, such as drinking water, food, batteries and generators.
 Texans should keep written records and receipts of any transaction they believe constitutes price gouging. If speaking directly with the service provider does not resolve the dispute, Texans should call the toll-free complaint line or, if Internet service is available, file a complaint online at www.texasattorneygeneral.gov.
 Although the law prohibits vendors from illegally raising prices to reap exorbitant profits during a disaster, it does allow retailers to pass along wholesale price increases to customers. Thus, in some cases, increased prices may not necessarily signal illegal price gouging.

 This fresh grain will turn them on quickly." Fishing a hole that has been baited is a sure fire method of getting into channel catfish action quickly but we could have also baited several spots with grain and returned to fish each with success. For those lucky enough to live on the water, keeping a few 'baited holes' makes locating and catching catfish much easier.
 I love to use light spinning tackle for channel catfishing, it's much easier to feel the often subtle bite when they are 'mouthing' the baits. We rigged the lighter tackle with #6 treble hooks and clamped a small split shot about six inches above and punched the hooks into the buckets of punch bait. In just over an hour, Rule and I landed limits of channel catfish weighing between 1.5 and 3 pounds. To my way of thinking, there is no better eating fish in fresh water.
 Drift fishing for Tawakoni's trophy blues is only weeks away but right now, I see absolutely nothing wrong with the fast paced action for channel catfish. I see a big fish fry in the very near future!
 Guide George Rule can be reached at 214-202-6631. Check out his video at www.lukeshotspots.com
