TO THE GOVERNOR, MEMBERS OF THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE AND OF THE JUDICIARY, AND THE CITIZENS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Pursuant to the statutory requirements of Sections 71.031 and 71.035, Texas Government Code, I am pleased to submit the 72th Annual Report of the Texas Judicial System.

This report has historically been a valuable source of judicial information for courts, government agencies, legislators, and the general public. In addition to containing judicial statistics and useful information about the structure, jurisdiction, and administration of Texas courts, the Annual Report discusses the activities of the Texas Judicial Council, the Judicial Committee on Information Technology, and the Office of Court Administration.

The Texas Judicial Council, chaired by Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas R. Phillips with staff support lead by Ms. Denise Davis, has devoted considerable time and effort during the past year to develop proposals for improving the administration of Texas courts. Key studies or project initiatives of the Council during the past year include: judicial performance measures at the trial and appellate court level; appellate law clerk recruitment and student loan repayment programs; media pooling and jury service in Texas courts; judicial campaign finance improvements; and, judicial strategic planning. Reports and recommendations on these studies and initiatives will be the subject of legislative consideration during the 77th Legislature.

The Judicial Committee on Information and Technology (JCIT), created by the 75th Legislature and appointed by Chief Justice Phillips, is building the infrastructure needed to develop a statewide integrated judicial information management system. During the past year, Mr. Peter Vogel (Chair), Dr. Don Hardcastle (Vice-Chair), and other members of JCIT have worked to advance JCIT's mission to establish standards and guidelines for the systematic implementation and integration of information technology into the trial and appellate courts of Texas. The groundwork for a statewide telecommunications infrastructure for the judiciary began with the implementation of a wide area network for the appellate courts. Over 500 computers and servers were connected to a wide area network, thus making court opinions and cases more accessible. The JCIT is implementing projects to increase public access to court docket information and implementing case management software systems for use by Texas' appellate courts. Finally, OCA and JCIT revised the agency's strategic plan for information resources and undertook a significant review of all projects and their plans; based on the revised plan and this review, projects were reprioritized and refocused.

Staff at the Office of Court Administration are to be commended for providing better services to judges, state officials, and the general public. OCA extends special thanks to Mr. David Mudd, Judicial Information Manager, who worked with judges, clerks, the Texas Judicial Council, and the Judicial Committee on Information Technology this year to improve the methods for reporting and compiling judicial statistics.

ACTIVITIES, ACCOMPLISHMENTS, RECOMMENDATIONS

TEXAS JUDICIAL COUNCIL
OFFICE OF COURT ADMINISTRATION
JUDICIAL COMMITTEE ON INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Introduction to the Reports

The three agencies most responsible for supporting and representing the Texas Judicial System are the Texas Judicial Council, the Office of Court Administration, and the Judicial Committee on Information Technology.

The 22-member Texas Judicial Council is composed of appointees of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor of Texas, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Speaker of the House. As appointees of the judicial, executive, and legislative branches of government, the Council is the most representative body responsible for studying and recommending changes to the current and future state of the judiciary and the delivery of justice in the state. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, respectively, serve as Chair and Vice-Chair of the Council.

The annual report of the Texas Judicial Council is included below. The statutory provisions for the Council, Chapter 71 of the Texas Government Code, are included in the section titled Enabling Legislation for the Three Judicial Support Agencies.

The staff of the Office of Court Administration, authorized at a budget level of 43.5 full-time equivalents, provides research support, as well as technical, legal, and administrative assistance, to the Texas Judicial Council, the Judicial Committee on Information Technology, other judicial boards and commissions, and all courts of the state. Acting under the direction and supervision of the Supreme Court and the Chief Justice, and managed by an Administrative Director, the Office of Court Administration conducts research and studies as well as provides management and technical assistance to provide uniform administration of the courts and efficient administration of justice throughout the state judicial system.

The annual report of the Office of Court Administration is included below. The statutory provisions for the Office, Chapter 72 of the Texas Government Code, are included in the section titled Enabling Legislation for the Three Judicial Support Agencies.

The 15-member Judicial Committee on Information Technology is charged with developing and overseeing the design and implementation of a coordinated statewide computer communication network and comprehensive justice information system. Established in 1997 by the 75th Texas Legislature, the committee is appointed by and operates under the direction and supervision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

A report of the year 2000 activities of the Judicial Committee on Information Technology is included below. The statutory provisions for the Committee, Chapter 77 of the Texas Government Code, are included in the section titled Enabling Legislation for the Three Judicial Support Agencies.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

TEXAS JUDICIAL COUNCIL

1999-2000 REPORT OF ACTIVITIES AND RECOMMENDATIONS

I. INTRODUCTION

The Texas Judicial Council (Council) was created in 1929 by the 41st Legislature to study and make recommendations for improving the administration of the Texas judicial system. Since its inception, the Council has collected comprehensive statewide statistics on the operation of Texas courts. The Office of Court Administration (OCA) helps the Council fulfill its duties by collecting and annually publishing information on the docket activities of each appellate, district, county, justice, and municipal court in the state.

In 1997, the 75th Legislature passed House Bill 2297 which restructured the membership of the Council and placed it under the direct supervision of the Chief Justice. These changes, along with legislative appropriations for the hiring of two full-time staff persons, have substantially improved the Council's ability to address the most pressing issues facing Texas' judicial system.

This report discusses the activities, findings, and recommendations of the Texas Judicial Council since December 1, 1999. The following supplemental reports and recommendations are pending final approval by the Texas Judicial Council at its December 2000 meeting:

- Texas District Court Performance Measures;
- Texas Courts of Appeals Performance Measures;
- Examining Juror Pay and Other Ways to Encourage Jury Service in Texas; and
- Guidelines for Media Coverage of Judicial Proceedings in Texas Trial and Appellate Courts.

In addition the Texas Judicial Council's 72nd Annual Report on the Texas Judicial System, which is published by the Office of Court Administration, will be available in January 2001.

II. DUTIES, MEMBERSHIP, MEETINGS, AND COMMITTEES

- A. Duties. Chapter 71, Government Code, charges the Council with the following duties:
  - (1) continuously study the organization, rules, procedures and practice, work accomplished, results, and uniformity of the discretionary powers of the state courts and methods for their improvement;
  - (2) receive and consider advice from judges, public officials, members of the Bar, and citizens concerning remedies for faults in the administration of justice;
  - design methods for simplifying judicial procedure, expediting the transaction of judicial business, and correcting faults in the administration of justice;
  - (4) file a complete detailed report with the Governor and the Supreme Court before December 2 of each year on Council activities, information from the Council's study, and Council recommendations;
  - investigate and report on matters concerning the administration of justice that the Supreme Court or the Legislature refers to the Council; and
  - (6) gather judicial statistics and other pertinent information from the several state judges and other court officials of the state.

B. Membership. The Council consists of 22 members. Chief Justice Thomas R. Phillips serves ex officio as chair, and Presiding Judge Michael J. McCormick of the Court of Criminal Appeals serves ex officio as vice-chair. Chief Justice Phillips has appointed the following judges to serve on the Council:

Chief Justice Marilyn Aboussie (3rd Court of Appeals);

Chief Justice John H. Cayce (2nd Court of Appeals);

Lieutenant Governor Rick Perry appointed Senator Rodney Ellis of Houston (serving in his capacity as chair of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee) and Senator Robert Duncan of Lubbock to the Council. Speaker Pete Laney appointed Representative Senfronia Thompson of Houston (serving in her capacity as chair of the House Committee on Judicial Affairs) and Representative Pete Gallego of Alpine to represent the Texas House of Representatives on the Council.

Governor George W. Bush appointed the following members to the Council:

C. Meetings. The Council has met two times since December 1, 1999<sup>2</sup>:

February 29, 2000 (Austin) September 14, 2000 (Austin)

- D. Appointment of Judicial Council Committees. The Council accomplishes much of its work through committees and subcommittees. Each committee and subcommittee is directed to obtain input from the public and all interested parties and submit its work and recommendations to the Council for consideration. The following committees and subcommittees were created by the Council during the 1999-2000 reporting period:
  - (1) Committee on Judicial Performance Measures
    - (a) Subcommittee on District Court Performance Measures
    - (b) Subcommittee on Appellate Court Performance Measures
  - (2) Committee on Law Clerk Recruitment
  - (3) Committee on Media and the Courts
  - (4) Committee on Judicial Campaign Finance
  - (5) Subcommittee on Juries

III. 1999-2000 COUNCIL ACTIVITIES AND RECOMMENDATIONS

A. Directives from the 76th Legislature.

1. Judicial Performance Measures. In 1997, the Texas Commission on Judicial Efficiency (Commission) recommended that Texas courts "establish, adopt, and regularly report uniform measures and standards of performance." As a result of that recommendation, the 75th Legislature enacted several provisions to facilitate the collection of data relating to the performance of appellate and district courts. In May 1999, the 76th Legislature attached two riders to HB 1 (the Appropriations Act). The first rider required the Office of Court Administration (OCA) and the Texas Judicial Council (Council) to "conduct a pilot project to develop and implement performance measures for the individual district courts of this state." The second rider required the Texas Judicial Council to:

"...develop measures to evaluate the work of individual justices on the courts of appeals. The measures must be approved by the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Office. The data obtained for these measures will be reported in the Texas Judicial System Annual Report." <sup>6</sup>

In August 1999, the Council formed the Committee on Judicial Performance Measures (Committee) and its attendant subcommittees, the Subcommittee on District Court Performance Measures, and the Subcommittee on Appellate Court Performance Measures. The Council appointed a district clerk, a county clerk, and members of the Judicial Section of the State Bar of Texas to serve as advisory members of the Committee. The Committee is chaired by Representative Pete Gallego (Alpine).

The Committee and its subcommittees held nine public hearings on the issue of judicial performance measures from the period of November 1999 to December 1, 2000. Below is a summary of the work of the subcommittees to date:

a. Subcommittee on District Court Performance Measures (District Court Subcommittee). The District Court Subcommittee's performance measures pilot project consisted of two components: (1) the analysis of self-reported statistical data related to case filings and dispositions for a stratified, random sample of 75 district courts from counties of various sizes and with varying subject-matter jurisdiction (e.g., civil, criminal, family law, and general jurisdiction); and (2) the analysis of responses received from a comprehensive survey of all district court judges whose courts were in operation during State Fiscal Year 1999.

