Our loving and generous Father, we step into Your presence today with a sense of awe and reverence. We know that You care uniquely about the affairs of our world, country, and state. We pray for Your divine inspiration and leadership for those in national office. But today we especially lift up our state government and this great body in particular. For our State Senators, we pray for an unusual endowment of insight and wisdom as they wrestle with difficult issues in difficult times. May they seek You in every decision. Give to them a fresh vision and unity of purpose. Forgive us for the mistakes of the past, and may Your light guide our steps of tomorrow. Now, may Your richest blessings fall upon the great State of Texas, her leaders, and her citizens. Thank You for the opportunities of this day to lead, inspire, work together, and to follow Your will. We offer this prayer in the name of Christ, our savior and lord. Amen.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Whitmire and by unanimous consent, the remarks regarding SR 973 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senator Whitmire: Thank you, Mr. President and Members. I would like to, unless Senator Schwertner would like to do this for me, actually, I would not allow anyone to have this opportunity because I want it, on behalf of this body. We're pleased today, Members, to present Senate Resolution 973 honoring our colleague, Senator Judith Zaffirini, on reaching a monumental milestone, a record 50,000 consecutive record votes in the Texas Senate. Whether you've been here as long as I have been, or if you're a freshman, you realize how difficult and practically impossible to do this, unless you're Senator Zaffirini, because it is a milestone and it's an accomplishment unheard of in legislative institutions. Fifty-thousand record votes, and we've all seen firsthand Senator Zaffirini's dedication to the Texas Senate and those that she represents. We all know that she is usually the first to arrive at the Capitol each morning so she can prepare for the day ahead and review legislation that will come on the floor and in committees. I am honored to serve with Senator Zaffirini having watched her arrive in 1987, knew of her in democratic circles, civic leadership positions across this state, but for her to become the first female Hispanic State Senator in 1987 and have the commitment and dedication to never ever be off the floor or attending to other duties, always recording her vote. I've been here. I know how difficult it is for anyone to accomplish this. But only through her dedication and commitment to her district and the State of Texas allows you to accomplish such a huge accomplishment. With us today is her past and present staff, the kind of commitment, and she would be the first to acknowledge that it's our staffs that also allows that accomplishment. Also with us today is her pride and joy and a very accomplished young man, Carlos, her son. I could speak many, many more words about her legislative accomplishments, the subject matters, the leadership roles, but it's well-documented. And I'm just proud on behalf of this body, and I would also suggest previous Lieutenant Governors, I know Bob Bullock, if he was here he would be so proud because he was such a dedicated public servant in his own right. Bill Hobby, who was Lieutenant Governor for 20 years, Bill Ratliff, Senator Ellis, Rick Perry, David Dewhurst, the leadership of this body knows that if you really want to get something accomplished during the session, you can do it so much more effectively if you have Senator Zaffirini working on that issue. Senator Zaffirini, as Dean of the Senate and as someone that has such a respect for public service, and for someone who knows experience counts, I salute you today as a colleague, as a Hispanic State Senator and someone that epitomizes what public service should be. Your integrity is beyond reproach, your hard work, your early arrival, your late leaving, so, as you know, I don't always agree, as none of us do, but I never have to wonder where you're coming from and that your word is your bond, and you're a tribute to the State of Texas and, particularly, this legislative body. For that, Mr. President, I yield to my colleagues to join me in this celebration.

Senator Duncan: Thank you, Mr. President and Members and Senator Zaffirini. Congratulations on this occasion, it is unique and probably will never be done again, unless you get to 60. I think we'll do it then, but you are, and Senator Whitmire stated it very well, but you have been a mentor to a lot of us on how to do this right. No one is more organized. No one runs a better committee. No one does the things that you do in order to be prepared every day. When you start asking questions in Finance, I know exactly where you're going because you are consistent in the way you do it, and that consistency yields a lot of results for you and for the Senate. So, I want to recognize this and congratulate you on this honor and also on the respect that you have earned in this body from your, not only your abilities as a legislator but also for your abilities on the public policy issues and the guidance you give to all of us. So, congratulations to you today, and we'll do this again in another five or, well, I don't know how long it takes to get to 60, but we'll see.

