Sec. 841.418. SUNSET PROVISION. This subchapter is valid for business sold only until January 1 of the year in which principle-based reserve requirements become operative in Texas under the adoption of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' 2009 amendments to the NAIC Model Standard Valuation Law. (b) A ceding insurer may not be deemed to have an unfair advantage if the pricing of the policies and contracts reinsured by the limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company reflects, at the time the policies and contracts were issued, a reasonable long-term estimate of the cost to the ceding insurer of an alternative third-party transaction, and uses current pricing assumptions.

(c) The ceding insurer shall keep documentation between examinations that sets forth the manner in which a senior actuarial officer arrived at the conclusions in the certification.

Sec. 841.420. ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL REPORTING. The commissioner shall prescribe accounting and financial reporting requirements with regard to the limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company and any insurer as defined by Section 841.402 that organizes a limited purpose subsidiary life insurance company.

(1) refunds for resident programs and synchronous distance education courses or programs will be based on the period of enrollment computed on the basis of course or program time;

(2) the effective date of termination for refund purposes in residence programs and synchronous distance education courses or programs [~~career schools or colleges~~] will be the earliest of the following:

(4) for the student who enters a residence program or a synchronous distance education course and who [~~of not more than 12 months in length, terminates, or~~] withdraws or is otherwise terminated, the school or college may retain not more than $100 of any administrative [tuition and] fees charged and the minimum refund of the remaining tuition and fees will be the pro rata portion of tuition, fees, and other charges that the number of hours remaining in the portion of the course or program for which the student has been charged after the effective date of termination bears to the total number of hours in the portion of the course or program for which the student has been charged, except that a student may not collect a refund if the student has completed 75 percent or more of the total number of hours in the portion of the program for which the student has been charged on the effective date of termination[:

~~[(A) during the first week or one tenth of the program or course, whichever is less, 90 percent of the remaining tuition and fees;~~

~~[(B) after the first week or one tenth of the program or course, whichever is less, but within the first three weeks or one fifth of the program or course, whichever is less, 80 percent of the remaining tuition and fees;~~

~~[(C) after the first three weeks or one fifth of the program or course, whichever is less, but within the first quarter of the program or course, 75 percent of the remaining tuition and fees;~~

(f) A career school or college shall record a grade of "incomplete" for a student who withdraws during the last quarter of a course or program [~~but is not entitled to a refund under Subsection (b)(4)(F)~~] if the student requests the grade at the time the student withdraws and the student withdraws for an appropriate reason unrelated to the student's academic status. A student who receives a grade of incomplete may re-enroll in the program during the 12-month period following the date the student withdraws, pay the amount of tuition refunded to the student under Subsection (b), and complete those incomplete subjects [~~without payment of additional tuition~~].

(g) A program that is 40 hours or less of course time, or a seminar or workshop, is exempt from the 72-hour rule provided by Subsection (a). The career school or college shall maintain a policy for the refund of the unused portion of tuition, fees, and other charges in the event the student fails to enter the program or withdraws or is discontinued from the program at any time before completion of the program as provided by this section. SECTION 2. (a) The change in law made by this Act to Section 132.061, Education Code, applies only to the refund policy of a career school or college to which a certificate of approval is granted or for which a certificate of approval is renewed on or after the date this Act takes effect.

(A) elects to participate in the planning, development, design, funding, or financing of a highway project; and

(B) is a municipality or a county, a group of adjoining counties, a county acting under Chapter 284, a regional tollway authority operating under Chapter 366, a regional mobility authority operating under Chapter 370, a local government corporation, or a transportation corporation created under Chapter 431.

Sec. 201.752. STANDARDS. (a) The commission by rule shall establish standards for processing an environmental review document for a highway project. The standards must increase efficiency, minimize delays, and encourage collaboration and cooperation by the department with a local government sponsor, with a goal of prompt approval of legally sufficient documents.

(b) The standards apply regardless of whether the environmental review document is prepared by the department or a local government sponsor. The standards apply to work performed by the sponsor and to the department's review process and environmental decision.

(c) The standards must address, for each type of environmental review document:

(1) the issues and subject matter to be included in the project scope prepared under Section 201.754;

(2) the required content of a draft environmental review document;

(3) the process to be followed in considering each type of environmental review document; and

(4) review deadlines, including the deadlines in Section 201.759.

(d) The standards must include a process for resolving disputes arising under this subchapter, provided that the dispute resolution process must be concluded not later than the 60th day after the date either party requests dispute resolution.

(e) For highway projects described in Section 201.753(a), the standards may provide a process and criteria for the prioritization of environmental review documents in the event the department makes a finding that it lacks adequate resources to timely process all documents it receives. Standards established pursuant to this subsection must provide for notification to a local government sponsor if processing of an environmental review document is to be delayed due to prioritization, and must ensure that the environmental review document for each highway project will be completed no later than one year prior to the date planned for publishing notice to let the construction contract for the project, as indicated in a document identifying the project under Section 201.753(a)(1) or a commission order under Section 201.753(a)(2).

Sec. 201.753. ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW LIMITED TO CERTAIN PROJECTS. (a) A local government sponsor or the department may prepare an environmental review document for a highway project only if the highway project is:

(1) identified in the financially constrained portion of the approved state transportation improvement program or the financially constrained portion of the approved unified transportation program; or

(2) identified by the commission as being eligible for participation under this subchapter.

(b) Notwithstanding Subsection (a), a local government sponsor may prepare an environmental review document for a highway project that is not identified by the commission or in a program described by Subsection (a) if the sponsor submits with its notice under Section 201.755 a fee in an amount established by commission rule, but not to exceed the actual cost of reviewing the environmental review document.

(c) A fee received by the department under Subsection (b) must be deposited in the state highway fund and used to pay costs incurred under this subchapter.

Sec. 201.754. SCOPE OF PROJECT. If an environmental review document is prepared by a local government sponsor, the local government sponsor must prepare a detailed scope of the project in collaboration with the department before the department may process the environmental review document.

Sec. 201.755. NOTICE TO DEPARTMENT. (a) A local government sponsor may submit notice to the department proposing that the local government sponsor prepare the environmental review document for a highway project.

(b) The notice must include:

Sec. 201.757. DETERMINATION OF ADMINISTRATIVELY COMPLETE ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW DOCUMENT. (a) A local government sponsor's submission of an environmental review document must include a statement from the local government sponsor that the document is administratively complete, ready for technical review, and compliant with all applicable requirements.

(b) Not later than the 20th day after the date the department receives a local government sponsor's environmental review document, the department shall either:

- (1) issue a letter confirming that the document is administratively complete and ready for technical review; or
- (2) decline to issue a letter confirming that the document is administratively complete and ready for technical review, in accordance with Section 201.758.

Sec. 201.758. DEPARTMENT DECLINES TO CONFIRM THAT DOCUMENT IS ADMINISTRATIVELY COMPLETE. (a) The department may decline to issue a letter confirming that an environmental review document is administratively complete and ready for technical review only if the department sends a written response to the local government sponsor specifying in reasonable detail the basis for its conclusions, including a listing of any required information determined by the department to be missing from the document.

(b) If the department provides notice under Subsection (a), the department shall undertake all reasonable efforts to cooperate with the local government sponsor in a timely manner to ensure that the environmental review document is administratively complete.

(c) The local government sponsor may resubmit any environmental review document determined by the department under Section 201.757 not to be administratively complete, and the department shall issue a determination letter on the resubmitted document not later than the 20th day after the date the document is resubmitted.

Sec. 201.759. REVIEW DEADLINES. (a) The following deadlines must be included in the standards adopted under Section 201.752:

(1) the department shall issue a classification letter not later than the 30th day after the date the department receives notice from a local government sponsor under Section 201.755;

(2) for a project classified as a programmatic categorical exclusion, the environmental decision must be rendered not later than the 60th day after the date the supporting documentation is received by the department;

(3) for a project classified as a categorical exclusion, the environmental decision must be rendered not later than the 90th day after the date the supporting documentation is received by the department;

(4) for a project that requires the preparation of an environmental assessment:

(A) the department must provide all department comments on a draft environmental assessment not later than the 90th day after the date the draft is received by the department; and

(B) the department must render the environmental decision on the project not later than the 60th day after the later of:

(i) the date the revised environmental assessment is submitted to the department; or

(ii) the date the public involvement process concludes;

(5) the department must render the environmental decision on any reevaluation not later than the 120th day after the date the supporting documentation is received by the department; and

(6) for a project that requires the preparation of an environmental impact statement, the department shall render the environmental decision not later than the 120th day after the date the draft final environmental impact statement is submitted.

(b) Review deadlines under this section specify the date by which the department will render the environmental decision on a project or the time frames by which the department will make a recommendation to the Federal Highway Administration, as applicable.

(c) A deadline that falls on a weekend or official state holiday is considered to occur on the next business day.

Sec. 201.760. SUSPENSION OF TIME PERIODS. The computation of review deadlines under Section 201.759 does not begin until an environmental review document is determined to be administratively complete, and is suspended during any period in which:

(1) the document that is the subject of the review is being revised by or on behalf of the local government sponsor in response to department comments;

(2) the highway project is the subject of additional work, including a change in design of the project, and during the identification and resolution of new significant issues; or

(3) the local government sponsor is preparing a response to any issue raised by legal counsel for the department concerning compliance with applicable law.

Sec. 201.761. AGREEMENT BETWEEN LOCAL GOVERNMENT SPONSOR AND DEPARTMENT. Notwithstanding any provision of this subchapter or any other law, a local government sponsor and the department may enter into an agreement that defines the relative roles and responsibilities of the parties in the preparation and review of environmental review documents for a specific project. For a project for which an environmental decision requires the approval of the Federal Highway Administration and to the extent otherwise permitted by law, the Federal Highway Administration may also be a party to an agreement between a local government sponsor and the department under this section.

Sec. 201.762. REPORTS TO COMMISSION AND LEGISLATURE.

(a) Not later than June 30 and December 31 of each year, the department shall submit a report to the commission at a regularly scheduled commission meeting identifying projects being processed under the procedures of this subchapter and the status of each project, including:

(1) how the project was classified for environmental review;

(2) the current status of the environmental review;

(3) the date on which the department is required to make an environmental decision under applicable deadlines;

REASON FOR VOTE

Although this piece of legislation has some issues, I voted to support HB 1451 because it is good policy. Viewed by some as over burdensome, I feel this bill will assist the State of Texas in identifying and eliminating the bad actors in the animal breeding community. As a pet owner and animal lover, I am happy to support this legislation.

CSHB 3133, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the appraisal for ad valorem tax purposes of property on which housing is being or has been built or repaired for sale or rent to a low-income individual or family.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Section 11.181(b), Tax Code, is amended to read as follows:

(b) Property may not be exempted under Subsection (a) after the fifth anniversary of the date the organization acquires the property. Property that received an exemption under Section 11.1825 and that was subsequently transferred by the organization described by that section that qualified for the exemption to an organization described by this section may not be exempted under Subsection (a) after the fifth anniversary of the date the transferring organization acquired the property.

SECTION 2. Section 11.1825, Tax Code, is amended by amending Subsections (f) and (g) and adding Subsection (p-1) to read as follows:

(f) For property to be exempt under this section, the organization must own the property for the purpose of constructing or rehabilitating a housing project on the property and:

(1) renting the housing, regardless of whether the housing project consists of multifamily or single-family dwellings, to individuals or families whose median income is not more than 60 percent of the greater of:

(A) the area median family income for the household's place of residence, as adjusted for family size and as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development; or

(B) the statewide area median family income, as adjusted for family size and as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development; or

(2) selling single-family dwellings to individuals or families whose median income is not more than the greater of:

(A) the area median family income for the household's place of residence, as adjusted for family size and as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development; or

(B) the statewide area median family income, as adjusted for family size and as established by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

(p-1) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, the transfer of property from an organization described by this section to a nonprofit organization that claims an exemption for the property under Section 11.181(a) is a proper use of and purpose for owning the property under this section and does not affect the eligibility of the property for an exemption under this section.

(q) If property qualifies for an exemption under this section, the chief appraiser shall use the income method of appraisal as described [provided] by Section 23.012 to determine the appraised value of the property. The chief appraiser shall use that method regardless of whether the chief appraiser considers that method to be the most appropriate method of appraising the property. In appraising the property, the chief appraiser shall:

(1) consider the restrictions provided by this section on the income of the individuals or families to whom the dwelling units of the housing project may be rented and the amount of rent that may be charged for purposes of computing the actual rental income from the property or projecting future rental income; and

(2) use the same capitalization rate that the chief appraiser uses to appraise other rent-restricted properties.

SECTION 3. Section 23.21, Tax Code, is amended by adding Subsection (c) to read as follows:

(c) In appraising real property that was previously owned by an organization that received an exemption for the property under Section 11.181(a) and that was sold to a low-income individual or family meeting income eligibility standards established by the organization under regulations or restrictions limiting to a percentage of the individual's or the family's income the amount that the individual or family was required to pay for purchasing the property, the chief appraiser shall take into account the extent to which that use and limitation and any resale restrictions or conditions applicable to the property established by the organization reduce the market value of the property.

SECTION 4. (a) The changes in law made by this Act to Sections 11.181 and 11.1825, Tax Code, apply to the taxation of real property beginning with the 2011 tax year.

(b) The change in law made by this Act to Section 23.21, Tax Code, applies only to an appraisal of real property on or after the effective date of this Act. An appraisal of real property before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

SECTION 5. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

Senate Amendment No. 1 (Senate Floor Amendment No. 1)

Amend HB 3133 by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTIONS to the bill and renumbering subsequent SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. Section 23.55, Tax Code, is amended by adding Subsection (p) to read as follows:

(p) The sanctions provided by Subsection (a) do not apply to real property transferred to an organization described by Section 11.181(a) if the organization converts the real property to a use for which the real property is eligible for an exemption under Section 11.181(a). This subsection does not apply to the sanctions provided by Subsection (a) in connection with a change in use described by this subsection that are due to a county or school district unless the governing body of the county or school district, as applicable, waives the sanctions in the manner required by law for official action by the body.

SECTION _____. Section 23.55(p), Tax Code, as added by this Act, applies only to a transfer of real property that occurs on or after the effective date of this Act. A transfer of real property that occurs before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(c) This Act continues to apply to a municipality described by Subsection (a) and a retirement system established by this Act continues to operate regardless of any change in the municipality's population.

SECTION 2. Section 2, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. The following words and phrases have the meanings assigned by this section unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context:

(1) "Accumulated deposits" means the amount standing to the credit of a member derived from the deposits required to be made by the member to the retirement system improved annually by interest credited at a rate determined by the retirement board from time to time upon the advice of the retirement board's actuary and credited as of December 31 to amounts standing to the credit of the member on January 1 of the same calendar year.

(2) "Actual retirement date" means the last day of the month during which a member retires.

(3) "Actuarial equivalent" means any benefit of equal present value when computed on the basis of actuarial tables adopted by the retirement board from time to time upon the advice of the retirement board's actuary. The actuarial tables adopted for this purpose shall be tables that are acceptable to the Internal Revenue Service and be clearly identified by resolution adopted by the retirement board.

(4) "Actuary" means the technical advisor of the retirement board regarding the operations which are based on mortality, service, and compensation experience.

(5) "Agency of the municipality" means any agency or instrumentality of the municipality or governmental or publicly owned legal entity created by the municipality, before or after ~~subsequent to~~ the effective date of this Act, to perform or provide a public service or function and that employs at least one employee to provide services or accomplish its public purpose.

(6) "Approved medical leave of absence" means any absence authorized in writing by the member's employer for the purpose of enabling the member to obtain medical care or treatment or to recover from any sickness or injury.

(8) "Average final compensation" means the average monthly compensation, as defined and limited by Subdivision (12) of this section, less overtime, incentive, and terminal pay, plus, (i) amounts picked up by the employer pursuant to Section 10(e) of this Act, and (ii) amounts that would be included in wages but for an election under Section 125(d), 132(f)(4), 402(e)(3), 402(h)(1)(B), 402(k), or 457(b) of the code, ~~[not otherwise included in the member's taxable income by reason of either an election under a "cafeteria" plan as described in Section 125 of the code or deferrals under a plan of deferred compensation within the scope of Section 457 of the code, to the extent not in excess of $12,500 for persons who first become members after 1995 that is earned by a member]~~ during, as applicable:

The employer's employer shall make contributions to the retirement fund as though the member has continued employment at the salary of the member for the last complete pay period before the absence for military service. The employer's contributions shall be made each pay period if the member is making periodic payments during the period. During an authorized leave of absence, the member accrues membership service for the pay periods in which the member makes a deposit. Membership service credit for a lump-sum payment accrues at the time of payment.

(3) A member may establish uniformed creditable service for active federal duty service in the armed forces of the United States, other than service as a student at a service academy, as a member of the reserves, or any continuous active military service lasting less than 90 days, performed before the first day of employment of the member's most recent membership in the retirement system or its predecessor system. To establish creditable service under this subdivision, the member must contribute a lump-sum payment equal to 25 percent of the estimated cost of the retirement benefits the member will be entitled to receive. The retirement board will determine the required contribution based on a procedure recommended by the actuary and approved by the retirement board.

(4) A member is not eligible to establish uniformed service credit unless the member was released from active military duty under conditions other than dishonorable.

(5) A member may not establish creditable service in the retirement system for uniformed service for more than the greater of the creditable service required under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (38 U.S.C. Section 4301 et seq.), as amended, or 48 months of creditable service in the retirement system for uniformed service under this subsection. A member is not precluded from purchasing qualified military service to which the member is entitled solely because the member, before beginning a leave of absence for qualified military service, purchased creditable service for military service performed before becoming employed by the employer.

(6) After the member makes the deposit required by this subsection, the retirement system shall grant the member one month of creditable service for each month of creditable uniformed service established under this subsection.

(e-1) An active contributory member that is eligible for retirement may file a written application to convert to creditable service at retirement all or part of the member's sick leave accrued with the employer that is eligible for conversion. The application must be approved by the retirement board. The member may not convert sick leave for which the member is entitled to be paid by the employer. Sick leave hours may be converted in pay period increments for the purpose of increasing creditable service that is used in the calculation of benefits. Sick leave hours may not be used to reach retirement eligibility. Both the employer and the member must make the equivalent amount of retirement contributions that would have been made had the sick hours been exercised and used as sick leave hours.

(e-2) Nonqualified permissive creditable service may be purchased only as provided by this subsection. A member may purchase nonqualified permissive creditable service:

(1) only to the extent permitted under both this subsection and Section 415(n) of the code;

(2) in an amount that:

(A) for each purchase, is not less than one month; and

(B) when all amounts purchased under this subsection are combined, is not more than 60 months; and

(3) only if the member has reinstated all prior membership service in:

(A) Groups A and B if the member was initially enrolled as a member of Group A, but ceased to be a member of Group A, by:

(i) first reinstating all prior membership service in Group A;

(ii) next reinstating all prior membership service in Group B;

and

(iii) then purchasing the nonqualified permissive creditable service; or

(B) Group B, if the member was initially enrolled as a member of Group B, by:

(i) first reinstating all prior membership service in Group B;

and

(ii) then purchasing the nonqualified permissive creditable service.

(e-3) Nonqualified permissive creditable service purchased by members of Group B is not included in the creditable service required to qualify a member for normal or early retirement eligibility.

(f) The full actuarial cost of noncontributory creditable service purchased as provided by ~~Subsections~~ Subsection (e), (e-1), (e-2), and (e-3) of this section is payable by the member purchasing the credit.

SECTION 6. Section 7, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is amended by amending Subsections (a), (l), and (z), and adding Subsections (a-1) and (ii) to read as follows:

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, a member who retires on or after the member's normal retirement date for the group in which the member is enrolled, or a member of Group B eligible for early retirement who retires, and applies in writing for a retirement allowance shall receive the [a] life annuity (modified cash refund) or the early retirement annuity to which the member is entitled. An annuity begins ~~beginning~~ on the last day of the month after the month in which the member retired. Unless Section 8 of this Act applies, or the member is an early retirement eligible member of Group B, a member whose employment by the employer terminates before the member's normal retirement date is entitled to a distribution of the member's accumulated deposits in a single lump sum. On receiving that distribution, a member is not entitled to any other benefit under this Act. If a member has at least five years of creditable service and does not withdraw the member's accumulated deposits, the member is entitled to a life annuity (modified cash refund) beginning on the first day of the month after the month in which the member's normal retirement date occurs.

(a-1) If not already nonforfeitable, a member's retirement benefit becomes nonforfeitable at normal retirement age.

(l) A member may file a written designation, which, if approved by the retirement board, shall entitle the member, on retirement, to receive the actuarial equivalent of the life annuity in the form of one of the following options:

(1) Option I. 100 Percent Joint and Survivor Annuity. This option is a reduced monthly annuity payable to the member but with the provision that on the member's death the annuity shall be continued throughout the life of and be paid to such person as the member shall designate before the member's actual retirement date.

(2) Option II. 50 Percent Joint and Survivor Annuity. This option is a reduced monthly annuity payable to the member but with the provision that on the member's death one-half of the annuity shall be continued throughout the life of and be paid to such person as the member shall designate before the member's actual retirement date.

(3) Option III. 66-2/3 Percent Joint and Survivor Annuity. This option is a reduced monthly annuity payable to the member but with the provision that on the member's death two-thirds of the annuity shall be continued throughout the life of and be paid to such person as the member shall designate before the member's actual retirement date.

(4) Option IV. Joint and 66-2/3 Percent Last Survivor Annuity. This option is a reduced monthly annuity payable to the member but with the provision that two-thirds of the annuity to which the member would be entitled shall be continued throughout the life of and be paid to the survivor after the death of either the member or such person as the member shall designate before the member's actual retirement date.

(5) Option V. 15-Year Certain and Life Annuity. This option is a reduced annuity payable to the member for life. In the event of the member's death before 180 monthly payments have been made, the remainder of the 180 payments shall be paid to the member's beneficiary or, if there is no beneficiary, to the member's estate.

(6) Option VI. Equivalent Benefit Plan. If a member requests in writing, any other form of benefit or benefits may be paid either to the member or to such person or persons as the member shall designate before the member's actual retirement date, provided that the benefit plan requested by the member is certified by the actuary for the system to be the actuarial equivalent of the life annuity with guaranteed refund of the retired member's accumulated deposits. If, on the death of the member and all other persons entitled to receive payments under an optional benefit, the member's accumulated deposits as of the member's actual retirement date exceed the sum of all payments made under that optional benefit, that excess shall be paid in one lump sum to the member's beneficiary. A member selecting this option may elect to receive (i) either a life annuity or one of the actuarially-equivalent annuities described by Subdivisions (1)-(5) and (ii) a lump-sum payment upon retirement. If a member requests a lump-sum payment, the annuity requested by the member shall be actuarially reduced as a result of the lump-sum payment. The lump-sum payment may not exceed an amount equal to the total amount of 60 monthly life annuity payments. Active contributory members that reach normal retirement age may upon retirement elect to participate in a backward deferred retirement option program ("backward DROP") that permits a minimum participation period of one month and a maximum participation period of 60 months. This deferred retirement option is subject to retirement board policies issued in compliance with the code. No interest will be paid on, or added to, any backward DROP payment.

(z) If the person designated in writing by the member under Option I, Option II, or Option III, or, excluding a joint and last survivor option, any retirement option that includes a joint and survivor option, predeceases the retired member, the reduced annuity of a retired member who selected the optional lifetime retirement annuity shall be increased to the standard service retirement annuity that the retiree would have been entitled to receive if the retired member had not selected Option I, Option II, or Option III. The standard service retirement annuity shall be appropriately adjusted for early retirement and for the postretirement increases in retirement benefits. The increase in the annuity under this subsection is payable to the retired member for life and begins with the later of the monthly payment made to the retired member for the month following the month in which the person designated by the member dies or the month following the month in which the retired member gives the system notice of the designated person's death.

(ii) If a member dies while performing qualified military service, the beneficiaries of the member are entitled to any additional benefits, other than benefit accruals relating to the qualified military service, that would have been provided if the member had returned from the military leave of absence and then terminated employment on account of death.

SECTION 7. Section 9, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is amended by amending Subsection (a) and adding Subsections (c) through (g) to read as follows:

(a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, the annual benefit provided with respect to any member may not exceed the benefits allowed for a governmental defined benefit plan qualified under Section 401 [415] of the code. The maximum benefits allowed under this section shall increase each year to the extent permitted by annual cost of living increase adjustments announced by the United States secretary of the treasury under Section 415(d) of the code and the increased benefit limits shall apply to members who have terminated employment, including members who have commenced to receive benefits, before the effective date of the adjustment.

(c) A member who retires after reaching normal retirement age and continues or resumes employment with an employer in a position that is required to participate in another retirement system maintained by the employer continues to be eligible to receive the retirement allowance provided under this Act.

(d) The retirement board shall suspend the retirement allowance of a retired member who resumes employment with an employer within the period of time prescribed by the retirement board in the board's policy, or who resumes employment after retirement as a regular full-time employee of an employer. The retirement board shall reinstate the member's retirement allowance as provided under Subsection (f) of this section.

(e) The retirement board shall suspend the retirement allowance of a retired member who resumes employment with an employer in a position that is not required to participate in another retirement system maintained by an employer, and who is not a regular full-time employee of an employer, if the member works for, or is compensated by, an employer for more than 1,508 hours in any rolling 12-month period after the member resumes employment with the employer. The retirement board shall reinstate the member's retirement allowance as provided under Subsection (f) of this section.

(f) A member whose retirement allowance is suspended under Subsection (d) or (e) of this section may apply in writing for reinstatement of the retirement allowance when the member retires again. The retirement system shall calculate the reinstated retirement allowance based on the member's total creditable service, reduced actuarially to reflect the gross amount of total retirement allowance paid to the member prior to suspension of the retirement allowance.

(g) The retirement system and the employer shall adopt and amend procedures for the exchange of information in order to implement the provisions of this section.

SECTION 8. Subsection (a), Section 10, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is amended to read as follows:

(a) Each active-contributory member shall make deposits to the retirement system at a rate equal to eight [~~seven~~] percent of the member's base compensation, pay, or salary, exclusive of overtime, incentive, or terminal pay or at a higher contribution rate approved by a majority vote of regular full-time employee members. Deposits shall be made by payroll deduction each pay period. If a regular full-time employee works at least 75 percent of a normal 40-hour work week but less than the full 40 hours, the employee shall make deposits as though working a normal 40-hour work week even though the rate of contribution may exceed eight [~~seven~~] percent of the employee's actual compensation, pay, or salary, and the employee's average final compensation shall be computed on the basis of the compensation, pay, or salary for a normal 40-hour work week. No deposits may be made nor membership service credit received for periods during which an employee's authorized normal work week is less than 75 percent of a normal 40-hour work week. A person who is eligible for inactive-contributory membership status and who chooses to be an inactive-contributory member shall make deposits to the retirement system each pay period in an amount that is equal to the amount of the member's deposit for the last complete pay period that the member was a regular full-time employee. The regular full-time employee members may increase, by a majority vote of all such members voting at an election to consider an increase in contributions, each member's contributions above eight [~~seven~~] percent or above the higher rate in effect and approved by majority vote in whatever amount the retirement board recommends. Each employer shall contribute amounts equal to eight [~~seven~~] percent of the compensation, pay, or salary of each active-contributory member and each inactive-contributory member employed by the employer, exclusive of overtime, incentive, or terminal pay, or a higher contribution rate agreed by the employer. If a regular full-time employee of the employer works at least 75 percent of a normal 40-hour work week but less than the full 40 hours, the employer shall make contributions for that employee as though that employee works a normal 40-hour work week even though the rate of contribution may exceed eight [~~seven~~] percent of that employee's actual compensation, pay, or salary. The governing body of the city may authorize the city to make additional contributions to the system in whatever amount the governing body may determine. If the governing body authorizes additional contributions to the system by the city for city employees, the board of each other employer shall [~~may~~] increase the contributions for such employer's respective employees by the same percentage. Employer contributions shall be made each pay period.

SECTION 9. Section 12, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is amended by adding Subsection (d-1) and amending Subsection (e) to read as follows:

(d-1) Members of the retirement system that are enrolled in Group A shall have the rights and be entitled to the benefits provided under this Act for members of Group A. Members of the retirement system that are enrolled in Group B shall have the rights and be entitled to the benefits provided under this Act for members of Group B. A member may not be a member of both Group A and Group B.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of this Act to the contrary that would otherwise limit a distributee's election, a distributee may elect, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the retirement board, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee in a direct rollover. For purposes of this subsection:

(1) An eligible rollover distribution is any distribution of all or any portion of the balance to the credit of the distributee, except that an eligible rollover distribution does not include:

(A) any distribution that is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (not less frequently than annually) made over the life (or life expectancy) of the distributee or the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of the distributee and the distributee's designated beneficiary;

(B) any series of payments for a specified period of ten years or more;

(C) any distribution to the extent such distribution is required under Section 401(a)(9) of the code; or

(D) the portion of any distribution that is not includable in gross income unless the distributee directs that the eligible rollover distribution be transferred directly to a qualified trust that is part of a defined contribution plan that agrees to separately account for the portion that is includable in gross income and the portion that is not, or to an individual retirement account or individual annuity [~~(determined without regard to the exclusion for net unrealized appreciation with respect to employer securities)~~].