This District Court Subcommittee's study provided meaningful input from judges regarding appropriate performance measures for district courts and the many factors that impact the rate at which cases are disposed in Texas courts. In addition, statistical data collected from district courts for State Fiscal Year 1999 illustrated that there was significant variation in case disposition activity among Texas district courts. The District Court Subcommittee, which is chaired by Mr. Jim Brickman (Dallas) submitted its recommendations to the Performance Measures Committee on November 3, 2000.

b. Subcommittee on Appellate Court Performance Measures (Appellate Court Subcommittee). Under current Texas law, the courts of appeals report performance measurement data to the Legislative Budget Board, the Governor's Office of Budget and Planning, and the Office of Court Administration. This data is used, inter alia, to set budgetary priorities for the courts of appeals. In addition, the Office of Court Administration publishes performance data relating to the workload of individual justices in its Annual Report of the Texas Judicial System and has done so since 1966.

As part of its work, the Appellate Court Subcommittee (which is chaired by Chief Justice Marilyn Aboussie): (1) analyzed the results of a survey of each of the justices of the intermediate appellate courts to obtain their input regarding the development and implementation of performance measures; (2) obtained comments from the chief justices of the 14 courts of appeals about how various court policies, resources and technological capabilities affect their courts' disposition of cases; (3) contacted the 49 other states to determine what, if any, performance measures are used to evaluate the work of individual justices who serve on intermediate appellate courts; and (4) studied whether there is other data that can be collected that would more fully reflect the work of the Texas courts of appeals (e.g., the number and disposition of motions).

A final draft of the Appellate Court Subcommittee's report is pending adoption at its December 1, 2000 meeting.

- c. Additional Comments. The Committee on Judicial Performance Measures will meet on December 6, 2000 to discuss the subcommittee reports and its final recommendations to the Texas Judicial Council.
- 2. Student Loan Repayment Program. The 76th Legislature appropriated funds by rider to the Texas Judicial Council to establish a student loan repayment program for those who accept clerkships or temporary attorney positions in the courts. The rider, which follows the recommendations of the Texas Commission on Judicial Efficiency, 10 allocated $255,763 for each fiscal year of the biennium (for a total of $511,526) to the program. The Committee on Law Clerk Recruitment for the Courts, with assistance from each of the state's law schools, the staff of the Higher Education Coordinating Board, the Judiciary, and members of the Bar, developed administrative guidelines for the program which were approved by the Council on February 29, 2000.11

During the first fiscal year of the program, 63 appellate court law clerks participated in the student loan repayment program. On average, a law clerk received a loan repayment of $4215.87 for 12 months of service at an appellate court.

- 3. Judicial Internship Program. In addition to funding a student loan repayment program, a rider to HB & (The Appropriations Act) required the Council, the Judicial Branch, and the Texas law schools to develop a judicial internship program.<sup>12</sup> In June 2000, the Committee on Law Clerk Recruitment for the Courts (which is chaired by Ms. Delia Martinez Carian of San Antonio) approved the following recommendations for the creation of a Judicial Internship Program: 13
  - The final decision as to which candidate should be selected for an internship should be made by the individual court in accordance with its current administrative policies.
  - The Office of Court Administration (OCA) should develop a web page describing internship opportunities with the courts in detail. The web page should include instructions on how to apply, important dates (by court), comments from previous program participants, and a contact person. There should be links from the page to each of the appellate courts throughout the state.
  - OCA should develop a short video presentation and brochure for use by OCA and the courts to describe internship opportunities in appellate courts.
  - OCA and the Judicial Council should distribute information about internship opportunities to law school organizations, student bar associations, the Texas Young Lawyers Association, and the Judicial Section of the State Bar (and any other relevant sections of the State Bar or local bar associations). There should also be a short write-up in the Bar Journal.
  - Each of the nine law schools should be asked to designate official contacts (preferably in the placement office) to receive information about judicial clerkships and briefing attorney positions in the appellate courts. These designees would communicate directly with OCA's "judicial liaison" (i.e., person who is designated by OCA to answer questions about internships and briefing attorney opportunities in the courts) about job fairs and other school-sponsored job search programs. 14
  - OCA should post a blank application (preferably a state application) and instructions for completing the application on its web page. The application process should also be described in the recruitment video and brochure. The judicial liaison would have the primary duty to distribute the application materials to the appellate courts, law schools, job fair attendees, and law-related organizations. After a candidate completes an application and sends it to OCA, OCA's judicial liaison will promptly notify the appellate courts that there are completed applications on file in the office. The judicial liaison then forwards the applications to the appellate courts at their request. After receiving the applications from OCA, the courts schedule interviews with the candidates in accordance with their existing timelines and administrative procedures for selecting interns and briefing attorneys.

4. Media Pooling in Texas Courts. The 76th Legislature also passed SCR 23 which requires the Office of Court Administration "to study and develop uniform guidelines for media pooling agreements for courtroom coverage" and to "solicit and consider the opinions and advice of the Judiciary in developing the uniform guidelines." At the request of the Office of Court Administration, the Council has created the Committee on Media and the Courts which consists of judges from the trial and appellate courts, and an attorney who specializes in media law. The Committee has held three open meetings and is currently drafting uniform guidelines to assist trial and appellate court judges who, in their discretion, wish to allow audio and video coverage (as well as still photography) of court proceedings.

The Committee, which is chaired by Judge Robin Smith (Midland), plans to submit its recommendations to the Texas Judicial Council in December 2000.

5. Jury Service. The jury's role in protecting the rights of citizens is recognized in both state and federal law and is a vital component of the American judicial system. In spite of this, many individuals who are summoned for jury service do not appear because they are either disinterested or are simply unable to fit this important civic obligation into their busy lives. "The treatment of jurors is an issue that has a profound effect on the functioning of the jury system," and numerous studies have shown that citizens are more likely to serve as jurors if the financial hardships and inconveniences that often accompany jury service are minimized.

In 1999, the 76th Legislature passed Senate Concurrent Resolution 15, by Senator Rodney Ellis, which directed the Judicial Council "to examine the costs of increasing juror pay to $40 per day after the first day of trial and to examine the feasibility of allowing counties to offer other incentives to jurors for service." On February 29, 2000, the Texas Judicial Council created the Subcommittee on Juries ("Subcommittee") and asked the Subcommittee to study SCR 15 and recent efforts to encourage jury service in El Paso County and in other states. The Subcommittee is chaired by Senator Robert Duncan (Lubbock).

The Subcommittee held a public hearing on May 31, 2000 in El Paso, Texas, where Judge William Moody (34th District Court, El Paso) testified that juror participation increased significantly after El Paso County increased jury pay to $40 per day after the first day of service. Witnesses from throughout the legal community (i.e., the civil and criminal defense bars, prosecutors, and the local bar associations) testified in support of El Paso's increase in juror pay and generally commented that the increased compensation contributed to a diverse jury pool by encouraging individuals who could not serve due to financial hardships (e.g., lost wages) to answer jury summonses and serve on juries.

In addition to examining recent efforts in El Paso and other Texas counties, the Subcommittee studied efforts by other states (including Arizona, California, New Jersey, New York, and Minnesota) to encourage citizens to serve as jurors. As a general rule, states vary in their policies regarding the minimum daily amount of juror compensation, payment of incidental fees and out-of-pocket expenses (e.g., mileage, parking, and meals), employer compensation of jurors, and differential pay for unemployed jurors.

The Subcommittee is currently finalizing its report and recommendations for approval by the Council in December 2000.

B. Directives from the Supreme Court of Texas. In October 1999, the Supreme Court of Texas created the Judicial Campaign Finance Study Committee and asked the Committee to "propose both rule and statutory changes to improve the way in which campaigns for the Texas judiciary are financed." In February 1999, the Committee issued its final report and recommendations to the Supreme Court. The Court then held two public hearings with invited public testimony on the Committee's report. As part of its disposition of the Committee's recommendations, the Court directed the Texas Judicial Council to do the following:

- (1) review the Judicial Campaign Finance Study Committee's recommendation that limits be placed on the amount of campaign funds that judges can retain between elections and determine whether legislative changes or amendments to the Code of Judicial Conduct are necessary to address this recommendation;
- (2) review the Judicial Campaign Finance Study Committee's recommendation that limits be placed on judges' use of political contributions to make donations to political organizations and determine whether legislative changes or amendments to the Code of Judicial Conduct are needed to address this recommendation; and
- (3) review the Judicial Campaign Finance Study Committee's recommendation that voter guides be developed to inform the public about judicial candidates. Also, study H.B. 59 as passed by the 76th Legislature, the Governor's veto message to H.B. 59, and similar efforts in other states to inform voters about judicial candidates. Determine whether legislative changes or amendments to the Code of Judicial Conduct are needed to address this recommendation.<sup>19</sup>

In August 1999, the Council created the Committee on Judicial Campaign Finance (which is chaired by Judge David Patronella) to study the issues outlined in the Court's directive and to develop recommendations for consideration by the full Council. In September 2000, the Committee recommended that the Council support legislation that would substantially limit the contributions that a candidate who is unopposed can accept from a person. The Council amended the recommendation to prohibit a candidate who is unopposed in the general election from accepting contributions and that recommendation has been filed as HB 167 by Representative Pete Gallego (Alpine). The following legislative recommendations are pending before the Committee as of December 1, 2000:

- A recommendation to create a voter information guide for judicial elections; and
- A recommendation to limit the use of judicial officeholder funds to subsidize other activities.

C. Other Council Activities

1. Strategic Planning. In 1996, the Texas Commission on Judicial Efficiency found that the "Judicial Branch currently lacks any permanent, coordinated process for long-range planning."<sup>20</sup> As a result of this finding, the Commission recommended that a strategic planning function be established as an arm of the Office of Court Administration operated under the direction of the Texas Judicial Council.<sup>21</sup> To support that process, the Council in September 1998 established the Committee on Strategic Planning and asked the Committee to examine the strategic planning efforts of other states and to develop recommendations for a strategic plan for the Texas Judicial Branch.<sup>22</sup> A draft of the Committee's plan is pending before the Council.

2. 72nd Annual Report of the Texas Judicial Council. As previously noted in this report, the Texas Judicial Council's 72nd Annual Report on the Texas Judicial System, which is published by the Office of Court Administration, will be available in January 2001. The Annual Report, which contains detailed statistical data about the Judiciary, has historically been a valuable source of judicial information for courts, government agencies, legislators, and the public.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE OFFICE OF COURT ADMINISTRATION 2000 FISCAL YEAR

I. INTRODUCTION

The Office of Court Administration was created in 1977 by the 65th Legislature to provide support and technical assistance to Texas courts at all levels, thereby providing the public access to a judicial system that is efficient and just.