Senator Ellis: I, too, rise to salute the great Judith Zaffirini on her 50,000 votes. Members, I think it's important to note that not only did she cast 50,000 votes but she cast the right votes 50,000 times. May be a couple of times that I voted the wrong way, and I'm so sorry for that, Senator Zaffirini. Dean, you really have said it all. I can only add to it by saying that when I think about Senator Zaffirini and her life's work, the attention to detail, printing out the motions, not some sessions, but every session, updating them for us, even if they haven't changed, she updates that card she gives out every session so that it has the right year on it and the right session. It is that attention to detail, Senator Zaffirini, that I think has made you a success throughout your life, even before you were here. And it's made you a good teacher. Anytime I'm giving a speech, I really dread having you in the audience. You always do it in such a pleasant, polite, motherly way, but you do tell me if I split a verb or two or if I delayed too long in the enunciation or if I mispronounced a name or if I forgot a name. But when you do it, I know it's from the heart. It is not to be critical just for the sake of being critical, but to help me and help all of us to be the very best that we can be. And, Senator, that is what you have been in this body and throughout your life, the very best that Judith Zaffirini can be, and for that, we thank you.

Senator Van de Putte: Mr. President and Members, I also rise to salute my dear friend, Judith Zaffirini, on this tremendous occasion of casting your 50,000th consecutive vote. What an accomplishment. In looking back at records that any organization has, whether it's the National Conference of State Legislators or any legislative body, we found that this record is unique and unmatched. And in fact, most legislatures don't keep the type of records because they don't ever expect the Members to cast that many consecutive votes. And so, we salute you today. So much has been said about your work ethic. I think those Ursuline nuns really did a lot, but it's got to have come from your parents and the love of your husband, Carlos, and the understanding of your son, Carlos, and that's what I'd like to touch upon at this particular time. Members, we are all here and you know that our families serve with us. They understand when we can't get away to go back home for an anniversary or a birthday or to go to your son's first baseball game or your daughter's first piano recital, the countless things that we miss here because we're doing our job. I know that my friend, Judith Zaffirini, could not have accomplished this without the support of her husband, her son. And to tell you how strong that bond is, how great a treasure it is to witness the graduation of one of your children from college, did you know that Senator Zaffirini left her son's graduation to return to the Senate floor because we were casting votes? She was there at the beginning, and we urged her to stay. We said, it's all right. But it was her son who said, Mom, you have to go back, it's your record. The love of your husband and your son, to be with you and understand that this is so important and to say, it's okay, we can manage this at home. I remember the time very vividly that you were given a very difficult task. On the Friday before Mother's Day several sessions back, we were given the task of having a tuition revenue bond bill, and everyone thought we could not accomplish this because we had to have it done by Mother's Day, and so they gave the task to Judith Zaffirini on a Friday. Her niece's wedding was that weekend, in which Senator Zaffirini and her family were throwing the rehearsal dinner. She stayed throughout the weekend working on the tuition revenue bonds with many of us, but actually, as we left, she would call every Senator and say, what do you want for your university? She worked through Mother's Day, and if you remember, Senators that were here, we came back at two o'clock on that Mother's Day. Nobody expected that bill to be ready. It was her dedication and her work ethic and her family's understanding that they were going to miss the wedding, they were going to miss Mother's Day, but that bill was ready and we got to cast votes on it. So, I am in awe of your record, as is most of us here and legislators across the country. I tried to find something that would signify that—and I know that Senator Zaffirini has also become a Spurs fan, she's a Spurs fan, by the way, you know there was a victory last night, Go Spurs Go, and I know that a basketball star, Bill Bradley, also became a U.S. Senator—and I found this quote which just is all about Judith Zaffirini. It says, ambition is the path to success, persistence is the vehicle you arrive in. Yep, that's you. That's the persistence. And another famous minister, Roy L. Smith, said, discipline is the refining fire by which talent becomes ability. It's your discipline, it's your persistence, it's your adherence to that oath of office that we all took. Nobody can match it, Judy. Congratulations on your 50,000th vote, and congratulations and special love to your family, who's allowed you to do the work to make this great record.

Senator Schwertner: It was a true honor to serve with you as your Vice-chair in Government Organization. Through your leadership you have taught me much about the mechanics of running a committee and the mechanics of how to get through a difficult issue, or the process. But more importantly, through the way you conduct yourself and the way you hold yourself as a person, through your regal air, you've taught me how to be more of a true Texas Senator. Because when I think about Texas Senators, I think about you first, the way you handle yourself, and so, I thank you for that. I thank you for allowing me to serve as your Vice-chair. The Texas Senate is a better place because you are here, but Texas is blessed because you have been a Texas Senator. Thank you.