(2) An "eligible retirement plan" is an individual retirement account described in Section 408(a) of the code, an individual retirement annuity described in Section 408(b) of the code, an annuity plan described in Section 403(a) of the code, ~~or~~ a qualified trust described in Section 401(a) of the code, an eligible deferred compensation plan described in Section 457(b) of the code which is maintained by an eligible employer described in Section 457(e)(1)(A) of the code, or an annuity contract described in Section 403(b) of the code, that accepts the distributee's eligible rollover distribution. However, in the case of an eligible rollover distribution to a designated beneficiary who is not the surviving spouse, or the spouse or former spouse under a qualified domestic relations order, an eligible retirement plan is an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity only.

(3) A "distributee" includes an employee or former employee. In addition, the employee's or former employee's surviving spouse or designated beneficiary and the employee's or former employee's spouse or former spouse who is the alternate payee under a qualified domestic relations order, as defined in Section 414(p) of the code, are distributees with regard to the interest of the spouse or the former spouse.

(4) A "direct rollover" is a payment by the retirement system to the eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee.

SECTION 10. The following laws are repealed:

(1) Subsection (p), Section 9, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

(2) Subsection (g), Section 10, Chapter 451, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991 (Article 6243n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

SECTION 11. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect October 1, 2011.

HR 2179 - ADOPTED

The motion prevailed.

HR 2179 was adopted.

STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT
REGARDING TELECOMMUNICATIONS

When I was chair of the House Regulated Industries Committee which handled the last comprehensive reform of the telecommunications policy in 2005, the legislation which was enacted then contained a provision that reduced service provider access to the Texas high cost assistance fund from companies with less than 5,000,000 lines to those companies under 31,000 subscriber lines, and to cooperatives. Specifically, this was to address new requests for participation and additional funding.

There were three companies in the state who were well below the previous 5,000,000 line limit, but still above the new 31,000 threshold who were receiving some funding at the time.

During the drafting process they were told that the new restrictions, the new regulations, were prospective, and that going forward they would be "grandfathered" into the fund and still be eligible to participate in the program.

That was our clear intent during the entire drafting process, committee hearings, and the final passage of that omnibus reform bill.

I might add, these companies have continued to provide advanced broadband services to their respective service areas.

CSHB 2592, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to notice and disclosure requirements for certain credit services organizations regarding charges and consumer borrowing; providing an administrative penalty.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Chapter 393, Finance Code, is amended by adding Subchapter C-1 to read as follows:

SUBCHAPTER C-1. NOTICE AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN CREDIT SERVICES ORGANIZATIONS

Sec. 393.221. DEFINITIONS. In this subchapter:

(1) "Credit access business" means a credit services organization that obtains for a consumer or assists a consumer in obtaining an extension of consumer credit in the form of a deferred presentment transaction or a motor vehicle title loan.

(2) "Deferred presentment transaction" has the meaning assigned by Section 341.001. For purposes of this chapter, this definition does not preclude repayment in more than one installment. The term is also referred to as a payday loan.

(3) "Motor vehicle title loan" or "auto title loan" means a loan in which an unencumbered motor vehicle is given as security for the loan. The term does not include a retail installment transaction under Chapter 348 or another loan made to finance the purchase of a motor vehicle.

Sec. 393.222. POSTING OF FEE SCHEDULE; NOTICES. (a) A credit access business shall post, in a conspicuous location in an area of the business accessible to consumers and on any Internet website, including a social media site, maintained by the credit access business:

(1) a schedule of all fees to be charged for services performed by the credit access business in connection with deferred presentment transactions and motor vehicle title loans, as applicable;

(2) a notice of the name and address of the Office of Consumer Credit Commissioner and the telephone number of the office's consumer helpline; and

(3) a notice that reads as follows:

"An advance of money obtained through a payday loan or auto title loan is not intended to meet long-term financial needs. A payday loan or auto title loan should only be used to meet immediate short-term cash needs. Refinancing the loan rather than paying the debt in full when due will require the payment of additional charges."

(b) The Finance Commission of Texas may adopt rules to implement this section.

Sec. 393.223. CONSUMER TRANSACTION INFORMATION. (a) Before performing services described by Section 393.221(1), a credit access business must provide to a consumer a disclosure adopted by rule of the Finance Commission of Texas that discloses the following in a form prescribed by the commission:

(1) the interest, fees, and annual percentage rates, as applicable, to be charged on a deferred presentment transaction or on a motor vehicle title loan, as applicable, in comparison to interest, fees, and annual percentage rates to be charged on other alternative forms of consumer debt;

(2) the amount of accumulated fees a consumer would incur by renewing or refinancing a deferred presentment transaction or motor vehicle title loan that remains outstanding for a period of two weeks, one month, two months, and three months; and

(3) information regarding the typical pattern of repayment of deferred presentment transactions and motor vehicle title loans.

(b) If a credit access business obtains or assists a consumer in obtaining a motor vehicle title loan, the credit access business shall provide to the consumer a notice warning the consumer that in the event of default the consumer may be required to surrender possession of the motor vehicle to the lender or other person to satisfy the consumer's outstanding obligations under the loan.

(c) The Finance Commission of Texas shall adopt rules to implement this section.

Sec. 393.224. ADMINISTRATIVE PENALTY. The consumer credit commissioner, in accordance with rules adopted by the Finance Commission of Texas, may assess an administrative penalty against a credit access business that knowingly and wilfully violates this subchapter or a rule adopted under this subchapter in the manner provided by Subchapter F, Chapter 14.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding Section 393.223(a), Finance Code, as added by this Act, a credit access business is not required to comply with that section until the Finance Commission of Texas prescribes the form required by that section.

SECTION 3. This Act takes effect January 1, 2012.

HB 2277 - HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS
TEXT OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Representative Eiland called up with senate amendments for consideration at this time,

HB 2277, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the sale, exchange, or replacement of life insurance and annuity contracts.

HB 2277 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE EILAND: Mr. Speaker, members, HB 2277—in the senate, they added a bill that passed out of Insurance Committee two times nine to zero—with Mr. Smithee, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Hancock, and myself. This passed the senate two other times and out of committee by Mr. Carona. And so, what the amendment does is, it deals with regulation of the life settlement industry. And so, a brief explanation of that—if you're a life insurance policy holder, and you are elderly, you are chronically ill, and you're going to die, as opposed to waiting until you die to cash in on your life insurance policy, you might want to settle it or sell it early. A lot of this really started happening back when the AIDS epidemic hit, and people bought those life insurance policies. But it's a nationwide industry. And so, what this bill does is regulate between the policy owner and the life settlement company that buys that policy. It regulates that transaction.

You have received some information being passed out by some unnamed sources that is critical of this bill. However, this bill does not regulate them. We had a two-hour meeting with TDI, the life insurance company associations, both the national and the state association, as well as a life settlement company. We met with them and tried to explain to them this does not apply to them. So this bill involves a transaction between the policy owner, the individual, and a life settlement company. What happens after that, oftentimes those life settlement companies will then go out to investors and try to sell fraction shares of these policies. And that was the subject of this very unflattering front page article from the Austin American-Statesman on May 1. And if you want to read about that part of the industry, the side unregulated by the insurance commissioner, you can get a pretty good feeling of what that is. This bill does not regulate that. Somebody needs to regulate it—the state's security board and the national securities people are working on regulating that. This bill does not regulate it. This portion of the bill is based upon the NAIC, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, updated model act, and the National Conference of Insurance Legislators updated model act of 2007 and 2010. It's been adopted by 32 states, and this bill is modeled on that. So, this is a national model, and most life insurance trade associations support it, as well as the life settlement industry representatives.

REPRESENTATIVE CHISUM: Mr. Eiland, we've been dealing with this issue for more than 10 years in this legislature. This is what they used to call viatical settlements.

EILAND: Correct, viatical settlements.

CHISUM: Now they call it life settlements, which is basically the same product with some changes. And there's always been some bad actors, and I guess you're going after the bad actors that are in the business under this national model to make us comply with other states, and successfully address this?

EILAND: Yes. And one thing we have to be particularly careful about in Texas is that the laws changed several years ago that dealt with whether or not you had to have an insurable interest. Most states have a very strong insurable interest, which means if you are going to buy a life insurance policy on an individual you have to have an insurable interest in their life, and a reason to buy it, even if you are not the individual. So you might buy Keyman life insurance, if you are a business partner. But Texas has a very loose definition, which kind of makes Texas an open market for some of these people, especially on the unregulated side.

CHISUM: And hasn't the court long held that an insurance policy is personal property, and so they actually have a right to sell them, an individual does? So they have the right to get into the market, but this makes sure they are treated fairly in the market and to not be traded as a stock dividend?

EILAND: Right, we are trying to protect property rights that you have, as a life insurance policy holder, that you have the right to transact it, and we're regulating that to some extent—setting up standards, because the people that are selling the policies are either very elderly or critically ill.

REPRESENTATIVE D. MILLER: Craig, you're familiar with Retirement Value, aren't you?

EILAND: Yes.

D. MILLER: And they're one of those bad actors, aren't they?

EILAND: Retirement Value is the subject of a lawsuit by the State Securities Board. It's been in the papers here locally quite a bit. And they may be one of the bad actors.

D. MILLER: And your bill, as I understand it, is to address bad actors like the folks over at Retirement Value?

EILAND: To the extent that we can regulate the life insurance policy, as it exists, between when the owner has it, and goes to a life settlement company. That is what we're regulating in life insurance policies. What we're not regulating in this bill, once the life settlement company has it, that security transaction to investors, and that's where somebody needs to regulate that. Somebody needs to keep an eye on that very closely, because that's when individual investors come along and buy a piece of that policy. And they can be taken advantage of, especially if the life expectancy is wrong, and you think somebody's going to die in four years, and they actually are going to die in 10, and you buy an investment in that. That's not a good investment.

D. MILLER: And we do that through the state's securities commission, don't we?

EILAND: That's correct.

D. MILLER: And those are the people going after Retirement Value, aren't they?

EILAND: Correct.

D. MILLER: Now, I heard you mention in the conversation with Representative Chisum the part about the life insurance. And I think you would agree there are good actors out there. People do the right thing by people here in Texas, isn't that right?

EILAND: That is correct. There are good actors, and those are the people that register with the Texas Department of Insurance. They want to have the laws, and they just want to make sure they're updated and a national norm.

D. MILLER: All right. I used to be in life insurance, or do a lot more life insurance than I do today, and the fact is, I heard you comment about the life insurance, that Texas is unique. But the fact that there are sometimes—that other options should be available, and I agree with you that they need to be highly regulated. Thank you for your bill.

Representative Eiland moved to concur in the senate amendments to HB 2277.

definition of life settlement contract that the commissioner determines is not of the type intended to be regulated by this chapter.

(12) "Net death benefit" means the amount of the life insurance policy or certificate to be settled less any outstanding debts or liens.

(13) "Owner" means the owner of a life insurance policy or a certificate holder under a group policy, with or without a terminal illness, who enters or seeks to enter into a life settlement contract. In this chapter, the term "owner" is not limited to an owner of a life insurance policy or a certificate holder under a group policy that insures the life of an individual with a terminal or chronic illness or condition except as specifically provided. The term does not include:

(A) a provider or other license holder under this chapter;

(B) a qualified institutional buyer as defined by 17 C.F.R. Section
230.144A, as amended;

(C) a financing entity;

(D) a special purpose entity; or

(E) a related provider trust.

(14) "Patient identifying information" means an insured's address, telephone number, facsimile number, e-mail address, photograph or likeness, employer, employment status, social security number, or any other information that is likely to lead to the identification of the insured.

(15) "Policy" means an individual or group policy, group certificate, contract, or arrangement of life insurance owned by a resident of this state, regardless of whether delivered or issued for delivery in this state.

(16) "Premium finance loan" is a loan made primarily for the purposes of making premium payments on a life insurance policy that is secured by an interest in the life insurance policy.

(17) "Person" means an individual or legal entity, including a partnership, limited liability company, association, trust, or corporation.

(G) a financing entity;

(H) a special purpose entity;

(I) a related provider trust;

(J) a broker; or

(K) an accredited investor or qualified institutional buyer as those terms are defined by 17 C.F.R. Section 230.144A, as amended, who purchases a life settlement policy from a provider.

(19) "Purchased policy" means a policy or group certificate that has been acquired by a provider pursuant to a life settlement contract.

(20) "Purchaser" means a person who pays compensation or anything of value as consideration for a beneficial interest in a trust that is vested with, or for the assignment, transfer, or sale of, an ownership or other interest in a life insurance policy or a certificate issued pursuant to a group life insurance policy that has been the subject of a life settlement contract.

(21) "Related provider trust" means a titling trust or other trust established by a licensed provider or a financing entity for the sole purpose of holding the ownership or beneficial interest in purchased policies in connection with a financing transaction. In order to qualify as a related provider trust, the trust must have a written agreement with the licensed provider under which the licensed provider is responsible for ensuring compliance with all statutory and regulatory requirements and under which the trust agrees to make all records and files relating to life settlement transactions available to the department as if those records and files were maintained directly by the licensed provider.

(22) "Settled policy" means a life insurance policy or certificate that has been acquired by a provider pursuant to a life settlement contract.

(23) "Special purpose entity" means a corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, or other legal entity formed solely to provide either directly or indirectly access to institutional capital markets:

(A) for a financing entity or provider; or

(B) in connection with a transaction in which:

(i) the securities in the special purpose entity are acquired by the owner or by a qualified institutional buyer as defined by 17 C.F.R. Section 230.144A, as amended; or

(ii) the securities pay a fixed rate of return commensurate with established asset-backed institutional capital markets.

(24) "Terminally ill" means having an illness or sickness that can reasonably be expected to result in death not later than 24 months after the date of diagnosis.

Sec. 1111A.003. LICENSING REQUIREMENTS; EXEMPTION. (a) A person, wherever located, may not act as a provider or broker with an owner who is a resident of this state, unless the person holds a license from the department.

(b) An application for a provider or broker license must be made to the department by the applicant on a form prescribed by the commissioner. The application must be accompanied by a fee in an amount established by the commissioner by rule. The license and renewal fees for a provider license must be reasonable and the license and renewal fees for a broker license may not exceed those established for an insurance agent, as otherwise provided by this chapter.

(c) A person who has been licensed as a life insurance agent in this state or the person's home state for at least one year and is licensed as a nonresident agent in this state meets the licensing requirements of this section and may operate as a broker.

(d) Not later than the 30th day after the first date of operating as a broker, a life insurance agent shall notify the commissioner on a form prescribed by the commissioner that the agent is acting as a broker and shall pay any applicable fee to be determined by the commissioner by rule. Notification must include an acknowledgement by the life insurance agent that the agent will operate as a broker in accordance with this chapter.

(e) An insurer that issued a policy that is the subject of a life settlement contract is not responsible for any act or omission of a broker or provider or purchaser arising out of or in connection with the life settlement transaction, unless the insurer receives compensation for the placement of a life settlement contract from the provider, purchaser, or broker in connection with the life settlement contract.

(f) A person licensed as an attorney, certified public accountant, or financial planner accredited by a nationally recognized accreditation agency, who is retained to represent the owner and whose compensation is not paid directly or indirectly by the provider or purchaser, may negotiate life settlement contracts for the owner without having to obtain a license as a broker.

(g) A license expires on the second anniversary of the date of issuance. A license holder may renew the license on payment of a renewal fee. As specified by Subsection (b), the renewal fee for a provider license may not exceed a reasonable fee.

(h) An applicant shall provide the information that the commissioner requires on forms adopted by the commissioner. The commissioner may, at any time, require an applicant to fully disclose the identity of the applicant's stockholders that own at least 10 percent of the shares of an applicant the shares of which are publicly traded, partners, officers and employees, and the commissioner may, in the exercise of the commissioner's sole discretion, refuse to issue a license in the name of any person if the commissioner is not satisfied that an officer, an employee, a stockholder, or a partner of the applicant who may materially influence the applicant's conduct meets the standards of Sections 1111A.001 to 1111A.018.

(i) A license issued to a partnership, corporation, or other entity authorizes each member, officer, and designated employee named in the application and any supplement to the application to act as a license holder under the license.

(j) After the filing of an application and the payment of the license fee, the commissioner shall investigate each applicant and may issue a license if the commissioner finds that the applicant:

(1) if a provider, has provided a detailed plan of operation;

(2) is competent and trustworthy and intends to transact business in good faith;

(3) has a good business reputation and has had experience, training, or education to qualify in the business for which the license is applied;

(4) if the applicant is a legal entity, is formed or organized under the laws of this state or is a foreign legal entity authorized to transact business in this state, or provides a certificate of good standing from the state of its domicile; and

(5) has provided to the commissioner an antifraud plan that meets the requirements of Section 1111A.022 and includes:

(A) a description of the procedures for detecting and investigating possible fraudulent acts and procedures for resolving material inconsistencies between medical records and insurance applications;

(B) a description of the procedures for reporting fraudulent insurance acts to the commissioner;

(C) a description of the plan for antifraud education and training of its underwriters and other personnel; and

(D) a written description or chart outlining the arrangement of the antifraud personnel who are responsible for the investigation and reporting of possible fraudulent insurance acts and the investigation of unresolved material inconsistencies between medical records and insurance applications.

(k) The commissioner may not issue a license to a nonresident applicant unless a written designation of an agent for service of process is filed and maintained with the department or unless the applicant has filed with the department the applicant's written irrevocable consent that any action against the applicant may be commenced by service of process on the commissioner.

(l) A license holder shall file with the department not later than March 1 of each year an annual statement containing the information as the commissioner by rule prescribes.

(m) A provider may not allow any person to perform the functions of a broker unless the person holds a current, valid license as a broker, and as provided in this section.

(n) A broker may not allow any person to perform the functions of a provider unless the person holds a current, valid license as a provider, and as provided in this section.

(o) A provider or broker shall provide to the commissioner new or revised information about officers, stockholders described by Subsection (h), partners, directors, members, or designated employees within 30 days of the change.

(p) An individual licensed as a broker shall complete on a biennial basis 15 hours of training related to life settlements and life settlement transactions, as required by the commissioner. A life insurance agent who is operating as a broker under this section is not subject to the requirements of this subsection.

(q) The business of life settlements constitutes the business of insurance.

Sec. 1111A.004. LICENSE SUSPENSION, REVOCATION, OR REFUSAL TO RENEW. (a) The commissioner may suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the license of a license holder if the commissioner finds that:

(1) there was a material misrepresentation in the application for the license;

(2) the license holder or an officer, partner, member, or director of the license holder has been guilty of fraudulent or dishonest practices, is subject to a final administrative action, or is otherwise shown to be untrustworthy or incompetent to act as a license holder;

(3) the license holder is a provider and demonstrates a pattern of unreasonably withholding payments to policy owners;

(4) the license holder no longer meets the requirements for initial licensure;

(5) the license holder or any officer, partner, member, or director of the license holder has been convicted of a felony, or of any misdemeanor with respect to which criminal fraud is an element, or has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere with respect to a felony or a misdemeanor with respect to which criminal fraud or moral turpitude is an element, regardless of whether a judgment of conviction has been entered by the court;

(6) the license holder is a provider and has entered into a life settlement contract using a form that has not been approved under this chapter;

(7) the license holder is a provider and has failed to honor contractual obligations in a life settlement contract;

(8) the license holder is a provider and has assigned, transferred, or pledged a settled policy to a person other than a provider licensed in this state, a purchaser, an accredited investor or qualified institutional buyer as defined respectively in 17 C.F.R. Section 230.144A, as amended, a financing entity, a special purpose entity, or a related provider trust; or

(9) the license holder or any officer, partner, member, or key management personnel of the license holder has violated this chapter.

(b) The commissioner may deny a license application or suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the license of a license holder in accordance with Chapter 2001, Government Code.

Sec. 1111A.005. REQUIREMENTS FOR CONTRACT FORMS, DISCLOSURE FORMS, AND ADVERTISEMENTS. (a) A person may not use any form of life settlement contract in this state unless the form has been filed with and approved, if required, by the commissioner in a manner that conforms with the filing procedures and any time restrictions or deeming provisions for life insurance forms, policies, and contracts.

(b) An insurer may not, as a condition of responding to a request for verification of coverage or in connection with the transfer of a policy pursuant to a life settlement contract, require that the owner, insured, provider, or broker sign any form, disclosure, consent, waiver, or acknowledgment that has not been expressly approved by the commissioner for use in connection with life settlement contracts.

(c) A person may not use a life settlement contract form or provide to an owner a disclosure statement form unless the form is first filed with and approved by the commissioner. The commissioner shall disapprove a life settlement contract form or disclosure statement form if, in the commissioner's opinion, the contract or contract provisions fail to meet the requirements of Sections 1111A.011, 1111A.012, 1111A.014, and 1111A.023(b), or are unreasonable, contrary to the interests of the public, or otherwise misleading or unfair to the owner.

(d) At the commissioner's discretion, the commissioner may require the submission of advertisements.

Sec. 1111A.006. REPORTING REQUIREMENTS AND PRIVACY. (a) For a policy settled not later than the fifth anniversary of the date of policy issuance, each provider shall file with the commissioner not later than March 1 of each year an annual statement containing the information that the commissioner prescribes by rule. In addition to any other requirements, the annual statement must specify the total number, aggregate face amount, and life settlement proceeds of policies settled during the immediately preceding calendar year, together with a breakdown of the information by policy issue year. The annual statement must also include the names of each insurance company whose policies have been settled and the brokers that have settled the policies.

(b) The information required under Subsection (a) is limited to only those transactions in which the insured is a resident of this state and may not include individual transaction data regarding the business of life settlements or information if there is a reasonable basis to find that the information could be used to identify the owner or the insured.

(c) A provider that wilfully fails to file an annual statement as required in this section, or wilfully fails to reply not later than the 30th day after the date the provider receives a written inquiry from the department about the filing of the annual statement, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by this chapter, after notice and opportunity for hearing be subject to a penalty of up to $250 for each day of delay, not to exceed $25,000 in the aggregate, for the failure to file or respond.

(d) Except as otherwise allowed or required by law, a provider, broker, insurance company, insurance agent, information bureau, rating agency or company, or any other person with actual knowledge of an insured's identity, may not disclose the identity of an insured or information that there is a reasonable basis to believe could be used to identify the insured or the insured's financial or medical information to any other person unless the disclosure is:

(1) necessary to effect a life settlement contract between the owner and a provider and the owner and insured have provided prior written consent to the disclosure;

(2) necessary to effectuate the sale of a life settlement contract, or interests in the contract, as an investment, provided the sale is conducted in accordance with applicable state and federal securities law and provided further that the owner and the insured have both provided prior written consent to the disclosure;

(3) provided in response to an investigation or examination by the commissioner or another governmental officer or agency or under Section 1111A.018;

(4) a term or condition of the transfer of a policy by one provider to another licensed provider, in which case the receiving provider shall comply with the confidentiality requirements of this subsection;

(5) necessary to allow the provider or broker or the provider's or broker's authorized representative to make contact for the purpose of determining health status provided that in this subdivision, authorized representative does not include a person who has or may have a financial interest in the settlement contract other than a provider, licensed broker, financing entity, related provider trust, or special purpose entity and that the provider or broker requires the authorized representative to agree in writing to adhere to the privacy provisions of this chapter; or

(6) required to purchase stop loss coverage.

(e) Nonpublic personal information solicited or obtained in connection with a proposed or actual life settlement contract is subject to the provisions applicable to financial institutions under the federal Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (Pub. L. No. 106-102), and any other state and federal laws relating to confidentiality of nonpublic personal information.

Sec. 1111A.007. EXAMINATION. Subchapter B, Chapter 401, applies to a person engaged in the business of life settlements.

Sec. 1111A.008. IMMUNITY FROM LIABILITY. (a) No cause of action shall arise nor shall any liability be imposed against the commissioner, the commissioner's authorized representatives, or any examiner appointed by the commissioner for a statement made or conduct performed in good faith while carrying out this chapter.

(b) No cause of action shall arise, nor shall any liability be imposed against any person for the act of communicating or delivering information to the commissioner or the commissioner's authorized representative or examiner pursuant to an examination made under this chapter, if the act of communication or delivery was performed in good faith and without fraudulent intent or the intent to deceive. This subsection does not abrogate or modify in any way any common law or statutory privilege or immunity enjoyed by any person identified in Subsection (a).

Sec. 1111A.009. INVESTIGATIVE AUTHORITY OF THE COMMISSIONER. The commissioner may investigate a suspected fraudulent life settlement act and a person engaged in the business of life settlements.

Sec. 1111A.010. COST OF EXAMINATIONS. The reasonable and necessary cost of an examination under this chapter is to be assessed against the person being examined in accordance with Section 751.208.

Sec. 1111A.011. ADVERTISING. (a) A broker or provider licensed pursuant to this chapter may conduct or participate in an advertisement in this state. The advertisement must comply with all advertising and marketing laws under Chapter 541 and rules adopted by the commissioner that are applicable to life insurers or to license holders under this chapter.

(b) Advertisements shall be accurate, truthful, and not misleading in fact or by implication.

(c) A person may not:

(1) market, advertise, solicit, or otherwise promote the purchase of a policy for the sole purpose of or with an emphasis on settling the policy; or

(2) use the words "free," "no cost," or words of similar import in the marketing, advertising, or soliciting of, or otherwise promoting, the purchase of a policy.

Sec. 1111A.012. DISCLOSURES TO OWNERS. (a) Not later than the fifth day after the date a provider receives the application for a life settlement contract, the provider shall provide, in a separate written document, the following information to the owner:

(1) the fact that possible alternatives to life settlement contracts exist, including accelerated benefits offered by the issuer of the life insurance policy;

(2) the fact that some or all of the proceeds of a life settlement contract may be taxable and that assistance should be sought from a professional tax advisor;

(3) the fact that the proceeds from a life settlement contract could be subject to the claims of creditors;

(4) the fact that receipt of proceeds from a life settlement contract may adversely affect the recipients' eligibility for public assistance or other government benefits or entitlements and that advice should be obtained from the appropriate agency;

(5) the fact that the owner has a right to terminate a life settlement contract within 15 days of the date the contract is executed by all parties and the owner has received the disclosures described in this section, that rescission, if exercised by the owner, is effective only if both notice of the rescission is given and the owner repays all proceeds and any premiums, loans, and loan interest paid on account of the provider during the rescission period, and that if the insured dies during the rescission period, the contract is considered rescinded subject to repayment by the owner or the owner's estate of all proceeds and any premiums, loans, and loan interest to the provider;

(6) the fact that proceeds will be sent to the owner within three business days after the provider has received the insurer or group administrator's acknowledgement that ownership of the policy or interest in the certificate has been transferred and the beneficiary has been designated in accordance with the terms of the life settlement contract;

(7) the fact that entering into a life settlement contract may cause the owner to forfeit other rights or benefits, including conversion rights and waiver of premium benefits that may exist under the policy or certificate of a group policy, and that assistance should be sought from a professional financial advisor;

(8) the amount and method of calculating the compensation, including anything of value, paid or given, or to be paid or given, to the broker, or any other person acting for the owner in connection with the transaction;

(9) the date by which the funds will be available to the owner and the identity of the transmitter of the funds;

(10) the fact that the commissioner requires delivery of a buyer's guide or a similar consumer advisory package in the form prescribed by the commissioner to owners during the solicitation process;

(11) the following language: "All medical, financial, or personal information solicited or obtained by a provider or broker about an insured, including the insured's identity or the identity of family members or a spouse or a significant other, may be disclosed as necessary to effect the life settlement contract between the owner and provider. If you are asked to provide this information, you will be asked to consent to the disclosure. The information may be provided to someone who buys the policy or provides funds for the purchase. You may be asked to renew your permission to share information every two years.";

(12) the fact that the commissioner requires providers and brokers to print separate signed fraud warnings on the applications and on the life settlement contracts as follows: "Any person who knowingly presents false information in an application for insurance or a life settlement contract is guilty of a crime and may be subject to fines and confinement in prison.";

(13) the fact that the insured may be contacted by either the provider or broker or an authorized representative of the provider or broker for the purpose of determining the insured's health status or to verify the insured's address and that this contact is limited to once every three months if the insured has a life expectancy of more than one year, and not more than once per month if the insured has a life expectancy of one year or less;

(14) the affiliation, if any, between the provider and the issuer of the insurance policy to be settled;

(15) that a broker represents exclusively the owner, and not the insurer or the provider or any other person, and owes a fiduciary duty to the owner, including a duty to act according to the owner's instructions and in the best interest of the owner;

(16) the name, address, and telephone number of the provider;

(17) the name, business address, and telephone number of the independent third party escrow agent, and the fact that the owner may inspect or receive copies of the relevant escrow or trust agreements or documents; and

(18) the fact that a change of ownership could in the future limit the insured's ability to purchase future insurance on the insured's life because there is a limit to how much coverage insurers will issue on one life.