In an effort to better address several critical needs -- both current and emerging -- of the courts, the 75th Legislature delegated to the Office of Court Administration new responsibilities and resources to upgrade and expand its services supporting all levels of the judiciary in Texas. An agency reorganization with both new and expanded departments was implemented to assist the courts of the state in functioning more efficiently and effectively. Research and Court Services, and Judicial Planning departments were created and staffed, and new resources were used to enhance the performance of the departments already in place at the agency such as Information Services, Legal Counsel, Judicial Information, and the Finance and Operations departments.

The agency modified its Mission Statement, first adopted in 1996, to reflect the new vision of its leadership as well as the new responsibilities adopted by the Legislature. The following is the Mission Statement of the Office of Court Administration that went into effect during the 1998-99 biennium and remains in place today:

The Office of Court Administration will promote Justice by providing Leadership and Service to the Texas Judicial System.

The Office will provide Leadership by facilitating the development and implementation of policies which enhance the Texas Judicial System, fostering court adaptation to future changes, securing sufficient resources for state and local courts, strengthening the leadership role of the courts, providing innovative models of the organization and administration of the courts, and encouraging collaboration with and within state courts.

The Office will provide Service by offering technical assistance, promoting knowledge, informing, educating, and generally supporting courts and judicial organizations.

The agency established an internal strategic planning process to ensure that its goals and objectives are relevant to the judicial community. To this end, it periodically communicates with judicial officers, judicial personnel, and related organizations to advance various initiatives intended to improve judicial efficiency.

II. SUMMARY OF DEPARTMENT DUTIES AND ACTIVITIES

The following is a brief synopsis of the duties and activities of each department at the Office of Court Administration.

Departments:

- A. Research and Court Services. The Research and Court Services Department serves as a resource for the courts in key areas of judicial administration. The department provides consultation on recommended best practices in administrative operations, it works to establish innovative court programs, and it serves to increase public accessibility to the courts. Also, the Department's Collections Unit helps develop and implement programs designed to increase the collection of fines and court costs. An expanded discussion of the activities and accomplishments of the Research and Court Services Department is included in Section III below.
- B. Judicial Planning. The Judicial Planning Department directs strategic and long range planning for the Texas Judicial System. It provides staff support for the Texas Judicial Council in its effort to study the organization and work accomplished by the state's courts and methods for their improvement. The department consults with all levels of courts and the other branches of government to evaluate the effectiveness of planning and operational strategies. A more comprehensive presentation of the work products of the Judicial Planning Department is included in the annual report of the Texas Judicial Council.

- C. Information Services. The Information Services Department develops case management software systems and designs/maintains computer network hardware and software for the Texas Judiciary. It also serves as staff support for the Judicial Committee on Information Technology that is charged with the responsibility of developing and implementing a statewide computer communication network and a comprehensive judicial information system. The department provides technical support, training, quality assurance testing and documentation for the agency and OCA Case Management users. A more comprehensive presentation of the work products of the JCIT and the information services department follows this report on the Office of Court Administration.
- D. Legal Counsel. The Legal Counsel staff advises agency management and judicial officers on administrative issues and matters pertaining to employment law. The staff takes a leadership role in identifying legal issues that may affect the agency or courts. The department serves as counsel to the Council of Chief Justices and to the presiding judges of the administrative judicial regions, and provides training to judges and clerks on relevant matters of law. It also assists the presiding judges in administering the Title IV-D Masters Program for child support cases, as well as drafts procedures manuals for court clerks and produces the Judicial Services Handbook. An expanded discussion of the activities and accomplishments of the Legal Counsel Department is included in Section IV below.
- E. Judicial Information. The Judicial Information Department collects and analyzes information related to the courts activities throughout the state. The statistics are collected in a manner that focuses on significant issues and accomplishments in the judicial arena, and are used for identifying opportunities for improvement in the judicial system. The department is chiefly responsible for the publication of the Texas Judicial System Directory and the Texas Judicial System Annual Report.
- F. Finance and Operations. The Finance and Operations Department provides technical assistance to appellate courts and other judicial entities in their business operations. The department also provides administrative, human resources, accounting and budgetary support to agency management and employees, as well as to other judicial boards and commissions.

III. RESEARCH AND COURT SERVICES DEPARTMENT

During fiscal year 2000, the Department's activities included the development and continuation of numerous programs and projects designed with the purpose of increasing the collection of fines and court costs, improving the administrative operation of the courts, and increasing the public's accessibility to the courts. The highlights of the programs and projects of the Research and Court Services Department are as follows:

- A. Collections Improvement Project. Assisted in implementing OCA's model fine collections programs in the county-level courts in Jefferson and Lubbock counties; the district courts in Brazoria County (Note: the program is managed by the district clerk); and the municipal courts in the City of College Station and the City of Garland. It should be noted that the County of Wichita budgeted funds for a collections program which is to be implemented during the next fiscal year. In addition, OCA provided technical assistance to the fine collections programs in Bexar, Brazoria, Brazos, Cameron, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Galveston, Harris, Harrison, Kerr, Montgomery, Nueces, San Patricio, Tom Green, and Val Verde counties, including assisting Brazoria County in expanding the collections program managed by the county clerk's office to juvenile court cases; and assisting Cameron and El Paso counties in expanding their respective collections programs managed by the county clerk's office to the justice courts. By the end of fiscal year 2000, 129 courts (including district, county-level, justice, and municipal courts) in the state were utilizing fine collections programs.
- B. Rural Court Delay Reduction Program. Obtained a $121,632 Anti-Drug Abuse Act grant to continue a rural court delay reduction program for a third year. The program is implemented in six district courts that serve a total of 18 counties. It provides trained court coordinators to assist judges in drug and criminal case management through the use of OCA's case management software and the implementation of innovative case management techniques, including differentiated case management. The participating counties and OCA agreed to provide a cash match of $40,543, resulting in a total project cost of $162,175. The grant period is June 1, 2000 through May 31, 2001.
- C. Criminal Differentiated Case Management Pilot Project. Obtained a $315,470 grant from the State Criminal Justice Planning (421) Fund to implement a criminal differentiated case management program in the district courts in Lubbock and Hidalgo counties. The goal of the project is to improve the criminal case management system in each of the project counties to enable the district courts to dispose of criminal cases in a more expeditious manner and make better use of existing judicial resources. The participating counties agreed to contribute a cash match of $105,156, resulting in a total project cost of $420,626. The grant period is September 1, 2000 to August 31, 2001.
- D. Differentiated Case Management for the Improvement of Civil Case Processing in the Trial Courts of Texas. Obtained a $25,000 grant from the State Justice Institute to hire a consultant to conduct, with the assistance of OCA staff, an in-depth analysis of the civil case management systems of certain courts in Travis, Dallas, and Gregg counties. The purpose of the project is to recommend systemic changes based on differentiated case management principles which will lead to the creation of a more efficient case management system in the respective courts. The grant period was August 2, 1999 through September 30, 2000.

- E. Juvenile Law Referees. Obtained a $171,690 Juvenile Justice Accountability Incentive Block Grant to continue the project for a second year. The purpose of the project is to hold juvenile offenders more accountable for their actions by providing additional judicial officers and support staff to efficiently and effectively process the large volume of juvenile cases in Hidalgo and Bexar counties. The participating counties agreed to provide a cash match of $114,463, resulting in a total project cost of $286,153. The grant period is August 1, 2000 through July 31, 2001.
- F. Dallas County Collections Department Financial Management Counseling Pilot Project. Obtained a $40,000 grant from the State Justice Institute to implement a pilot project in Dallas County designed to improve the services provided to clients (i.e., defendants) of the Dallas County Collections Department. The goal of the project, which involves the hiring of a financial management counselor, is to improve the collections rate of the department by assisting defendants who request assistance with personal debt management for the purpose of paying their court-ordered fines and court costs. The grant period is May 1, 2000 to June 30, 2001.
- G. Court Costs and Fees Handbook for Justice Courts; and Court Costs and Fees Handbook for Municipal Courts. Drafted handbooks to aid clerks and others by providing up-to-date information on various topics concerning court costs and fees.

Grant projects received by OCA (generally from federal, state, or other sources, such as those described in Section III above) are primarily pass-through grants which go to local participating governments or courts to cover the project costs under the grant; as well, the local government or court also generally provides the preponderance of any local matching funds required as a condition of the grant. Generally, OCA participation under the grant project occurs on an "in-kind" basis and takes two forms: (1) Research and Court Services research staff participate in the actual research, analysis, and report-writing phases of a grant project; and, (2) OCA staff serve as grant manager or fiscal agent in administering the grant by reviewing expenditures and filing necessary grant reports to the funding agency. By providing this assistance at minimal or no cost to the grant, OCA can maximize the use of grant funds for the local participant.

IV. LEGAL DEPARTMENT

During fiscal year 2000, the legal department provided legal counsel and assistance to judicial officers, court personnel, and judicial organizations. Additionally, the department provided legal research and technical assistance to OCA managers and project leaders on procurements and business contracts important to the success of the various projects of OCA, the Texas Judicial Council, and the Judicial Committee on Information Technology as described throughout this report. Finally, some of the major projects for which the department has taken a leadership role are as follows:

- A. Judicial Service Handbook. The Judicial Service Handbook, which contains constitutional and statutory provisions governing judicial service, the Canons of Judicial Conduct, ethical opinions interpreting the Canons, Rule 12 governing open judicial records, and the opinions interpreting Rule 12, was completely revised, printed, and distributed to all judges in Texas. Information about public access to judicial records was distributed in agency publications and on OCA's web page.
- B. Appellate Court Assistance. Based on legislation passed by the 76th Legislature in 1999 (Senate Bill 1034), legal department staff assisted the 14 courts of appeals and OCA in the procurement of a liability insurance policy with employment practices coverage for the elected justices and the court clerks, as well as the administrative director of OCA. In addition to supporting the deliberations of the Council of Chief Justices of the Courts Appeals, and the Appellate Court Technology Committee, extensive sample human resources policies were drafted and distributed to the appellate courts for their use.
- C. Training. An OCA attorney also served as faculty to the Texas County and District Courts Association, the State Bar of Texas, the Texas Justice Court Training Center, the Texas Municipal Courts Education Center, the Texas Association of Counties, and other entities, and presented dozens of courses on procedural and substantive law affecting members of the judiciary and the bar.
- D. Model Uniform Jury Summons and Questionnaire. In accordance with the new mandate of Chapter 62 of the Government Code (enacted by Senate Bill 230), OCA's legal staff developed a model uniform jury summons and questionnaire, distributed it for comment and modification, and distributed it to all Texas counties for their use beginning January 1, 2001.
- E. Assistance to Presiding Judges. OCA's legal department also enhanced the services provided to the presiding judges of the administrative judicial regions. For the Title IV-D child support program, legal staff drafted and began implementation of the "Plan to Improve the Efficiency of the Title IV-D Masters"; coordinated new employee training in safety, sexual harassment, and other issues for the masters and assistants; implemented a court monitor pilot project for supervision of cases in which the parent is placed on payment probation; and assisted with administration of employment evaluations of masters and assistants. Legal staff drafted a complete revision of the Presiding Judges Reference Authorities Manual so that the presiding judges could have current information regarding applicable statutes and policies in an easily accessible format.