Senator Davis: I, too, rise to congratulate our Senate colleague, Senator Judy Zaffirini, on her 50,000th consecutive vote, and it's an honor to stand and recognize you for that achievement. As others have risen today, we've all talked about something in common that we admire about you, whether it's the way you've mentored us and made sure—the freshmen can particularly appreciate, and I know I did when I was a freshman—those cards that you put together for us so that we would lay out a bill properly here on the Senate floor. Others have talked about your incredible work ethic, and I don't think there's a person on the floor that would argue that you have the strongest among us. I know I particularly admired watching you when you rise to give a speech on behalf of someone here in this body, how beautifully prepared you are, how articulate you are. I'm not sure others know or have paid attention to the fact that when you rise to do so, you do so from memory. And I saw you give the most beautiful speech for Senator Van de Putte at her Governor of the Day that was delivered from your heart, that was delivered from your incredible intellect, that was incredibly moving and that you had committed to heart because it was that important to you as you delivered it. We would all say we recognize you for those things, but I want to recognize you for something that's been uniquely meaningful to me. You are a person of such incredible integrity, and I think that it is probably commonplace in legislatures throughout the country, certainly in our nation's capital, that people find themselves compromising their values here and there along the way, sometimes for personal advancement, sometimes simply not to rock the boat. But you, Senator Zaffirini, are the person on this floor that I find most to admire in your capacity to be true, to have incredible integrity regardless of the consequence, and I have personally seen you show your incredible courage and stamina and discipline and, all the while, hold a smile on your face and a dignity in your air, as Senator Schwertner said. It is a rare, precious, incredible quality, and we are so fortunate to serve with you, and I am so pleased to join and rise with my colleagues in congratulating you on your 50,000th consecutive vote. Thank you.

Senator Deuell: Congratulations, Senator. You certainly have set an example for us in so many ways, and we all value your friendship. I know I certainly do. And I just want to comment as a physician and sitting across from you in Health and Human Services that I have been more than impressed with your knowledge of health care. But your compassion and your true desire to see that every Texan receives adequate health care, and some of the bills that you come up, I practiced medicine for 27 years, and some of the bills that you come up with, gee, why didn't I think of that? And, obviously, you represent some of the girls that sat next to me in school that always had their homework done and were always more prepared than me and always acted a lot better than I did, but I have learned that that's actually good behavior and should be emulated. So, congratulations, and we're all very, very proud of you, and I know the whole state is proud of you. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator Lucio: I, too, rise to congratulate our colleague and our beloved friend who has shown us all what it takes to be a State Senator, a great State Senator. We arrived at the Capitol together back in January 1987. She checked in here; I checked in the lower chamber. But I kept an eye on certain Senators, and one was a great Senator from Laredo. I appreciate the staff being here, Senator Zaffirini, and also our colleagues and those that served with you in the House, outstanding State Representatives, Representative Raymond, Representative Guillen, who worked closely with you in partnership, not only with you but also with everyone to make Texas better. As I followed your career, obviously, the word exemplary stands out all the time, and somebody said organized a while ago. Let me add, very organized, and that, obviously, challenges us all to be the same. I want to agree with Senator Ellis, before I send out a memorandum, a letter, or an e-mail, I check all my grammar and punctuation, because I don't want it coming back with a bunch of red marks on it. I think one of the things that I was thinking of a little while ago was the fact that 50,000 votes, a lot of votes, and I know they can't all be just for your district. So, what that means to me is that the very majority of those 50,000 went to and impacted every corner of the state. It made a difference to so many people, millions of people who were able to have a better quality of life because of your votes on Finance. And by the way, Finance is where you and I really work the closest together, and we certainly appreciate all that you have done. I know that you were instrumental in South Texas, Border higher education, and health care initiatives of the 1990s. You championed higher education. You have really done so much. And I want to be the first to call you Vice-dean Zaffirini. And the other thing I wanted to share with you, that's the only other thing you've got to accomplish now. And I'm not going to say anything along those lines, because I know that Dean Whitmire's got a lot of energy left. So, you're going to have to run a few more laps before you get to that level. But I want to say this, that I really thought, after hearing everyone speak, and especially Senator Davis, who so eloquently addressed how we should describe Señor Zaffirini, I think you're really the Tiger Woods of the Texas Senate, so I might just call you Tigress Zaffirini from now on. You know, he's broken a lot of records, records that will never be broken, and I think you're in that same category. Last thing I want to say is that you have done a wonderful job no matter what senatorial district you wind up in. You know, you're a winner and you get the job done, and people obviously look at your background, appreciate your accomplishments and certainly support your effort in continuing your job as a State Senator from the district that you finally have received over the years. We've gone through about three or four redistrictings, and I think we're on our way to another one, but I want to thank you, Judy, personally, for all you've done for me and for those of us that have served with you. For me, I've served directly with you 22 years here, and it's been a joy and an honor to have that opportunity. God bless you.

