SPENDING

CONSTITUTIONAL SPENDING LIMITS

Texas has four constitutional limits on spending: the “pay-as-you-go,” or balanced budget limit; the limit on the rate of growth of appropriations from certain state taxes; the limit on welfare spending; and the limit on debt service. The 2014–15 biennial budget is within all of these limits.

THE “PAY-AS-YOU-GO” LIMIT

Article III, Section 49a, of the Texas Constitution sets out the “pay-as-you-go” limit. It requires that bills making appropriations be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA) for certification that appropriations are within estimates of available revenue. In summer 2013, the CPA certified that the 2014–15 GAA and other appropriations bills were in compliance with the “pay-as-you-go” limit. Specifically, the CPA certified that projected available revenue will exceed spending from General Revenue Funds for the 2014–15 biennium by approximately $683.1 million. In December 2013, the CPA updated its revenue estimate projecting available revenue to exceed spending from General Revenue Funds by approximately $2.6 billion for the 2014–15 biennium, an increase of approximately $1.9 billion compared to the previous estimate.

LIMIT ON THE GROWTH OF CERTAIN APPROPRIATIONS

Article VIII, Section 22, of the Texas Constitution limits the biennial rate of growth of appropriations from state tax revenue not dedicated by the Constitution to the estimated rate of growth of the state’s economy. On November 15, 2012, the Legislative Budget Board (LBB) established the following elements of the Article VIII spending limit: the estimated rate of growth of the state’s economy, the level of 2012–13 biennial appropriations from state tax revenue not dedicated by the Texas Constitution, and the resulting 2014–15 biennial limit. The LBB instructed its staff to adjust the level of 2012–13 biennial appropriations from state tax revenue not dedicated by the Constitution and the resulting 2014–15 biennial spending limit calculation to reflect subsequent appropriations certified by the CPA and official revenue estimate revisions by the CPA.

Actions taken in 2013 by the Eighty-third Legislature affected the 2012–13 biennial level of appropriations from state tax revenue not dedicated by the Texas Constitution. After adjusting for these actions and revenue estimate revisions by the CPA, the adjusted 2014–15 biennial limit on appropriations from state tax revenue not dedicated by the Constitution is $85.2 billion. Appropriations for the 2014–15 biennium from state taxes not dedicated by the Constitution are estimated to be $85.0 billion, $263.4 million less than the amount authorized. The remainder of the state’s $200.4 billion budget is funded with nontax revenue and constitutionally dedicated tax revenue not subject to the Article VIII limit. Based on the CPA’s December 2013 revenue estimate, an additional $380.5 million could be appropriated from General Revenue Funds for the 2014–15 biennium before reaching the spending limit because General Revenue Funds are financed with both revenue subject to the spending limit and revenue not subject to the spending limit.

WELFARE SPENDING LIMIT

Article III, Section 51-a, of the Texas Constitution provides that the amount that may be paid out of state funds for assistance grants to or on behalf of needy dependent children and their caretakers (i.e., Temporary Assistance for Needy Families [TANF]) shall not exceed 1 percent of the state budget in any biennium. The total state budget as adopted in Senate Bill 1 (as modified by other legislation), by the Eighty-third Legislature, 2013, is $200.4 billion. Accordingly, the 1 percent welfare spending limit is $2.0 billion. The total amount of state funds appropriated for TANF grants is $132.5 million, which is $1,871.7 million less than the 1 percent limit.

SPENDING (CONTINUED)

DEBT LIMIT

Article III, Section 49(j) of the Texas Constitution limits the authorization of additional state debt if in any fiscal year the resulting annual debt service payable from the unrestricted General Revenue Fund—which excludes revenues constitutionally dedicated for purposes other than payment of state debt—exceeds 5 percent of the average annual unrestricted General Revenue Funds for the previous three years. To monitor the constitutional limit, the Bond Review Board (BRB) calculates two debt ratios. The first debt ratio is the debt service on outstanding (issued) debt as a percentage of unrestricted General Revenue Funds, and for the end of fiscal year 2013, the issued debt calculation is 1.34 percent, which is no change from the fiscal year 2012 calculation. The second debt ratio is the debt service on outstanding debt, plus estimated debt service for authorized but unissued debt as a percentage of unrestricted General Revenue Funds. For this second ratio, at the end of fiscal year 2013, BRB determined that the state is at 3.04 percent of General Revenue Funds, reflecting a decrease from the fiscal year 2012 calculation of 3.48 percent.