- F. Foster Care Courts. Legal staff also facilitated the transfer of nine foster care court employees from county employment to OCA employment and the initiation of additional foster care courts using state funding.
- G. Public Access to Judicial Records. The general counsel assisted the committee of presiding judges in administering the Rule 12 appellate process and drafting opinions for petitions seeking public access to judicial records.
- H. Court Law Clerk Recruitment. Government Code Section 72.042 requires OCA to annually publish a report regarding the demographic profile of the judicial law clerks and attorneys employed by the courts of the state. OCA's legal department surveyed the state's appellate courts to gather this data, and the report is included in this 2000 edition of the Annual Judicial Report.

V. CHILD SUPPORT ASSISTANCE

Through a cooperative agreement with the Office of the Attorney General, OCA obtained state and federal funds to administer the Title IV-D child support master program in Texas. OCA paid the salaries and travel expenses of 40 masters and 40 administrative assistants throughout the state.

OCA also maintained an automated system to support the child support enforcement responsibilities of the presiding judges of the administrative judicial regions, the IV-D masters and the individual courts. The system is a case management program for all IV-D cases and enables the IV-D masters to communicate child support enforcement information between their offices and the presiding judges in their regions. OCA provided system training and technical assistance to the IV-D masters and their administrative assistants throughout the year.

Because state law imposes on the presiding judges of the administrative judicial regions various duties in connection with the IV-D master program, the judges entered into a separate cooperative agreement with the Office of the Attorney General to administer the Title IV-D master program. The presiding judges met as a board to administer the program eight times between September 1, 1999 and August 31, 2000. The Legal Counsel Department provided primary administrative support to the board.

VI. SEMINARS ON CASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

OCA conducts regular training seminars to train judges, clerks, and other court personnel in the use the O.C.A. Case Management software. Seminar participants include judges, clerks, court coordinators and administrators, technical support staff, auditors and others from the courts around the state that use O.C.A. Case Management programs.

During the year ended August 31, 2000, the Information Services staff conducted 85 seminars with a total attendance of 581 persons, including appellate justices and judges, trial court judges, clerks, court coordinators, judge secretaries, county auditors, and IV-D assistants.

User manuals and training materials are developed and provided by OCA staff to complement the training courses. All classes are held in Austin unless otherwise noted.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE ON INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY 2000 FISCAL YEAR

I. Introduction.

The Office of Court Administration (OCA) provides staffing, research and planning activities, fiscal services, and administrative support to the Judicial Committee on Information Technology (JCIT). The 75th Legislature created the JCIT in 1997 to establish standards and guidelines for the systematic implementation and integration of information technology into the trial and appellate courts in Texas. Its goal is to develop and oversee the design and implementation of a coordinated statewide computer communication network and comprehensive justice information system. The general powers and duties of JCIT are outlined in Tex. Government Code Ann. sec. 77.031 (Vernon 1997).

II. Membership.

The 15 members of the JCIT are appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to represent all levels of the judiciary and its component parts (e.g., judges, district attorneys, clerks of the court, court reporters, court administrators). Committee members are appointed by the Chief Justice to serve four (4) year terms as established by the Chief Justice; seven (7) of the current members are serving terms set to end August 31, 2001, and eight (8) of the current members are serving terms set to end August 31, 2003. Four (4) additional members are appointed to serve as non-voting liaison members of the committee; these members serve at the pleasure of the Chief Justice.

Members of the JCIT as of August 31, 2000, were:

III. Overview.

JCIT and OCA serve approximately 20,000 court officials and staff in 3,000 courts in 1,750 locations throughout the state, and the two entities are providing leadership and support for the development of an integrated justice information system -- one that will unite 3,200 Texas courts via information technology.

The OCA/JCIT requested and received legislative appropriations during the FY 2000-2001 biennium to continue the implementation of a six-year plan to develop an infrastructure that is able to support the systematic integration of technology into the courts. Although funds were available to support the projects, the OCA experienced a significant turnover in key staff positions during the year, causing project planning and implementation to be significantly slowed. The OCA/JCIT took this opportunity to reassess the projects underway and contracted with a consultant company, Leapnet, Inc., to provide technology coordination services by reviewing methodologies and practices undertaken by OCA/JCIT to develop plans and implement projects. The scope of the review encompassed OCA project planning/management, project documentation, application development, and infrastructure integration, communication and customer service. Significant effort was expended revising the information technology strategic plan, evaluating the feasibility of the projects, reprioritizing projects, aligning resources to implement the projects, and amending the biennial operating plan. The results of the review are contained in a report "JCIT/OCA Plans and Projects Analysis, Assessment and Recommendations" issued September 2000.

IV. Accomplishments.

The following represents some of the significant JCIT/ OCA accomplishments during the fiscal year 2000 and/or underway early in 2001.

A. Appellate Court Case Management. The appellate court system has historically been required to utilize technology to offset increasing caseloads. To streamline the efficiency of operations, the Office of Court Administration started the implementation of an integrated justice information system with the Appellate Courts during the FY 00-01 biennium. The Office of Court Administration developed and deployed a Windows-based case management system to replace the antiquated DOS-based system for the appellate courts.

The appellate court case management system is a core initiative for the Judicial Committee on Information Technology. It is designed to enable integration of court data and documents with other courts, and other agencies. The implementation of Version 2 case management software will enable access over the Internet to opinions, orders, and other information about the cases through the Texas Judiciary Online Website. The new system will allow the public to search opinions and cases, subscribe to notification by electronic mail when there are changes to the public information in the database, and provide a calendar of upcoming court hearings.

B. State Telecommunications Infrastructure. The groundwork for a secure statewide telecommunications infrastructure for the judiciary has begun. The work began at the appellate court level. The Office of Court Administration upgraded the computers (500 computers and servers), computer peripherals, and local- and wide-area networks of the appellate courts. OCA solicited bids for and negotiated a statewide contract for a three-year lease of the equipment and supported the deployment of the hardware and associated software statewide to the 16 appellate courts, State Law Library, and State Prosecuting Attorney's office. Funds have been requested to bring the remaining 250 computers and servers of the courts onto the lease arrangement in 2003, bringing to 750 the number of workstations in the statewide network.

The next step is to develop a plan to give access to the trial courts. A database of the existing state and private networks that are available to courts will be developed and a cost-benefit analysis conducted to determine the type of network that should be developed for the courts. The Office of Court Administration will develop a telecommunications plan for consideration by the JCIT.

- C. Web Presence. The Office of Court Administration is maintaining a judicial web server, The Texas Judiciary Online, located at www.courts.state.tx.us provides general information about the judiciary (rules, court structure, directory information) and a web presence for the Supreme Court of Texas, and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Efforts are under way to standardize and link all Courts of Appeals web pages to the Texas Judiciary Online Home Page.
- D. General Technology Training. The Office of Court Administration contracted with the Texas Justice Court Training Center (TJCTC) to conduct a pilot training program to provide training to members of the judiciary (elected and appointed judges, appointed and elected clerks, elected district and county attorneys) to establish and enhance judicial members' knowledge of information technology and telecommunications as it relates to the justice system. The Texas

Justice Court Training Center along with the Municipal Courts Education Center, the Texas Association of Counties and the Texas Center for the Judiciary provided 6.5 hours of court technology training to four classes of judges or court personnel at the technology training facilities of Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. The training was conducted July 31 — August 3, 2000. All attendees completed evaluations and ranked the course as "excellent" or "good."

- E. Trial Court Data Management. The Office of Court Administration/Judicial Committee on Information Technology is in the process of developing a data management pilot that will demonstrate the electronic reporting of case-level data to the Office of Court Administration. This project refines the data standard and tests a new method of electronic reporting to state agencies by the district and county pilot courts. Optimally, the electronic reporting system will replace all mandated reporting of information about cases to all state agencies and create a common standard for exchange of case data among courts.
- F. Trial Court Assistance/Legal Research. The Office of Court Administration negotiated a statewide contract for on-line computer assisted legal research for the Texas Judiciary. This contract enables members of the judiciary the option to access top-notch legal research materials at very low prices that are powerful and valuable legal resources.
- G. Trial Court Case Management. Office of Court Administration Court Case Management Software is a suite of DOS-based software systems. These systems focus primarily on the internal court functions with little emphasis on data sharing and integration. Because the current systems are DOS-based, it is not cost effective to attempt to integrate them with other applications. Linking of electronic case documents to cases in the current system is not possible nor does the system have an Internet component to facilitate remote access by court officials or court customers. The Trial Court Case Management system is at the end of its useful lifecycle. The Office of Court Administration and Judicial Committee on Information Technology have requested funding to evaluate and provide the trial courts with an updated case management software solution.
- H. Technology Standards. Office of Court Administration and Judicial Committee on Information Technology participate in the National Consortium for State Court Automation Standards. The Judicial Committee on Information Technology adopted the Consortium's functional standards for civil case management for use by Texas courts. The functional standards can be accessed at: www.courts.state.tx.us/JCIT/standards/standards.htm.

The JCIT Electronic Filing Subcommittee has recommended draft standards for electronic filing systems. The Electronic Filing Subcommittee is also monitoring other state-agency initiatives, such as the Texas State Library and Archives Commission's Electronic Recording Advisory Committee, to ensure compliance with other statewide standards.

I. Dallas County Juvenile Information System. During the past year, the feasibility and benefits of an integrated judicial information system were demonstrated through the Dallas County Juvenile Information System. The Dallas County Juvenile Information System is a cooperative effort among juvenile probation, municipal courts, public schools, law enforcement, and prosecution to share information electronically through a web-based environment. The system collects and compiles juvenile justice information from all relevant agencies and allows the relevant agencies to use this system as their primary juvenile justice data system. The project was funded through a federal block grant and managed locally. Members of the JCIT and OCA staff provided management advice, as well as technical and legal support to the project.

Court Structure Of Texas

Descriptive Outline

September 1, 2000

The appellate courts of Texas include a Supreme Court, a Court of Criminal Appeals, and 14 intermediate courts of appeals.