Senator Nichols: Thank you, Mr. President. I wanted to stand also to congratulate you on your 50,000 votes but also salute you for the work and effort you put in every one of them. I don't think there's anyone on this floor that doubts that you studied very meticulously the details in each one of those votes and that you cast those votes with the sole purpose to make the state and your district a better place to live. So, I look at those 50,000 votes and know that the State of Texas is a better place because of those and for your effort. So, that's why I wanted to stand and salute you. I appreciate all the help you've given me over the years. I've worked with you now for 16 years in different capacities. I first worked with you in your district, where we know you are well thought of, well respected, and have accomplished a lot there. So, thank you very much for being here.

Senator West: Thank you very much, Mr. President and Members. Senator, only thing I can say is ditto. I mean, the reality is I don't know what else there is to be said. All of us feel pretty much the same way. You know, you have consulted with us about our grammar. You have, each session, provided us a procedure manual before the 60th day and after the 60th day. You were there to consult with us. You start earlier than anyone else in the building. You have hearings that start at 6:30 in the morning, or is it 5:30 in the morning? Well, the point I'm making is this, I want to say, ditto. Thank you for your friendship, thank you for your counsel, and thank you for your professionalism here on the floor of the State Senate. You truly embody the tradition of what's good about this body.

Senator Watson: Thank you, Mr. President. Madam Chair, I can't add to what's been said, other than to say that I feel it important to rise and to say congratulations to you and thank you and God bless you for the role that you play in our state's history in your lifetime of service.

Senator Rodríguez: Thank you, Mr. President. I, too, rise to congratulate you, Senator Zaffirini, and to thank you for also being a mentor for me, as others have expressed here. Your guidance and your support has been invaluable to me in trying to navigate through the legislative process. And just this very morning, as a matter of fact, Members, and for the young people up on the gallery, when we talk about the attention to detail and the preparation and all the rest that Senator Zaffirini embodies in the legislative process, I was laying out a bill for one of my colleagues, and there was a substitute bill which I couldn't find in the file. And, you know, so I'm kind of moving the papers around, and the next thing I know, Senator Zaffirini is saying it's on section such and such, page such and such, line such and such. And so, quickly, I was able to get to that, as Senator Schwertner will attest. So, that is the kind of attention to detail and guidance that some of us get from Senator Zaffirini on a daily basis. I knew about your work long before I came to the Senate, especially, it's been mentioned your work on health and mental health, your work on higher education, on finance issues. But, I know that you have also done a lot of work for our Border communities. You've done a lot of work to address colonia issues, to provide water and sewer and other services for those individuals that have, frankly, lived in third world conditions for a long time. And you have been very instrumental in the drive in this state to let those citizens become a part of the state and appreciate all of the wonderful things that the state has to offer. So, your votes, I'm sure, all 50,000 of them have all been votes that have advanced the quality of life and the future of our citizens, especially our children and our disadvantaged, our infirmed in this state. And so, I wanted to thank you for that and also to let you know that I appreciate your guidance and support for all of us here in the Senate. Thank you very much.

Senator Campbell: Thank you, Mr. President. You know, they say that imitation is the greatest form of flattery. And I may have played you on stage last night, but I have a long way to go to reach the legislative success that you have achieved. I want to thank you for the support you've shown me and the instruction you've given me. I think you demonstrate great grace and poise as a woman. Thank you. Congratulations.