(b) The written disclosures described by Subsection (a) must be conspicuously displayed in a life settlement contract furnished to the owner by a provider, including any affiliations or contractual arrangements between the provider and the broker.

(c) A broker shall provide the owner and the provider with at least the following disclosures not later than the date on which the life settlement contract is signed by all parties and which must be conspicuously displayed in the life settlement contract or in a separate document signed by the owner:

(1) the name, business address, and telephone number of the broker;

(2) a full, complete, and accurate description of all the offers, counter-offers, acceptances, and rejections relating to the proposed life settlement contract;

(3) a written disclosure of any affiliations or contractual arrangements between the broker and any person making an offer in connection with the proposed life settlement contract;

(4) the name of each broker who receives compensation and the amount of compensation, including anything of value, paid or given to the broker in connection with the life settlement contract; and

(5) a complete reconciliation of the gross offer or bid by the provider to the net amount of proceeds or value to be received by the owner.

(d) For the purpose of this section, "gross offer or bid" means the total amount or value offered by the provider for the purchase of one or more life insurance policies, inclusive of commissions and fees.

(e) The failure to provide the disclosures or rights described in this section is an unfair method of competition or an unfair or deceptive act or practice.

Sec. 1111A.013. DISCLOSURE TO INSURER. (a) Without limiting the ability of an insurer to assess the insurability of a policy applicant and to determine whether to issue the policy, and in addition to other questions an insurance carrier may lawfully pose to a life insurance applicant, an insurer may inquire in the application for insurance whether the proposed owner intends to pay premiums with the assistance of financing from a lender that will use the policy as collateral to support the financing.

(b) If, as described in Sections 1111A.002(11) and (11-A), the loan provides funds that can be used for a purpose other than paying for the premiums, costs, and expenses associated with obtaining and maintaining the life insurance policy and loan, and notwithstanding any other law, the application must be rejected as a violation of Section 1111A.017.

(c) If the financing does not violate Section 1111A.017, the insurance carrier:

(1) may make disclosures, not later than the date of the delivery of the policy, to the applicant and the insured, either on the application or on an amendment to the application that include the following or substantially similar statements:

"If you have entered into a loan arrangement in which the policy is used as collateral, and the policy does change ownership at some point in the future in satisfaction of the loan, the following may be true:

(A) a change of ownership could lead to a stranger owning an interest in the insured's life;

(B) a change of ownership could in the future limit your ability to purchase future insurance on the insured's life because there is a limit to how much coverage insurers will issue on one life;

(C) should there be a change of ownership and you wish to obtain more insurance coverage on the insured's life in the future, the insured's higher issue age, a change in health status, or other factors may reduce the ability to obtain coverage or may result in significantly higher premiums; and

(D) you should consult a professional advisor, since a change in ownership in satisfaction of the loan may result in tax consequences to the owner, depending on the structure of the loan.";

(2) may require certifications, such as the following, from the applicant or the insured:

(A) "I have not entered into any agreement or arrangement providing for the future sale of this life insurance policy";

(B) "My loan arrangement for this policy provides funds sufficient to pay for some or all of the premiums, costs, and expenses associated with obtaining and maintaining my life insurance policy, but I have not entered into any agreement by which I am to receive consideration in exchange for procuring this policy"; and

(C) "The borrower has an insurable interest in the insured."

Sec. 1111A.014. GENERAL RULES. (a) Before entering into a life settlement contract with an owner of a policy with respect to which the insured is terminally or chronically ill, the provider must obtain:

(1) if the owner is the insured, a written statement from a licensed attending physician that the owner is of sound mind and under no constraint or undue influence to enter into a settlement contract; and

(2) a document in which the insured consents to the release of medical records to a provider, settlement broker, or insurance agent and, if the policy was issued less than two years after the date of application for a settlement contract, to the insurance company that issued the policy.

(b) An insurer shall respond to a request for verification of coverage submitted by a provider, settlement broker, or life insurance agent not later than the 30th calendar day after the date the request is received. The request for verification of coverage must be made on a form approved by the commissioner. The insurer shall complete and issue the verification of coverage or indicate in which respects the insurer is unable to respond. In the response, the insurer shall indicate whether at the time of the response, based on the medical evidence and documents provided, the insurer intends to pursue an investigation about the validity of the insurance contract.

(c) On or before the date of execution of the life settlement contract, the provider shall obtain a witnessed document in which the owner consents to the settlement contract, represents that the owner has a full and complete understanding of the settlement contract and of the benefits of the policy, acknowledges that the owner is entering into the settlement contract freely and voluntarily, and, for persons with a terminal or chronic illness or condition, acknowledges that the insured has a terminal or chronic illness and that the terminal or chronic illness or condition was diagnosed after the policy was issued.

(d) The insurer may not unreasonably delay effecting change of ownership or beneficiary with any life settlement contract lawfully entered into in this state or with a resident of this state.

(e) If a settlement broker or life insurance agent performs any of these activities required of the provider, the provider is deemed to have fulfilled the requirements of this section.

(f) If a broker performs the verification of coverage activities required of the provider, the provider is deemed to have fulfilled the requirements of Section 1111A.012.

(g) Not later than the 20th day after the date that an owner executes the life settlement contract, the provider shall give written notice to the insurer that issued that insurance policy that the policy has become subject to a life settlement contract. The notice shall be accompanied by the documents required by Section 1111A.013(c).

(h) Medical information solicited or obtained by a license holder is subject to the applicable provision of state law relating to confidentiality of medical information, if not otherwise provided in this chapter.

(i) A life settlement contract entered into in this state must provide that the owner may rescind the contract on or before 15 days after the date the contract is executed by all parties to the contract. Rescission, if exercised by the owner, is effective only if notice of the rescission is given and the owner repays all proceeds and any premiums, loans, and loan interest paid on account of the provider within the rescission period. If the insured dies during the rescission period, the contract is rescinded subject to repayment by the owner or the owner's estate of all proceeds and any premiums, loans, and loan interest to the provider.

(j) Not later than the third business day after the date the provider receives from the owner the documents to effect the transfer of the insurance policy, the provider shall pay the proceeds of the settlement into an escrow or trust account managed by a trustee or escrow agent in a state or federally chartered financial institution pending acknowledgement of the transfer by the issuer of the policy. The trustee or escrow agent shall transfer to the owner the proceeds due to the owner not later than the third business day after the date the trustee or escrow officer receives from the insurer acknowledgment of the transfer of the insurance policy.

(k) Failure to tender the life settlement contract proceeds to the owner on or before the date disclosed to the owner renders the contract voidable by the owner for lack of consideration until the time the proceeds are tendered to and accepted by the owner. A failure to give written notice of the right of rescission under this subsection tolls the right of rescission for 30 days after the date the written notice of the right of rescission has been given.

(l) A fee paid by a provider, an owner, or other person to a broker in exchange for services provided to the owner pertaining to a life settlement contract must be computed as a percentage of the offer obtained, not the face value of the policy. Nothing in this section prohibits a broker from voluntarily reducing the broker's fee to less than a percentage of the offer obtained.

(m) A broker shall disclose to the owner anything of value paid or given to a broker that relates to a life settlement contract.

(n) A person, at any time prior to or at the time of the application for, or issuance of, a policy, or during a two-year period beginning on the date of issuance of the policy, may not enter into a life settlement contract regardless of the date the compensation is to be provided and regardless of the date the assignment, transfer, sale, devise, bequest, or surrender of the policy is to occur. This prohibition does not apply if:

(1) the owner certifies to the provider that the policy was issued on the owner's exercise of conversion rights arising out of a group or individual policy, provided the total of the time covered under the conversion policy plus the time covered under the prior policy is at least 24 months; or

(2) the owner submits independent evidence to the provider that one or more of the following conditions have been met during the two-year period described by this subsection:

(A) the owner or insured is terminally or chronically ill;

(B) the owner or insured disposes of the owner's or insured's ownership interests in a closely held corporation, pursuant to the terms of a buyout or other similar agreement in effect at the time the insurance policy was initially issued;

(C) the owner's spouse dies;

(D) the owner divorces the owner's spouse;

(E) the owner retires from full-time employment;

(F) the owner becomes physically or mentally disabled and a physician determines that the disability prevents the owner from maintaining full-time employment; or

(G) a final order, judgment, or decree is entered by a court of competent jurisdiction, on the application of a creditor of the owner, adjudicating the owner bankrupt or insolvent, or approving a petition seeking reorganization of the owner or appointing a receiver, trustee, or liquidator to all or a substantial part of the owner's assets.

(o) For the purposes of Subsection (n)(1), time covered under a group policy must be calculated without regard to a change in insurance carriers, provided the coverage has been continuous and under the same group sponsorship.

(p) Copies of the independent evidence described by Subsection (n)(2) must be submitted to the insurer at the time the provider submits a request to the insurer for verification of coverage. The copies must be accompanied by a letter of attestation from the provider that the copies are true and correct copies of the documents received by the provider. This section does not prohibit an insurer from exercising its right to contest the validity of a policy.

(q) If the provider submits to the insurer a copy of independent evidence provided for Subsection (n)(2)(A) at the time the provider submits a request to the insurer to effect the transfer of the policy to the provider, the copy is deemed to establish that the settlement contract satisfies the requirements of this section.

Sec. 1111A.015. AUTHORITY TO ADOPT RULES. (a) The commissioner may adopt rules implementing this chapter and regulating the activities and relationships of providers, brokers, insurers, and their authorized representatives.

(b) The commissioner may not adopt a rule establishing a price or fee for the sale or purchase of a life settlement contract. This subsection does not prohibit the commissioner from adopting a rule relating to an unjust price or fee for the sale or purchase of a life settlement contract.

(c) The commissioner may not adopt a rule that regulates the actions of an investor providing money to a life or viatical settlement company.

Sec. 1111A.016. CONFLICT OF LAWS. (a) If there is more than one owner on a single policy, and the owners are residents of different states, the life settlement contract is governed by the law of the state in which the owner having the largest percentage ownership resides or, if the owners hold equal ownership, the state of residence of one owner agreed on in writing by all of the owners. The law of the state of the insured shall govern in the event that equal owners fail to agree in writing on a state of residence for jurisdictional purposes.

(b) A provider licensed in this state who enters into a life settlement contract with an owner who is a resident of another state that has enacted statutes or adopted rules governing life settlement contracts is governed in the effectuation of that life settlement contract by the statutes and rules of the owner's state of residence. If the state in which the owner is a resident has not enacted statutes or adopted rules governing life settlement contracts, the provider shall give the owner notice that neither state regulates the transaction on which the owner is entering. For transactions in those states, however, the provider shall maintain all records required by this chapter if the transactions were executed in this state. The forms used in those states need not be approved by the department.

(c) If there is a conflict in the laws that apply to an owner and a purchaser in any individual transaction, the laws of the state that apply to the owner shall take precedence and the provider shall comply with those laws.

Sec. 1111A.017. PROHIBITED PRACTICES. (a) A person may not:

(1) enter into a life settlement contract if the person knows or reasonably should have known that the life insurance policy was obtained by means of a false, deceptive, or misleading application for the policy;

(2) engage in a transaction, practice, or course of business if the person knows or reasonably should have known that the intent of engaging in the transaction, practice, or course of business is to avoid the notice requirements of this chapter;

(3) engage in a fraudulent act or practice in connection with a transaction relating to any settlement involving an owner who is a resident of this state;

(4) issue, solicit, market, or otherwise promote the purchase of an insurance policy for the purpose of, or with an emphasis on, settling the policy;

(5) if providing premium financing, receive any proceeds, fee, or other consideration from the policy or owner in addition to the amounts required to pay principal, interest, and any reasonable costs or expenses incurred by the lender or borrower in connection with the premium finance agreement, except in event of a default, unless either the default on the loan or transfer of the policy occurs pursuant to an agreement or understanding with any other person for the purpose of evading regulation under this chapter;

(6) with respect to any settlement contract or insurance policy and to a broker, knowingly solicit an offer from, effectuate a life settlement contract with, or make a sale to any provider, financing entity, or related provider trust that is controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the broker unless the relationship is fully disclosed to the owner;

(7) with respect to any life settlement contract or insurance policy and a provider, knowingly enter into a life settlement contract with an owner if, in connection with the life settlement contract, anything of value will be paid to a broker that is controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the provider or the financing entity or related provider trust that is involved in such settlement contract, unless the relationship is fully disclosed to the owner;

(8) with respect to a provider, enter into a life settlement contract unless the life settlement promotional, advertising, and marketing materials, as may be prescribed by rule, have been filed with the commissioner, provided that in no event may any marketing materials expressly reference that the insurance is free for any period of time; or

(9) with respect to any life insurance agent, insurance company, broker, or provider, make any statement or representation to the applicant or policyholder in connection with the sale or financing of a life insurance policy to the effect that the insurance is free or without cost to the policyholder for any period of time unless provided in the policy.

(b) A violation of this section is a fraudulent life settlement act.

Sec. 1111A.018. FRAUD PREVENTION AND CONTROL. (a) A person may not commit a fraudulent life settlement act.

(b) A person may not interfere with the enforcement of this chapter or an investigation of a suspected or actual violation of this chapter.

(c) A person in the business of life settlements may not knowingly or intentionally permit a person convicted of a felony involving dishonesty or breach of trust to participate in the business of life settlements.

(d) A life settlement contract and an application for a life settlement contract, regardless of the form of transmission, must contain the following, or a substantially similar, statement: "Any person who knowingly presents false information in an application for insurance or a life settlement contract is guilty of a crime and may be subject to fines and confinement in prison."

(e) The failure to include a statement as required in Subsection (d) is not a defense in any prosecution for a fraudulent life settlement act.

Sec. 1111A.019. MANDATORY REPORTING OF FRAUDULENT LIFE SETTLEMENT ACTS. A person engaged in the business of life settlements has a duty under Section 701.051 to report a fraudulent life settlement act.

Sec. 1111A.020. CONFIDENTIALITY. (a) The documents and evidence obtained by the commissioner in an investigation of a suspected or an actual fraudulent life settlement act are privileged and confidential, are not a public record, and are not subject to discovery or subpoena in a civil or criminal action.

(b) Subsection (a) does not prohibit release by the commissioner of documents and evidence obtained in an investigation of a suspected or an actual fraudulent life settlement act:

(1) in an administrative or judicial proceeding to enforce a provision of this code or another insurance law of this state;

(2) to a federal, state, or local law enforcement or regulatory agency, to an organization established for the purpose of detecting and preventing a fraudulent life settlement act, or to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners; or

(3) at the discretion of the commissioner, to a person in the business of life settlements that is aggrieved by a fraudulent life settlement act.

(c) Release of documents and evidence under Subsection (b) does not abrogate or modify the privilege granted in Subsection (a).

Sec. 1111A.021. OTHER LAW ENFORCEMENT OR REGULATORY AUTHORITY. This chapter does not:

(1) preempt the authority or relieve the duty of another law enforcement or regulatory agency to investigate, examine, and prosecute a suspected violation of law;

(2) preempt, supersede, or limit any provision of any state securities law or any rule, order, or notice issued under the law;

(3) prevent or prohibit a person from disclosing voluntarily information concerning life settlement fraud to a law enforcement or regulatory agency other than the department; or

(4) limit the powers granted by the laws of this state to the commissioner or an insurance fraud unit to investigate and examine a possible violation of law and to take appropriate action against wrongdoers.

Sec. 1111A.022. LIFE SETTLEMENT ANTIFRAUD INITIATIVES.

(a) A provider or broker shall implement antifraud initiatives reasonably calculated to detect, prosecute, and prevent fraudulent life settlement acts. At the discretion of the commissioner, the commissioner may order, or a license holder may request and the commissioner may grant, a modification of the following required initiatives as necessary to ensure an effective antifraud program. A modification granted under this section may be more or less restrictive than the required initiatives so long as the modification may reasonably be expected to accomplish the purpose of this section. Antifraud initiatives must include:

(1) fraud investigators, who may be provider or broker employees or independent contractors; and

(2) an antifraud plan, which must be submitted to the commissioner and must include:

(A) a description of the procedures for detecting and investigating possible fraudulent life settlement acts and procedures for resolving material inconsistencies between medical records and insurance applications;

(B) a description of the procedures for reporting possible fraudulent life settlement acts to the commissioner;

(C) a description of the plan for antifraud education and training of underwriters and other personnel; and

(D) a description or chart outlining the organizational arrangement of the antifraud personnel who are responsible for the investigation and reporting of possible fraudulent life settlement acts and investigating unresolved material inconsistencies between medical records and insurance applications.

(b) An antifraud plan submitted to the commissioner is privileged and confidential, is not subject to disclosure under Chapter 552, Government Code, and is not subject to discovery or subpoena in a civil action.

Sec. 1111A.023. INJUNCTION; CIVIL REMEDIES; CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS. (a) In addition to the penalties and other enforcement provisions of this chapter, if any person violates this chapter or any rule implementing this chapter, the commissioner may seek an injunction in a court in the county where the person resides or has a principal place of business and may apply for temporary and permanent orders that the commissioner determines necessary to restrain the person from further committing the violation.

(b) The commissioner may issue a cease and desist order against a person who violates any provision of this chapter, any rule or order adopted by the commissioner, or any written agreement entered into with the commissioner, in accordance with Chapter 82.

(c) If the commissioner finds that an action in violation of this chapter presents an immediate danger to the public and requires an immediate final order, the commissioner may issue an emergency cease and desist order under Chapter 83.

(d) The provisions of this chapter may not be waived by agreement. No choice of law provision may prevent the application of this chapter to any settlement.

Sec. 1111A.024. PENALTIES. (a) It is a violation of this chapter for any person, provider, broker, or any other party related to the business of life settlements to commit a fraudulent life settlement act.

(b) A person who knowingly, recklessly, or intentionally commits a fraudulent life settlement act commits a criminal offense and is subject to penalties under Chapter 35, Penal Code.

CSHB 2207, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the authority of the board of trustees to set rates for certain municipal utility systems.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Section 552.141, Local Government Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 552.141. APPLICABILITY OF SUBCHAPTER. This subchapter applies only to a home-rule municipality that owns or may own a water, wastewater, storm water, or drainage utility system, by ordinance or charter elects to have the management and control of two or more of those utility systems governed by this subchapter, and:

(1) has outstanding obligations payable solely from and secured by a lien on and pledge of the net revenue of one or more of those systems; or

(2) issues obligations that are payable solely from and secured by a lien on and pledge of the net revenue of one or more of those systems.

SECTION 2. Section 552.142(a), Local Government Code, is amended to read as follows:

(a) A municipality by ordinance may transfer management and control of two or more of its water, wastewater, storm water, or drainage systems to a board of trustees. A municipality by ordinance may grant the board authority to set rates and related terms for the systems.

SECTION 3. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

Senate Amendment No. 1 (Senate Floor Amendment No. 1)

Amend HB 2207 by adding the following appropriately numbered SECTION to the bill and renumbering the remaining SECTIONS of the bill accordingly:

SECTION _____. (a) Subsection (a), Section 1502.056, Government Code, is amended to read as follows:

(a) If the revenue of a utility system, park, or swimming pool secures the payment of public securities issued or obligations incurred under this chapter, each expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, interest, repairs and extensions necessary to provide efficient service, and each proper item of expense, is a first lien against that revenue. For a municipality with a population of more than one million but less than two million, the first lien against the revenue of a municipally owned [electric or gas] utility system that secures the payment of public securities issued or obligations incurred under this chapter also applies to funding, as a necessary operations expense, for a bill payment assistance program for utility system customers who have been threatened with disconnection from service for nonpayment of bills and who have been determined by the municipality to be low-income customers.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, this section takes effect immediately if this Act receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this section takes effect September 1, 2011.

HB 1386 - HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS
TEXT OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Representative Coleman called up with senate amendments for consideration at this time,

HB 1386, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the public health threat presented by youth suicide.

HB 1386 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE KOLKHORST: My questions are on the amendment, which is really SB 1349, I believe.

REPRESENTATIVE COLEMAN: That's correct.

KOLKHORST: Just to clarify—what she added in those lists—does this apply to private institutions as well?

COLEMAN: No, it does not.

KOLKHORST: Okay. And then the question I had just from rural school districts—you know, sometimes we have folks, like pastors or other staff members, that counsel the students. This bill, as I understand it, the amendment adds to the list the licensed marriage and family therapists. And it has a grandfather clause, but in the future could other volunteers help—

COLEMAN: Yes.

KOLKHORST: —in that role?

COLEMAN: They're not subject to this, and I think the confusion is that licensed marriage and family therapists are a class of "provider" just like a psychologist, a doctor, an APN. This is not saying others are excluded from providing those volunteer services wherever they may come from if that school district wants that. But it says that this professional therapist or counselor is included to be able to serve in those capacities in the school district. So nothing in this mandates that a school district hire a licensed marriage and family therapist, nor does it stop them, and should not, from having community volunteers that may do the same work in their church.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. This Act is dedicated to every child who has fallen victim to severe emotional trauma.

SECTION 2. The legislature finds that:

(1) the United States Surgeon General's Report on Children's Mental Health estimates that one in five children and adolescents will experience a significant mental health problem during their school years;

(2) during elementary school years, children are in an ongoing developmental process where it is crucial that healthy mental and behavioral development be promoted and that a solid foundation in social-emotional skills and capacities be built;

(3) adolescence is a period of significant change, during which youth are faced with a myriad of pressures;

(4) the pressures facing youth during adolescence include pressures relating to adapting to bodily changes, succeeding academically, making college and career decisions, being accepted by peers, including pressure to engage in drugs, alcohol, and sex, measuring up to expectations of others, and coping with family and peer conflicts;

(5) increased levels of victimization also lead to increased levels of depression and anxiety and decreased levels of self-esteem;

(6) emotional trauma and mental health issues, if left unaddressed, can lead and have led to life-threatening violence and suicide;

(7) suicide committed by youth continues to present a public health threat that endangers the well-being of the youth of the state;

(8) suicide is the third leading cause of death for persons who are at least 15 years of age but younger than 25 years of age and the sixth leading cause of death for persons who are at least 5 years of age but younger than 15 years of age; and

(9) it is of the utmost importance to keep children and adolescents mentally healthy and on a course to become mentally healthy adults.

SECTION 3. Chapter 161, Health and Safety Code, is amended by adding Subchapter O-1 to read as follows:

SUBCHAPTER O-1. EARLY MENTAL HEALTH INTERVENTION AND PREVENTION OF YOUTH SUICIDE

Sec. 161.325. EARLY MENTAL HEALTH INTERVENTION AND SUICIDE PREVENTION. (a) The department, in coordination with the Texas Education Agency, shall provide and annually update a list of recommended best practice-based early mental health intervention and suicide prevention programs for implementation in public elementary, junior high, middle, and high schools within the general education setting. Each school district may select from the list a program or programs appropriate for implementation in the district.

(b) The programs on the list must include components that provide for training counselors, teachers, nurses, administrators, and other staff, as well as law enforcement officers and social workers who regularly interact with students, to:

(1) recognize students at risk of committing suicide, including students who are or may be the victims of or who engage in bullying;

(2) recognize students displaying early warning signs and a possible need for early mental health intervention, which warning signs may include declining academic performance, depression, anxiety, isolation, unexplained changes in sleep or eating habits, and destructive behavior toward self and others; and

(3) intervene effectively with students described by Subdivision (1) or (2) by providing notice and referral to a parent or guardian so appropriate action, such as seeking mental health services, may be taken by a parent or guardian.

(c) In developing the list of programs, the department and the Texas Education Agency shall consider:

(1) any existing suicide prevention method developed by a school district; and

(2) any Internet or online course or program developed in this state or another state that is based on best practices recognized by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration or the Suicide Prevention Resource Center.

(d) The board of trustees of each school district may adopt a policy concerning early mental health intervention and suicide prevention that:

(1) establishes a procedure for providing notice of a recommendation for early mental health intervention regarding a student to a parent or guardian of the student within a reasonable amount of time after the identification of early warning signs as described by Subsection (b)(2);

(2) establishes a procedure for providing notice of a student identified as at risk of committing suicide to a parent or guardian of the student within a reasonable amount of time after the identification of early warning signs as described by Subsection (b)(2);

(3) establishes that the district may develop a reporting mechanism and may designate at least one person to act as a liaison officer in the district for the purposes of identifying students in need of early mental health intervention or suicide prevention; and

(4) sets out available counseling alternatives for a parent or guardian to consider when their child is identified as possibly being in need of early mental health intervention or suicide prevention.

(e) The policy must prohibit the use without the prior consent of a student's parent or guardian of a medical screening of the student as part of the process of identifying whether the student is possibly in need of early mental health intervention or suicide prevention.

(f) The policy and any necessary procedures adopted under Subsection (d) must be included in:

(1) the annual student handbook; and

(2) the district improvement plan under Section 11.252, Education

Code.

(g) The department may accept donations for purposes of this section from sources without a conflict of interest. The department may not accept donations for purposes of this section from an anonymous source.

(h) Not later than January 1, 2013, the department shall submit a report to the legislature relating to the development of the list of programs and the implementation in school districts of selected programs by school districts that choose to implement programs. This subsection expires September 1, 2013.

(i) Nothing in this section is intended to interfere with the rights of parents or guardians and the decision-making regarding the best interest of the child. Policy and procedures adopted in accordance with this section are intended to notify a parent or guardian of a need for mental health intervention so that a parent or guardian may take appropriate action. Nothing in this section shall be construed as giving school districts the authority to prescribe medications. Any and all medical decisions are to be made by a parent or guardian of a student.

SECTION 4. Section 11.252(a), Education Code, is amended to read as follows:

(a) Each school district shall have a district improvement plan that is developed, evaluated, and revised annually, in accordance with district policy, by the superintendent with the assistance of the district-level committee established under Section 11.251. BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Section 209.005, Property Code, is amended to read as follows:

This subsection does not require production of a document that constitutes attorney work product or that is privileged as an attorney-client communication.

(e) An owner or the owner's authorized representative described by Subsection (c) must submit a written request for access or information under Subsection (c) by certified mail, with sufficient detail describing the property owners' association's books and records requested, to the mailing address of the association or authorized representative as reflected on the most current management certificate filed under Section 209.004. The request must contain an election either to inspect the books and records before obtaining copies or to have the property owners' association forward copies of the requested books and records and:

(1) if an inspection is requested, the association, on or before the 10th business day after the date the association receives the request, shall send written notice of dates during normal business hours that the owner may inspect the requested books and records to the extent those books and records are in the possession, custody, or control of the association; or

The policy required by this subsection must be recorded as a dedicatory instrument in accordance with Section 202.006. An association may not charge an owner for the compilation, production, or reproduction of information requested under this section unless the policy prescribing those costs has been recorded as required by this subsection. An owner is responsible for costs related to the compilation, production, and reproduction of the requested information in the amounts prescribed by the policy adopted under this subsection. The association may require advance payment of the estimated costs of compilation, production, and reproduction of the requested information. If the estimated costs exceeded the final invoice amount, the owner is entitled to a refund, and the refund shall be issued to the owner not later than the 30th business day after the date the invoice is sent to the owner.

(j) A property owners' association must estimate costs under this section using amounts prescribed by the policy adopted under Subsection (i).

(k) Except as provided by Subsection (l) and to the extent the information is provided in the meeting minutes, the property owners' association is not required to release or allow inspection of any books or records that identify the dedicatory instrument violation history of an individual owner of an association, an owner's personal financial information, including records of payment or nonpayment of amounts due the association, an owner's contact information, other than the owner's address, or information related to an employee of the association, including personnel files. If the justice of the peace finds that the member is entitled to access to or copies of the records, the justice of the peace may grant one or more of the following remedies:

(1) a judgment ordering the property owners' association to release or allow access to the books or records;

(2) a judgment against the property owners' association for court costs and attorney's fees incurred in connection with seeking a remedy under this section; or

(3) a judgment authorizing the owner or the owner's assignee to deduct the amounts awarded under Subdivision (2) from any future regular or special assessments payable to the property owners' association.