In addition, the Texas Constitution establishes district courts as the state trial courts of general jurisdiction and provides for a single constitutional county court in each county, presided over by the county judge. In more populous counties, the Legislature has established statutory county courts to function as county courts at law and probate courts.

Also, the Constitution provides for justice of the peace courts in each county. These justice courts handle criminal misdemeanor cases and serve as small claims courts.

Finally, the Legislature has established municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State to handle criminal misdemeanor cases and city ordinance violations.

Court Structure of Texas

District Courts

- 1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 414
- JURISDICTION: There are 405 separate district courts, identified by separate numbers, each having its own geographical jurisdiction. Each district court has one judge. In a number of areas, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping. District courts are trial courts of general subject-matter jurisdiction. They have "exclusive, appellate, and original jurisdiction of all actions, proceedings, and remedies, except in cases where exclusive, appellate, or original jurisdiction may be conferred by (the) Constitution or other law on some other court. ..." Generally, this jurisdiction includes original jurisdiction of felony criminal prosecutions, suits for divorce, suits over title to land, election contests, and civil suits with an amount in controversy of at least $200.

County courts at law and constitutional county courts also exercise limited subject-matter jurisdiction over civil suits and thus, to a limited extent, share jurisdiction with the district courts. Individual statutes stipulate maximum amounts in controversy over which each county-level court may exercise jurisdiction. To the extent that such "dollar amount" jurisdiction coincides with the district court, the two courts have concurrent jurisdiction. Such concurrent jurisdiction of the district and county-level courts begins with suits involving $200 and extends to the maximum amount stipulated by the applicable statute pertaining to the individual county-level court. Above such maximum jurisdictional amount of the county-level courts, the district court exercises exclusive jurisdiction.

The district courts hear contested matters involved in probate cases and have general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, these courts have general original jurisdiction over all causes of action for which a remedy or jurisdiction is not provided by law or by the Constitution, and have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

Most district courts exercise both criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal, or family law cases. In some instances, the courts that hear criminal cases exclusively are designated criminal district courts. A limited number of district courts also have the subject-matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the courts of appeals, except those capital offense cases in which the death penalty has been assessed, which are appealed directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

- 3. SEATS: At the county seat of each county included in each respective geographical district.
- 4. MEMBERSHIP:
  - a. Number: One judge per court.
  - b. Selection: Partisan, district wide election. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the Senate.
  - c. Qualifications: Citizen of the United States and of Texas; age 25 or older; resident of the district for two years; licensed to practice law in Texas and a practicing lawyer or judge or both combined for four years.
  - d. Salaries paid by the State: $101,700

- e. Salary supplements: Supplements authorized by statute may be paid by counties. Total salary must be $1,000 less than that received by justices of the court of appeals in which the district court is located.
- f. Term: Four years.

"Constitutional" County Courts

- 1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 254
- 2. JURISDICTION:
  - a. Legal jurisdiction: The Texas Constitution establishes one county court in each of the 254 counties of the State, but not all such courts exercise judicial functions. In populous counties, the "county judge" may devote full time to the administration of county government.

By statute (Sec. 26.042, Government Code), constitutional county courts have juvenile jurisdiction and concurrent civil jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $200 but does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest, and concurrent civil jurisdiction with district courts in cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $5,000, exclusive of interest. County courts have the general jurisdiction of a probate court (Sec. 4, Probate Code), and they have exclusive original jurisdiction of misdemeanors, other than those involving official misconduct, where the fine allowed exceeds $500 or where a jail sentence may be imposed (Sec. 26.045, Government Code).

Decisions from the municipal and justice of the peace courts may be appealed to the county court, and the appeal takes the form of a completely new trial (trial de novo). Appeals from municipal courts of record are an exception in which the county court reviews only the written record from the trial. Original and appellate judgments of the county court may be appealed to the court of appeals, with certain limitations.

In addition to these general grants of statutory jurisdiction, many constitutional county courts are granted additional jurisdiction by statutory provisions which apply only to those courts (Secs. 26.101 to 26.354, Government Code).

- b. Geographical jurisdiction: Countywide.
- 3. SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.
- 4. MEMBERSHIP:
  - a. Number: One judge per court.
  - Selection: Partisan countywide election. Vacancies between elections filled by appointment by county commissioners.
  - Qualifications: "Shall be well informed in the law of the State." (Law license not required.)
  - d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
  - e. Term: Four years.

NOTE: The commissioners court is not a judicial entity; rather it is the governing body of the county. It is presided over by the constitutional county judge and includes four elected commissioners. Although it performs no judicial duties, the commissioners court can issue certain writs and contempt citations.

Court Structure of Texas

Statutory County Courts

- 1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 207
- 2. JURISDICTION:
  - Legal jurisdiction: Under the constitutional provision which authorizes the Legislature to establish such other courts as it may deem necessary and to prescribe the jurisdiction of such courts, the Legislature has established 203 statutory county courts in 74 counties, primarily in metropolitan areas, to relieve the constitutional county judge of all or part of his judicial duties. (Three additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature but have not been implemented as of September 1, 1998. additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature to become operational at a later date.) The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably according to the statute under which they are created. Some are intended to exercise subjectmatter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts). The concurrent civil jurisdiction of these statutory county courts with the district court extends to greater amounts in controversy than the constitutional county courts.
  - b. Geographical jurisdiction: Countywide.
  - SEATS: County seat of county of jurisdiction.
- 4. MEMBERSHIP:
  - a. Number: One judge per court.
  - b. Selection: Partisan countywide election. Vacancies between elections filled by appointment by county commissioners.
  - c. Qualifications: A judge of a statutory county court must be at least 25 years of age; have resided in the county for at least two years; and be a licensed attorney who has practiced law or served as a judge for four years.
  - Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
  - e. Term: Four years.

Justice Of The Peace Courts

- 1. NUMBER OF COURTS: 836
- JURISDICTION: The Texas Constitution provides that each county shall have, depending on the population, one to eight justice precincts. In each such precinct, depending on the population, one or more justices of the peace are to be elected.

Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in misdemeanor criminal cases when punishment is by fine only. They have exclusive jurisdiction over civil cases where the amount in controversy is $200 or less and concurrent jurisdiction with both the county and district courts in civil matters in which exclusive jurisdiction is not in the district or county court and the amount in controversy is $5000 or less. By statute, they are granted jurisdiction over forcible entry and detainer actions.

A justice of the peace may issue warrants of search and arrest, conduct preliminary hearings, serve as ex officio notary public, perform marriages, and serve as coroner in counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner. The justice court also functions as a small claims court.

- 3. SEATS: Determined by county commissioners.
- 4. MEMBERSHIP:
  - a. Number: One judge per court.
  - b. Selection: Partisan precinct-wide election.
  - Qualifications: No specific statutory or constitutional provisions apply.
  - d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the county. Highly variable.
  - e. Term: Four years.

Municipal Courts

- 1. NUMBER OF CITIES WITH ACTIVE COURTS: 861
- 2. JURISDICTION: By a general statute, the Legislature has created a municipal court in each of the incorporated cities of the State. Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 850 cities and towns. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court.

The municipal courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws within the city limits (predominantly traffic offenses) when punishment is limited to a fine and in cases arising under Chapter 106 of the Alcoholic Beverage Code relating to minors that do not include confinement as an authorized sanction.

Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State. They have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violation of city ordinances punishable by a fine not to exceed: 1) $2,000 in cases arising under ordinances involving litter, fire safety, zoning, public health, and sanitation; and 2) $500 in all other cases arising under a municipal ordinance.

Municipal courts generally are not of record—that is, courts where the record of the trial, upon request of either party or at the direction of the court, is reduced to writing—and appeals from them are by trial de novo in the county court, county court at law, or district court. The Legislature has authorized the governing body of each city to establish municipal courts of record; appeals from these courts are on the record made therein.

- 3. SEATS: Determined by city or town.
- 4. MEMBERSHIP:
  - a. Number: Generally, one court per municipality and one judge per court. Statutes allow some city governing bodies to establish more than one court and/or more than one judge per court. As of September 1, 1998, 1,122 persons were serving as municipal judge.
  - b. Selection: Elected or appointed by the governing body of the city as provided by city charter or ordinance.
  - Qualifications: Determined by the governing body of the city.
  - d. Salaries: Paid entirely by the city. Highly variable.
  - e. Term: Most are appointed for two-year terms and serve at the will of the governing body of the city.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

SUBJECT-MATTER JURISDICTION OF THE COURTS SEPTEMBER 1, 2000

INTRODUCTION

The basic structure of the present court system of Texas was established by an 1891 constitutional amendment. The amendment established the Supreme Court, the highest state appellate court for civil matters, and the Court of Criminal Appeals, which makes the final determination in criminal matters. There are fourteen intermediate courts of appeals which exercise intermediate appellate jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases.

The state trial courts of general jurisdiction are the district courts, of which there were 414 as of September 1, 2000. Ten of these courts are designated "Criminal District Courts." Another district court is authorized December 1, 2000 and two are authorized for January 1, 2001, for a total of 416.

The geographical area served by each district court is established by the specific statute creating that court and does not necessarily correspond to the area served by any previously established court. Each court has one judge. The State pays the base salary of each judge and some limited expenses of the judge.

In addition to these state courts, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county, presided over by the county judge. The county judge also serves as head of the county commissioners court, the governing body of the county. To aid the constitutional county court with its judicial functions, the Legislature has established statutory county courts, designated as county courts at law or probate courts, in the more populous counties. As of September 1, 2000, there were 15 probate courts and 192 county courts at law in operation in 80 counties. Four additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature but have not been implemented as of September 1, 2000. Four additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature to become operational at a later date.

The Texas Constitution authorizes not less than one nor more than 16 justices of the peace in each county. Under this provision approximately 843 justice of the peace courts have been established. These courts also serve as small claims courts.

By statute, the Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city in the State. These courts have original jurisdiction over violations of municipal ordinances and concurrent criminal jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts over state law violations, limited to the geographical confines of the municipality.

Trials in the justice of the peace and most municipal courts are not of record, and appeals therefrom are by trial de novo to the county court, except in certain counties, as noted later, where the appeal is to a county court at law or to a district court. When an appeal is by trial de novo, the case is tried again in the higher court, just as if the original trial had not occurred.

Jurisdiction of the various levels of courts is established by constitutional provision and by statute. Statutory jurisdiction is established by general statutes providing jurisdiction for all courts on a particular level, as well as by the statutes establishing individual courts. Thus, to determine the jurisdiction of any one particular court, recourse must be had first to the Constitution, second to the general statutes establishing jurisdiction for that level of court, third to the specific statute authorizing the establishment of the particular court in question, fourth to statutes creating other courts in the same county (whose jurisdictional provisions may affect the court in question), and fifth to statutes dealing with specific subject matters (such as the Family Code, which requires, for example, that judges who are lawyers hear appeals from actions by non-lawyer judges in juvenile cases.)