Senator Estes: Thank you, Mr. President. Senator, congratulations on this amazing accomplishment. And I think a lot of, most everything's been said. I remember 12 years ago when we first met, we had a breakfast at the DoubleTree, you just happened to bring a complete list of every bill you've ever passed for me to review. I think it was 478 at the time. And, we had a wonderful time and I thought, frankly, it was the only meeting as a freshman I had with the senior Members of the Senate that I was nervous about before I came. Because, obviously, your reputation precedes you. One thing that has not been mentioned is your steady, stealth campaign to influence us by delivering to our offices wonderful fresh tamales, homemade tortillas, cashew nuts, oatmeal cookies, the list goes on. I wish I'd kept the list of all the things that you have done like that, kind of random acts of kindness. And also, I remember one time, I was a little perturbed at you my freshman year because I thought you were wrong on an issue, and I was venting with Senator Armbrister. And he looked at me very sternly and said, Craig, you can learn a lot from her, she's a heck of a Senator. And he was right. And I've learned to have great affection for you and friendship. And I want to say also that, in my mind, you are always a lady, and thank you for being you.

Senator Uresti: Thank you, Mr. President and Members. Good morning, Senator Zaffirini, I, too, rise to join my colleagues to honor you and congratulate you. It was an honor this morning when we did the Local and Uncontested Calendar, to watch Senator Eltife gavel in that 50,000th vote on your behalf. And I see you brought all your 50,000 bills as well, this morning, and on your desk. But, seriously, it's been an honor to serve with you. As you know, I sat where Senator Schwertner sat for three sessions, and I always felt like you had my back. And I've learned from your wisdom and your experience, and I thought it was time to let another colleague learn from that same wisdom and experience. Congratulations.

Senator Hinojosa: Thank you, Mr. President and Members. I'm too, am very honored to have as my deskmate, Zaffirini, Madam Chair, and also my madrina. And I have a lot of respect for your work ethic, I have a lot of respect for your honesty, and she doesn't hesitate to tell you what she thinks and, again, votes her district and votes her conscience. And many times we may disagree, but I know of no one in this Chamber doubts your commitment, doubts that what you say is what you mean. And for us, when we work with you, you're very detailed, always very, very well prepared. I always try to look over her notebook so I can learn how to prepare my presentations. But, madrina, I really appreciate, from the bottom of my heart, your advice, your counsel, even cuando me regañas, because I misbehave. But, thank you so much for representing the State of Texas, for the work you've done, not only for higher education but health care, all across the board. Your knowledge is best and you know the process and thank you so much for your 50,000 votes. Congratulations.

Presiding Officer: Thank you, Senator Hinojosa. If I might add, Senator Zaffirini, it's an honor to serve with you. Dean Whitmire to close on the resolution.

Senator Whitmire: Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to close by saying, Senator Zaffirini, we are individually better Senators and certainly the body is a better body because we have the opportunity to serve with you. I know John Whitmire has become a better Senator because you're my colleague. And I know I echo those feelings of all the Members.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Taylor and by unanimous consent, his remarks regarding HB 2380 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

House Bill 2380 seeks to clear up the law on forfeiture clauses, which are frequently used provisions in wills and trusts. Legislation that passed in 2009 sought to clear up the inconsistent application of forfeiture clauses by recognizing that a forfeiture clause is invalid if the challenge to a will or trust is brought in good faith and with probable cause. However, questions remain in which party has this burden of proof. House Bill 2380 continues to recognize the good faith and just cause exceptions to the enforcement of forfeiture clauses but clarifies that the burden of proof is on the party seeking to avoid enforcement of the forfeiture clause. House Bill 2380 is not intended to and does not repeal Texas law, recognizing that forfeiture clauses generally will not be construed to prevent a beneficiary from seeking to compel a fiduciary to perform his duties, to seek redress against a fiduciary for breaches of his duties, or to seek a judicial construction of a will or trust.

At the hearing an interested person may speak for or against the designation of the zone, its boundaries, or the abatement of or other relief from port authority taxes on real property in the zone. Not later than the seventh day before the date of the hearing, notice of the hearing and the intent to create a zone must be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the county in which the zone is proposed to be located.

(f) The order or resolution designating an area as a transportation reinvestment zone must:

(1) describe the boundaries of the zone with sufficient definiteness to identify with ordinary and reasonable certainty the territory included in the zone;

(2) provide that the zone takes effect immediately on adoption of the order or resolution and that the base year shall be the year of passage of the order or resolution or some year in the future;

(3) assign a name to the zone for identification, with the first zone designated by a county designated as "Transportation Reinvestment Zone Number One, (name of port authority)," and subsequently designated zones assigned names in the same form numbered consecutively in the order of their designation;

(4) designate the base year for purposes of establishing the tax increment base of the port authority;

(5) establish an ad valorem tax increment account for the zone; and

(6) contain findings that promotion of a port project will improve the security, movement, and intermodal transportation of cargo or passengers in commerce and trade.