(o) If the property owners' association prevails in an action under Subsection (n), the association is entitled to a judgment for court costs and attorney's fees incurred by the association in connection with the action.

(p) On or before the 10th business day before the date a person brings an action against a property owners' association under this section, the person must send written notice to the association of the person's intent to bring the action.

The notice must:

(q) For the purposes of this section, "business day" means a day other than Saturday, Sunday, or a state or federal holiday.

SECTION 2. Chapter 209, Property Code, is amended by adding Sections 209.0051 and 209.0056 to read as follows:

Sec. 209.0051. OPEN BOARD MEETINGS. (a) This section does not apply to a property owners' association that is subject to Chapter 551, Government Code, by application of Section 551.0015, Government Code.

(b) In this section:

(1) "Board meeting":

(A) means a deliberation between a quorum of the voting board of the property owners' association, or between a quorum of the voting board and another person, during which property owners' association business is considered and the board takes formal action; and

(B) does not include the gathering of a quorum of the board at a social function unrelated to the business of the association or the attendance by a quorum of the board at a regional, state, or national convention, ceremonial event, or press conference, if formal action is not taken and any discussion of association business is incidental to the social function, convention, ceremonial event, or press conference.

(2) "Development period" means a period stated in a declaration during which a declarant reserves:

(A) a right to facilitate the development, construction, and marketing of the subdivision; and

(B) a right to direct the size, shape, and composition of the subdivision.

(c) Regular and special board meetings must be open to owners, subject to the right of the board to adjourn a board meeting and reconvene in closed executive session to consider actions involving personnel, pending or threatened litigation, contract negotiations, enforcement actions, confidential communications with the property owners' association's attorney, matters involving the invasion of privacy of individual owners, or matters that are to remain confidential by request of the affected parties and agreement of the board. Following an executive session, any decision made in the executive session must be summarized orally and placed in the minutes, in general terms, without breaching the privacy of individual owners, violating any privilege, or disclosing information that was to remain confidential at the request of the affected parties. The oral summary must include a general explanation of expenditures approved in executive session.

(c-1) Except for a meeting held by electronic or telephonic means under Subsection (h), a board meeting must be held in a county in which all or part of the property in the subdivision is located or in a county adjacent to that county.

(d) The board shall keep a record of each regular or special board meeting in the form of written minutes of the meeting. The board shall make meeting records, including approved minutes, available to a member for inspection and copying on the member's written request to the property owners' association's managing agent at the address appearing on the most recently filed management certificate or, if there is not a managing agent, to the board.

(e) Members shall be given notice of the date, hour, place, and general subject of a regular or special board meeting, including a general description of any matter to be brought up for deliberation in executive session. The notice shall be:

(1) mailed to each property owner not later than the 10th day or earlier than the 60th day before the date of the meeting; or

(2) provided at least 72 hours before the start of the meeting by:

(A) posting the notice in a conspicuous manner reasonably designed to provide notice to property owners' association members:

(i) in a place located on the association's common property or, with the property owner's consent, on other conspicuously located privately owned property within the subdivision; or

(ii) on any Internet website maintained by the association or other Internet media; and

(B) sending the notice by e-mail to each owner who has registered an e-mail address with the association.

(f) It is an owner's duty to keep an updated e-mail address registered with the property owners' association under Subsection (e)(2)(B).

(g) If the board recesses a regular or special board meeting to continue the following regular business day, the board is not required to post notice of the continued meeting if the recess is taken in good faith and not to circumvent this section. If a regular or special board meeting is continued to the following regular business day, and on that following day the board continues the meeting to another day, the board shall give notice of the continuation in at least one manner prescribed by Subsection (e)(2)(A) within two hours after adjourning the meeting being continued.

(h) A board may meet by any method of communication, including electronic and telephonic, without prior notice to owners under Subsection (e), if each director may hear and be heard by every other director, or the board may take action by unanimous written consent to consider routine and administrative matters or a reasonably unforeseen emergency or urgent necessity that requires immediate board action. Any action taken without notice to owners under Subsection (e) must be summarized orally, including an explanation of any known actual or estimated expenditures approved at the meeting, and documented in the minutes of the next regular or special board meeting. The board may not, without prior notice to owners under Subsection (e), consider or vote on:

(1) fines;

(2) damage assessments;

(3) initiation of foreclosure actions;

(4) initiation of enforcement actions, excluding temporary restraining orders or violations involving a threat to health or safety;

(5) increases in assessments;

(6) levying of special assessments;

(7) appeals from a denial of architectural control approval; or

(8) a suspension of a right of a particular owner before the owner has an opportunity to attend a board meeting to present the owner's position, including any defense, on the issue.

(i) This section applies to a meeting of a property owners' association board during the development period only if the meeting is conducted for the purpose of:

(1) adopting or amending the governing documents, including declarations, bylaws, rules, and regulations of the association;

(2) increasing the amount of regular assessments of the association or adopting or increasing a special assessment;

(3) electing non-developer board members of the association or establishing a process by which those members are elected; or

(4) changing the voting rights of members of the association.

Sec. 209.0056. NOTICE OF ELECTION OR ASSOCIATION VOTE. (a) Not later than the 10th day or earlier than the 60th day before the date of an election or vote, a property owners' association shall give written notice of the election or vote to:

(1) each owner of property in the property owners' association, for purposes of an association-wide election or vote; or

(2) each owner of property in the property owners' association entitled under the dedicatory instruments to vote in a particular representative election, for purposes of a vote that involves election of representatives of the association who are vested under the dedicatory instruments of the property owners' association with the authority to elect or appoint board members of the property owners' association.

(b) This section supersedes any contrary requirement in a dedicatory instrument.

(c) This section does not apply to a property owners' association that is subject to Chapter 552, Government Code, by application of Section 552.0036, Government Code.

SECTION 3. Section 209.009, Property Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 209.009. FORECLOSURE SALE PROHIBITED IN CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES. A property owners' association may not foreclose a property owners' association's assessment lien if the debt securing the lien consists solely of:

(1) fines assessed by the association; [~~or~~]

(2) attorney's fees incurred by the association solely associated with fines assessed by the association; or

(3) amounts added to the owner's account as an assessment under Section 209.005(i).

SECTION 4. Chapter 209, Property Code, is amended by adding Section 209.014 to read as follows:

Sec. 209.014. MANDATORY ELECTION REQUIRED AFTER FAILURE TO CALL REGULAR MEETING. (a) Notwithstanding any provision in a dedicatory instrument, a board of a property owners' association shall call an annual meeting of the members of the association.

(b) If a board of a property owners' association does not call an annual meeting of the association members, an owner may demand that a meeting of the association members be called not later than the 30th day after the date of the owner's demand. The owner's demand must be made in writing and sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the registered agent of the property owners' association and to the association at the address for the association according to the most recently filed management certificate. A copy of the notice must be sent to each property owner who is a member of the association.

(c) If the board does not call a meeting of the members of the property owners' association on or before the 30th day after the date of a demand under Subsection (b), three or more owners may form an election committee. The election committee shall file written notice of the committee's formation with the county clerk of each county in which the subdivision is located.

(d) A notice filed by an election committee must contain:

(1) a statement that an election committee has been formed to call a meeting of owners who are members of the property owners' association for the sole purpose of electing board members;

(2) the name and residential address of each committee member; and

(3) the name of the subdivision over which the property owners' association has jurisdiction under a dedicatory instrument.

(e) Each committee member must sign and acknowledge the notice before a notary or other official authorized to take acknowledgments.

(f) The county clerk shall enter on the notice the date the notice is filed and record the notice in the county's real property records.

(g) Only one committee in a subdivision may operate under this section at one time. If more than one committee in a subdivision files a notice, the first committee that files a notice, after having complied with all other requirements of this section, is the committee with the power to act under this section. A committee that does not hold or conduct a successful election within four months after the date the notice is filed with the county clerk is dissolved by operation of law. An election held or conducted by a dissolved committee is ineffective for any purpose under this section.

(h) The election committee may call meetings of the owners who are members of the property owners' association for the sole purpose of electing board members. Notice, quorum, and voting provisions contained in the bylaws of the property owners' association apply to any meeting called by the election committee.

SECTION 5. (a) Section 209.005, Property Code, as amended by this Act, applies only to a request for information received by a property owners' association on or after the effective date of this Act. A request for information received by a property owners' association before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(b) Subsection (m), Section 209.005, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only with respect to books and records generated on or after the effective date of this Act. Books and records generated before the effective date of this Act are governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(c) Section 209.014, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies to a property owners' association created before, on, or after the effective date of this Act.

SECTION 6. This Act takes effect January 1, 2012.

(1) In SECTION 2 of the bill, in the recital (page 3, line 68), strike "Sections 209.0051 and 209.0056" and substitute "Sections 209.0051, 209.0056, 209.0057, 209.0058, 209.0059, 209.00591, 209.00592, and 209.00593".

(2) In SECTION 2 of the bill, following added Section 209.0056, Property Code (page 6, between lines 2 and 3), insert the following:

Sec. 209.0057. RECOUNT OF VOTES. (a) This section does not apply to a property owners' association that is subject to Chapter 552, Government Code, by application of Section 552.0036, Government Code.

(b) Any owner may, not later than the 15th day after the date of the meeting at which the election was held, require a recount of the votes. A demand for a recount must be submitted in writing either:

(1) by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by delivery by the United States Postal Service with signature confirmation service to the property owners' association's mailing address as reflected on the latest management certificate filed under Section 209.004; or

(2) in person to the property owners' association's managing agent as reflected on the latest management certificate filed under Section 209.004 or to the address to which absentee and proxy ballots are mailed.

(c) The property owners' association shall, at the expense of the owner requesting the recount, retain for the purpose of performing the recount, the services of a person qualified to tabulate votes under this subsection. The association shall enter into a contract for the services of a person who:

(1) is not a member of the association or related to a member of the association board within the third degree by consanguinity or affinity, as determined under Chapter 573, Government Code; and

(2) is:

(A) a current or former:

(i) county judge;

(ii) county elections administrator;

(iii) justice of the peace; or

(iv) county voter registrar; or

(B) a person agreed on by the association and the persons requesting the recount.

(d) Any recount under Subsection (b) must be performed on or before the 30th day after the date of receipt of a request and payment for a recount in accordance with Subsections (b) and (c). If the recount changes the results of the election, the property owners' association shall reimburse the requesting owner for the cost of the recount. The property owners' association shall provide the results of the recount to each owner who requested the recount. Any action taken by the board in the period between the initial election vote tally and the completion of the recount is not affected by any recount.

Sec. 209.0058. BALLOTS. (a) Any vote cast in an election or vote by a member of a property owners' association must be in writing and signed by the member.

(b) Electronic votes cast under Section 209.00592 constitute written and signed ballots.

(c) In an association-wide election, written and signed ballots are not required for uncontested races.

Sec. 209.0059. RIGHT TO VOTE. (a) A provision in a dedicatory instrument that would disqualify a property owner from voting in a property owners' association election of board members or on any matter concerning the rights or responsibilities of the owner is void.

(b) This section does not apply to a property owners' association that is subject to Chapter 552, Government Code, by application of Section 552.0036, Government Code.

Sec. 209.00591. BOARD MEMBERSHIP. (a) Except as provided by this section, a provision in a dedicatory instrument that restricts a property owner's right to run for a position on the board of the property owners' association is void.

(b) If a board is presented with written, documented evidence from a database or other record maintained by a governmental law enforcement authority that a board member has been convicted of a felony or crime involving moral turpitude, the board member is immediately ineligible to serve on the board of the property owners' association, automatically considered removed from the board, and prohibited from future service on the board.

(c) The declaration may provide for a period of declarant control of the association during which a declarant, or persons designated by the declarant, may appoint and remove board members and the officers of the association, other than board members or officers elected by members of the property owners' association. Regardless of the period of declarant control provided by the declaration, on or before the 120th day after the date 75 percent of the lots that may be created and made subject to the declaration are conveyed to owners other than a declarant, at least one-third of the board members must be elected by owners other than the declarant. If the declaration does not include the number of lots that may be created and made subject to the declaration, at least one-third of the board members must be elected by owners other than the declarant not later than the 10th anniversary of the date the declaration was recorded.

Sec. 209.00592. VOTING; QUORUM. (a) The voting rights of an owner may be cast or given:

(3) by electronic ballot in accordance with this section; or

(4) by any method of representative or delegated voting provided by a dedicatory instrument.

(b) An absentee or electronic ballot:

(1) may be counted as an owner present and voting for the purpose of establishing a quorum only for items appearing on the ballot;

(2) may not be counted, even if properly delivered, if the owner attends any meeting to vote in person, so that any vote cast at a meeting by a property owner supersedes any vote submitted by absentee or electronic ballot previously submitted for that proposal; and

(3) may not be counted on the final vote of a proposal if the motion was amended at the meeting to be different from the exact language on the absentee or electronic ballot.

(c) A solicitation for votes by absentee ballot must include:

(1) an absentee ballot that contains each proposed action and provides an opportunity to vote for or against each proposed action;

(2) instructions for delivery of the completed absentee ballot, including the delivery location; and

(3) the following language: "By casting your vote via absentee ballot you will forgo the opportunity to consider and vote on any action from the floor on these proposals, if a meeting is held. This means that if there are amendments to these proposals your votes will not be counted on the final vote on these measures. If you desire to retain this ability, please attend any meeting in person. You may submit an absentee ballot and later choose to attend any meeting in person, in which case any in-person vote will prevail."

(d) For the purposes of this section, "electronic ballot" means a ballot:

(1) given by:

(A) e-mail;

(B) facsimile; or

(C) posting on an Internet website;

(2) for which the identity of the property owner submitting the ballot can be confirmed; and

(3) for which the property owner may receive a receipt of the electronic transmission and receipt of the owner's ballot.

(e) If an electronic ballot is posted on an Internet website, a notice of the posting shall be sent to each owner that contains instructions on obtaining access to the posting on the website.

(f) This section supersedes any contrary provision in a dedicatory instrument.

(g) This section does not apply to a property owners' association that is subject to Chapter 552, Government Code, by application of Section 552.0036, Government Code.

Sec. 209.00593. ELECTION OF BOARD MEMBERS.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision in a dedicatory instrument, any board member whose term has expired must be elected by owners who are members of the property owners' association. A board member may be appointed by the board only to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation, death, or disability. A board member appointed to fill a vacant position shall serve the unexpired term of the predecessor board member.

(b) The board of a property owners' association may amend the bylaws of the property owners' association to provide for elections to be held as required by Subsection (a).

(c) The appointment of a board member in violation of this section is void.

(d) This section does not apply to the appointment of a board member during a development period. In this subsection, "development period" means a period stated in a declaration during which a declarant reserves:

(1) a right to facilitate the development, construction, and marketing of the subdivision; and

(2) a right to direct the size, shape, and composition of the subdivision.

(e) This section does not apply to a representative board whose members or delegates are elected or appointed by representatives of a property owners' association who are elected by owner members of a property owners' association.

(3) In SECTION 5 of the bill, insert the following appropriately designated subsection and redesignate subsections of the SECTION accordingly:

() Section 209.0059 and Subsection (a), Section 209.00591, Property Code, as added by this Act, apply to a provision in a dedicatory instrument or a restrictive covenant enacted before, on, or after the effective date of this Act.

CSHB 1228, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to payment and collection of assessments and other charges owed to a property owners' association and foreclosure of a property owners' association assessment lien.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Section 209.003, Property Code, is amended by adding Subsection (e) to read as follows:

(e) Section 209.0062 does not apply to a property owners' association that is a mixed-use master association that existed before January 1, 1974, and that does not have the authority under a dedicatory instrument or other governing document to impose fines.

SECTION 2. Chapter 209, Property Code, is amended by adding Sections 209.0062, 209.0063, 209.0064, 209.0091, 209.0092, 209.0093, and 209.0094 to read as follows:

Sec. 209.0062. ALTERNATIVE PAYMENT SCHEDULE FOR CERTAIN ASSESSMENTS. (a) A property owners' association composed of more than 14 lots shall adopt reasonable guidelines to establish an alternative payment schedule by which an owner may make partial payments to the property owners' association for delinquent regular or special assessments or any other amount owed to the association without accruing additional monetary penalties. For purposes of this section, monetary penalties do not include reasonable costs associated with administering the payment plan or interest.

(b) The minimum term for a payment plan offered by a property owners' association is three months.

(c) A property owners' association is not required to allow a payment plan for any amount that extends more than 18 months from the date of the owner's request for a payment plan or to enter into a payment plan with an owner who failed to honor the terms of a previous payment plan during the two years following the owner's default under the previous payment plan.

(d) A property owners' association shall file the association's guidelines under this section in the real property records of each county in which the subdivision is located.

(e) A property owners' association's failure to file as required by this section the association's guidelines in the real property records of each county in which the subdivision is located does not prohibit a property owner from receiving an alternative payment schedule by which the owner may make partial payments to the property owners' association for delinquent regular or special assessments or any other amount owed to the association without accruing additional monetary penalties, as defined by Subsection (a).

Sec. 209.0063. PRIORITY OF PAYMENTS. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b), a payment received by a property owners' association from the owner shall be applied to the owner's debt in the following order of priority:

(1) any delinquent assessment;

(2) any current assessment;

(3) any attorney's fees or third party collection costs incurred by the association associated solely with assessments or any other charge that could provide the basis for foreclosure;

(4) any attorney's fees incurred by the association that are not subject to Subdivision (3);

(5) any fines assessed by the association; and

(6) any other amount owed to the association.

(b) If, at the time the property owners' association receives a payment from a property owner, the owner is in default under a payment plan entered into with the association:

(1) the association is not required to apply the payment in the order of priority specified by Subsection (a); and

(2) in applying the payment, a fine assessed by the association may not be given priority over any other amount owed to the association.

Sec. 209.0064. THIRD PARTY COLLECTIONS. (a) In this section, "collection agent" means a debt collector, as defined by Section 803 of the federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1692a).

(b) A property owners' association may not hold an owner liable for fees of a collection agent retained by the property owners' association unless the association first provides written notice to the owner by certified mail, return receipt requested, that:

(1) specifies each delinquent amount and the total amount of the payment required to make the account current;

(2) describes the options the owner has to avoid having the account turned over to a collection agent, including information regarding availability of a payment plan through the association; and

(3) provides a period of at least 30 days for the owner to cure the delinquency before further collection action is taken.

(c) An owner is not liable for fees of a collection agent retained by the property owners' association if:

(1) the obligation for payment by the association to the association's collection agent for fees or costs associated with a collection action is in any way dependent or contingent on amounts recovered; or

(2) the payment agreement between the association and the association's collection agent does not require payment by the association of all fees to a collection agent for the action undertaken by the collection agent.

(d) The agreement between the property owners' association and the association's collection agent may not prohibit the owner from contacting the association board or the association's managing agent regarding the owner's delinquency.

(e) A property owners' association may not sell or otherwise transfer any interest in the association's accounts receivables for a purpose other than as collateral for a loan.

Sec. 209.0091. PREREQUISITES TO FORECLOSURE: NOTICE AND OPPORTUNITY TO CURE FOR CERTAIN OTHER LIENHOLDERS. (a) A property owners' association may not foreclose a property owners' association assessment lien on real property by giving notice of sale under Section 51.002 or commencing a judicial foreclosure action unless the association has:

(1) provided written notice of the total amount of the delinquency giving rise to the foreclosure to any other holder of a lien of record on the property whose lien is inferior or subordinate to the association's lien and is evidenced by a deed of trust; and

(2) provided the recipient of the notice an opportunity to cure the delinquency before the 61st day after the date the recipient receives the notice.

(b) Notice under this section must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the address for the lienholder shown in the deed records relating to the property that is subject to the property owners' association assessment lien.

Sec. 209.0092. JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE REQUIRED. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) and subject to Section 209.009, a property owners' association may not foreclose a property owners' association assessment lien unless the association first obtains a court order in an application for expedited foreclosure under the rules adopted by the supreme court under Subsection (b). A property owners' association may use the procedure described by this subsection to foreclose any lien described by the association's dedicatory instruments.

(b) The supreme court, as an exercise of the court's authority under Section 74.024, Government Code, shall adopt rules establishing expedited foreclosure proceedings for use by a property owners' association in foreclosing an assessment lien of the association. The rules adopted under this subsection must be substantially similar to the rules adopted by the supreme court under Section 50(r), Article XVI, Texas Constitution.

(c) Expedited foreclosure is not required under this section if the owner of the property that is subject to foreclosure agrees in writing at the time the foreclosure is sought to waive expedited foreclosure under this section. A waiver under this subsection may not be required as a condition of the transfer of title to real property.

Sec. 209.0093. REMOVAL OR ADOPTION OF FORECLOSURE AUTHORITY. A provision granting a right to foreclose a lien on real property for unpaid amounts due to a property owners' association may be removed from a dedicatory instrument or adopted in a dedicatory instrument by a vote of at least 67 percent of the total votes allocated to property owners in the property owners' association. Owners holding at least 10 percent of all voting interests in the property owners' association may petition the association and require a special meeting to be called for the purposes of taking a vote for the purposes of this section.

Sec. 209.0094. ASSESSMENT LIEN FILING. A lien, lien affidavit, or other instrument evidencing the nonpayment of assessments or other charges owed to a property owners' association and filed in the official public records of a county is a legal instrument affecting title to real property.

SECTION 3. (a) Section 209.0062, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only to an assessment or other debt that becomes due on or after the effective date of this Act. An assessment or other debt that becomes due before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(b) Section 209.0063, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only to a payment received by a property owners' association on or after the effective date of this Act. A payment received by a property owners' association before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(c) Section 209.0091, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only to a notice of sale given under Section 51.002, Property Code, on or after the effective date of this Act or a judicial foreclosure action commenced on or after the effective date of this Act.

(d) Section 209.0092, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only to a foreclosure sale conducted on or after the effective date of this Act. A foreclosure sale conducted before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(e) Section 209.0094, Property Code, as added by this Act, applies only to an instrument filed on or after January 1, 2012. An instrument filed before January 1, 2012, is governed by the law in effect on the date the instrument was filed, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

SECTION 4. Not later than January 1, 2012, the Supreme Court of Texas shall adopt rules of civil procedure under Section 209.0092, Property Code, as added by this Act.

SECTION 5. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, this Act takes effect January 1, 2012.

(b) Subsection (b), Section 209.0092, Property Code, as added by this Act, takes effect September 1, 2011.

ADDRESS BY REPRESENTATIVE THOMPSON ON A MATTER OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The chair recognized Representative Thompson who addressed the house on a matter of personal privilege, speaking as follows:

Madam Speaker, and members, during this legislative session we've spent about 30 or 40 percent of our time kicking the reproductive organs of women down the road, and I thought that was an issue that we had finished and we had completed. I want to attest to the fact that kicking the women's can down the road, they're still being kicked. To my surprise, I became aware of two despicable flyers. I know some of you may have seen one flyer talking about HB 2093, and it depicts a child's pacifier. This bill is a bill that deals with insurance. And the other one that we have had a lot of controversy on: a child nursing a mother's breast, and this is talking about HB 2093, and this bill is about insurance.

I'm going to tell you that I am really disgusted, and I'm really ashamed that there's nothing better than some organizations find than kicking women. God made me a woman. And thank God that he made your mother a woman because you men wouldn't be here. Lawmakers, as we are, have an opportunity to shape the attitudes of the public, and those attitudes can be positive toward women, they can be negative to women, or they could be both. That's all within the ambit of all our abilities. But I find these flyers—some of you may find them funny, but I find them despicable. I find them distasteful, I find them hateful, and I find them to give thoughts of violence and disrespect toward women.

I am appalled today that the Texas Civil Justice League would go so low that they would put out this kind of hate: resentful, bitter, despicable, despicable, violent flyers toward women, just to get at a piece of legislation. They could have come and talked to me. Tuffy knows that I have an open door policy. They could have come and saw me in my office. And we know, all of us, we win some, we lose some, but kicking women down the road as an old tin can, and thoughts on disrespect and violence and hate—it may not be important to you, but some of you have mothers, and I know many of you have wives, and you have daughters and sisters, nieces—and this ought to embitter you. It ought to make you angry that somebody is this disrespectful that they have to put out this sort of thing just to get at a bill. We go up in arms about women having the ability to nurse their children in certain public places, and some of you all lose it because you don't want to allow that in certain places.

We cannot sit here and tolerate this kind of attitude. This is wrong. It cannot exist. And, I want to ask you, if you have any test in fortitude, and I believe you do, to stand up and tell this organization that this is not acceptable conduct for the members of this house. It is not acceptable conduct to put women down like this, and this is not the kind of can that they need to be kicking in the Texas Legislature.

It is an all time low, and I'll personally tell you this is not a tactic to get this passed or to concur. I don't care if you kill this bill, but I want you to remember one thing that I'm saying today. I don't appreciate this attack on women. I don't appreciate this flyer. I'm going to tell you something. I don't perpetrate violence against somebody, but if they were here, I'd probably bloody their nose right here on this floor. I guarantee you that. And, Dr. Zerwas, I'll have to call you to the aid, and I'm not joking. I would bloody their nose because they have no right to do women this way, and we have not earned this disrespect in this house. We fight here, we get elected just like you do, and we have not earned this kind of disrespect. And I don't want to tolerate it by anybody. And, men, if you don't stand up for us today, don't you walk in this chamber tomorrow.

Additional directors may be appointed to the board at the time of initial formation by agreement of the counties creating the authority to ensure fair representation of political subdivisions in the counties of the authority that will be affected by a transportation project of the authority, provided that the number of directors must be an odd number. The commissioners court of a county that is subsequently added to the authority shall appoint at least one director to the board. The governor shall appoint one director to the board who shall serve as the presiding officer of the board and shall appoint an additional director to the board if an appointment is necessary to maintain an odd number of directors on the board.

CSHB 51, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to energy efficiency standards for certain buildings and to high-performance design, construction, and renovation standards for certain buildings and facilities of institutions of higher education.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Subchapter B, Chapter 55, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 55.115 to read as follows:

Sec. 55.115. HIGH-PERFORMANCE, SUSTAINABLE DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, AND RENOVATION STANDARDS FOR CERTAIN FACILITIES. (a) This section applies to the construction of an institution of higher education building, structure, or other facility, or the renovation of a building, structure, or other facility the cost of which is more than $2 million, or, if less than $2 million, more than 50 percent of the value of the building, structure, or other facility, if any part of the construction or renovation is financed by revenue bonds issued under this subchapter.

(b) A building, structure, or other facility to which this section applies must be designed and constructed or renovated so that the building, structure, or other facility complies with high-performance building standards, approved by the board of regents of the institution, that provide minimum requirements for energy use, natural resources use, and indoor air quality. In approving high-performance building standards, a board of regents shall consider, but is not subject to, the high-performance building evaluation system approved by the state energy conservation office under Section 447.004, Government Code, and may solicit and consider recommendations from the advisory committee appointed under that section.

(c) A building, structure, or other facility to which this section applies must be designed and constructed or renovated to comply with the applicable energy and water conservation design standards established by the state energy conservation office under Section 447.004, Government Code.

(d) This section does not apply to an institution of higher education that constructs or renovates a building, structure, or other facility if the institution:

(1) determines that compliance with the standards described by Subsection (b) is impractical;

(2) notifies the state energy conservation office of the determination;
and

(3) provides documentation supporting the determination under Subdivision (1) to the state energy conservation office.

SECTION 2. Section 447.004, Government Code, is amended by amending Subsection (b) and adding Subsections (b-1), (b-2), and (b-3) to read as follows:

(b) The standards established under Subsection (a) must:

(1) include performance and procedural standards for the maximum energy and water conservation allowed by the latest and most cost-effective technology that is consistent with the requirements of public health, safety, and economic resources;

(2) be stated in terms of energy and water consumption levels that meet energy standards adopted by the state energy conservation office and that:

(A) achieve a 15 percent reduction in water use when compared to water use based on plumbing fixtures selected in accordance with the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (Pub. L. No. 102-486); or

(B) comply with water conservation standards published by the state energy conservation office;

(3) consider the various types of building uses; and

(4) allow for design flexibility, including allowing for certification under any high-performance design evaluation system approved by the state energy conservation office.

(b-1) A building to which this section applies must be designed and constructed or renovated so that the building achieves certification under any high-performance design evaluation system approved by the state energy conservation office that:

(1) is developed and revised through a nationally recognized consensus-based process or by a municipally owned utility in this state;

(2) provides minimum requirements for energy use, natural resources use, and indoor air quality;

(3) requires substantiating documentation for certification;

(4) requires on-site, third-party, post-construction review and verification for certification, or a third-party, post-construction, rigorous review of documentation and verification for certification; and

(5) encourages the use of materials or products manufactured or produced in this state.