Any significant change in any of the following three components will affect the constitutional debt limit: (1) the amount of General Obligation (GO) debt authorized by voters; (2) the three-year average of unrestricted General Revenue Funds; and (3) interest rates on issued GO bond debt. The fiscal year 2013 debt limit ratio for issued and authorized but unissued debt decreased by 44 basis points from fiscal year 2012. This ratio decrease is partially due to increased unrestricted General Revenue Funds in fiscal year 2013, which resulted in a higher three-year average of available funds. The decrease is also partially the result of GO debt issuances in excess of $1.0 billion by the Texas Department of Transportation for highway construction and by the Texas Public Finance Authority for cancer research. When these bonds were issued, it resulted in lower interest rates than previously estimated, thus lowering the amount of debt service required.

STATE INDEBTEDNESS

Texas continues to have a low state debt burden compared with other states, ranking ninth among the 10 most-populous states in state debt per capita in 2011, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. The U.S. Census Bureau further indicates Texas' per capita debt burden was $1,479 in 2011 while the U.S. average was $3,635.

Texas had approximately $37.9 billion in state bonds outstanding as of August 31, 2013. This total reflects debt outstanding by state agencies, excluding approximately $5.6 billion in revenue conduit issuances. In a conduit issuance, the issuer (the state) issues on behalf of a third-party borrower whose project generally has a public benefit, such as a housing project. When a state agency issues as a conduit issuer it has no legal obligation to repay the bond because the bond is backed by the third-party borrower's credit or funds. General

Obligation (GO) bonds, which depend on the General Revenue Fund for debt service, account for an estimated 35.3 percent of the total bonds outstanding. The chart shows outstanding GO debt by agency as of August 31, 2013. Non-GO or revenue bonds comprise the remaining 64.7 percent. Approximately 69.9 percent of the outstanding GO bond indebtedness is designed to be self-supporting, although the full faith and credit of the state is pledged for its payment.

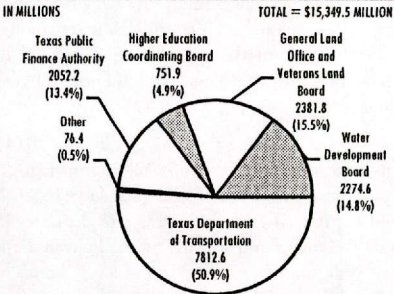

Debt service costs included in the state budget for the 2014–15 biennium total $4,012.1 million, or 2.0 percent of total appropriations. The increase in debt service costs from the 2012–13 biennial level is $912.9 million, or 29.5 percent, and is primarily due to increases in debt service requirement out of the General Revenue Fund and the State Highway Fund for highway improvements as well as debt service on existing bonds issued by the Texas Public Finance Authority (TPFA), primarily for cancer research and prevention grants.

Included in the debt service costs are approximately $11.7 million in General Revenue Funds to the Texas Public Finance Authority for debt service related to $146.2 million in new GO bond proceeds for deferred maintenance and courthouse preservation grants; approximately $145.2 million in General Revenue Funds to the Texas Department of Transportation for debt service related to $2.1 billion in GO bond proceeds for highway construction; and approximately $6.0 million in General Revenue Funds to the Texas Water Development Board for debt service on $50 million in GO bond proceeds for the Economically Distressed Areas Program water programs.

Debt service appropriations include a biennial increase of $88.5 million in General Revenue–Dedicated Funds, primarily related to the use of certain Tobacco Settlement funds for debt service on cancer prevention and research bonds for existing and future issuances.