The State provides full funding for the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals. It provides a base salary for the appellate and district judges of Texas. Most counties supplement this base salary for district courts and courts of appeals. Counties pay the costs of "constitutional" county courts, county courts at law, justice of the peace courts, and the operating costs of district courts except for the base salary of the judge. The cities finance the operation of municipal courts.

APPELLATE COURTS

The appellate courts of the Texas Judicial System are: (1) the Supreme Court, the highest state appellate court for civil and juvenile cases; (2) the Court of Criminal Appeals, the highest state appellate court for criminal cases; and (3) the 14 courts of appeals, the intermediate appellate courts for civil and criminal appeals from the trial level courts.

Appellate courts do not try cases, have jurors, or hear witnesses. Rather, they review actions and decisions of the lower courts on questions of law or allegations of procedural error. In carrying out this review, the appellate courts are usually restricted to the evidence and exhibits presented in the trial court.

THE SUPREME COURT

In 1836, the Supreme Court of Texas was first established by the Constitution of the Republic of Texas, which vested the judicial power of the Republic in "...one Supreme Court and such inferior courts as the Congress may establish." This Court was re-established by each successive constitution adopted throughout the course of Texas history. The various constitutions and amendments thereto, however, provided for different numbers of judges to sit on the Court and different methods for the selection of the judges. The Constitution of 1845 provided that the Supreme Court consist of a Chief Justice and two associate justices. The Constitution of 1866 provided for five justices, and the Constitution of 1869 reverted to a three-judge court; the Constitution of 1873 increased the number to five, and the Constitution of 1876 again reduced the membership to three. To aid the three justices in disposing of the ever increasing workload, the Legislature created two "Commissions of Appeals," each to consist of three judges appointed by the Supreme Court. This system, begun in 1920, continued until the adoption of the constitutional amendment of 1945 which abolished the two Commissions of Appeals and increased the number of justices on the Supreme Court to nine, the present number.

A constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides:

The Supreme Court shall exercise the judicial power of the state except as otherwise provided in this Constitution. Its jurisdiction shall be coextensive with the limits of the State and its determinations shall be final except in criminal law matters. Its appellate jurisdiction shall be final and shall extend to all cases except in criminal law matters and as otherwise provided in this Constitution or by law.

Thus, the Supreme Court of Texas has statewide final appellate jurisdiction in most civil and juvenile cases. The Supreme Court is empowered to make and enforce all necessary rules of civil trial practice and procedure, evidence, and appellate procedure, and to promulgate rules of administration to provide for the efficient administration of justice in the State. A constitutional amendment effective January 1, 1986, gave the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court. The Supreme Court has original jurisdiction to issue writs and to conduct proceedings for the involuntary retirement or removal of judges.

Citations following are to the Texas Government Code. Index to subject-matter reference numbers is found on page 53.

The Supreme Court is composed of one Chief Justice and eight justices, who are elected in partisan elections on a statewide basis for six-year terms of office. Vacancies between elections are filled by gubernatorial appointment with the advice and consent of the State Senate, until the next general election. To be eligible to serve as a justice of this Court, a person must be licensed to practice law in this State, be a citizen of the United States and of the State of Texas, be at least 35 years of age, and have been a practicing lawyer, or a lawyer and judge of a court of record together, for at least ten years.

In addition to its major responsibilities of hearing oral arguments, deciding cases appealed to it, and writing opinions, the Supreme Court has many administrative duties placed upon it by the Legislature to ensure the efficient administration of justice by the Texas judicial system. These duties include: (1) promulgating the Rules of Civil Procedure for the Texas judicial system (Gov't Code §22.004); (2) promulgating rules of administration for the Texas judicial system (Gov't Code §72.024); (3) equalizing the dockets of the 14 courts of appeals (Gov't Code §73.001); (4) promulgating the rules of procedure for the Commission on Judicial Conduct, and disciplining judges or removing judges from office (Gov't Code, Ch. 81); (5) supervising the operations of the State Bar of Texas and the rules and regulations for the admission, discipline, supervision, and disbarment of lawyers, and approving the law schools of the State (Gov't Code, Ch. 81); and (6) promulgating the rules for the operation of the Court Reporters Certification Board and the disciplinary rules enforced by this Board (Gov't Code §52.002).

The Chief Justice has the responsibility to: (1) confer with the presiding judges of the administrative judicial regions to promote the prompt dispatch of judicial business (Gov't Code §74.001); (2) assign judges between administrative judicial regions (Gov't Code §74.057); (3) assign retired appellate justices to the various courts of appeals on a temporary basis (Gov't Code §73.003); (4) deliver a "State of the Judiciary" message at the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature (Gov't Code §21.004); and (5) ensure that the Supreme Court executes and implements its administrative duties and responsibilities (Gov't Code §72.006).

THE COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS

To relieve the Supreme Court of some of its caseload, the Constitution of 1876 created the Court of Appeals, composed of three elected judges, with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in those civil cases tried by the county courts. The judiciary article that was created by the constitutional amendment of 1891 changed the name of this court to the Court of Criminal Appeals and limited its jurisdiction to appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases only.

A constitutional amendment adopted in 1980 provides:

The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have final appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the limits of the State, and its determination shall be final, in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be provided in this Constitution or as prescribed by law.

The jurisdiction of the Court of Criminal Appeals extends to criminal cases heard by the intermediate courts of appeals and directly from the trial courts in all cases in which the death penalty has been imposed. The Court of Criminal Appeals (and the Supreme Court) have jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court. In addition, the Legislature has authorized the Court of Criminal Appeals to promulgate rules of evidence and appellate procedure for criminal cases.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, as originally established, was composed of three judges. As its workload increased, the Legislature granted it the authority to appoint commissioners to aid in the disposition of pending cases. The number of judges on the Court was increased to five by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1966, and was again increased to nine by another constitutional amendment adopted in 1977.

Today, the Court of Criminal Appeals consists of a Presiding Judge and eight additional judges, who must have the same qualifications, and are elected in the same manner, as the justices of the Supreme Court.

THE COURTS OF APPEAL

The first intermediate appellate court in Texas was created by the Constitution of 1876, which created a Court of Appeals with appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases and in all civil cases originating in the county courts. However, by 1891, the docket of the Supreme Court had become so crowded that it became apparent that other changes were necessary to expedite the disposition of appellate cases. Thus, the amendment of 1891 converted the Court of Appeals into the Court of Criminal Appeals and authorized the Legislature to establish intermediate courts of civil appeals located at various places throughout the State. The purpose of this amendment was to preclude the large quantity of civil litigation from further congesting the docket of the Supreme Court, while at the same time providing for a more convenient and less expensive system of intermediate appellate courts for civil cases. Under this authority, the Legislature has divided the State into 14 court of appeals districts and has established a court of appeals in each.

Courts of appeals are now located in the following cities: Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Eastland, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston (two courts), San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler, and Waco.

Each court of appeals has jurisdiction of appeals from the trial courts located in its respective district. The appeals heard in these courts are based upon the "record" (a written transcription of the testimony given, exhibits introduced, and the documents filed in the trial court) and the written and oral arguments of the appellate lawyers. The courts of appeals do not receive testimony or hear witnesses in considering the cases on appeal.

Each of the courts of appeals has at least three judges--a chief justice and two other justices. However, the Legislature is empowered to increase this number whenever the workload of an individual court requires additional judges. The Dallas Court of Appeals has 13 justices, the two courts located in Houston (the First and the Fourteenth) each have nine justices, the courts located in Fort Worth and San Antonio each have seven, the courts located in Austin and Corpus Christi each have six, the courts located in El Paso and Amarillo each have four, and the remaining courts each retain the constitutional minimum number of three. There are now 80 judges serving on the 14 intermediate courts of appeals.

Judges of these courts are elected in partisan elections for sixyear terms of office by the voters in their own districts. They must have the same qualifications for office as the justices of the Supreme Court of Texas.

TRIAL COURTS

The trial courts are those courts in which witnesses are heard, testimony is received, exhibits are offered into evidence, and a verdict is rendered. In a civil case, the verdict determines which party to the lawsuit prevails; in a criminal case, the verdict determines whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of the crime alleged. Defendants in criminal cases and the parties in civil lawsuits have the right to a trial by a jury of either six or twelve local citizens. Except in capital murder cases, the parties have the right to waive a trial by jury and have the pludge presiding over the case make the final determination. Generally, determinations made in the trial courts can be appealed to the appellate courts for review.

The trial court structure in Texas has several different levels, each level handling different types of cases. The state trial court of general jurisdiction is known as the district court. The county-level courts consist of the "constitutional" county courts, the "statutory" county courts, and the "statutory" probate courts. In addition, there are the municipal courts, located in each incorporated city of the State, and the justice of the peace courts, located in precincts of each county of the State.

DISTRICT COURTS

The district courts are the primary trial courts in Texas, the successor to the common law nisi prius courts. The Constitution of the Republic provided for not less than three nor more than eight district courts, each having a judge elected by a joint ballot of both houses of Congress for a term of four years. Most constitutions of the State continued the district courts but provided that the judges were to be elected by the qualified voters. (The exceptions were the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861 which provided for the appointment of judges by the Governor with confirmation by the Senate.) All of the constitutions have provided that the judges of these courts must be chosen from defined districts (as opposed to statewide election) and that court proceedings be conducted at the county seat of each county.

District courts are courts of general jurisdiction. A constitutional amendment adopted effective in November 1985 amends Article V, Section 8 of the Texas Constitution, in pertinent part, as follows:

District Court jurisdiction consists of exclusive, appellate, and original jurisdiction of all actions, proceedings, and remedies, except in cases where exclusive, appellate, or original jurisdiction may be conferred by this Constitution or other law on some other court, tribunal, or administrative body.

This provision, while it extends a district court's potential jurisdiction to "all actions," also makes such jurisdiction relative in that the court's jurisdiction excludes any matters in which exclusive, appellate, or original jurisdiction is conferred by law upon some other court. For this reason, while one can speak of the "general" jurisdiction of a district court, the actual jurisdiction of any specific court will always be limited by the constitutional or statutory provisions which confer exclusive, original, or appellate jurisdiction on other courts serving the same county or counties.