(b-2) The state energy conservation office shall appoint an advisory committee to advise the office in selecting one or more high-performance building design evaluation systems to approve for use under Subsection (b-1). At least once every two years, the advisory committee shall review available high-performance building standards and make recommendations to the office. The advisory committee consists of:

(1) one individual appointed by the comptroller who represents the state energy conservation office and who serves as the presiding officer of the committee;

(2) eight individuals with experience and expertise in high-performance buildings or related products, including experience and expertise in energy efficiency, water efficiency, or low-impact site development, with one individual selected from each of the following lists of nominees:

(A) a list submitted by the president of the Texas Society of Architects;

(B) a list submitted by the presidents of the Texas Council of Engineering Companies and Texas Society of Professional Engineers;

(C) a list submitted by the president of the Associated Builders and Contractors of Texas and the presiding officer of the executive committee of the Associated General Contractors, Texas Building Branch;

(D) a list submitted by the president of the Texas chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects;

(E) a list submitted by the president of the Texas Chemical Council;

(F) a list submitted by the Texas State Building and Construction Trades Council;

(G) a list submitted by the president of the Texas chapter of the Urban Land Institute; and

(H) a list submitted by the chair of the Brick Industry Association;

(3) the director of facilities construction and space management appointed under Section 2152.104;

(4) one individual representing the Energy Systems Laboratory of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station of The Texas A&M University System;

(5) one individual representing a state agency that has a substantial ongoing construction program; and

(6) one individual representing the interests of historically underutilized businesses.

(b-3) A contract between a state agency and a private design professional relating to services in connection with the construction or renovation of a building to which this section applies must provide that, for billing purposes, any service provided by the private design professional that is necessary to satisfy the certification requirements of Subsection (b-1) is considered an additional service rather than a basic service. A governmental entity may not disallow the allocation of federal deductions to eligible design professionals authorized by the Energy Policy Act of 2005 (Pub. L. No. 109-58).

SECTION 3. Sections 388.003(c) and (e), Health and Safety Code, are amended to read as follows:

(c) A municipality shall establish procedures:

- (1) for the administration and enforcement of the codes; ~~and~~
- (2) to ensure that code-certified inspectors shall perform inspections and enforce the code in the inspectors' jurisdictions; and
- (3) to track and report to the state energy conservation office on implementation of the codes.

(e) Local amendments may not result in less stringent energy efficiency requirements in nonattainment areas and in affected counties than the energy efficiency chapter of the International Residential Code or International Energy Conservation Code. Local amendments must comply with the National Appliance Energy Conservation Act of 1987 (42 U.S.C. Sections 6291-6309), as amended. The laboratory, at the request of a municipality or county, shall determine the relative impact of proposed local amendments to an energy code, including whether proposed amendments are substantially equal to or less stringent than the unamended code. For the purpose of establishing uniform requirements throughout a region, and on request of a council of governments, a county, or a municipality, the laboratory may recommend a climatically appropriate modification or a climate zone designation for a county or group of counties that is different from the climate zone designation in the unamended code. The laboratory shall:

(1) report its findings to the council, county, or municipality, including an estimate of any energy savings potential above the unamended ~~[base]~~ code from local amendments; and

(2) annually submit a report to the commission:

(A) identifying the municipalities and counties whose codes are more stringent than the unamended code, and whose codes are equally stringent or less stringent than the unamended code; and

(B) quantifying energy savings and emissions reductions from this program for consideration in the state implementation plan for emissions reduction credit.

SECTION 4. Section 388.007, Health and Safety Code, is amended by amending Subsection (c) and adding Subsection (d) to read as follows:

(c) The laboratory may provide local jurisdictions with technical assistance concerning implementation and enforcement of the International Energy Conservation Code and the energy efficiency chapter of the International Residential Code, including local amendments to those codes.

(d) The laboratory may conduct outreach to the real estate industry, including real estate agents, home builders, remodelers, appraisers, and financial institutions, on the value of energy code compliance and verified, above-code, high-performance construction.

SECTION 5. Section 55.115, Education Code, as added by this Act, and Section 447.004, Government Code, as amended by this Act, apply only to an institution of higher education building, structure, or other facility or a state building for which the contract for design services is entered into on or after September 1, 2013.

SECTION 6. This Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

Senate Amendment No. 1 (Senate Floor Amendment No. 1)

Amend CSHB 51 as follows:

In SECTION 1 of the bill, strike Subsections (c) and (d) of added Section 55.115, Education Code and substitute the following:

(c) Except as provided by this section, a building, structure, or other facility to which this section applies must be designed and constructed or renovated to comply with the applicable energy and water conservation design standards established by the state energy conservation office under Section 447.004, Government Code, unless the institution constructing the building determines that compliance with those standards is impractical and notifies the state energy conservation office of the determination and provides to the office documentation supporting the determination.

(c) On the filing of an application by the attorney representing the state, a magistrate may postpone the release of a person under Subsection (a), (a-1), or (b) for not more than 72 hours after the person's arrest. - (1) the commissioners court of the county;
- (2) the Senate Committee on Criminal Justice;

Sec. 4. (a) If the state establishes that the person who is the subject of an expunction order is still subject to conviction for an offense arising out of the transaction for which the person was arrested because the statute of limitations has not run and there is reasonable cause to believe that the state may proceed against the person for the offense, the court may provide in its expunction order that the law enforcement agency and the prosecuting attorney responsible for investigating the offense may retain any records and files that are necessary to the investigation.

(a-1) The court shall provide in its expunction order that the applicable law enforcement agency and prosecuting attorney may retain the arrest records and files of any person who becomes entitled to an expunction of those records and files based on the expiration of a period described by Article 55.01(a)(2)(A)(i)(a), (b), or (c), but without the certification of the prosecuting attorney as described by Article 55.01(a)(2)(A)(i)(d).

(a-2) In the case of a person who is the subject of an expunction order on the basis of an acquittal, the court may provide in the expunction order that the law enforcement agency and the prosecuting attorney retain records and files if:

Sec. 8109.302. ELECTIONS REGARDING TAXES AND BONDS. (a) The district must hold an election in the manner provided by Subchapter L, Chapter 375, Local Government Code, to obtain voter approval before the district may impose an ad valorem tax or issue bonds payable from ad valorem taxes.

SUBCHAPTER H. SALES AND USE TAX

Sec. 8109.351. APPLICABILITY OF CERTAIN TAX CODE PROVISIONS. (a) Chapter 321, Tax Code, governs the imposition, computation, administration, enforcement, and collection of the sales and use tax authorized by this subchapter except to the extent Chapter 321, Tax Code, is inconsistent with this chapter.

(b) A reference in Chapter 321, Tax Code, to a municipality or the governing body of a municipality is a reference to the district or the board, respectively.

Sec. 8109.352. ELECTION; ADOPTION OF TAX. (a) The district may adopt a sales and use tax if authorized by a majority of the voters of the district voting at an election held for that purpose.

(b) The board by order may call an election to authorize the adoption of the sales and use tax. The election may be held on any uniform election date and in conjunction with any other district election.

(c) The ballot shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Authorization of a sales and use tax in the CLL Municipal Utility District No. 1 at a rate not to exceed _____ percent" (insert rate of one or more increments of one-eighth of one percent).

Sec. 8109.353. SALES AND USE TAX RATE. (a) Not later than the 10th day after the date the results are declared of an election held under Section 8109.352, at which the voters approved imposition of the tax authorized by this subchapter, the board shall determine the initial rate of the tax, which must be in one or more increments of one-eighth of one percent.

(b) After the election held under Section 8109.352, the board may decrease the rate of the tax by one or more increments of one-eighth of one percent. The board may not decrease the rate of the tax if the decrease would impair the repayment of any outstanding debt or obligation payable from the tax.

(c) The initial rate of the tax or any rate resulting from subsequent decreases may not exceed the lesser of:

(1) the maximum rate authorized by the district voters at the election held under Section 8109.352; or

(d) The board shall notify the comptroller of any changes made to the tax rate in the same manner the municipal secretary provides notice to the comptroller under Section 321.405(b), Tax Code.

(b) The district may not adopt a hotel occupancy tax at a rate that would cause the combined rate of all hotel occupancy taxes imposed by the district and other political subdivisions of this state at a location in the district to exceed 15 percent. If a political subdivision's adoption of a hotel occupancy tax rate causes the combined hotel occupancy tax rate imposed at a location in the district to exceed 15 percent, the district's hotel occupancy tax rate in the entire district is automatically reduced to bring the combined rate imposed at that location down to not more than 15 percent.

(c) The district shall notify each hotel in the district of any change in the hotel occupancy tax rate under this section.

(d) Any change in the hotel occupancy tax rate takes effect on the first day of the next calendar month following the change.

(B) has been held invalid by a final court judgment.

SECTION 4. (a) The legal notice of the intention to introduce this Act, setting forth the general substance of this Act, has been published as provided by law, and the notice and a copy of this Act have been furnished to all persons, agencies, officials, or entities to which they are required to be furnished under Section 59, Article XVI, Texas Constitution, and Chapter 313, Government Code.

Sec. 11002.204. SALES AND USE TAX. (a) The district may impose a sales and use tax if authorized by a majority of the voters of the district voting at an election called for that purpose. Revenue from the tax may be used for any purpose for which ad valorem tax revenue of the district may be used.

(b) The district may not adopt a sales and use tax if as a result of the adoption of the tax the combined rate of all sales and use taxes imposed by the district and other political subdivisions of this state having territory in the district would exceed two percent at any location in the district.

(c) If the voters of the district approve the adoption of a sales and use tax at an election held on the same election date on which another political subdivision adopts a sales and use tax or approves an increase in the rate of its sales and use tax and as a result the combined rate of all sales and use taxes imposed by the district and other political subdivisions of this state having territory in the district would exceed two percent at any location in the district, the election to adopt a sales and use tax under this chapter has no effect.

(d) Chapter 321, Tax Code, applies to the imposition, computation, administration, enforcement, and collection of the sales and use tax imposed by this section except to the extent it is inconsistent with this chapter.

(e) The district may not impose a sales and use tax at a rate that would cause the rate of the total sales and use taxes collected by all municipalities and other political subdivisions at a location in the district to exceed the maximum rate allowed by law. If a political subdivision's increase to a sales and use tax rate causes the total sales and use tax rate imposed at a location in the district to exceed the maximum rate allowed by law, the district's sales and use tax rate is automatically reduced to bring the total rate imposed at that location down to a rate allowed by law.

Sec. 11002.205. ASSESSMENTS; MUNICIPAL MANAGEMENT DISTRICT POWERS. Except as provided by Section 11002.206, the district may levy and collect special assessments in the same manner and for the same purposes as a municipal management district as provided in Subchapter F, Chapter 375, Local Government Code.

Sec. 11002.206. ELECTRIC UTILITY PROPERTY EXEMPT FROM IMPACT FEES AND ASSESSMENTS. The district may not impose an impact fee or assessment on the property, including the equipment, rights-of-way, facilities, or improvements, of an electric cooperative as defined by Section 161.002, Utilities Code.

[Sections 11002.207-11002.250 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. BONDS AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS

Sec. 11002.251. AUTHORITY TO ISSUE BONDS AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS. The district may issue bonds or other obligations payable wholly or partly from ad valorem taxes, impact fees, revenue, contract payments, grants, sales and use taxes, other district money, or any combination of those sources to pay for any authorized district purpose.

Sec. 11002.252. TAXES FOR BONDS. (a) At the time the district issues bonds payable wholly or partly from ad valorem taxes, the board shall provide for the annual imposition of an ad valorem tax, without limit as to rate or amount, as required by Section 54.601, Water Code.

(b) The board shall annually impose the tax while all or part of the bonds are outstanding. Sections 54.601 and 54.602, Water Code, govern the amount and rate of the tax.

Sec. 11002.253. BONDS FOR ROAD PROJECTS. At the time of issuance, the total principal amount of bonds or other obligations issued or incurred to finance road projects and payable from ad valorem taxes may not exceed one-fourth of the assessed value of the real property in the district.

SECTION 2. The Lajitas Utility District No. 1 of Brewster County initially includes all the territory contained in the following area:

(e) The board may assess a fee against a license holder participating in a remedial plan in an amount necessary to recover the costs of administering this plan.

CSHB 422, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to certain oversize and overweight permits issued by the Texas Department of Transportation.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Subchapter B, Chapter 623, Transportation Code, is amended by adding Section 623.0181 to read as follows:

Sec. 623.0181. PERMITS FOR AUXILIARY POWER UNITS. The department may issue a permit that authorizes the operation of a commercial motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, or combination of those vehicles, or a truck-tractor or combination of a truck-tractor and one or more other vehicles, that exceeds the maximum weight limit as set by the department due to the presence of an auxiliary power unit that allows the vehicle to operate on electricity or battery power if the department finds that such an exemption would reduce nitrogen oxide emissions.

SECTION 2. Subchapter D, Chapter 623, Transportation Code, is amended by adding Section 623.0711 to read as follows:

Sec. 623.0711. PERMITS AUTHORIZED BY COMMISSION. (a) The commission by rule may authorize the department to issue a permit to a motor carrier, as defined by Section 643.001, to transport multiple loads of the same commodity over a state highway if all of the loads are traveling between the same general locations.

(b) The commission may not authorize the issuance of a permit that would allow a vehicle to:

(1) violate federal regulations on size and weight requirements; or

(2) transport equipment that could reasonably be dismantled for transportation as separate loads.

(c) The commission rules must require that, before the department issues a permit under this section, the department:

(1) determine that the state will benefit from the consolidated permitting process; and

(2) complete a route and engineering study that considers:

(A) the estimated number of loads to be transported by the motor carrier under the permit;

(B) the size and weight of the commodity;

(C) available routes that can accommodate the size and weight of the vehicle and load to be transported;

(D) the potential roadway damage caused by repeated use of the road by the permitted vehicle;

(E) any disruption caused by the movement of the permitted vehicle; and

(F) the safety of the traveling public.

(d) The commission rules may authorize the department to impose on the motor carrier any condition regarding routing, time of travel, axle weight, and escort vehicles necessary to ensure safe operation and minimal damage to the roadway.

(e) A permit issued under this section may provide multiple routes to minimize damage to the roadways.

(f) The commission shall require the motor carrier to file a bond in an amount set by the commission, payable to the department and conditioned on the motor carrier paying to the department any damage that is sustained to a state highway because of the operation of a vehicle under a permit issued under this section.

(g) An application for a permit under this section must be accompanied by the permit fee established by the commission for the permit, not to exceed $9,000. The department shall send each fee to the comptroller for deposit to the credit of the state highway fund.

(h) In addition to the fee established under Subsection (g), the commission rules must authorize the department to collect a consolidated permit payment for a permit under this section in an amount not to exceed 15 percent of the fee established under Subsection (g), to be deposited to the credit of the state highway fund.

(i) The executive director of the department or the executive director's designee may suspend a permit issued under this section or alter a designated route because of:

- (1) a change in pavement conditions;
- (2) a change in traffic conditions;
- (3) a geometric change in roadway configuration;
- (4) construction or maintenance activity; or
- (5) emergency or incident management.

(j) A violation of a permit issued under this section is subject to the administrative sanctions of Subchapter N.

(k) In this section, "commission" means the Texas Transportation Commission.

SECTION 3. Section 623.071, Transportation Code, is amended by adding Subsection (h) to read as follows:

(h) If on completion of a route and engineering study the department determines that the additional length can be transported safely, the department may issue to a person a single trip permit that allows the person to operate over a highway in this state superheavy or oversize equipment exceeding the length limitation established by Subsection (c) and that may be used in conjunction with an annual permit issued under that subsection.

HB 9 - HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TEXT OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Representative Branch called up with senate amendments for consideration at this time,

HB 9, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to student success-based funding for and reporting regarding public institutions of higher education.

HB 9 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE GALLEGO: Mr. Branch, I am concerned—with respect to the item you just talked about, which I would consider the more nontraditional students. For institutions like the Lamar University components, or Sul Ross, or some of the smaller institutions that have a single mother with kids who is working and trying to provide for her family and at the same time going to school. I'm still concerned that this legislation punishes those people who are taking longer, because they are struggling to get by. The person may be in their 30s, or late 20s, or older frankly, who's trying to go back to school and get a degree to try and improve their life, but still has to maintain, essentially, school and the other—are you—is that not a concern?

REPRESENTATIVE BRANCH: Well, it's something we've been working on since about 2007 when President Natalicio at UTEP, I think, pointed out to many of us that a lot of folks were using these graduation rates, which were based on a NCAA criterion, and really what we should be focusing on more is graduations, because in many cases—in her illustration she had a train where people would get on and off, but they take longer. And so, this bill does in fact focus on graduations.

GALLEGO: It doesn't punish universities, or work to the disadvantage of universities where students are taking longer, because they are working, and they are essentially going to school part-time and balancing it? It doesn't reformulate, and the fund distribution will not punish those universities?

BRANCH: No, in fact, under this program, when it was considered the PIF—I guess, the incentive funding, the performance incentive funding pool—I think UTEP, which has a lot of at risk students, benefited. It was one of the universities that got the most out of that, because they were getting graduations, and they were getting extra for at-risk graduations. And the other part as I mentioned was the high-need graduations. The notion there is if we need certain occupations, and these can evolve over time, then we want to incentivize, for example, nursing that Representative Howard and I just had the discussion about.

GALLEGO: So, Sul Ross State University, and its campuses, the Lamar University, and its campuses, they will not be disadvantaged under this proposal?

BRANCH: I think they will be advantaged, actually.

(2) ~~shall~~ emphasize funding elements that directly support faculty;

(3) ~~and shall~~ reflect both fixed and variable elements of cost; and

(4) incorporate, as the board considers appropriate, goals identified in the board's long-range statewide plan developed under Section 61.051.

SECTION 3. Subchapter C, Chapter 61, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 61.0593 to read as follows:

Sec. 61.0593. STUDENT SUCCESS-BASED FUNDING RECOMMENDATIONS. (a) The legislature finds that it is in the state's highest public interest to evaluate student achievement at institutions of higher education and to develop higher education funding policy based on that evaluation. Funding policies that promote postsecondary educational success based on objective indicators of relative performance, such as degree completion rates, are critical to maintaining the state's competitiveness in the national and global economy and supporting the general welfare of this state. Therefore, the purpose of this section is to ensure that institutions of higher education produce student outcomes that are directly aligned with the state's education goals and economic development needs.

(b) In this section:

(1) "At-risk student" means an undergraduate student of an institution of higher education:

(A) who has been awarded a grant under the federal Pell Grant program; or

(B) who, on the date the student initially enrolled in the institution:

(i) was 20 years of age or older;

(ii) had a score on the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT) that was less than the national mean score for students taking that test;

(iii) was enrolled as a part-time student; or

(iv) had not received a high school diploma but had received a high school equivalency certificate within the last six years.

(2) "Critical field" means a field of study designated as a critical field under Subsection (c).

(c) Except as otherwise provided under Subdivision (2), the fields of engineering, computer science, mathematics, physical science, allied health, nursing, and teaching certification in the field of science or mathematics are critical fields. Beginning September 1, 2012, the board, based on the board's determination of those fields of study in which the support and development of postsecondary education programs at the bachelor's degree level are most critically necessary for serving the needs of this state, by rule may:

(1) designate as a critical field a field of study that is not currently designated by this subsection or by the board as a critical field; or

(2) remove a field of study from the list of fields currently designated by this subsection or by the board as critical fields.

(d) This subsection applies only to a general academic teaching institution other than a public state college. In devising its funding formulas and making its recommendations to the legislature relating to institutional appropriations of funds under Section 61.059 and Subchapter D, Chapter 62, for institutions to which this subsection applies, the board, in the manner and to the extent the board considers appropriate and in consultation with those institutions, shall incorporate the consideration of undergraduate student success measures achieved during the preceding state fiscal biennium by each of the institutions. The success measures considered by the board under this subsection may include:

(1) the total number of bachelor's degrees awarded by the institution;

(2) the total number of bachelor's degrees in critical fields awarded by the institution;

(3) the total number of bachelor's degrees awarded by the institution to at-risk students; and

(4) as determined by the board, the six-year graduation rate of undergraduate students of the institution who initially enrolled in the institution in the fall semester immediately following their graduation from a public high school in this state as compared to the six-year graduation rate predicted for those students based on the composition of the institution's student body.

(e) Notwithstanding Subsection (d):

(1) not more than 10 percent of the total amount of general revenue appropriations of base funds for undergraduate education recommended by the board for all institutions to which Subsection (d) applies for a state fiscal biennium may be based on student success measures; and

(2) the board's recommendation for base funding for undergraduate education based on student success measures does not reduce or otherwise affect funding recommendations for graduate education.

(f) This subsection applies only to public junior colleges, public state colleges, and public technical institutes. In devising its funding formulas and making its recommendations to the legislature relating to institutional appropriations of incentive funds for institutions to which this subsection applies, the board, in the manner and to the extent the board considers appropriate and in consultation with those institutions, shall incorporate the consideration of the undergraduate student success measures achieved during the preceding state fiscal biennium by each of the institutions. The success measures considered by the board under this subsection may include:

(1) the following academic progress measures achieved by students at the institution:

(A) successful completion of:

(i) developmental education in mathematics;

(ii) developmental education in English;

(iii) the first college-level mathematics course with a grade of "C" or higher;

(iv) the first college-level English course with a grade of "C" or higher; and

(v) the first 30 semester credit hours at the institution; and

(B) transfer to a four-year college or university after successful completion of at least 15 semester credit hours at the institution; and

(2) the total number of the following awarded by the institution:

(A) associate's degrees;

(B) bachelor's degrees under Section 130.0012; and

(C) certificates identified by the board for purposes of this section as effective measures of student success.

(g) Biennially, the board, in consultation with institutions to which Subsections (d) and (f) apply, shall review the student success measures considered by the board under those subsections.

(h) The board shall include in its findings and recommendations to the legislature under Section 61.059:

(1) an evaluation of the effectiveness of the student success measures described by this section in achieving the purpose of this section during the preceding state fiscal biennium; and

(2) any related recommendations the board considers appropriate.

(i) The board shall adopt rules for the administration of this section, including rules requiring each institution of higher education to submit to the board any student data or other information the board considers necessary for the board to carry out its duties under this section.

SECTION 4. Subchapter C, Chapter 61, Education Code, is amended by adding Section 61.0905 to read as follows:

Sec. 61.0905. REPORTS TO JOINT OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE. (a) Not later than September 30, 2011, and subsequently not later than July 1, 2012, the board shall submit to the Joint Oversight Committee on Higher Education Governance, Excellence, and Transparency a written report reviewing, comparing, and highlighting national and global best practices on:

(1) improving student outcomes, including student retention, graduations, and graduation rates; and

(2) higher education governance, administration, and transparency.

(b) This section expires August 31, 2013.

SECTION 5. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

At the time the board makes those recommendations, the board shall also make recommendations for incorporating the success measures, to the extent the board considers appropriate in consultation with those institutions, into the distribution of any incentive funds available for those institutions, including performance incentive funds under Subchapter D, Chapter 62. The board's recommendations must provide alternative approaches for applying the success measures and must compare the effects on funding of applying the success measures within the formula for base funding to applying the success measures as a separate formula. REASONS FOR VOTE

Although I ultimately voted for HB 4, I certainly do not support every item of spending therein. Chief among my strong objections is the allocation of $25 million for Formula One racing. At a time when teachers are losing their jobs and essential services for the elderly and disabled are being cut, it is irresponsible to invest our precious tax dollars in a nonessential service such as this. This money can, and should, be better used to preserve teacher jobs and provide aid to our most vulnerable Texans.

Carter

The message sent by the citizens of Texas is very clear. Although our state is experiencing an environmental drought, economically our state is flooding with need. If ever there was a time to use the rainy day fund, that time is now and this has been echoed across our state over and over again. The public does not want us to cut school funding, the public does not want us to cut health and human services in areas that will disproportionately affect our most vulnerable populations, and the public does not want us to cut thousands of state jobs that help support the citizens of Texas and their families. Some legislators would argue that by voting against HB 4 we are voting against balancing the budget without raising taxes, or we are voting against paying our debts as a state, or we are voting against living within our means. These allegations are not true. The senate version of HB 4 made less cuts than the house version, but I am against making any cuts when there are other means and alternatives available to avoid such actions. The impact of these cuts are far too high. Our seniors cannot afford these cuts, our children cannot afford these cuts, our disabled cannot afford these cuts, our students cannot afford these cuts, and our poor cannot afford these cuts. As long as we have money in the bank, which we identify as the economic stabilization fund or the rainy day fund, Texas cannot afford these cuts.

I voted no on HB 4 as it contains over $1 billion in cuts. Many of the cuts could have been avoided with the use of additional dollars from the economic stabilization fund. The proposed cuts will weaken our state's educational and health care infrastructure. With HB 4, we are fiscally promoting a population that will be both ill and uneducated. This is not what my constituents sent me here to do.

It was a difficult decision as there was a much needed school of pharmacy for North Texas in the bill, a measure I have worked on for several sessions. In the end, I chose good public policy and what was best overall for the hardworking families of Texas.

HOUSE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, REGULAR SESSION

The house met at 10:30 a.m. and was called to order by the speaker.

The roll of the house was called and a quorum was announced present (Record 1630).

Present — Mr. Speaker; Aliseda; Allen; Alonzo; Alvarado; Anchia; Anderson, C.; Anderson, R.; Aycock; Beck; Berman; Bohac; Bonnen; Branch; Brown; Burkett; Burnam; Button; Cain; Callegari; Carter; Castro; Chisum; Christian; Coleman; Cook; Craddick; Creighton; Crownover; Darby; Davis, J.; Davis, S.; Davis, Y.; Deshotel; Driver; Dukes; Dutton; Eiland; Eissler; Elkins; Farias; Farrar; Fletcher; Flynn; Frullo; Gallego; Garza; Geren; Giddings; Gonzales, L.; Gonzales, V.; Gonzalez; Gooden; Guillen; Gutierrez; Hamilton; Hancock; Hardcastle; Harless; Harper-Brown; Hartnett; Hernandez Luna; Hilderbran; Hochberg; Hopson; Howard, C.; Howard, D.; Huberty; Hughes; Hunter; Isaac; Jackson; Johnson; Keffer; King, P.; King, S.; King, T.; Kleinschmidt; Kolkhorst; Kuempel; Landtroop; Larson; Laubenberg; Lavender; Legler; Lewis; Lozano; Lucio; Lyne; Madden; Mallory Caraway; Margo; Marquez; Martinez; Martinez Fischer; McClendon; Menendez; Miles; Miller, D.; Miller, S.; Morrison; Muñoz; Murphy; Naishtat; Nash; Oliveira; Orr; Otto; Parker; Patrick; Paxton; Peña; Perry; Phillips; Pickett; Pitts; Price; Quintanilla; Raymond; Reynolds; Riddle; Ritter; Rodriguez; Schwertner; Scott; Sheets; Sheffield; Shelton; Simpson; Smith, T.; Smith, W.; Smithee; Solomons; Strama; Taylor, L.; Taylor, V.; Thompson; Torres; Truitt; Turner; Veasey; Villarreal; Vo; Walle; Weber; White; Woolley; Workman; Zedler; Zerwas.

The invocation was offered by Reverend Eric Folkerth, pastor, Northaven United Methodist Church, Dallas, as follows:

Holy and Gracious God, we come before you on this day, on the final weekend of the 82nd Legislative Session. And as we pause before you in prayer, Holy God, we give you thanks for each of these esteemed members of our state government, for their families, their communities, and for the life experiences that led them to these honored positions. We know and understand the personal sacrifice that goes into being a public official: the time away from family, the long hours, the stress of the public spotlight. We give you thanks, O God, that these before us today have answered the call of public service, and we ask you to bless them.

In great humility, O God, we recall how you call us to be a holy people. You, O God, call governments to be holy manifestations of your will and desire for the world. Even foreign kings, such as Cyrus of Persia, you have used to fulfill your holy will for God's people. So, O God, remind these leaders of our state that their decisions matter to you, that you care deeply about what they decide here. God, during their work here, help these servants of the State of Texas to be holy people and to leave partisan politics at the statehouse door.

But also, O God, help them to make Texas into a holy people. For you call us to account and we remember that your parable of the last judgment is a judgment upon the nations of the earth. And so make Texas into a holy people.

Make us into a holy people, O God, like the people of Israel whom God challenged to treat immigrants as if they were native born. Make us into a holy people, O God, like the church of St. Paul, who championed care for widows and orphans, the most marginalized people of his day. Make us into a holy people, O God, as Jesus taught, so that we might care for the sick, for those in prison, for those without clothing and shelter, for the least of these. And let us be reminded, as Jesus taught, that when we so care for others, we are caring for the face of God in the world. Make us into a holy people, O God, for we know when we search the scriptures that these are the kinds of holiness God calls our government to achieve.