SUMMARY OF STATE FUNCTIONAL AREAS

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

ALL FUNDS 2014–15 BIENNIUM

FULL-TIME-EQUIVALENT POSITIONS

2014–15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014–15 biennium of $4.8 billion in All Funds decreased from the 2012–13 biennium by $77.8 million, or 1.6 percent. The decrease is primarily due to the elimination of remaining funds from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 for Fiscal Programs – Comptroller of Public Accounts, reductions to various grant programs at the Trusted Programs within the Office of the Governor, reductions to various deferred maintenance and construction projects at the Facilities Commission and the Historical Commission, and reductions for the expenditure of federal Help America Vote Act funds at the Secretary of State.

Appropriations for state contributions for general state employees' retirement total $818.6 million in All Funds for the 2014–15 biennium. The base state contribution for employees' is 6.5 percent in fiscal year 2014 and 7.5 percent in fiscal year 2015. The General Appropriations Act provides for an additional retirement contribution from all general state agencies of 0.5 percent of the total base wages and salaries for each eligible employee and allows for an increase to the state contribution in fiscal year 2014 up to 7.5 percent out of retirement and insurance unexpended and unobligated balances remaining as of August 31, 2013. This authority, in addition to the 0.5 percent state agency contribution, brings the total employer contribution rate to 8.0 percent in each fiscal year of the 2014–15 biennium. Contributions from state employees increase from 6.5 percent each fiscal year of the 2012–13 biennium to 6.6 percent in fiscal year 2014 and 6.9 percent in fiscal year 2015.

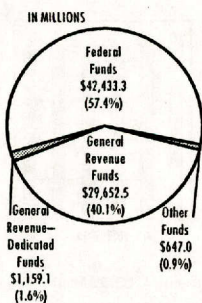

SELECTED FACTS

According to the 2012 National Association of State Retirement Administrators Public Fund Survey, the Texas Employees Retirement System (ERS) ranks 34th in size with an asset market value of $22.9 billion, and ERS also ranks 33rd in size in total membership (active plus annuitants) with 227,595 members.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium increased by $2.3 billion in General Revenue Funds and General Revenue-Dedicated Funds and by $5.1 billion in All Funds from the previous biennium. This increase in General Revenue Funds and General Revenue-Dedicated Funds reflects an increase in Medicaid expenditures for projected growth in caseloads, including a transfer of children from CHIP to Medicaid (per the Affordable Care Act); an increase for Medicaid cost growth; fully funding foster care and adoption subsidies; increasing child protective services staffing; and increasing community and state hospital mental health funding, including eliminating the waiting lists for community services. Funding levels assume achievement of certain cost containment initiatives and budgeted savings, including savings from increased fraud detection recoveries and expanded primary healthcare services for women.

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include $23.0 billion in General Revenue Funds and General Revenue-Dedicated Funds and $58.2 billion in All Funds for the Medicaid program; $148.9 million in General Revenue Funds and $791.8 million in Federal Funds for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)-related programs, which include cash assistance; and $587.2 million in General Revenue Funds, and $2.0 billion in All Funds for the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP).

SELECTED FACTS

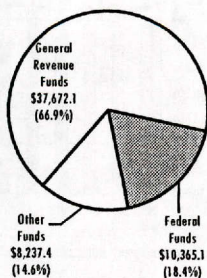

In fiscal year 2015, Health and Human Service appropriations are projected to support services for 4.2 million acute care Medicaid recipients per month (74.0 percent are children), 373,594 clients per month through CHIP, and 99,726 TANF cash assistance clients per month. Other fiscal year 2015 projections include: the average number of Medicaid nursing home clients per month is 58,388; the average net monthly facility cost per resident is $3,594; the number of completed child abuse/neglect investigations is 170,775; and the number of confirmed cases is 42,514.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium increased from the 2012-13 biennium by $3,874.6 million, or 7.4 percent, in All Funds.