Taking into account the various constitutional and statutory provisions which confer general jurisdiction on other levels of court, it can be said that district courts generally have the following jurisdiction: original jurisdiction in all criminal cases of the grade of felony, and misdemeanors involving official misconduct; cases of divorce; suits for title to land or enforcement of liens on land; contested elections; suits for slander or defamation; suits on behalf of the State for penalties, forfeitures and escheat; and all civil matters wherein the amount in controversy is $200 or more. In those counties having statutory county courts at law, the district courts generally have exclusive jurisdiction in civil cases wherein the amount in controversy is $100,000 or more and concurrent jurisdiction with the statutory county courts at law in cases where the amount in controversy exceeds $500 but is less than $100,000.

The district courts hear contested matters involved in probate cases and have general supervisory control over commissioners courts. In addition, district courts have the power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, certiorari, sequestration, attachment, garnishment, and all writs necessary to enforce their jurisdiction.

Appeals from judgments of the district courts are to the Court of Appeals having jurisdiction over the locale of the district court.

As of September 1, 2000, there were 414 separate district-level courts in operation. Each is identified by separate numbers, each having its own judge elected by the voters of the judicial district. In a number of locations, the geographical jurisdiction of two or more district courts is overlapping.

A 1985 constitutional amendment established a Judicial Districts Board to reapportion Texas judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The same amendment also allows for more than one judge per judicial district.

Most district courts exercise criminal and civil jurisdiction, but in the metropolitan areas there is a tendency for the courts to specialize in either civil, criminal, or family law matters. In some localities, the courts that exercise criminal jurisdiction exclusively are designated criminal district courts. A limited number of district courts also exercise the subject-matter jurisdiction normally exercised by county courts.

SPECIALIZED JURISDICTION

The Supreme Court has repeatedly held that the Legislature cannot reduce the constitutional jurisdiction of a district court. Lord v. Clayton, 163 Tex. 62, 352 S.W.2d 718 (1961); Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W.2d 597 (1941); Reasonover v. Reasonover, 122 Tex. 512, 58 S.W. 2d 817 (1933); St. Louis S. W. Ry. v. Hall, 98 Tex. 480, 85 S.W. 786 (1905). Accord, Zamora v. State, 508 S.W.2d 819 (Tex. Crim App. 1974). See also, Ward v. State, 523 S.W.2d 681, 682 (Tex. Crim. App. 1975); Castro v. State, 124 Tex. Crim. 13, 60 S.W.2d 211 (1933); and dissenting opinion in Ex Parte Bazemore, 430 S.W.2d 205 (Tex. Crim. App. 1968).

In St. Louis S.W. Ry. v. Hall, the Supreme Court stated the rule as follows: "If the Legislature did enough to bring into active existence a district court, it was at once clothed with the powers conferred by the Constitution upon such courts, and any attempts in the act to unduly limit those powers must be treated as futile." 85 S.W. at 788. In Lord v. Clayton, the Supreme Court held that, although the statute creating the 136th District Court of Jefferson County purportedly limited its jurisdiction to civil cases only, and other legislation purported to give exclusive jurisdiction in criminal cases to the Criminal District Court of Jefferson County, the 136th Court was nevertheless a constitutional district court with full power to impanel a grand jury, receive an indictment, and try the accused.

A new facet has been added to this jurisdictional issue by the 1985 amendment of Article. V, Section 8 of the Constitution which now grants the district courts jurisdiction over all matters "except in cases where...jurisdiction may be conferred by this constitution or other law on some other court...".

Although the Legislature has not been able to divest a regular district court of any of its constitutional jurisdiction, the Legislature may, under its constitutional authority to create "other courts" (Tex. Const. art. V, sec. 1) establish special "district-level" courts with limited jurisdiction. See Jordan v. Crudgington, 231 S.W.2d 641 (Tex. 1950) (regarding the Court of Domestic Relations of Potter County); Ex Parte Richards, 137 Tex. 520, 155 S.W.2d 597 (1941) (regarding the Criminal District Court of Willacy County).

One "Criminal District Court" was created with jurisdiction limited to criminal, divorce, dependent and delinquent children, adoption, and civil habeas corpus proceedings:

Criminal District Court of Jefferson County ...... 24.920 1

As will be noted later, most special "Criminal District Courts" have jurisdiction concurrent with county-level courts in criminal matters.

While the courts have ruled that the Legislature may not limit the jurisdiction of regular district courts, the statutes frequently express the intention that certain district courts give primary attention to only a portion of those matters over which they have jurisdiction.

The 65th Legislature, in 1977, converted all functioning domestic relations and special juvenile courts to district courts of general jurisdiction. However, these courts have primary responsibility for cases involving family law matters, including adoptions, birth records, divorce and marriage annulment, child welfare, custody, support and reciprocal support, dependency, neglect and delinquency, parent and child, and husband and wife. Section 24.601, Tex. Gov't Code. Section 24.601 does not limit other district courts' jurisdiction nor relieve them of responsibility for handling cases involving family law matters. Courts with primary responsibility for handling family law matters are known as "Family District Courts." There are now thirty-two such courts:

As of September 1, 2000, 192 statutory county courts and 15 statutory probate courts had been created, largely in metropolitan areas. Four additional courts have been authorized by the Legislature but have not been implemented as of September 1, 2000. Four additional courts have been authorized to become operational at a later date. While the jurisdiction of these courts is generally carved out of that given to the constitutional county courts, the statutes specify in many instances that certain jurisdiction normally in the district court is to be exercised concurrently by the statutory county court and the district court.

49th Webb ...... 24.151 14

In 1991, the 72nd Legislature passed H.B. 66, which provided that a statutory county court exercising civil jurisdiction of the county court, with certain exceptions enumerated in the statutes, has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in civil cases in which the matter in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $100,000 (excluding interest, statutory or punitive damages and penalties, and attorney's fees and costs, as alleged on the face of the petition) and appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission. Sec. 25.003, Tex. Gov't Code. A "statutory county court" means a county court created by the Legislature, including county courts at law, county criminal courts, county criminal courts of appeals, and county civil courts at law.

Forty-two county courts at law have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in appeals of decisions of the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission and civil cases when the matter in controversy does not exceed $100,000:

COUNTY-LEVEL COURTS

The county courts were established by the Constitution of 1836. They were presided over by a chief justice appointed by the Congress of the Republic of Texas for a term of four years. This continued from 1836 to 1841, when the office was made elective. The term was shortened to two years in the Constitutions of 1845 and 1861. Under the Constitution of 1866, the name of the presiding officer of the court was changed from chief justice to county judge, and the term of office was again established at four years.

The county court was abolished by the Constitution of 1869, but was re-established by the Constitution of 1876 with an elected presiding officer, the county judge, serving a two-year term. The term of office was increased to four years by a constitutional amendment adopted in 1954.

Today, the Texas Constitution provides for a county court in each county. Generally, "constitutional" county courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justice of the peace courts in civil cases where the matter in controversy exceeds $200 but does not exceed $5,000; concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts in civil cases where the matter in controversy exceeds $500 but does not exceed $5,000; jurisdiction over probate cases; juvenile jurisdiction; and exclusive original jurisdiction over misdemeanors, other than those involving official misconduct, where punishment for the offense, upon conviction, is by fine exceeding $500 and/or a jail sentence not to exceed one year. County courts generally have appellate jurisdiction (usually by trial de novo) over cases tried originally in the justice of the peace courts and municipal courts. Original and appellate judgments of the county courts may be appealed to the Courts of Appeals.

The Constitution provides that the county judge "shall be well informed in the law of the State ...". This has been interpreted to mean that neither formal study of the law nor a license to practice law is a necessary qualification to hold office as county judge. Currently, of the 254 county judges in the State, approximately 12 percent are licensed to practice law.

Under its constitutional authorization to "...establish such other courts as it may deem necessary...[and to] conform the jurisdiction of the district and other inferior courts thereto," the Legislature has created statutory county courts and statutory probate courts, primarily in metropolitan counties, to provide assistance to the single "constitutional" county court. The Legislature has authorized a total of 215 of these statutory courts in 80 counties to relieve the county judge of some or all of the judicial duties of office. As of September 1, 2000, 207 of these courts were in actual operation in 73 counties. (See list which follows.)

Under the constitutional grant of authority the Legislature has established the following statutory county courts and statutory probate courts (the number of statutory courts in each county is shown in parentheses):

Wise (1) County Court at Law

The judges of these statutory courts are elected in countywide, partisan elections for four-year terms. Any vacancies occurring between elections are filled by appointment of the county commissioners. The statutes creating these courts uniformly require that the persons serving as judges must be licensed to practice law in Texas.

The legal jurisdiction of the special county courts varies considerably and is determined by the specific statute that establishes the particular court. As the varied names suggest, some of these courts have subject-matter jurisdiction in only limited fields, such as civil, criminal, probate, or appellate (from justice courts or municipal courts); however, even the specialized name does not always disclose the complete function of the court. To determine the exact jurisdiction of any one of the statutory county courts, it is necessary to review the specific statute that established it.

In general, statutory county courts, which have jurisdiction to exercise civil jurisdiction concurrent with the constitutional jurisdiction of the county court, have concurrent jurisdiction with district courts in civil matters when the amount in controversy is more than $500 and less than $100,000 and appeals of final rulings and decisions of the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission. Statutory county courts also have, concurrent with the county court, the probate jurisdiction provided by general law for county courts. However, in a county that has a statutory probate court, the statutory probate court is the only statutory county court with probate jurisdiction. Other jurisdiction of a statutory county court is, broadly speaking, either carved out of the constitutional county court's regular jurisdiction or shared with it (concurrent).

The jurisdiction of statutory county courts and their relation to the constitutional county courts take many forms. For three county courts at law, all civil, criminal, and probate jurisdiction of the county court was transferred to the statutory county court:

If the county judge is not an attorney, the county court exercises concurrent jurisdiction with the county court at law only in probate and mental health matters:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

The position of justice of the peace was established by the Constitution of the Republic which provided for a "convenient number of Justices of the Peace" to be elected by the qualified voters of each county, for terms of two years. This office has been retained in all subsequent constitutions, although the jurisdiction of these courts has been severely restricted in later constitutions.

The justice of the peace is important in the capacity as a committing magistrate, with the authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the justice of the peace may hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge the accused, or remand the accused to jail and set bail. In addition, the justice of the peace serves as the coroner in those counties where there is no provision for a medical examiner, serves as an ex officio notary public, and may perform marriage ceremonies.

As amended in November 1983, the Texas Constitution provides that each county is to be divided, according to population, into at least one, and not more than eight, justice precincts, in each of which is to be elected one or more justices of the peace. Approximately 839 justice of the peace courts are in operation today.