And, God, when this session has finished, when the final bill has been passed and the last gavel comes down, when these elected servants are back in the quiet of their homes and praying to you in the privacy of their own hearts, accept their prayers of forgiveness for all the ways in which they will have fallen short of your holy vision. All these things we pray in your most holy and gracious name. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Shelton who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

HOUSE AT EASE

At 10:50 a.m., the speaker announced that the house would stand at ease pending the arrival of guests.

FALLEN HEROES MEMORIAL SERVICE (The House of Representatives and Senate in Joint Session)

In accordance with the provisions of HCR 163, providing for a joint session of the senate and house of representatives for the purpose of a joint memorial session to honor Texans killed while serving in the Global War on Terrorism, Governor Rick Perry, the Honorable Steve Ogden, president pro tempore of the senate, and the honorable senators were announced at the door of the house and were admitted.

The Honorable Steve Ogden, president pro tempore of the senate, called the senate to order. A quorum of the senate was announced present.

The Honorable Joe Straus, speaker of the house, called the house to order. A quorum of the house of representatives was announced present.

Speaker Straus stated that the two houses were in joint session pursuant to HCR 163 in honor of Texans killed while serving in the Global War on Terrorism and welcomed Governor Perry, Lieutenant Governor Dewhurst, members of the senate, and other state officials, and addressed the assemblage.

Speaker Straus recognized Representative Pickett who addressed the families of the honored fallen soldiers.

The joint session and assemblage rose for the posting of the colors.

Lieutenant Colonel Deon M. Green sang the national anthem.

Senator Hinojosa led the assemblage in the pledge of allegiance to the United States flag and Representative Sheffield led the assemblage in the pledge of allegiance to the Texas flag.

Speaker Straus recognized Representative Lavender who offered the invocation.

Speaker Straus recognized Representative Pickett to read HCR 163, convening a joint memorial session to honor Texans killed while serving in the Global War on Terrorism.

The service medley was played.

Governor Perry addressed the joint session and assemblage, as follows:

Thank you, Senator Ogden, and my thanks also for the hard work put in by yourself and your colleagues in the senate, as well as the house through what has been a challenging session. It's a pleasure, and an honor, to be with you all today.

Every session, members from both chambers and both sides of the aisle take some time to put aside our differences and gather here in memory of those who have fallen in Afghanistan, Iraq, and anywhere our forces have engaged against the minions of global terror. The Global War on Terror began as a response to an unprovoked attack, an attack designed to demoralize us as much as to destroy our way of life. They miscalculated our ability, as a nation, to rise above the ruins, just as they miscalculated our resolve to continue the battle wherever it takes us, and our determination to bring to justice every organization and individual plotting death and destruction against the citizens of this nation.

Earlier this month, the United States scored a major victory in the Global War on Terror, as the main architect behind the September 11 attacks and the global face of the jihad movement, finally met justice at the hands of the U.S. military. This was once again a great credit to the bravery, hard work, and determination of our men and women in the armed forces, along with the unsung heroes in our intelligence community who had spent years of their lives in the line of fire hunting down this man.

However, the death of Bin Laden is not an end to the larger war, and the struggle to protect our homeland is ongoing. So we will continue to call upon the best and brightest to stand between us and those who would do us harm and join the long line that takes up arms to defend others. Many of them, like many I've visited with over the last decade, will come home facing long roads back from debilitating injuries—some of the injuries visible, and some not. All too many will not come home at all. As we honor these brave Texans who made the ultimate sacrifice, we also continue to offer our heartfelt condolences to those who love them. It can be no easy thing to balance admiration for your fallen warrior with the realities of a life that continues to unfold, one challenging day after another. Please know that the people of Texas genuinely appreciate the service and sacrifice of our military personnel and lift up their survivors in our thoughts and prayers. As President Lincoln so eloquently wrote almost 150 years ago to a mourning mother, "I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

In the days to come, I encourage you to live your life fully because you know that each day is precious, and be assured that the cause for which your loved ones fought and died is still a just and noble cause. All of us in Texas must endeavor to live our lives in a fashion worthy of the sacrifices of your loved ones. May God bless you and, through you, may he continue to bless the great State of Texas.

(by Hilderbran)

The following privileged resolution was laid before the house:

HR 2518

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas, 82nd Legislature, Regular Session, 2011, That House Rule 13, Section 9(a), be suspended in part as provided by House Rule 13, Section 9(f), to enable the conference committee appointed to resolve the differences on SB 1087 (state-issued certificates of franchise authority to provide cable service and video service) to consider and take action on the following matters:

(1) House Rule 13, Sections 9(a)(1) and (2), are suspended to permit the committee to change and omit text not in disagreement in proposed SECTION 2 of the bill, in amended Section 66.004(a), Utilities Code, to read as follows:

(a) A cable service provider or a video service provider that currently has or had previously received a franchise to provide cable service or video service with respect to such municipalities is not eligible to seek a state-issued certificate of franchise authority under this chapter as to those municipalities until the expiration date of the existing franchise agreement, except as provided by Subsections (b), (b-1), (b-2), (b-3), and (c).

Explanation: This change is necessary to clarify that a cable service provider or video service provider that received a franchise to provide cable service or video service to a municipality is not eligible to seek a state-issued certificate of franchise authority before the expiration of the franchise except as provided by Section 66.004, Utilities Code.

(2) House Rule 13, Sections 9(a)(1) and (4), are suspended to permit the committee to change text which is not in disagreement and to add text on a matter which is not included in either the house or senate version of the bill in proposed SECTION 2 of the bill, in added Sections 66.004(b-1), (b-2), and (b-3), Utilities Code, to read as follows:

(b-1) Beginning September 1, 2011, a cable service provider or video service provider in a municipality with a population of less than 215,000 that was not allowed to or did not terminate a municipal franchise under Subsection (b) may elect to terminate not less than all unexpired franchises in municipalities with a population of less than 215,000 and seek a state-issued certificate of franchise authority for each area served under a terminated municipal franchise by providing written notice to the commission and each affected municipality before January 1, 2012. A municipal franchise is terminated on the date the commission issues a state-issued certificate of franchise authority to the provider for the area served under that terminated franchise.

(b-2) A cable service provider or video service provider in a municipality with a population of at least 215,000 may terminate a municipal franchise in that municipality in the manner described by Subsection (b-1) if:

(1) the cable service provider or video service provider is not the incumbent cable service provider in that municipality; and

(2) the incumbent cable service provider received a state-issued certificate of franchise authority from the commission before September 1, 2011.

(b-3) A municipality with a population of at least 215,000 may enter into an agreement with any cable service provider in the municipality to terminate a municipal cable franchise before the expiration of the franchise. To the extent that the mutually agreed on terms and conditions for early termination of the unexpired municipal cable franchise conflict with a provision of this chapter, the agreed on terms and conditions control.

Explanation: This change is necessary to differentiate between termination of franchises by service providers in municipalities with populations of less than 215,000 and by service providers in municipalities with populations of at least 215,000.

(3) House Rule 13, Section 9(a)(1), is suspended to permit the committee to change text not in disagreement in proposed SECTION 2 of the bill, in amended Sections 66.004(c) and (f), Utilities Code, to read as follows:

(c) A cable service provider ~~[that serves fewer than 40 percent of the total cable customers in a municipal franchise area and]~~ that elects under Subsection (b), (b-1), or (b-2) to terminate an existing municipal franchise is responsible for remitting to the affected municipality before the 91st day after the date the municipal franchise is terminated any accrued but unpaid franchise fees due under the terminated franchise. If the cable service provider has credit remaining from prepaid franchise fees, the provider may deduct the amount of the remaining credit from any future fees or taxes it must pay to the municipality, either directly or through the comptroller.

(f) Except as provided in this chapter, nothing in this chapter is intended to abrogate, nullify, or adversely affect in any way the contractual rights, duties, and obligations existing and incurred by a cable service provider or a video service provider before the date a franchise expires or the date a provider terminates a franchise under Subsection (b-1) or (b-2), as applicable, ~~[enactment of this chapter,~~ and owed or owing to any private person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity including without limitation those obligations measured by and related to the gross revenue hereafter received by the holder of a state-issued certificate of franchise authority for services provided in the geographic area to which such prior franchise or permit applies. All liens, security interests, royalties, and other contracts, rights, and interests in effect on September 1, 2005, or the date a franchise is terminated under Subsection (b-1) or (b-2) shall continue in full force and effect, without the necessity for renewal, extension, or continuance, and shall be paid and performed by the holder of a state-issued certificate of franchise authority, and shall apply as though the revenue generated by the holder of a state-issued certificate of franchise authority continued to be generated pursuant to the permit or franchise issued by the prior local franchising authority or municipality within the geographic area to which the prior permit or franchise applies. It shall be a condition to the issuance and continuance of a state-issued certificate of franchise authority that the private contractual rights and obligations herein described continue to be honored, paid, or performed to the same extent as though the cable service provider continued to operate under its prior franchise or permit, for the duration of such state-issued certificate of franchise authority and any renewals or extensions thereof, and that the applicant so agrees. Any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity holding or claiming rights herein reserved may enforce same by an action brought in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Explanation: These changes are necessary to add cross-references to Section 66.004(b-2), Utilities Code.

(4) House Rule 13, Sections 9(a)(1), (2), and (4), are suspended to permit the committee to change text not in disagreement, omit text not in disagreement, and add text on a matter which is not included in either the house or senate version of the bill, in proposed SECTION 4 of the bill, in amended Section 66.006(c) and added Section 66.006(c-2), Utilities Code, to read as follows:

(c) All fees paid to municipalities under this section are paid in accordance with 47 U.S.C. Sections 531 and 541(a)(4)(B) and may be used by the municipality as allowed by federal law; further, these payments are not chargeable as a credit against the franchise fee payments authorized under this chapter.

(c-2) A municipality that receives fees under this section:

(1) shall maintain revenue from the fees in a separate account established for that purpose;

(2) may not commingle revenue from the fees with any other money;

(3) shall maintain a record of each deposit to and disbursement from the separate account, including a record of the payee and purpose of each disbursement; and

(4) may not spend revenue from the fees except directly from the separate account.

Explanation: This change is necessary to clarify that all fees paid to municipalities under Section 66.006, Utilities Code, are not chargeable as a credit against franchise fee payments authorized under Chapter 66, Utilities Code, and that municipalities may not spend revenue from fees received under Section 66.006 except by spending the revenue directly from a separate account, to remove language requiring a detailed accounting of deposits, and to reletter Subsection (c-3) as Subsection (c-2).

(5) House Rule 13, Sections 9(a)(1) and (2), are suspended to permit the committee to change and omit text not in disagreement in proposed SECTION 4 of the bill, in amended Section 66.006(d), Utilities Code, to read as follows:

(d) The following services shall continue to be provided by the cable provider that was furnishing services pursuant to its municipal cable franchise ~~[until January 1, 2008, or]~~ until the expiration or termination ~~[term]~~ of the franchise ~~[was to expire, whichever is later,]~~ and thereafter as provided in Subdivisions (1) and (2) below:

(1) institutional network capacity, however defined or referred to in the municipal cable franchise but generally referring to a private line data network capacity for use by the municipality for noncommercial purposes, shall continue to be provided at the same capacity as was provided to the municipality prior to the date of expiration or ~~[the]~~ termination, provided that the municipality will compensate the provider for the actual incremental cost of the capacity; and

(2) cable services to community public buildings, such as municipal buildings and public schools, shall continue to be provided to the same extent provided immediately prior to the date of the termination. ~~On~~ ~~[Beginning on January 1, 2008, or]~~ the expiration or termination of the franchise agreement, ~~[whichever is later,]~~ a provider that provides the services may deduct from the franchise fee to be paid to the municipality an amount equal to the actual incremental cost of the services if the municipality requires the services after that date. Such cable service generally refers to the existing cable drop connections to such facilities and the tier of cable service provided pursuant to the franchise at the time of the expiration or termination.

Explanation: This change is necessary to clarify that institutional network capacity and cable services to community public buildings shall continue to be provided in all municipalities as they were provided before the expiration or termination of a franchise.

(6) House Rule 13, Section 9(a)(1), is suspended to permit the committee to change text not in disagreement in proposed SECTION 6 of the bill, to read as follows:

SECTION 6. (a) A municipality that received fees described by Section 66.006(c), Utilities Code, before September 1, 2011, shall, on September 1, 2011, transfer any fees that have not been disbursed to a separate account as required by Section 66.006(c-2), Utilities Code, as added by this Act.

(b) The change in law made by this Act in adding Section 66.006(c-2)(3), Utilities Code, applies only to transfers, deposits, and disbursements made on or after the effective date of this Act. A transfer, deposit, or disbursement made before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect on the date the transfer, deposit, or disbursement was made, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.

Explanation: These changes are necessary to correct cross-references.

SB 1087 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

Section 66.006 of the Texas Utilities Code requires a holder of a state issued certificate of franchise authority to pay a one percent fee based upon gross revenues to support public, educational, and government ("PEG") access channels. This fee is known as the PEG fee. That section also addresses the purposes for which PEG fee revenue can be spent, and addresses credits against the five percent franchise fee as established in Section 66.005.

It is the intent of this legislation to allow cable service providers and video service providers to credit the one percent PEG fee against the five percent franchise fee, but only for the amounts not spent in accordance with federal law, and for such credit to comply with any applicable federal law, rules, and regulations.

ARTICLE 4. COMPLIANCE AND ENFORCEMENT

SECTION 4.01. Section 5.751, Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5.751. APPLICABILITY. This subchapter applies to programs under the jurisdiction of the commission under Chapters 26, ~~and~~ 27, and 32 of this code and Chapters 361, 375, 382, and 401, Health and Safety Code. It does not apply to occupational licensing programs under the jurisdiction of the commission.

SECTION 4.02. Section 5.752(1), Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

(1) "Applicable legal requirement" means an environmental law, regulation, permit, order, consent[;] decree, or other requirement.

SECTION 4.03. The heading to Section 5.753, Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5.753. STANDARDS ~~[STANDARD]~~ FOR EVALUATING AND USING COMPLIANCE HISTORY.

SECTION 4.04. Section 5.753, Water Code, is amended by amending Subsections (a), (b), and (d) and adding Subsection (d-1) to read as follows:

(a) Consistent with other law and the requirements necessary to maintain federal program authorization, the commission by rule shall develop standards [a uniform standard] for evaluating and using compliance history that ensure consistency. In developing the standards, the commission may account for differences among regulated entities.

(b) The components of compliance history must include:

(1) enforcement orders, court judgments, [consent decrees,] and criminal convictions of this state [and the federal government] relating to compliance with applicable legal requirements under the jurisdiction of the commission [or the United States Environmental Protection Agency];

(2) notwithstanding any other provision of this code, orders issued under Section 7.070;

(3) to the extent readily available to the commission, enforcement orders, court judgments, consent decrees, and criminal convictions relating to violations of environmental rules [laws] of the United States Environmental Protection Agency [other states]; and

(4) changes in ownership.

(d) Except as provided by this subsection, notices of violation must be included as a component of compliance history for a period not to exceed one year from the date of issuance of each notice of violation. The listing of a notice of violation must be preceded by the following statement prominently displayed: "A notice of violation represents a written allegation of a violation of a specific regulatory requirement from the commission to a regulated entity. A notice of violation is not a final enforcement action nor proof that a violation has actually occurred." [The set of components shall include notices of violations.] A notice of violation administratively determined to be without merit may [shall] not be included in a compliance history. A notice of violation that is included in a compliance history shall be removed from the compliance history if the commission subsequently determines the notice of violation to be without merit.

(d-1) For purposes of listing compliance history, the commission may not include as a notice of violation information received by the commission as required by Title V of the federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Section 7661 et seq.) unless the commission issues a written notice of violation. Final enforcement orders or judgments resulting from self-reported Title V deviations or violations may be considered as compliance history components for purposes of determining compliance history.

(b) Rules adopted under Subsection (a):

(1) [this section] must, at a minimum, provide for three classifications of compliance history in a manner adequate to distinguish among:

(A) unsatisfactory [(1) poor] performers, or regulated entities that in the commission's judgment perform below minimal acceptable performance standards established by the commission [average];

(B) satisfactory [(2) average] performers, or regulated entities that generally comply with environmental regulations; and

(C) [(3)] high performers, or regulated entities that have an above-satisfactory [above average] compliance record;

(2) may establish a category of unclassified performers, or regulated entities for which the commission does not have adequate compliance information about the site; and

(3) must take into account both positive and negative factors related to the operation, size, and complexity of the site, including whether the site is subject to Title V of the federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Section 7661 et seq.).

(c) In classifying a person's compliance history, the commission shall:

(1) determine whether a violation of an applicable legal requirement is of major, moderate, or minor significance;

(2) establish criteria for classifying a repeat violator, giving consideration to the size [number] and complexity of the site at which the violations occurred, and limiting consideration to violations of the same nature and the same environmental media that occurred in the preceding five years [facilities owned or operated by the person]; and

(3) consider:

(A) the significance of the violation and whether the person is a repeat violator;

(B) the size and complexity of the site, including whether the site is subject to Title V of the federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Section 7661 et seq.); and

(C) the potential for a violation at the site that is attributable to the nature and complexity of the site.

(d) ~~The commission by rule may require [shall establish methods of assessing the compliance history of regulated entities for which it does not have adequate compliance information. The methods may include requiring]~~ a compliance inspection to determine an entity's eligibility for participation in a program that requires a high level of compliance.

(e) The commission by rule shall provide for the use of compliance history ~~[classifications]~~ in commission decisions regarding:

(1) the issuance, renewal, amendment, modification, denial, suspension, or revocation of a permit;

(2) enforcement;

(3) the use of announced inspections; and

(4) participation in innovative programs.

(e-1) The amount of the penalty enhancement or escalation attributed to compliance history may not exceed 100 percent of the base penalty for an individual violation as determined by the commission's penalty policy.

(g) Rules adopted under Subsection (e) for the use of compliance history shall provide for additional oversight of, and review of applications regarding, facilities owned or operated by a person whose compliance performance is classified as unsatisfactory according to commission standards ~~[in the lowest classification developed under this section].~~

(h) The commission by rule shall, at a minimum, prohibit a person whose compliance history is classified as unsatisfactory according to commission standards ~~[in the lowest classification developed under this section]~~ from:

~~(1) receiving an announced inspection; and~~

[(2)] obtaining or renewing a flexible permit under the program administered by the commission under Chapter 382, Health and Safety Code, or participating in the regulatory flexibility program administered by the commission under Section 5.758.

SECTION 4.07. Section 5.756, Water Code, is amended by adding Subsection (e) to read as follows:

SECTION 4.08. Sections 5.758(a), (b), (d), and (h), Water Code, are amended to read as follows:

(a) The commission by order may exempt an applicant from a requirement of a statute or commission rule regarding the control or abatement of pollution if the applicant proposes to control or abate pollution by an alternative method or by applying an alternative standard that is:

- (1) as [more] protective of the environment and the public health as [than] the method or standard prescribed by the statute or commission rule that would otherwise apply; and
- (2) not inconsistent with federal law.

(b) The commission may not exempt an applicant under this section unless the applicant can present to the commission [documented] evidence that the alternative the applicant proposes is as protective of the environment and the public health as the method or standard prescribed by the statute or commission rule that would otherwise apply ~~[of benefits to environmental quality that will result from the project the applicant proposes]~~.

(d) The commission's order must provide a [specific] description of the alternative method or standard and condition the exemption on compliance with the method or standard as the order prescribes.

(h) In implementing the program of regulatory flexibility authorized by this section, the commission shall:

(1) promote ~~[market]~~ the program to businesses in the state through all available appropriate media;

(2) endorse alternative methods that will clearly benefit the environment and impose the least onerous restrictions on business;

(3) fix and enforce environmental standards, allowing businesses flexibility in meeting the standards in a manner that clearly enhances environmental outcomes; and

(4) work to achieve consistent and predictable results for the regulated community and shorter waits for permit issuance.

SECTION 4.09. Subchapter A, Chapter 7, Water Code, is amended by adding Section 7.006 to read as follows:

Sec. 7.006. ENFORCEMENT POLICIES. (a) The commission by rule shall adopt a general enforcement policy that describes the commission's approach to enforcement.

(c) The amount of the penalty for all other violations within the jurisdiction of the commission to enforce may not exceed $25,000 [~~$10,000~~] a day for each violation.

SECTION 4.11. Section 7.067, Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7.067. SUPPLEMENTAL ENVIRONMENTAL PROJECTS. (a) The commission may compromise, modify, or remit, with or without conditions, an administrative penalty imposed under this subchapter. In determining the appropriate amount of a penalty for settlement of an administrative enforcement matter, the commission may consider a respondent's willingness to contribute to supplemental environmental projects that are approved by the commission, giving preference to projects that benefit the community in which the alleged violation occurred. The commission may encourage the cleanup of contaminated property through the use of supplemental environmental projects. The commission may approve a supplemental environmental project with activities in territory of the United Mexican States if the project substantially benefits territory in this state in a manner described by Subsection (b). Except as provided by Subsection (a-1), the [The] commission may not approve a project that is necessary to bring a respondent into compliance with environmental laws, that is necessary to remediate environmental harm caused by the respondent's alleged violation, or that the respondent has already agreed to perform under a preexisting agreement with a governmental agency.

(a-1) The commission may approve a supplemental environmental project that is necessary to bring a respondent into compliance with environmental laws or that is necessary to remediate environmental harm caused by the respondent's alleged violation if the respondent is a local government.

(a-2) The commission shall develop a policy to prevent regulated entities from systematically avoiding compliance through the use of supplemental environmental projects under Subsection (a-1), including a requirement for an assessment of:

- (1) the respondent's financial ability to pay administrative penalties;
 (2) the ability of the respondent to remediate the harm or come into compliance; and
 (3) the need for corrective action.

(b) In this section:

(1) "Local government" means a school district, county, municipality, junior college district, river authority, water district or other special district, or other political subdivision created under the constitution or a statute of this state.

SECTION 4.12. Section 13.4151(a), Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

(a) If a person, affiliated interest, or entity subject to the jurisdiction of the commission violates this chapter or a rule or order adopted under this chapter, the commission may assess a penalty against that person, affiliated interest, or entity as provided by this section. The penalty may be in an amount not to exceed $5,000 [~~$500~~] a day. Each day a violation continues may be considered a separate violation.

SECTION 4.13. Section 26.028(d), Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commission, at a regular meeting without the necessity of holding a public hearing, may approve an application to renew or amend a permit if:

(1) the applicant is not applying to:

(A) increase significantly the quantity of waste authorized to be discharged; or

(B) change materially the pattern or place of discharge;

(2) the activities to be authorized by the renewed or amended permit will maintain or improve the quality of waste authorized to be discharged;

(3) for NPDES permits, notice and the opportunity to request a public meeting shall be given in compliance with NPDES program requirements, and the commission shall consider and respond to all timely received and significant public comment; and

(4) the commission determines that an applicant's compliance history under the method for using [~~evaluating~~] compliance history developed by the commission under Section 5.754 raises no issues regarding the applicant's ability to comply with a material term of its permit.

SECTION 4.14. Section 26.0281, Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 26.0281. CONSIDERATION OF COMPLIANCE HISTORY. In considering the issuance, amendment, or renewal of a permit to discharge effluent comprised primarily of sewage or municipal waste, the commission shall consider the compliance history of the applicant and its operator under the method for using [~~evaluating~~] compliance history developed by the commission under Section 5.754. In considering an applicant's compliance history under this subsection, the commission shall consider as evidence of compliance information regarding the applicant's implementation of an environmental management system at the facility for which the permit, permit amendment, or permit renewal is sought. In this section, "environmental management system" has the meaning assigned by Section 5.127.

SECTION 4.15. Section 26.040(h), Water Code, is amended to read as follows:

(h) Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter, the commission, after hearing, shall deny or suspend a discharger's authority to discharge under a general permit if the commission determines that the discharger's compliance history is classified as unsatisfactory according to commission standards [~~in the lowest classification~~] under Sections 5.753 and 5.754 and rules adopted and procedures developed under those sections. The commission may impose an administrative penalty against a person who violates this subsection. The commission shall adopt rules as necessary to enforce this subsection.

(e) It is an affirmative defense to the imposition of an administrative penalty for a violation of Subsection (d) that the person delivering a regulated substance into an underground storage tank relied on:

(1) a valid paper delivery certificate presented by the owner or operator of the underground storage tank or displayed at the facility associated with the underground storage tank;

(2) a temporary delivery authorization presented by the owner or operator of the underground storage tank or displayed at the facility associated with the underground storage tank; or

HB 2048, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the collection and enforcement of state and local hotel occupancy taxes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Subchapter F, Chapter 156, Tax Code, is amended by adding Section 156.2513 to read as follows:

Sec. 156.2513. ALLOCATION OF REVENUE TO CERTAIN MUNICIPALITIES AND COUNTIES. Not later than the last day of the month following a calendar quarter, the comptroller shall:

(1) compute the amount of revenue, excluding penalties and interest and amounts paid under protest, derived from the collection of taxes imposed by this chapter that resulted from documentation or other information described by Section 351.008 or 352.008; and

(2) issue a warrant drawn on the general revenue fund in the amount of 20 percent of the revenue computed under Subdivision (1) to the municipality or county that provided the documentation or other information.

SECTION 2. Sections 351.004(a), (a-1), (a-2), and (a-3), Tax Code, are amended to read as follows:

(a) The ~~[municipal attorney or other attorney acting for the]~~ municipality may bring suit against a person who is required to collect the tax imposed by this chapter and pay the collections over to the municipality, and who has failed to file a tax report or pay the tax when due, to collect the tax not paid or to enjoin the person from operating a hotel in the municipality until the tax is paid or the report filed, as applicable, as provided by the court's order. In addition to the amount of any tax owed under this chapter, the person is liable to the municipality for:

(1) the municipality's reasonable attorney's fees;

(2) the costs of an audit conducted under Subsection (a-1)(1), as determined by the municipality using a reasonable rate, but only if:

(A) the tax has been delinquent for at least two complete municipal fiscal quarters at the time the audit is conducted; and

(B) the municipality has not received a disbursement from the comptroller as provided by Section 156.2513 related to the person's concurrent state tax delinquency described by Section 351.008; and

(3) a penalty equal to 15 percent of the total amount of the tax owed if the tax has been delinquent for at least one complete municipal fiscal quarter.

(a-1) If a person required to file a tax report under this chapter does not file the report as required by the municipality, the ~~[municipal attorney or other attorney acting for the]~~ municipality may determine the amount of tax due under this chapter by:

(1) conducting an audit of each hotel in relation to which the person did not file the report as required by the municipality; or

(2) using the tax report filed for the appropriate reporting period under Section 156.151 in relation to that hotel.

(a-2) If the person did not file a tax report under Section 156.151 for that reporting period in relation to that hotel, the ~~[municipal attorney or other attorney acting for the]~~ municipality may estimate the amount of tax due by using the tax reports in relation to that hotel filed during the previous calendar year under this chapter or Section 156.151. An estimate made under this subsection is prima facie evidence of the amount of tax due for that period in relation to that hotel.

(a-3) The authority to conduct an audit under this section is in addition to any other audit authority provided by statute, charter, or ordinance. A municipality may directly perform an audit authorized by this section or contract with another person to perform the audit on an hourly rate or fixed-fee basis. A municipality shall provide at least 30 days' written notice to a person who is required to collect the tax imposed by this chapter with respect to a hotel before conducting an audit of the hotel under this section.

SECTION 3. Subchapter A, Chapter 351, Tax Code, is amended by adding Section 351.008 to read as follows:

Sec. 351.008. CONCURRENT STATE TAX DELINQUENCY. (a) If, as a result of an audit conducted under Section 351.004, a municipality obtains documentation or other information showing a failure to collect or pay when due both the tax imposed by this chapter and the tax imposed by Chapter 156 on a person who pays for the right to occupy a room or space in a hotel, the municipality shall notify and submit the relevant information to the comptroller.

(b) The comptroller shall review the information submitted by a municipality under Subsection (a) and determine whether to proceed with collection and enforcement efforts. If the information results in the collection of a delinquent tax under Chapter 156 and the assessment has become administratively final, the comptroller shall distribute a percentage of the amount collected to the municipality as provided by Section 156.2513 to defray the cost of the municipal audit.

SECTION 4. Section 352.004, Tax Code, is amended by adding Subsection (e) to read as follows:

(e) If a person required to file a tax report under this chapter does not file the report as required by the county, the county may determine the amount of tax due under this chapter by conducting an audit of each hotel in relation to which the person did not file the report as required by the county. A county may directly perform an audit authorized under this subsection or contract with another person to perform the audit on an hourly rate or fixed-fee basis. A county shall provide at least 30 days' written notice to a person who is required to collect the tax imposed by this chapter with respect to a hotel before conducting an audit of the hotel under this subsection.