Appropriations for public school operations and facilities through the Foundation School Program (FSP) total $40.4 billion in All Funds, an increase of $2.5 billion compared to 2012-13. The FSP appropriation reflects decisions by the Eighty-third Legislature to increase school district entitlements through increases to the basic allotment in both fiscal years 2014 and 2015 and through restoration of reductions enacted by the Eighty-second Legislature for 2012-13 through elimination of the Regular Program Adjustment Factor. School district entitlement for 2014-15 is increased by $3.4 billion compared to what they otherwise would have earned in the 2014-15 biennium under prior law.

The Texas School for the Blind and Visually Impaired and the Texas School for the Deaf are experiencing increased student enrollment for the 2013-14 school year, particularly among students ages 18 to 22 who are extending their education through transition services and independent living services.

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium provide $3.9 billion to the Teacher Retirement System to support retirement and insurance benefits to TRS-covered employees.

SELECTED FACTS

Public education funding supports the second largest school-age population in the country, with an estimated 5.1 million students. Students are served in 1,025 school districts, 8,003 regular campuses, and 552 charter school campuses across the state.

In the 2001-02 school year, Hispanics surpassed Anglos as the largest ethnic group enrolled in Texas public schools. In the 2012-13 school year, Hispanic students comprised 51 percent of enrollment compared to 30 percent for Anglos, 13 percent for African American students, and 6 percent for Asian students and other ethnic groups.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium decreased from the 2012-13 biennium by $5.7 billion, or 26.9 percent, in All Funds. Increases in General Revenue Funds were offset by decreases in Other Funds resulting from the exclusion of patient income appropriations at the health related institutions. The receipt of these funds is not limited by the Legislature and institutions will continue to receive this revenue.

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include $4.6 billion in General Revenue Funds for the general academic institutions, system offices, Lamar State Colleges, and Texas State Technical Colleges; $2.5 billion for the health-related institutions; $1.8 billion for public community and junior colleges; and $1.2 billion for higher education group insurance. Funding for financial assistance programs includes $694.6 million in General Revenue Funds and $30.0 million in Other Funds, which are donations from the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation, for the TEXAS Grants Program; and $180.1 million in General Revenue Funds for Tuition Equalization Grants.

SELECTED FACTS

The Texas system of public higher education encompasses 38 general academic teaching institutions; three lower-division institutions; 50 community and junior college districts; one technical college with four main campuses; nine health-related institutions, including seven state medical schools; three dental schools; and numerous other allied health and nursing units.

Approximately 1.3 million students were enrolled in public higher education institutions in fall 2012.

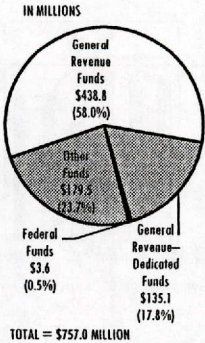

The target for percentage of students graduating from public universities in six years or less is 58 percent in fiscal year 2014.

The target for percentage of students graduating from public universities in four years or less is 29.9 percent in fiscal year 2014.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium increased from the 2012-13 biennium by $100.9 million, or 15.4 percent, in All Funds. Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include the following increases: $35.4 million in General Revenue-Dedicated Funds to fund a new e-filing portal for civil cases, which based on a Supreme Court mandate must be filed electronically beginning in January 2014; $34.8 million in General Revenue Funds for a 12 percent judicial pay raise for judges and prosecutors whose salaries are statutorily linked to state district judge pay; $16.7 million in General Revenue-Dedicated Funds to appropriate all receipts and unexpended balances in the Fair Defense Account No. 5073 for grants to counties for criminal defense legal services for income-eligible Texans; and $6.4 million in General Revenue Funds for similar funding for same-sized courts block grant for the fourteen courts of appeals, mostly for targeted pay raises for legal and non-legal staff. The Eighty-third Legislature also provided targeted pay raises for legal and non-legal staff at the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

SELECTED FACTS

Texas is one of only two states with two courts of last resort—the Supreme Court, which hears only civil and juvenile cases, and the Court of Criminal Appeals, which hears only criminal cases. The latter also has exclusive jurisdiction over appeals in death penalty cases and the power to issue writs.