(g) Compliance with the requirements of this section constitutes designation of an area as a transportation reinvestment zone without further hearings or other procedural requirements.

(h) The port commission may:

(1) from taxes collected on property in a zone, including maintenance and operation taxes, pay into a tax increment account for the zone an amount equal to the tax increment produced by the port authority less any amounts allocated under previous agreements, including agreements under Chapter 312, Tax Code;

(2) from a tax increment account for the zone, repay any loan or other debt incurred to finance a port project under this section;

(3) by order or resolution enter into an agreement with the owner of any real property located in the transportation reinvestment zone to abate all or a portion of the ad valorem taxes or to grant other relief from the taxes imposed by the port authority on the owner's property in an amount not to exceed the amount calculated under Subsection (b)(1) for that year;

(4) by order or resolution elect to abate all or a portion of the ad valorem taxes imposed by the port authority on all real property in a zone; or

(5) grant other relief from ad valorem taxes on property in a zone.

(i) All abatements or other relief granted by the port commission in a transportation reinvestment zone must be equal in rate. In any ad valorem tax year, the total amount of the taxes abated or the total amount of other relief granted under this section may not exceed the amount calculated under Subsection (b)(1) for that year, less any amounts allocated under previous agreements, including agreements under Chapter 312, Tax Code.

(j) To further the development of the port project for which the transportation reinvestment zone was designated, a port authority may assess all or part of the cost of the port project against property within the zone. The assessment against each property in the zone may be levied and payable in installments in the same manner as provided for municipal and county public improvement districts under Sections 372.016-372.018, Local Government Code, provided that the installments do not exceed the total amount of the tax abatement or other relief granted under Subsection (h). The port authority has the powers provided to municipalities and counties under Sections 372.015-372.020 and 372.023, Local Government Code, for the assessment of costs and Sections 372.024-372.030, Local Government Code, for the issuance of bonds by the port authority to pay the cost of a port project. The port commission of the port authority may contract with a public or private entity to develop, redevelop, or improve a port project in the transportation reinvestment zone, including aesthetic improvements, and may pledge and assign to that entity all or a specified amount of the revenue the port authority receives from installment payments of the assessments for the payment of the costs of that port project. After a pledge or assignment is made, if the entity that received the pledge or assignment has itself pledged or assigned that amount to secure bonds or other obligations issued to obtain funding for the port project, the port commission of the port authority may not rescind its pledge or assignment until the bonds or other obligations secured by the pledge or assignment have been paid or discharged. Any amount received from installment payments of the assessments not pledged or assigned in connection with the port project may be used for other purposes associated with the port project or in the zone.

(k) To accommodate changes in the limits of the project for which a reinvestment zone was designated, the boundaries of a zone may be amended at any time, except that property may not be removed or excluded from a designated zone if any part of the assessment has been assigned or pledged directly by the port authority or through another entity to secure bonds or other obligations issued to obtain funding of the project, and property may not be added to a designated zone unless the port commission of the port authority complies with Subsections (e) and (f).

(l) Except as provided by Subsection (m), a tax abatement agreement entered into under Subsection (h), or an order or resolution on the abatement of taxes or the grant of other relief from taxes under that subsection, terminates on December 31 of the year in which the port authority completes any contractual requirement that included the pledge or assignment of assessments collected under this section.

(m) A transportation reinvestment zone terminates on December 31 of the 10th year after the year the zone was designated, if before that date the port authority has not used the zone for the purpose for which it was designated.

SECTION 2. Section 201.943(d), Transportation Code, is amended to read as follows:

(d) Obligations may be issued for one or more of the following purposes:

(1) to pay all or part of the costs of constructing, reconstructing, acquiring, and expanding state highways, including any necessary design and acquisition of rights-of-way, in the manner and locations determined by the commission that, according to conclusive findings of the commission, have an expected useful life, without material repair, of not less than 10 years;

(2) to provide participation by the state in the payment of part of the costs of constructing and providing publicly owned toll roads and other public transportation projects, including transportation projects described by Section 222.108(d), that are determined by the commission to be in the best interests of the state in its major goal of improving the mobility of the residents of the state;

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

On motion of Senator Watson and by unanimous consent, the remarks by Senators Watson and Nichols regarding SB 1792 were ordered reduced to writing and printed in the Senate Journal as follows:

Senator Watson: Members, this is the bill that provides toll entities additional remedies to discourage habitual toll violators from continuing to use toll roads without paying and encourage their payment of unpaid tolls and fees. The House changes address technical and conforming changes requested by the AG, TxDOT and toll entities.