SECTION 5. Subchapter A, Chapter 352, Tax Code, is amended by adding Section 352.008 to read as follows:

Sec. 352.008. CONCURRENT STATE TAX DELINQUENCY. (a) If, as a result of an audit conducted under Section 352.004, a county obtains documentation or other information showing a failure to collect or pay when due both the tax imposed by this chapter and the tax imposed by Chapter 156 on a person who pays for the right to occupy a room or space in a hotel, the county shall notify and submit the relevant information to the comptroller.

(b) The comptroller shall review the information submitted by a county under Subsection (a) and determine whether to proceed with collection and enforcement efforts. If the information results in the collection of a delinquent tax under Chapter 156 and the assessment has become administratively final, the comptroller shall distribute a percentage of the amount collected to the county as provided by Section 156.2513 to defray the cost of the county audit.

SECTION 6. The change in law made by this Act applies only to an audit performed by a municipality or county on or after the effective date of this Act. An audit performed by a municipality or county before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect immediately before that date, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose.

SECTION 7. This Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

Sec. 431.155. LACK OF REASONABLE CAUSE; DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT. (a) If, after investigation, the commission determines that reasonable cause does not exist to believe that the respondent engaged in an unlawful employment practice under Section 431.006 as alleged in a complaint, the commission shall issue a written determination incorporating the finding that the evidence does not support the complaint and dismissing the complaint.

(b) The commission shall serve a copy of the determination on the complainant, the respondent, and other agencies as required by law.

Sec. 431.156. DETERMINATION OF REASONABLE CAUSE; REVIEW BY PANEL. If, after investigation, the commission determines that there is reasonable cause to believe that the respondent engaged in an unlawful employment practice under Section 431.006 as alleged in a complaint, the commission shall:

(2) serve a copy of the determination on the complainant, the respondent, and other agencies as required by law.

Sec. 431.157. RESOLUTION BY INFORMAL METHODS. (a) If a determination of reasonable cause is made, the commission shall endeavor to eliminate the alleged unlawful employment practice arising under Section 431.006 by informal methods of conference, conciliation, and persuasion.

(b) Without the written consent of the complainant and respondent, the commission, its executive director, or its other officers or employees may not disclose to the public information about the efforts in a particular case to resolve an alleged unlawful employment practice by conference, conciliation, or persuasion, regardless of whether there is a determination of reasonable cause.

Sec. 431.158. NOTICE OF DISMISSAL OR UNRESOLVED COMPLAINT. If the commission dismisses a complaint or does not resolve the complaint, the commission shall inform the complainant of the dismissal or failure to resolve the complaint in writing by certified mail.

(b) The complainant must request the notice in writing.

(c) The executive director of the commission may issue the notice.

(d) Failure of the executive director of the commission to issue the notice of a complainant's right to file a civil action does not affect the complainant's right under this subchapter to bring a civil action against the respondent.

Sec. 431.167. ATTORNEY'S FEES; COSTS. (a) In a proceeding under this subchapter, a court may allow the prevailing party, other than the commission, a reasonable attorney's fee as part of the costs.

(b) The state, a state agency, or a political subdivision is liable for costs, including attorney's fees, to the same extent as a private person.

(c) In awarding costs and attorney's fees in an action or a proceeding under this subchapter, the court, in its discretion, may include reasonable expert fees.

Sec. 431.168. COMPELLED COMPLIANCE. If an employer fails to comply with a court order issued under this subchapter, a party to the action or the commission, on the written request of a person aggrieved by the failure, may commence proceedings to compel compliance with the order.

SECTION 6. This Act takes effect immediately if it receives a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, as provided by Section 39, Article III, Texas Constitution. If this Act does not receive the vote necessary for immediate effect, this Act takes effect September 1, 2011.

HB 2490 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE DESHOTEL: Mr. Solomons, one of the things we were trying to accomplish, I think, with this bill, was protection of consumers from fly-by-night operations that go to hotel rooms and say they're buying precious metals, is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE SOLOMONS: Yes, sir. It's very much a law enforcement type of issue with that—fly-by-night operators.

DESHOTEL: One of the things, we're giving the authority to—rulemaking authority—to the Finance Commission, and we'd like to see in those rules a requirement that a receipt be maintained that includes all the pertinent information of the transaction, is that correct?

SOLOMONS: Yes, sir. We're trying to make sure there are copies of receipts and there's a prescribed form for that.

DESHOTEL: And that those receipts be maintained by the vendor as well as given to the consumer?

SOLOMONS: Right—well, it will be given to the—they'll keep one, they'll give one to the finance—to the OCCC, and then basically what happens is a person would have more of an opportunity to get a receipt, and in that rulemaking authority they may require a receipt as well. And that's certainly the intent, to make sure everybody has a copy of what transacted.

HR 2558 - ADOPTED
(by Pitts)

The following privileged resolution was laid before the house:

HR 2558, suspending limitations on conference committee jurisdiction

HR 2558 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Y. Davis raised a point of order against further consideration of HR 2558 under Rule 13, Section 9 of the House Rules on the grounds that text of the bill that was not in disagreement between the two houses was changed.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

REPRESENTATIVE Y. DAVIS: And I appreciate your ruling on this. I don't necessarily agree, but I need to ask a question about it. In the rule book it says that in this section it should be "exact words," and now what you're saying is that it's not required to have the exact language in it? If you look at—it says, "This rule shall be strictly construed by the presiding officer in each house to achieve these purposes." So, over on Section G, number 1, it says "the exact language of the matter or matters proposed to be considered" needs to be in the resolution. And so, the parliamentarian acknowledges that this is different. And it says that the chair is supposed to rule with strict—construed strictly. I'm just trying to understand how we make this determination, as that's not a good point, when, in fact, we realize it's not exact language. And, if you acknowledge that it's not the correct language, then the question is, are you making this ruling without considering the rules where it says it should be strictly construed? Are you just ignoring that part of the rule?

SPEAKER: Ms. Davis, the chair has reviewed your point of order, the resolution, and the bill and finds that it's in compliance with Rule 13, Section 9.

Y. DAVIS: And I was just speaking specifically about—I get that you've overruled me, and I appreciate that you are reiterating that—I just wanted to understand about the limitations on jurisdiction. It says that this rule should be strictly construed. My question is, based on this determination and your ruling, are you acknowledging, or would you acknowledge that you're not construing—using strict compliance with this rule?

SPEAKER: No, ma'am.

Y. DAVIS: No, ma'am, sir? No, ma'am, you're not? I don't even understand what no ma'am meant, I'm sorry.

SPEAKER: We are construing it according to Rule 13, Section 9.

Y. DAVIS: And the last question that I'd like to ask is it says "the exact language" of the matter or matter supposed to be considered. We know that was not in the resolution exactly. So are you not recognizing or acknowledging that rule that says the exact language has to be in the resolution?

SPEAKER: No, ma'am. We are not acknowledging that.

Y. DAVIS: Parliamentary inquiry—your lack of acknowledgement does not necessarily mean it's not that way though, is that correct?

SPEAKER: Ms. Davis, the chair has ruled, and the chair would be happy to move that your comments be place in the journal.

HB 1 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE REYNOLDS: Members, before I go any further, I want to first of all say that we should all commend Chairman Pitts and the conference committee for the hard work, the sacrifice, the diligence, the hours they expended on HB 1. So, Chairman Pitts, and the conference committee, thank you very much.

Now, I also know that as a freshman member, it's often said that it's better to be seen than heard. And while I may partially agree with that, when I saw HB 1 there was no way I could remain in my seat and remain silent with the type of budget cuts that we were about to undertake. Our constituents elected us to represent our district by setting priorities, and by doing what is in the best interest of our state. We aren't here to cater to any special interest groups, and yes, that does include the Tea Party. We are here to govern and be statesmen. The 82nd Legislative Session has been a challenging one due to the budget crisis we find ourselves in. The challenge of working through problems, however, has been compounded by the refusal by some members to step up to the plate and make tough decisions that are in the best interest of our state. We have had all session to deal with the crippling multibillion dollar shortfall. But instead of dealing head on with the real financial problems of the state, we have chosen to shift the attention to divisive, hot-button, partisan issues—like voter ID, sanctuary cities, the sonogram bill, and yes, the so-called tort reform—issues that have no bearing upon what Texans care about the most.

As this session approaches an end—we have two days left—we are finally talking about school finance. Why wasn't this declared an emergency item? Rather than taking a hard look at the long-term solutions for our fiscal crisis, we chose instead to look at short-term solutions and gimmicks using band-aids and chewing gum, along with Enron-style accounting, to get us through the session. We are in essence kicking the can down the road. The house version of the budget, HB 1, passed earlier in this session, was held as a victory by many conservatives and Tea Party advocates. However, those cries of victory came to a screeching halt when the senate adopted a version of the bill that spent $4 billion more on education over the next biennium.

One important issue to keep in mind is how we ended up in this situation in the first place. An ill-designed tax swap in 2006, which reduced property taxes by replacing the franchise tax on businesses, has fallen far short on projections creating a structural deficit that accounts for about a third of the deficit within our budget. The Legislative Budget Board, an independent nonpartisan arm of the state, predicts that the proposed house budget would result in a projected job loss of thousands of Texas jobs, including teachers and state employees. The practical reality of the house's $4 billion cut to public education is a reduction of approximately $450 per pupil in funding, which equates roughly a $10,000 cut to each public school classroom. It ignores the 160,000 new kids who will enroll in Texas schools over the next two years, and I believe that's what Chairman Gallego was trying to make a point of. While the compromise with the senate helps provide additional funds for our schools, it still does not help the state meet its obligation to adequately fund public education. The leadership continues to reiterate that we cannot use the rainy day fund, the state's savings account created by a constitutional amendment in 1988, for financial situations like the present one. This is despite the fact that the same legislature appropriated all of the rainy day fund in 1991 and 2005. As of today, the fund contains upwards to $6 billion in reserve.

Extreme cuts to public education pose a great threat to the future prosperity of our state. We need to make Texas schoolchildren a priority, and it is economically shortsighted to increase class sizes, fire teachers, and under-fund classrooms. Education is the key to innovation, and the technology jobs of tomorrow require students with strong backgrounds in math and science to compete in the 21st century global economy. The result of drastic budget cuts here will be closing of neighborhood schools, the elimination of art and vocational programs, and the elimination of access to prekindergarten programs for thousands of children. Currently, Texas ranks 44th out of 50 states in per-pupil spending—44 out of 50. And with this budget, we are likely to be dead last. As of today, we are currently ranked near the bottom in graduation rate, and at the top in dropout rates. We are last in our nation in the percent of our population over the age of 25 with a high school diploma. And we have an ever widening teacher gap. The cuts to education stands to further put our kids at risk, accelerate the path to failure, and will drive industry out of the state in the absence of an educated workforce. Any attempt to move forward imbalances the state budget without using the rainy day fund creates a doomsday scenario; it's unrealistic and it's not representative of a government that places value on securing the future of our children. It is incumbent upon us, the state legislators, to move forth by tapping the state's savings account and make more resources available to fund public education. The most recent revenue estimates by the comptroller predict an additional $1.2 billion will be available to the state over the next biennium, and forecasts an additional $300 million will be available for the rainy day fund for appropriation. If we're going to do what's just and right, we must close corporate tax loopholes and make sure businesses pay their share. We have to uphold our statutory obligations to properly fund our state's programs and not shortchange our future opportunities for development and business growth. Finally, we must implement limited responsible cuts to the budget, protect important priorities like public education and jobs, and avoid a deepening economic recession by expending more of the rainy day fund.

Members, we're all here to represent our districts, and I totally, wholeheartedly agree with Chairman Pitts that this is not a partisan issue. Public education is a fundamental issue. It doesn't matter if you're a democrat or if you're a republican, if you come from an urban school district or a rural school district, or you live in a suburban area. Public education is, and should be, our number one priority. And this budget doesn't do that, because we have available funds in the rainy day to appropriate to minimize the cuts we make to public education. One of the reasons why we're gaining four congressional seats is because of the explosive growth the State of Texas has had over the last 10 years, and we are not accounting for that growth in this budget. And that is the reason why I urge you to vote no.

REPRESENTATIVE OTTO: Members, this is my fourth session in the Texas House, so about half of you have been here longer than I have, witnessed more things on this floor than I have, and about half of you haven't. But I recall when I first came here in 2005, this legislature two years prior had come through a $10 billion shortfall, and they were notified about it, I think, about the week they showed up. In 2005, when we came back, the economy in Texas was doing well and we were actually able to reverse some of the deferrals that had been used—not all of them, but a great majority of them. In 2007, we came back to record revenues in this state. Sales tax were growing at double-digit rates year over year. Times were good. In 2009, just last session, we were in the beginnings of what has become the worst recession since the Great Depression, as everyone has said. We also received about $12 billion, roughly, in federal stimulus money that was spread throughout the budget and allowed us not to have to make the hard decisions that now face us today. If you look at what's being reduced, there's an $18 billion drop in federal funds in this budget. About $12 billion of that obviously is probably the stimulus money that's not here this time. The other part is, not only have we lost the higher FMAP on Article II, Dr. Zerwas tells me we're even now below where we were because we're cross-bearing at a rate that some of the other states are not. So our FMAP has actually dropped percentage-wise to the state dollars or GR dollars that we put up.

This is my third session sitting on Appropriations. This is, by far, the most difficult budget that any of us on Appropriations has worked on. All of us would like to see public education at a higher level of funding. What the house accomplished in conference, in my opinion, is the best we can do on the priorities that are important to this house with the resources we have. My constituents sent me here to make the hard decisions, just like they sent you here. They also sent me here with the expectation that we would live within our means. I remember Fed Chairman Bernanke at the Southern Legislative Conference this past spring warning states that you had better find new sources of revenue for your rainy day fund because the volatility that we were beginning to see he expected to continue.

All of us hope we are coming out of this recession; there are positive signs that we are coming out of this recession. But there are also fears on the horizon about interest rates and what will we do if the economy turns downward. I think that this budget is a prudent budget. It's one that I can support, and it's one that I can go back home and explain to my constituents, and that is why I will be voting for HB 1.

REPRESENTATIVE Y. DAVIS: Texas and Texans deserve best. I raised a point of order on HR 2258 to try to stop the bleeding. While I knew it was the time of session and I knew that it was going to be overruled, I thought it was important to raise it, because I think we really need to take a minute to look at what we're doing as Texans. There's no question that we had limited resources; there's no question that we had to make hard choices as legislators. I filed several bills during the session to help raise revenue because I came with the same expectations that every member did: how do we make Texas stronger; how do we make it better; how do we make Texans stronger; and how do we get the best that they have to offer. Those bills were not considered because someone made a decision that we would not have new revenue on the table. While I understand that we probably pass bills that have about $100 million worth of fees on to the citizens of this state, we keep saying we're not raising revenue, but we're seeing them to death.

We talked about not spending the rainy day fund, we need to hold and preserve some money from the rainy day fund. It's flooding; I don't know why everyone's not clear about that. It's flooding and we need to be using those monies so that we can save the integrity of our state. And I just rise and say to you—I know that many people say well, why did you raise a point of order, and I just saw myself limited in terms of what options are available to stop the pain.

You know, I heard a lot of folks talk about less government is better, less government is what we should be aspiring for. Well, I took a new tune: less government means less pain to our citizens. And so I submit to you that Texas and Texans deserve better.

HB 1 provides nothing but pain, and we ought to be ashamed that we could not figure out better ways to get there. You know, in 2006, the comptroller told us that we could expect this fiasco, this fiscal fiasco. We knew we were dealing with a structural deficit in our budget. We knew that. Everybody that was here during that time, they're not surprised that there's a structural deficit. That's never been a question that there's been a structural deficit. We voted on it. I voted no, but many of you passed it on, and so it faces us today.

We talk about the taxes and exemptions that are out there. We say that we don't want to raise taxes, but in fact, we've given those exemptions. We are reluctant to just review whether or not there's a value to the State of Texas. But we pass pain over to the citizens. And I would just submit to you that as you vote for HB 1—and I'll suspect that it'll pass without my vote obviously—I think that we really ought to stop and take a real look at what we're doing to people, what we're doing to Texas, what we're doing to Texans. And we've got to ask ourselves if this is the best we can do. And if you think this is the best we can do, you're going to vote for this bill, I suspect. But if you think that we can do better by Texas, that Texas deserves more from us, and that less government can mean less pain, then you'll join me in voting no on this bill. This is not, this is not a budget that we can be proud of. We ought not put our children, our seniors, our services—we ought not make them secondary. We ought to be proud of what we think Texas is about. But how can we be proud and undermine them by not funding it to the level it needs to be funded so that, in fact, we provide the services our citizens need? How can we go away knowing that we cut $15 billion and we left corporations making billions of dollars from not paying taxes while citizens are struggling to pay their taxes? How can we be comfortable with that inequity? How can we say that we are doing the best we can when we're leaving money in the account that's called the rainy day fund and not filling those gaps in our budget for children and for seniors, for education, for scholarships? How can we be comfortable with that? So I would just tell you that while I did my best by raising a point of order and stopping it, thinking less government would mean less pain, I accept that we have to vote on this budget and I'll accept that it'll probably pass. I will tell you, members, that many of you, when you get home, will be asked the question couldn't we do better. And I hope you'll take some time to think about it so that next year and next time when we come back, if it's in July or August, we make a commitment to govern Texas like we really are proud of it and to govern Texas like we want it to be this great state that we often talk about, and to support those citizens that we call our constituents in a way that we'd have them support us.

REPRESENTATIVE CROWNOVER: I would like to agree with everything that Representative Otto said. I was on Appropriations in 2003 and that was my first bite at that interesting apple of appropriations, and it was a scary time for all of us. As we walked through that, the process, there were articles in the paper about how Texas was just going to fall into a slump. Everyone was going to move away from Texas and there was going to be nothing left but old, dying people. You know the story; that didn't happen. We held firm, we did the right thing, we steadied the course, and we were able to reap the benefits.

Here we are, 2011, in an unprecedented—by anyone's terms—unprecedented economic times, and we are trying to adjust and are trying to do the smart, wise, prudent thing in these unprecedented times. I'm looking here at the handout. All funds will be cut by 8.1 percent. Our general revenue will be cut by two percent, and I want you to sit and think. How many of you have been in businesses that had a bad year? Have you ever had a year where you were ending up with less than 50 percent of the revenue you thought was coming in? I bet there are a lot of people here who have done that, and what you do is you buckle up and make it work with every ounce of your body. I know my church has had challenges, and there are programs that we have not been able to do that we wished we could have done. We look forward to restoring those as soon as possible. So, I think I have to applaud Chairman Pitts and the hard work the whole Appropriations Committee has done. I think this is the right thing for Texas, and I will be voting aye.

REPRESENTATIVE GIDDINGS: And before I begin, certainly like everyone else here, I applaud my good friend Jim Pitts. We're not just friends in session, we are friends out of session as well, and I know his heart. I know how conflicted he is. And I'd like to applaud, as well, the work of all of the members of the Appropriations Committee, and likely at the end of this bill, after I vote, I will be delighted to stand up and give him a nice round of applause, along with the members of the Appropriations Committee, all who have worked extremely hard.

Like most of you, I have absolutely no appetite for a special session. At the same time, I have even less of an appetite to have our state lower standards in education. Education is a must—it has always been a priority for us here in the State of Texas. Right in our constitution in Article VII, Section 1, we are directed to make suitable decisions for the support and the maintenance of our public schools. And I don't think we're doing this in this bill. I don't believe we are making suitable provisions. For public schools, we are cutting the per pupil rate by about $400. As a result, Texas, which already ranks 43rd in per-pupil spending, will likely fall even lower. The shortchanging of our school children is, in my opinion, irresponsible and reckless.

In higher education, a near 30 percent reduction in the amount of students receiving TEXAS Grants is nothing less than appalling. Thankfully, we will renew grants for the students who currently receive them, but we are drastically reducing the number of new recipients. To know that we are facing and placing a financial burden on some 40,000 working class families across the state who want their children to achieve and surpass them in life, and to support this budget is not only irresponsible, as far as I'm concerned, but unconscionable. These cuts will prevent students from being prepared and productive citizens and leading the kind of lives their parents dreamed for them.

I think it's sometimes believed in this house that most of these TEXAS Grants must go to students who live in democratic districts. Well that's not exactly the case. I speak and I work to make these grants available to students throughout the State of Texas. In District 109, which I represent, in 2009, there were 244 students who received TEXAS Grants. If I go down the list and look at some of the other districts we think of as republican, because they are headed up by republican members of the house, we would see that District 5—528 students in that district. And again, District 109 is 244. We would see District 57, Representative Beck, with 786 students in that district. My district, 244; District 113, Representative Driver, 629. My district, 244; Jim Jackson, District 115, 569. My district, 244; Jim Landtroop, District 85, 630. And I could go on and on and on, but the point to be made is these are all our children. And it shouldn't matter whether they live in districts that are so-called democratic or republican. They are all our children. And it's in our best interest that all of these children, and these students, have an opportunity to get a good education. And what makes this difficult is that we won't see the harm we have done right away as we slam the door on these students. Things will appear to be fine on paper, but if we do not reject these invasive cuts to our education system, once the problem becomes clear to us, we will have lost a whole generation of Texans. Most of us know this bill is fraught with "funny money." Why are we depending on waivers in Health and Human Services that we have been denied? The economic stabilization fund was put in place for a time such as this: when working families have wage earners who have lost their jobs when unemployment is high. You may say unemployment is only around eight percent in our state. Well, guess what—to a person who is unemployed through no fault of their own—and who wants to work—unemployment for that person is 100 percent.

We talk a lot on the house floor, and I would never reveal what house members say to one another on this house floor, but I will say that the score cards are causing some of us to make really bad decisions. But our legacy—and that dash between the years we came and the year you left—won't reflect the score card. Our legacy will center around the folks who want to go to college and we slammed the door in their faces. The children whose exposure has been limited, and they need pre-k to catch up, and we said "no." That will be our legacy, and the score card can't erase that.

The words of Dr. King have been used on this floor many times before, and to paraphrase what he said, it is not what we do in moments of convenience, but what we do in moments of challenge and controversy. He finally says, in that famous quote, "Conscience always asks the question—is it right?" Is it the truth? And I trust the conscience of each and every one of the members of this house. It is those people outside this chamber with the score cards that I don't trust. My request is that each and every one of us simply vote our conscience, and I know we'll get it right if we simply vote our conscience. The people who send us here deserve that, and that is all that they ask for.

REPRESENTATIVE FARRAR: Mr. Speaker, members, we keep hearing that public education, and other areas in the budget, are getting more money, and I guess you could say that. You could say that if you are comparing it to the original version of HB 1. It might also be true if you are including federal stimulus dollars as GR, which we are also doing. It might also be true if you think that a responsible budget does not look forward to enrollment growth in public education, as we are not. To growth in colleges and universities, community colleges, Medicaid case loads, and Department of Family and Protective Services caseloads—if you're not accounting for those things, you may think, yeah, we're saving money, but we're not, because we're not looking forward. You wouldn't say, for instance, that your own personal budget is balanced if you deferred your car payments from this month to next month. Because, what happens next month? You owe this month and next month's next month and that's sort of what we're doing with this budget.

Let me share with you some of the accounting tricks that we're dealing with in HB 1. We've—some have been mentioned before, and I'm sorry if I'm repeating some—but we've got $4.8 billion in unfunded general revenue for Medicaid. We're only funding Medicaid for 20 months. We are deferring $2.3 billion of public education dollars into the next budget. We are also speculating $800 million worth of property taxes will return to us at greater than projected levels. We're using GR dedicated dollars for general revenue, but let me tell you what we're going to face in two years. We've heard this before, deja vu all over again, well, we'll face that, but it's going to be on steroids, because what we're doing is just making the minimum payment today. What we'll face between now and the next two years is a shift. It's going to be a shift to the local taxpayer. And so, what we're doing to our constituents is, instead of spreading the burden over the entire state, our local taxpayers will be paying for things all by themselves. You know, I just wish we'd all be straight with the people of Texas. Nobody likes taxes, and we all—I guess the majority of folks here campaign on no new taxes, and so on. But here's the thing—things our constituents want do cost money. I saw a bumper sticker one time, maybe you've seen it before, that if you think public education is expensive, try not spending on it. Our constituents expect us to be good stewards of public dollars, and just because we don't make an expenditure, just because we cut something doesn't mean that the cost goes away.

It's our duty to spend money wisely. To spend it up front, where it's cheaper, than to spend it on the back end where it's more expensive, and unfortunately, that's what we continue to do. We need to have the courage to have sound fiscal policy, which we are not doing here in HB 1. I would encourage you to vote no on HB 1.

REPRESENTATIVE CASTRO: Mr. Speaker and members, the budget that we're about to vote on is the worst Texas budget in more than a generation. I asked a question a while ago of Chairman Pitts about how we arrived at this budget. Again and again I've heard over the course of this session this idea that we're living within our means. And I would submit to you that this budget is not about living within our means, but more a budget that's trapped by a certain ideology. We have, during this session, the legislative tools to make another choice. That doesn't necessarily mean that you have to raise taxes, which is why I asked the question about fees, I asked a question about the clothing tax exemption.

I find it odd that part of the justification for the budget—for cutting $4 billion from public education—is that is what the people of Texas asked us to do. If you sincerely believe that, if you believe that the people who elected you in November sent you down here to cut $4 billion from their public schools and a billion dollars from higher education, then I hope that, as the fall, and the spring, and the summer, and the next fall come along, that when somebody in your district comes up to you—a middle-aged woman who tells you that her mom can't afford to go to a nursing home, and asks you why that is, that you will look her dead-straight in the eye and your answer will be, "Because that's what you sent me here to do. That's why I passed that budget." Or, when a 40-year-old mother tells you that she and her husband are having trouble sending their kid to college because they can't afford it, because tuition has gone up about 75 percent or more at public universities since 2003—and this budget further cuts financial aid and cuts funded universities—and she asks you why that is, I hope that you'll have the same bravado that you will when you vote in a few minutes, and you'll say, "Because that's what you elected me to do. You elected me to cut your son's financial aid, and that's why I did it." I don't believe that's why they sent us down here, and I don't believe that that was the message they were sending us. That is an ideology. That is not practically what people want in the State of Texas, and we have the tools to do something different and refuse to do it.

Others have mentioned that we are, if not the fastest growing state, one of the fastest growing states in the nation; in fact, the governor often brags about that. And if he enters the race for president, I'm sure he'll brag about it even more—that we've recruited in the last 10 years, 700,000 jobs to Texas. But, there's some context to that fact, and I doubt that those facts—those lesser-known facts—will be discussed by Rick Perry. And that is, of all those jobs we've created, including the well-paying ones, that a significant portion of those jobs have gone to people who have moved here from out of state, who have moved here from California, or Colorado, or other places on the East Coast. And the reason for that, I believe, in big part, is because we aren't building what I've called that infrastructure of opportunity. We're not funding our public schools and our universities properly. In other words, we aren't preparing and training our own people in Texas to assume these new jobs that are being created. So the jobs come to us and they're filled by other folks, and with a budget like this, that will continue to happen.

I'm also disappointed that there weren't other ways that we considered raising revenue. I know that many of you from both parties support gaming. Gaming is not a mandatory course of raising revenue, it's still a voluntary thing. That never had a serious discussion in this legislative session. All around, this budget is both a betrayal of the public's trust, and a failure at its highest level. And for that reason, when it passes today, it will be the worst budget in a generation.

REPRESENTATIVE COLEMAN: You know, this is tough for everyone, and no one wants to go home knowing that the budget isn't good enough for their constituents. I just want to talk about a couple of things. One is that if you take this budget and you look at current services the state should be spending, to maintain services, $99 billion in general revenue. Instead we're spending $80.7 billion in general revenue, which means this budget is $18.3 billion short in 2012 and 2013. And I want to make that clear, because when we talk about whether or not we are funding something appropriately we have to look at the people who need the funding to do the things that they have to do. What's common in this budget is the league that the people actually need the services, now and in the future, are not included in this budget. The growth of the State of Texas is not included in this budget. So, when this budget goes forward it doesn't include any growth of any people who will be living in this state in the coming years. And that's the problem, because you can't stop people, you can't stop growth.