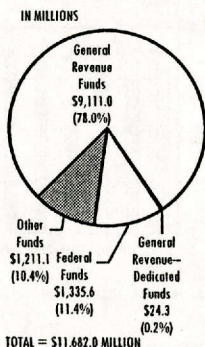

Texas is one of seven states that select its judges through partisan elections, in which the candidate's party affiliation is listed on the ballot.

According to a National Center for State Courts 2013 survey, Texas ranks fifth, sixth, and fifth in judicial pay for highest appellate courts, intermediate appellate courts, and district courts, respectively among the 10 most populous states. However, when salaries are adjusted by a cost-of-living index, Texas ranks third, fourth, and third, respectively, in judicial pay.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Public Safety and Criminal Justice appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium decreased from the 2012-13 biennium by $27.0 million, or 0.2 percent, in All Funds. Reductions are attributed to a variety of factors including a General Revenue-Dedicated Fund reduction of $136.1 million, an estimated Federal Funds reduction of $442.8 million, and an Other Funds reduction of $187.4 million, and offsetting increases of $739.3 million in General Revenue Funds. Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include $5.1 billion in All Funds for the incarceration and treatment of adults by the Department of Criminal Justice; $651.4 million in All Funds for juvenile justice services, programs, and incarceration primarily through the Juvenile Justice Department; and $2.7 billion in All Funds for the Department of Public Safety's many functions, including border security.

SELECTED FACTS

The 2014-15 biennium begins with 150,791 adults and 1,327 juveniles incarcerated in the state's correctional system.

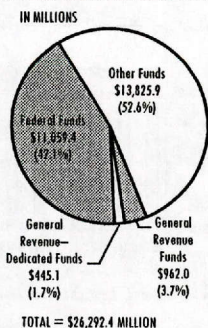

A total population of 258,557 offenders was under direct community supervision (adult probation) at the end of fiscal year 2013. A total population of 87,662 offenders was actively supervised on parole.

Texas' Index Crime Rate has shown a marked decrease since the late 1980s. The Index Crime Rate reached a high of 8,020 crimes per 100,000 population in 1988. In 2012, the most recent year for which data are available, the rate was 3,767 crimes per 100,000 population.

2014–15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014–15 biennium increased from the 2012–13 biennium by $1,805.8 billion, or 36.4 percent, in All Funds primarily due to the appropriation of $2.0 billion from the Economic Stabilization Fund to finance the State Water Plan. The $2.0 billion will be transferred to the newly created State Water Implementation Fund for Texas and in concert with General Obligation (GO) and revenue bond authority finance water projects. Overall, General Revenue Funds and General Revenue–Dedicated Funds for Natural Resources increased by $207.3 million, or 12.4 percent from the 2012–13 biennial spending levels. The largest appropriation increases occurred at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for state park operations ($29.1 million); grants to small and large communities to acquire and develop new parks ($15.5 million); and various eligible uses of hunting and fishing license and stamp receipts ($29.3 million), including wildlife and fishery operations, wildlife diversity programs and repairs and improvements at freshwater fish hatcheries. The Eighty-third Legislature also established new emission reduction program allocations at the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality and added $25.0 million in funding for Texas Emission Reduction Plan (TERP) Account No. 5071 grants.

SELECTED FACTS

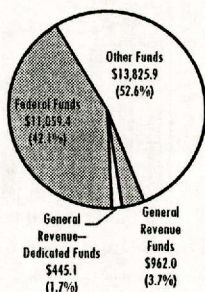

Among the 50 states, Texas ranks first in the number of farms and total farm land acreage, first in the daily production of crude oil, first in total toxic air emissions, eighth in the number of sites deleted from the hazardous waste sites on the National Priority List, twentieth in the number of state parks, recreation areas, and natural areas, and thirtieth in the number of state park visitors.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium increased from the 2012-13 biennium by $3.3 billion, or 14.9 percent, in All Funds.