Senator Nichols: Senator Watson, language in the new Section 372.107(c) requires the party requesting a hearing before the JP to pay the $100 court fee in advance, then the loser is ultimately responsible for the fee. Does this require the driver to pay for a hearing on their designation as a habitual violator?

Senator Watson: Just reading this Section of the bill, it does appear the vehicle owner is responsible for upfronting the bill. However, our intent is for the toll entity to pay the upfront fee, they would be reimbursed by the driver if the JP agreed with the habitual violation designation. To accomplish this, in new Section 372.106(d) it requires the agency to give the individual notice of their right to a hearing. The person then has 30 days to notify the toll entity of their desire for a hearing. It's then the entity's responsibility to request the hearing and therefore provide the upfront payment to the JP court, which would be governed by the Section you mentioned.

Senator Nichols: I understand that Rep. Stickland's amendment was drafted in consultation with NTTA. However, the expiration date of Section 372.116 has created some confusion; can you clarify the intent of the amendment?

Senator Watson: Happy to, as the NTTA system is more mature, they have a substantial number of people that would meet the habitual violator criteria immediately and the ultimate goal of this legislation is to get people to pay up what they owe, not to criminalize folks. So, the amendment was drafted to provide a one-time opportunity to settle-up with NTTA at a discount that expires 90 days after the bill goes into effect. Because this is a temporary provision, the language will also expire. I have a memo from Rep. Stickland's office that I will submit for the record to provide additional clarity should it be needed.

STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

Senator Watson submitted the following memo to show legislative intent for SB 1792:

MEMO

To: Pete Havel, Director of Legislative Affairs, NTTA
Thomas J. Bamonte, General Counsel, NTTA
Frank Stevenson, Partner, Locke Lord

From: Tony McDonald, Chief of Staff, Rep. Jonathan Stickland

Date: May 13, 2013

RE: Stickland Amendment to SB 1792; "Temporary Grace Period" provision

I wish to clarify the legislative intent behind Rep. Stickland's amendment to SB 1792 and remove any confusion which has been raised as to the expiration date of the new code section added by the amendment.

The intent behind the amendment was to afford habitual toll violators who will be newly subjected to the remedies contained in the bill a one-time opportunity to settle-up with the NTTA at a discount that fully expires 90 days after the bill goes into effect. The concern was that toll violators who ran up tolls under existing law would be so far in debt that they would be unable to bring themselves within compliance of the law before the new penalties are exercised. Rep. Stickland and I believed this situation risked criminalizing a substantial class of people who might choose to drive with an unregistered vehicle because of their unwillingness or inability to pay their debts to the toll authority.

The amendment is intended to offer a one-time opportunity for those found to be habitual toll violators on the effective date of the bill to settle-up at a discount and avoid being subjected to the habitual toll violator remedies contained in the bill. If a habitual toll violator pays the tolls and then subsequently becomes a habitual toll violator again, the amendment is not intended to offer that person any protection the second time and he/she is fully subject to the habitual toll violator remedies. The same is true for a habitual toll violator who defaults under a Section 372.103 contract signed during the temporary grace period or, obviously, a habitual toll violator who fails to take advantage of the grace period during its 90-day term.

In addition, I would like to clarify any confusion which has arisen over the expiration date of Section 372.116. Because the section creates only a temporary grace period and is not intended to have any effect after the expiration of the three-month grace period, an expiration date to the section was added so that the dead Section would not be codified when the session laws are eventually codified in the Transportation Code. This is a common legislative practice to ensure clearer codes. The expiration is not intended to have any effect on the length, purpose or application of the temporary grace period. The purpose of Section 372.116 should have long run its course and the grace period long expired by the time the code section expires in August of 2015.

I hope that this memo clarifies the legislative intent of Rep. Stickland's amendment. Please let me know if you have further questions or need anything else clarified. I can be reached in our office at (512) 463-0522 and via my cell phone at (512) 923-6893.