The other thing is that we are deferring $10 billion into the next biennium with a structural shortfall, what I like to call it, which is $10 billion. We are looking at starting the 2013 session with a $20 billion plus shortfall. That's exactly where we are today. All of you know when the LBB, the speaker, the lieutenant governor, and the governor all looked at this session, and they started in May looking at putting together the legislative appropriation request, it needed to be funded. They sent out letters, first thing lets do a five percent cut, and then a 10 percent cut, and that added up. That's a 15 percent cut. So, a year from now in May, the amount of cuts in this budget are going to grow, because a letter is going to go out that says, "Agencies, cut your budget by five percent across the board. Agencies, oh, that's not enough, cut your budget by 10 percent across the board," so that the amount of money that is short coming in to the beginning of the next biennium that shortfall—so that shortfall can be brought down. These cuts are just hidden. They're just pushed off until the start of the calculation of what's needed to fund the next budget. Now, when someone says we are actually doing better, no, we are actually doing worse, because most of the cuts that were asked for during the making of this budget, those across-the-board cuts, were cut from the baseline of this budget. So there are cuts, they are there. As a matter of fact, I think I saw a press release saying $15.5 billion in cuts, isn't that wonderful?

Now, just a few more things. It's really more than a billion dollars cut to higher ed, because the state needed 700 million more dollars to actually fund higher ed appropriately. And so, the cut of 332 added to that 700 million is a billion. And when that billion is not appropriated, that means tuition will go up. And we've calculated, we believe tuition will go up over a thousand dollars a year, and if you just held that constant over the next five years, that's a $5,000 increase in sending our kids to college. And most people would say this is about poor kids. No, this is about our kids, because the money that is actually saved that is added to give out in scholarships through increases in tuition, somebody making 60 or 80 thousand dollars a year, which you all know is not a lot of money, has to pay full freight, and they can get no aid from anywhere. Try sending three kids to college at a total cost of about $150,000, maybe more, over four years. That's $450,000 to a state school where you live. So, this just continues those trends.

I guess the last thing—when you look at people with mental illness, and I talk about this a lot, we have an opportunity to fill in all of the cuts to people with mental illness, but we are not going to take that opportunity to reduce the number of people who would not be cared for under this budget, and that disappoints me. That really, really disappoints me, because even Ronald Reagan said they are truly needy, and this budget doesn't even fit his standards. So, I end with—we can do better than this, we have done better than this, and in my 20 years here I've seen people rise to the occasion that would have been defeated at home because they actually did something different than what they were told. I've done that, too. I signed on a conference committee report that has HB 5 in it, and I'm adamantly against that, but I signed on it anyway, because I think the overall bill is good. So, when I look at those people with grace, I think of Lieutenant Governor Ratliffe who went to do the things that made a difference to all Texans in every district, and he didn't fear for his political life when he did it. So, I'm going to vote no on this budget, but what I really think we ought to do is think about this over the interim, because, members, when you come back, and when we come back we'll be facing a $20 billion plus shortfall, and the angst that you're going through today, I hope, will be the same angst we will all go through in the next session writing a budget for the next biennium following this one. I want to thank all the people who've done their good work. This is hard and this is not a reflection on them. It's a reflection on the times that we are in, and for all of us, I think we have to dig deep down inside and say, "What is important to us? What is important to the State of Texas, and can we do better?" I think we can.

REPRESENTATIVE ALONZO: Members, first of all, I would like to start off by saying Mr. Pitts is a nice guy. He really is a nice guy; I think he's a nice guy. But now, let's talk about the budget. You know, we hear that the reason the budget is the way it is, is because of November 2010. The reason the budget is the way it is, is because of election 2010. I remember, in 1993, I was told: you get elected, then you come here and make decisions. And I was told that 95 percent of what we do is not democrat or republican; it's the good for the State of Texas. And that 95 percent is the budget, so we have the election in November, then we come here.

And I kept hearing a lot, a lot, a lot, that the election said "cut, cut, cut." But then we had tons and tons of people come to this Capitol, have protests, have marches, make their comments, and have visits to our districts. And in that discussion, with people coming to the office, they said "no cuts, no cuts, no cuts, no cuts, no cuts." After they started hearing about what was going on, they came back and they would say "no cuts, no cuts, no cuts." People would come to my office—whether it was health care, whether it was education, with higher ed, they said "no cuts." I said, "See this sign? It says no cuts, but it's not me you have to convince, it's the rest of the folks in this Capitol," the rest of the folks in this capitol. And they did; I think they did. They came to each one of us and they said "no cuts, no cuts, no cuts." I don't think we heard from anybody that said "cuts." In fact, the ones that were asking for cuts didn't even come, because they thought they had made that decision in November. But the people that did care about no cuts, no cuts, no cuts came to visit us. And you know, members, it's hard. It's hard to come, because it's a long way from El Paso. It's a long way from Dumas. It's a long way from Longview. It's a long way from Brownsville. It's a long way from El Paso. It's a long way from a lot of places.

But, my main topic is about the cuts. What does that mean? It means the family planning services are being cut by $73 million—66 percent. It means chronic disease prevention programs are cut by 47 percent. It means HIV/STD prevention programs are cut by $28.5 million. It means that we'll have $5 billion in cuts for TEA. It means that 85,000 youth students will not be helped. They'll be cut. It means that $4 billion for the Foundation School Program will be cut. It means that in higher ed over $1 billion will be cut. So there's tons, and tons, and tons of cuts. But then the question becomes, do we have the resources? Do we have the resources? And the answer is yes, we have the resources. How and where do we get those resources? One, we have the rainy day fund. Now, in the discussion we would say we are not going to use the rainy day fund, but in the discussion is an example—when the wildfire happened, the governor said "that's a disaster, let's use the rainy day fund." Right? Right. But don't you think not funding 85,000 youth students is a disaster? Don't you think cutting $4 billion for schools is a disaster? Don't you think cutting $1 billion in higher ed is a disaster? Yes, it is, yes, it is, yes, it is.

I will terminate this conversation by saying don't forget, don't forget, don't forget. And we will say the decision was made in November, and to all of those that I know I told: you decide, we are just here because of you. Right now, we that are here believe that you out there wanted us to do the cuts. I think that you believe in no cuts, but that's out for you to decide, and the way that we are deciding is by elections. I will end by saying, one of our newspapers once said, "Texas needs leaders who value fiscal austerity, low taxes, and limited government, but we also need those who recognize the fundamental: such public schools and public college aid can't be sacrificed without damaging every aspect of our state and future."

REPRESENTATIVE VILLARREAL: I want to also first recognize the efforts of our chairman of Appropriations, Mr. Pitts; the speaker, members of the conference committee, and all their staff. I know this in an effort that takes a lot of people, it involves a lot of time, and they've put in a lot of work.

I want to make three points very clearly. This budget is a betrayal of Texas families, especially women—especially women and children. Number two, because of this budget, Texas will lose jobs today, and worst of all, it is going to put us in a weaker position to compete for jobs in the future because of the less-educated and less-skilled workforce. Finally, this legislature had other options. We had other choices that we could have made, but the legislature failed to have the courage to do what's right for all of Texas.

The budget cuts will have a disproportionate impact on women. There will be millions of women harmed by this budget. Here is one woman's story as she wrote in a letter to me: "My name is Danielle Hernandez. I reside in San Antonio, Texas. I'm a single mom, an employee, and a full-time college student. I attend Our Lady of the Lake where I am pursuing my teaching degree in special education. I'm going to school in order to provide a better life for my son. I'm aware that Tuition Equalization Grant funding and TEACH Grant funding may be decreased or eliminated. If there is no funding available, then I cannot continue my college education. Please help me be the first person in my family to obtain a college degree." She goes on to write, "My health has not been too good lately either, but I push myself to finish college in order to provide for my son with a more stable life. God bless." Danielle, I'm sorry to tell you that we did cut TEG and other state-funded college grants and scholarships. You may be one of the 43,000 Texans who will not receive help from the state to become a teacher. Even worse, this budget cuts education and thousands of jobs for teachers, which will make it harder for you to find employment once you do complete your college degree. Even worse still, the education your son is receiving, the quality of it, will be harmed—with fewer teachers, students, classrooms will obviously be more crowded. Please take care of your health as best as you can, because this legislature has also gutted women's health care and family planning services by 66 percent. When the house debated the budget in April, republican legislators spent hours attacking women's health and family planning services, and the women of Texas now have to live with those cuts. Basic, preventative health care that might have been there for you, will not be there for you, Danielle. Please, take care.

The legislature could have done more to protect innocent children from being hurt by this budget. Let me tell you a little story about a young lady named Kiera. She is three years old. She lives in Burleson, Texas. Her grandfather called me. He loves her so much, he wanted to tell me about her pre-K program that allowed her to mainstream with other three and four-year-olds. You see, little Kiera is suffering from Down Syndrome, she's living with Down Syndrome, but this public pre-K program has meant a lot to her. It's allowed her to advance in her social skills and her learning. As it stood then, the district would be eliminating full day pre-K for Kiera and her classmates as a direct result of this legislature planning to eliminate public pre-K grants, and, of course, cutting public education overall. Roger, if you're listening, I had hoped little Kiera and thousands of others would be spared. Unfortunately, this legislature failed to act. They will lose their access to full day pre-K. I wish we had used some of the rainy day fund for the next two years or cut back on some of the corporate tax giveaways to help your granddaughter. This legislature felt differently. Please try to find a way to provide Kiera the professional services she will need. As you know, if she does not receive them at an early age, because of her condition, she will live a much harder life.

The Brigidine Sisters of San Antonio wrote to me begging me to stop health care cuts for the elderly and to understand that they are not statistics. They are real people. They told me a special story about one of their own, Sister Winifred, a woman who dedicated her whole life to caring for others. The sisters are very concerned for their Sister Winifred because their community is aging themselves, and if Sister Winifred loses her spot at the nursing home, they won't be able to take care of her properly and take her in. Sisters, if you're listening, we did make progress. However, I'm sorry to inform you that this budget leaves in place the cut to nursing homes that was implemented last year, and cuts in our overall health care budget are to the tune of 30 percent. Please prepare for the worst, sisters, because in 2013, our health care budget that makes payments to nursing homes and other health care providers runs out four months early.

You see, this budget is hard on women in a lot of ways. If the state is not going to be there for vulnerable children and elderly, it will most likely be women who pick up the pieces, who will have to change their lives dramatically to step in. Carol Poore has an 83-year-old mother who lives in an Alzheimer's unit in Gunter, Texas. Carol said she would have to resign from her secretarial job to care for her mother if she were to be discharged. Neither of the women is able to pay for a nursing home or a home health care nurse.

Here's another story: Janet Amicarillo in San Antonio. She has a 23-year-old son with severe autism. He cannot communicate, sometimes he's aggressive. He requires 24-hour care. If he loses his group home slot, she too will have to leave her job, because she cannot afford to care for him and pay somebody else the professional services that he requires. She fears she'll be reliant on public assistance.

Let's now talk about jobs. Make no mistake, this budget will impact all of us, because it impacts our economy. The LBB, the keeper of the numbers that we rely on to estimate our price tags on every single budget, and to tell us how the numbers add up, they did their own, independent analysis and found that HB 1, earlier in the year, will cause the state to lose 335,000 jobs. An increase in unemployment of two percent. Now, I know there's a lot of debate on this report, but here is one thing that we cannot debate, and that is, those in control of state government should have seen this coming since 2007. In 2007, our budget shortfall was eight percent. You might ask, how do you pass a budget with an eight percent hole? Well, we used money from a prior budget cycle. A fund balance. The following budget cycle, when we got together in 2009, that hole nearly doubled in size to 14 percent. We were fortunate to have stimulus dollars to help us bridge this budget hole—or to fill this budget hole. Of course, in 2011, the hole, again, nearly doubled to 27 percent. How are we solving this now? Through a cuts-only and accounting tricks approach to the budget.

My friends, we can do better. We have to do better than this. Texas cannot grow itself out of this problem. It cannot, because our population is growing less educated. Our population is growing less educated because we are failing to educate them. It didn't have to be this way. The governor and the legislature made a choice to do this. They could have chosen to use some of the rainy day fund to pay for the next two years; they chose not to. They could have chosen to close tax loopholes and make all corporations pay their fair share; they chose not to. They could have chosen to fix our broken business tax; they chose not to. Instead, this legislature chose to balance the budget on the backs of vulnerable Texans and women.

REPRESENTATIVE HOCHBERG: Thank you, members, for your patience, particularly since I think we all know the outcome. So, thank you for patiently listening as those of us on my side sort of get our last shot at this. And I don't have any charts, so—and I think Mr. Turner is coming up shortly after me, so you may end up forgetting what I have to say anyway.

But, first of all, it's been fascinating to watch the last couple of weeks. You know, when we stood up here and passed HB 1 the first time, I said "this is your school finance vote, members. Don't get on my back when I lay out a plan based on these numbers, because this is your vote." And it's been fascinating watching the last few weeks as we've had these battling plans with my plan, or plans, or dozens of plans, or Mr. Eissler's first runs, or Mr. Eissler's second runs, and the senate's runs, the leadership's runs—and everybody running around with these runs saying, "Hey, Hochberg, this is unacceptable to my school district. Look, this other school district is losing less. This is unacceptable because the other school district's losing less." Well, if it's unacceptable for your school district, it should be unacceptable for the other school district and for every school district in here, and the only way you fix that, other than me taking from yours and you taking from me, is to put more in. And so, when you look at those school finance runs tonight, or tomorrow, or whenever, and you see that Mr. Smith's district may be losing more than Mr. Quintanilla's district, it's not just unacceptable to Mr. Smith's district, that we should take it from Mr. Quintanilla and give it to Mr. Smith. The reason is, if it's unacceptable, it's unacceptable because there's not enough money in the deal. And that could have been fixed pretty simply, logistically, because we're now to the point where the deficit in school funding is far less than the amount of money that is in the rainy day fund and that we anticipate to be in the rainy day fund. I'm convinced that those numbers are unacceptable to many of us, republican and democrat, and that's one reason for me not to vote for that aggregate number and not to vote for this budget.

But I think the bigger reason for me not to vote for it is that I fear that my friend Mr. Otto is correct. John has said many times we shouldn't use much more of the rainy day fund, or any more of the rainy day fund because we're going to come back and have a worse problem. I think he's right. I'm convinced he's right, because we can't even get back to this funding level without more revenue. We're at this funding level because we have used every trick in the book. If anyone has another one out there that we didn't use, bring it forward now. I think there are some people who would like to add it in on some conference report somewhere. I'm sure we could find a place for it. But we've practically used every trick in the book, and you can't use those tricks twice. So next time, let's just stay where we are. We're going to have to find new revenue to replace those tricks. Look at schools. Jimmie Don, you and I know that one of the first things we said was we could hold that August payment off to September. We've done that before, schools are pretty much okay with it, they get it, it is worth $2 billion. We can't do it the next time, because it's already been deferred. So to just get back where we are, we've got to find $2 billion more just to pay for that trick. Oh, and by the way, somehow in the budget, Mr. Pitts, ya'll managed to call it $2.3 billion, so the Foundation School Program is really short another $300 million, because the 2.3 isn't the right number to use for that deferral. But, whether it's 2 or 2.3, it isn't going to be there next time.

Since we all seem to agree on that, republicans and democrats, what I'm disappointed about and what I can't figure out is why we've done nothing about that. Not a thing. We see the train coming, we're standing on the tracks. We're not telling anybody to slow down, we're not getting off the tracks. We're just, well, here it's coming, better save the rainy day fund, and we'll come back here next time with exactly the same problem only the money will be bigger and the tricks will be gone. And then—then what do we do? The fact that we haven't done anything convinces me that this is not a one-time budget cut—that it is the desire of this legislature to keep cutting and to keep going down further. If you want to see unacceptable school runs, they're going to start looking like the ones we looked at at the beginning of this when we were down 9.8.

This is a rich and wonderful state. It's a state that I love, it's the state of my birth. My parents took me away from this state for a number of years when I was a kid, but for the last 40 years I've been back here, and I came back and stayed back because this was a place where we could do anything. Texas was the biggest, then we learned about Sarah Palin and she had another state, but they're too far away. They're up there near Russia; we're still the biggest, as far as I'm concerned. We're the biggest, and we're the best, and we were the greatest, and we set our goals high. We reached for the stars, literally and figuratively. We built, with tax dollars, great institutions of higher education. We built, in the district I used to represent, the greatest cancer center perhaps in the world. I like to think it's number one. I have a hat in my office signed by two Nobel prize winners at a university that is, admittedly, a private university, but it still receives huge amounts of federal and state money for research and works with the Texas Medical Center that has huge amounts of state and federal money for research because we set those goals high. We said, it's not good enough to be like every other state, we need to be better. If we give up that quest, we might as well take our name off the license plates, because we'll be just like everybody else. That's not why I came back here. It's not what I wanted to build here. We can do better, we must do better, and we must do better soon.

REPRESENTATIVE MARTINEZ: Members, we're in a state of emergency. A state of emergency that we had to pass a voter ID bill without proving voter impersonation. A state of emergency that we had to pass a sonogram bill that is an intrusion of government. A state of emergency that we had to pass a sanctuary city bill that not one person could define or even tell us where one was located. But what about the true emergency? What about our children? What about education, our seniors? What about our health care and the jobs that will be lost?

This bill betrays the trust of the people of Texas. Knowing that we have billions and billions of dollars left in our state savings account, but failing to utilize it for the betterment of Texas—and all of us knowing that we're ranked 44th in education, and having one of the most uninsured populations. Not living within our means gives away our future, members.

Some things haven't changed since 2003. The legislature starts with the easiest targets first. By not showing we can afford to care for our children, they are yet again the biggest losers in this budget. But, members, what we can't afford is a budget that does not provide our children with a future.

REPRESENTATIVE LYNE: Members, I hadn't planned on speaking when I got up this morning to do this. I wasn't sure how I was going to vote on the budget when I got up this morning. I'm going to speak for this budget because it is what the people of my district sent me here to do. Everywhere I went people said, cut the budget, cut the budget, cut the budget. And I preach from this book that all of us have seen, the fact book of Texas, but I'm not sure they know that Texas wasn't Washington, D.C. We don't spend money like Washington, D.C. That we are—I mean you look at the ranks, we don't spend a whole lot on a lot of things. Half of our budget is federal funds. And we want them to cut federal funds. We have to be—as I tell people at home, we are responsible for us. We have to take the time to get involved.

Wichita Falls is a great place to live and that whole country out there is a great place to live because people are engaged. We have people who give generously. We talk about spending down here. We're not spending enough; we're spending too much. We're taxed too much; we're not taxed enough. I can tell you this: there is never enough. Never. There will be need if we spent every dollar in this state. I told my community when I was mayor, we can hire a police officer for every person in this city, and there will still be crime. We have to be responsible. We have to be engaged.

Every generation has cultural shifts. We're in one of those now. We have a lot of single parents, a lot of single mothers especially, young. They need help. It's easy for me to say, there's help out there, they need to go get it. My wife and I argue about this sometimes. We need to educate. We have problems that currently exist that we have to take care of, but we have to say also we have to start somewhere.

I don't know much about how everything works down here. I've been in politics most of my life, around it. I've seen it. I've been in D.C., I've been here, I've been in communities. In all politics, all government has some really weird stuff that goes on in it. And we heard a lot of those stories today. We have an education system that I flat out—that I've looked at the funding deal; I've been through it at least a dozen times. I couldn't tell anybody at home how we figured out how much money they get. And I guarantee you they can't look and find out how much money they get. Now I figured out the numbers a little while ago based on the numbers coming out, how much we're going to spend, how many students—4.9 million students, three billion something, 30 billion something. That's $7,500 a student. Yet we give from $3,000 to $13,000 per student depending on where they live. And so we can't just divide it up and give money out. It's not how it works. There's special needs here and special needs there, and rural is different than urban. Urban poor is different than this. We can argue all about that, but I guarantee you that when you get down to it, that equal funding works a heck of a lot better all the way across.

Who do we tax? There's not enough taxes. There's not enough people paying taxes. I was told by one of my university professors, "You're not taxing business enough. We're letting business get off scott free in the State of Texas." Then I got down here and I listened to Sitara and other people. Shoot, businesses are paying more than their fair share, but half of the businesses aren't paying. We think we're overtaxed because we write that property tax check every year. We see it. It's big. If we wrote a check for everything we pay to the federal government, we would go nuts. But we don't see that, it's taken out.

I've heard all my life, don't cut mine. Every program, and we've got hundreds of them—the federal government's got thousands. They're all incredibly important to somebody. So don't cut mine. Don't tax mine. Don't tax me, tax the man behind the tree. And this year I got to hear don't cut you, don't cut me, cut the guy behind the tree. I told the speaker and several other colleagues that I can cut a budget. That is not a problem. I've done it. I've had a lot businesses. I've had some great successes and I've had some failures. I hate letting people go. But when you put faces on those cuts, it makes a difference. And I've been fortunate in my life to work with a lot of nonprofit, a lot of poor, a lot of struggling, a lot of poor educated, and there will always be those folks. But we have to be responsible for us.

I suggest in the interim that a lot of you pick up this book and look at it. Talk to your neighbors. Because I came down here, as I said at the beginning, I did what the people sent me here to do from my district. But I guarantee you there are a lot of angry, unhappy people in my district because they didn't want us to cut theirs. But they didn't want their taxes raised either. It puts us in a weird dilemma, and we are elected to make those decisions. I'm as conservative as I can be, but I've got a big heart. We don't pass mental illness on down. It just goes to the county or the city, mainly to the jails, more than we cut the budget. And you're going to ask me it doesn't sound like you're speaking for this budget very well. This is the budget we have. This is what we knew coming in. This was what it was going to look like. It's looks a whole lot better than when we came in. But this is what we knew. This is what the people who voted for the majority of the people here want to see, but I promise you they don't know what gets spent in our Texas Legislature and how it is spent. That's our responsibility to teach what that is. It's easy to say cut government spending, cut the waste, cut the fat, cut the—show me where it is. Show me where it is.

I work in the energy business and I was talking to some people a little bit earlier. I can tell you as an operator, the Railroad Commission doesn't have enough people in the field to do their job. That's just a fact. But we don't want to increase the budget. There is never enough money. I have never met anybody yet who's said, hey, I'm overpaid and under-worked. Here's some money back. Anybody overpaid in here? Let me look up there and make sure. No, that just doesn't happen. We would all like more. Our communities are the future. That's where the rubber is going to meet the road. We have to engage our communities regardless if it's 100 people or four or five million people. That's where the activity is going to take place because we're not going to have enough money. That's just the way it is. We're never going to have enough money.

Texas has been blessed to be given a huge natural resource, energy resources. And it has paid for universities, for schools, for students all along. One hundred years. We haven't had to pay because those resources were there and were taxed to fund those things. We've gotten off cheap, folks, because we had an industry, a mineral industry, that created a huge amount of revenue. Our whole rainy day fund is based on that. What other business do we tax that flows into the rainy day fund? None. We have to get behind this budget because this is what it is today. But we have to look in the interim at who we tax, how we tax. And the one discussion I noticed we never have, collectively, how much do we need to spend on education? What does it cost to educate a student? What does it cost to take care of health care? What does it cost to take care of criminal justice? Do we want a lot of nonviolent offenders stuck in jail or do they need rehab? We talk individually about these things in our committees, but as a whole, do we share what that is? We have to have the conversation. We have to make that decision. I've seen schools that cost $20-, $30 thousand a year, high schools. Kids got educated really well. They're smart. I've seen schools that don't pay hardly anything and they get educated well sometimes. I don't know how much is enough, but I am tired of hearing it's not enough. But you won't tell me what enough is.

REPRESENTATIVE TURNER: Thank you Mr. Speaker, and members, and I will tell you tonight I will be brief, only because I want to reserve my comments for tomorrow when we deal with 1811. Mr. Speaker, you appointed me to the conference committee. I've enjoyed working with all four members of the conference committee. You appointed me to the conference committee—the only democrat on the committee. And I've had an excellent time working with all four—with the other four. Let me just tell you, members, this is my third term in the Texas House. Just checking to see if you were listening. Give or take a few. My third term give or take a few. Mr. Speaker, I do want to report on the conference committee. As you know, I was very critical of the budget at the beginning. Went on the conference committee, and I believe I did my best to represent the house. I put on my lawyers cap in representing the house, my lawyers cap, with the house being my client, and at the same time with the goal of trying to make the product better than when it left the house the first time around. With regards to the budget itself in the conference committee report I want you to know when it comes to Article I, General Government, Article IV on the judiciary, Article V on public safety, Article VI on natural resources, Article VII dealing with business and economic development, Article IX on general provisions, and X with the legislature, I voted yes on all of those articles with reference to the conference committee report. With respect to Article II on Health and Human Services, and Article III on education and Article VIII when it deals with regulatory services I voted no with respect to this budget.

And I just want to echo a few things that have already been said. I don't believe this is the final budget, and I don't believe that the numbers we are seeing today are going to remain etched in stone. Last time, when the budget was passed from this house, over the interim, we had, like Representative Coleman indicated, we had some reduction. The leadership asked for a five percent reduction initially, then a 2.5 reduction because of budgetary shortfalls. I believe, I believe that because this budget, in large part, is based on deferrals, based on some speedups, and based on deficit spending that this is not the real budget. In Article II, Health and Human Services, yes we are keeping the nursing homes open. We all recognize that's a big deal. But with respect to what we are leaving behind on Medicaid funding, and Dr. Zerwas will tell you, come May 2013 this budget in Article II will run out of money. In May of 2013, providers in all the hospitals will not be paid. And what we have done members, and I want you to understand what we have done, because this is a conservative state, and this is a conservative house, and there are 101 republicans and 49 democrats. What we have done in Article II is that we have placed $4.8 billion on what I call the Medicaid Mastercard, $4.8 billion. Which means the State of Texas is obligated to pay it. You will pay it. You'll pay it in one form or another. The State of Texas will either pay it through the rainy day fund, or what will happen over the interim when we leave here is that the leadership will instruct the agencies to start cutting back on their budgets over the next two years. Recognizing that this budget, HB 1, in Article II alone, in Article II alone, is carrying forward $4.8 billion that you are placing on the Medicaid Mastercard. For all people who are conservatives, and for all people who talk about deficit spending, and for everyone in this session, this year, to criticize Washington, D.C., you are implementing what folks are talking about across this country with regards to deficit spending. $4.8 billion, and no one, not the conferees, not LBB, not the senate, no one will disagree with it. And I'm going to leave it alone. That's on Article II.

In Article III on education, on education there are over 4.5 million kids in our schools, 4.5 million, and the current law—we've established a Foundation School Program on formulas. We are intentionally, intentionally under funding the Foundation School Program by $4 billion. Factually, no one is questioning the math. No one, LBB, the conferees, the senate, no one will question the fact. And the reason I'm going to reserve most of my comments until tomorrow, because tonight, if you should vote for this budget, tomorrow night you will have to implement your own cuts, and you will sign your name when you vote up here. Sending a reduced check to every one of your school districts. Every one, because you are giving them a haircut of $4 billion, $4 billion. When you combine what's happening in Article II, combine what's happening in Article III, $4.8 billion on the credit card, $4 billion in Article III on education sending them out to your local school districts, and tomorrow in HB 1811, because of what you're going to do in HB 1 you must pass HB 1811. You must reduce what you are going to give to your local school districts in rural Texas, suburban, urban Texas, and you will have to sign your name to it, because that's what you are about to do in HB 1. And for my friends in rural Texas, when you vote on HB 1, and you vote tomorrow on HB 1811 you are taking another step forward in going to the consolidation of your schools, because eventually the money will not be there. We are moving in that direction. I simply raise that tonight this is a serious matter. And really, I don't have any tears for you tonight on this one. I am all teared out. And the reality is we all know what we are doing. We all know that. I've heard people talk about no to deferrals. There were $2 billion in deferrals in this bill. You're going to vote for it. No to deficit spending—$4.8 billion. And really the agency says that number is closer to $5 billion or more. Health and Human Services, a Medicaid waiver. Representative Kolkhorst, $700 million this budget on. LBB says you didn't get it from President Bush, you think you're going to get it from President Obama? Seven hundred million dollars, don't count on it. This budget is shaky at its best, it's shaky at its best. And for all of my conservative friends. No taxes, true. No rainy day fund, true. But deferrals, deficit spending, some speed ups, and funding that's questionable all exist.

I have never come to the session believing that you could not change peoples' votes on this floor. I'm one of those eternal optimists. The moment I conclude that people cannot change their votes, and that the outcome will just be the outcome is the moment I simply take my seat and say nothing. I simply don't believe that. And my faith doesn't tell me to believe that. Philippians 4 certainly doesn't say that. And I do believe truth will set us free at some point. I do believe that. And at some point I simply pray that this house, and individual members, will have the courage of their convictions, and to say publicly what they have said to me privately. It might not happen tonight. It might not happen tonight. But, eventually I am convinced that your votes will catch up to you. I am convinced. Tonight may not be the night, but tomorrow you will sign your name to the check you give to your district.