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include an increase of $3.2 billion in All Funds for the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) in appropriations primarily from Federal Funds and State Highway Funds for highway improvements and preservation. Of this amount, $878.6 million in State Highway Funds for construction, maintenance, and acquisition of rights-of-way for non-tolled public roadways are contingent on voter approval to a proposed constitutional amendment.

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium include an increase of $103.3 million in All Funds for the Texas Workforce Commission. This net increase is primarily attributable to the transfer of the Adult Education and Literacy program from the Texas Education Agency ($146.5 million) due to the enactment of Senate Bill 307, Eighty-third Legislature, Regular Session, 2013, which offsets decreases in Federal Funds ($56.4 million) resulting from federal allotment reductions impacting multiple programs and Federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding no longer being available.

SELECTED FACTS

The state retained approximately $1.2 billion in gross receipts from lottery ticket sales, making it fourth in net revenues retained in the nation.

TxDOT contracted for 1,482 highway construction projects during the 2012-13 biennium. Over 23.2 million vehicles were registered in Texas in fiscal year 2013.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium increased from the 2012-13 biennium by $557.4 million, or 88.2 percent, in All Funds.

The Public Utility Commission was appropriated $757.5 million in All Funds for the 2014-15 biennium, which is an increase of $578.1 million from the 2012-13 biennium. Appropriations include $745.5 million in General Revenue-Dedicated Funds from the System Benefit Fund to provide $728.3 million for energy assistance to certain low-income electric customers, $14.1 million for market oversight and administration, and $1.5 million for customer education. Enacted legislation eliminates the fee in order to remove the remaining balance within the fund.

The Department of Insurance was appropriated $226.4 million in All Funds, which includes a decrease of $31.5 million from the 2012-13 biennium, for the regulation of the insurance industry and to promote safe and healthy workplaces while ensuring the appropriate delivery of workers' compensation benefits. Approximately $187.8 million of these appropriations are funded with maintenance tax revenues. The decrease in funding is primarily due to reductions for the Healthy Texas Program ($30.9 million) including the elimination of Interagency Contracts and Healthy Texas Small Employer Premium Stabilization Fund balances no longer being available. The program allowed health benefit plan issuers to receive reimbursements from claims paid for individuals covered under qualifying group health plans.

SELECTED FACTS

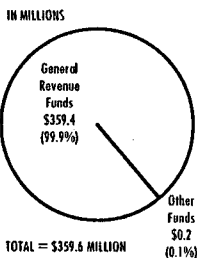

Texas has 24 regulatory agencies which regulate a wide range of industries and occupations, including insurance, telecommunications, electric utilities, securities, financial institutions, real estate, health-related occupations, and pari-mutuel racing.

In fiscal year 2013, the number of individuals licensed, registered, or certified by the state totaled 1,549,864. This number is anticipated to increase to 1,691,848 in fiscal year 2014 and 1,738,401 in fiscal year 2015.

2014-15 BIENNIAL FUNDING HIGHLIGHTS

Appropriations for the 2014-15 biennium of $359.6 million for the Texas Legislature increased from the 2012-13 biennium by $10.8 million, or 3.1 percent, in All Funds.

SELECTED FACTS

Texas became the twenty-eighth state admitted to the Union on December 29, 1845. The First Legislature convened in February 1846 and adjourned in May of that year.

The Legislature convenes in Austin for a 140-day regular session every two years in odd-numbered years. The Governor may call additional 30-day special sessions, as needed, in which the Legislature may consider only the subjects submitted to it by the Governor.

The Senate consists of 31 senators elected to four-year overlapping terms of office. The Lieutenant Governor, an elected official, is the presiding officer of the Senate and serves a four-year term.

The House of Representatives consists of 150 representatives elected in even-numbered years to two-year terms of office. At the beginning of each regular session, the House elects a Speaker of the House from its members to serve as its presiding officer.

In 2013, Texas ranks eleventh in the number of state legislative members (with 181 members) which represents an average of 146,123 residents per legislator; well above the national average of 42,731 residents per legislator.

Texas Legislators receive an annual salary of $7,200. While in session, their per diem rate (fiscal year 2013) is $150.