Justices of the peace are elected by the voters of the respective precincts of the county in partisan elections for four-year terms of office. There are no constitutional or statutory qualifications to hold this office and only about five percent of the justices of the peace in the State are lawyers.

Justice of the peace courts have original jurisdiction in misdemeanor criminal cases where punishment upon conviction may be by fine only. These courts generally have exclusive jurisdiction of civil matters when the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, and concurrent jurisdiction with the county courts when the amount in controversy is from $200.01 to $5,000. Justice of the peace courts also have jurisdiction over forcible entry and detainer cases and function as small claims courts. Trials in justice of the peace courts are not of record. Appeals from these courts are upon trial de novo in the county court, the county court at law, or the district court.

In thirty-six counties, the county court, by special statute, has been given concurrent jurisdiction with the justice of the peace courts in that county in all civil matters over which the justice of the peace courts have jurisdiction:

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Under its constitutional authority to create "...such other courts as may be provided by law," the Texas Legislature has created municipal courts in each incorporated city of the State.

Presently, municipal courts are operating in approximately 850 cities. Metropolitan cities usually have more than one municipal court. These courts have no appellate jurisdiction, but do have original and exclusive jurisdiction over violations of city ordinances punishable by a fine not to exceed: 1)$2,000 in cases arising under ordinances that govern litter, fire safety, zoning, public health, and sanitation; or 2) $500 in all other cases arising under a municipal ordinance. The municipal courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justice courts in misdemeanor cases resulting from violations of state laws occurring within the city limits when punishment upon conviction is limited to a fine or the case arises under Ch. 106 of the Alcoholic Beverage Code relating to minors and does not include confinement as an authorized sanction Municipal Courts also have limited civil jurisdiction in being able to assess civil penalties for owners of dangerous dogs. Furthermore certain municipalities with a population in excess of 125,000 may declare the violation of city ordinances relating to parking and stopping vehicles to be civil offenses and prescribe civil fines, and establish an administrative adjudication hearing procedure for these offenses.

Municipal judges also serve as magistrates of the State. In this capacity, the municipal judge has authority to issue warrants for the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with the commission of public offenses, both felonies and misdemeanors. As a magistrate, the municipal judge may issue search and arrest warrants, hold preliminary hearings, reduce testimony to writing, discharge an accused, or remand the accused to jail and set bail.

Trials in the municipal courts, generally, are not of record, and appeals go to the county court, the county court at law, or the district court upon trial de novo.

Under the authority of special and general legislation, several municipal courts operate as "courts of record." In the courts of record, a formal record and transcript are made of the proceedings in the trial and appeals of these cases are made on the record perfected in the municipal courts. Such appeals are generally heard in the county court or county court at law, but the Legislature has authorized the City of El Paso to create a municipal court of appeals to hear appeals from that city's municipal courts. The statutes creating these municipal courts of record uniformly require the judge to be licensed to practice law in this State. No such provision is required of the other municipal judges, and of the approximately 1,186 municipal judges in this State, about 28 percent presently are licensed as attorneys.

Selection and terms of office of municipal court judges vary from city to city. While in a few cities, municipal judges are elected at city elections, the vast number are appointed by the governing body of the city. Terms of office are usually two years.

Annual Supplemental Compensation Justices of the Courts of Appeals

Chapter 31 of the Texas Government Code authorizes the counties in each Court of Appeals district to pay each justice of the Court of Appeals for that district a sum not to exceed $15,000 per year for judicial and administrative services rendered. This compensation is in addition to the salary paid by the State. Section 659.012, Government Code, limits the total salary for a justice of a Court of Appeals to a combined sum from state and county sources of $1,000 less than the state salary paid to a justice of the Supreme Court. This same provision limits the chief justices of the Courts of Appeals to receive a combined salary of $500 less than the state salary paid to justices of the Supreme Court. As of September 1, 2000, the annual state salary paid to a justice of the Supreme Court was $113,000.

Various sections of Chapter 32, Government Code, authorize the state salaries of some district court judges to be supplemented from county funds. The General Appropriations Act for fiscal years 1999 - 2000 provides that the combined yearly salary of a judge of a district court may not exceed and amount that is $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary received by justices of Court of Appeals in whose district the district court is located.

The following detailed information regarding supplemental compensation was obtained from affidavits on file with the State Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Justices of the Courts of Appeals

Supplements for the year beginning September 1, 2000 paid by the counties in addition to the basic state salary of $107,850 for Chief Justices and $107,350 for Justices.

Analysis Of Activity For Year Ended August 31, 2000

Overview

The Supreme Court of Texas is the highest state court for civil appeals and promulgates rules of administration and civil procedure for the courts of Texas. It is comprised of the Chief Justice and eight justices.

In fiscal year 2000, the Court disposed, or otherwise acted upon, a grand total of 3,190 matters, an increase of 4 percent from the 3,064 matters passed on in fiscal year 1999.

Regular Causes

Regular causes are regular appeals or original actions pending before the court. Normally, they reach this status when a Petition for Review (formerly a Writ of Error) is granted in the cause. Petitions for Original Mandamus and Habeas Corpus, which are not disposed of upon initial review, and in which the petition is granted, may also become regular causes. Figure 1 details the trend over the last ten years for activity regarding regular causes.

The 116 regular causes added to the Court's docket during the year ended August 31, 2000, was 8 percent more than the 107 regular causes added in fiscal year 1999, and 21 percent less than the 10-year average of 147 regular causes per year.

As for the causes disposed during the fiscal

- Of the 1,063 applications reviewed 97, or 11 percent of them were granted. The rest were denied, dismissed, abated, struck, or withdrawn.
- The 2,011 other writs and motions disposed of in fiscal year 2000 was 4 percent more than the 1,940 disposed during fiscal year 1999.
- During fiscal year 2000, the justices of the Supreme Court wrote 180 opinions (an average of 20 opinions per judge), 9 percent more than the 165 opinions written in fiscal year 1999.

year, the 111 regular causes disposed was 6 percent less than the 118 causes disposed of in fiscal year 1999, and 24 percent less than the 10-year average of 146. Of the regular causes disposed during 2000, 90 came to the court on applications for Petitions for Review from the fourteen Courts of Appeals. Of those dispositions, the lower courts were reversed in whole or in part in 61 causes, or 68 percent of the time; compared to a 64 percent reversal rate in fiscal year 1999.

The 61 regular causes (not including motions for rehearing) left pending represented 35 percent of the total number of regular causes added during the year or carried over from the previous year. This was approximately the same as the 10-year average of 62 pending causes. At the end of fiscal year 1999, 56 regular causes were pending in the Court.

Appeals. If four or more of the nine justices concur, the petition is granted and the cause is scheduled for argument before the court. Figure 2 below details the trend over the last ten years for Petitions for Review and Applications for Writs of Error.

The 1,069 Petitions for Review filed in fiscal year 2000 was 6 percent more than the number of Petitions for Review filed in fiscal year 1999, and 4 percent more than the average number filed in the last 10 fiscal years.

average of 1,049. Of the 1,063 applications reviewed 97, or 11 percent of them were granted. The rest were denied, dismissed, abated, struck, withdrawn, or an opinion was issued.

The 328 Petitions for Review left pending at the end of fiscal year 2000 represented 24 percent of the total docket of petitions filed and pending for the year, and was 6 percent less than the 10-year average of 350. There were 313 Petitions for Review that were pending in the Court at the end of fiscal year 1999.

The number of other writs and motions filed in fiscal year 2000 was 5 percent more than the 1,911 filed during fiscal year 1999, and 5 percent more than the 10-year average of 1,830.

The 2,011 other writs and motions disposed of during fiscal year 2000 was 4 percent more than the 1,940 disposed during fiscal year 1999. This was 11 percent more dispositions than the 10-year average of 1,818 dispositions.

This was 9 percent more than the 165 opinions written in fiscal year 1999, but 14 percent less than the 10-year average of 208. Ninety-nine, or approximately 55 percent of the opinions in 2000 were deciding opinions. Of the remaining 81 opinions, 47 were dissenting, 29 were concurring, 5 were concurring and dissenting.

<sup>* &</sup>quot;Regular Causes" are reported in a separate category because they are the cases which pass through most, if not all, of the steps of the regular appellate decision-making process. Regular causes are cases in which oral argument of counsel in open count is received (unless waived) and in which the Court's decision is usually reported in a written opinion. Most are reviewed in conference by the Supreme Court, before oral argument and decision, upon petition for review (formerly application for writ of error), with four or more of the justices voting that the decision of the Court of Appeals was erroneous and that the petition therefore should be granted. A similar procedure is followed regarding petitions for original mandamus and habeas corpus, which become "Regular Causes" only after review and vote in conference on a petition for review or application to file a petition for original mandamus or habeas corpus.

Overview

The Court of Criminal Appeals is the highest state court for criminal appeals and is composed of a Presiding Judge and eight judges.

Decisions of the Courts of Appeals in criminal cases may be appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals by petition for discretionary review, filed either by the State, or the defendant, or both. In addition, the Court may review a decision on its own motion. Appeal of death penalty cases is direct from the trial court to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Matters Added To The Docket

On Direct Appeals and Granted Petitions for Discretionary Review

During the state fiscal year 2000, which ended August 31, 2000, 575 cases were added to the docket of the Court of Criminal Appeals, of which 175 were cases where discretionary review was granted by the Court and 400 were direct appeals, death penalty appeals, writs of habeas corpus granted, and extraordinary writs. # Analysis of Activity for the Year Ended August 31, 2000

Overview

There are 14 Courts of Appeals in Texas that, since September 1, 1981, have heard intermediate appeals in civil and criminal cases.

Courts of Appeals are located in Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Texarkana, Amarillo, El Paso, Beaumont, Waco, Eastland, Tyler, Corpus Christi, and Houston. Houston has two Courts of Appeals. Each court has jurisdiction over a geographical district. The districts of the Houston courts are coterminous.

The number of justices for each court ranges from 3 each in five courts to 13 in Dallas, which is the largest. There are 80 justices statewide.

Pending Caseloads Continues to Decline

As Figure 1 below indicates, the total pending caseloads of the 14 Courts of Appeals has been increasing steadily over the past fifteen years. The 9,690 cases pending at the end of fiscal year 2000 reveals a more than 80 percent increase from the number of cases pending at the end of fiscal year 1986. However, since last fiscal year, it appears that there is now a new trend.

In fiscal year 1999, the total cases pending at

HIGHLIGHTS

- The Courts of Appeals achieved a clearance rate (total cases disposed / total cases added) of 102.8 percent.
- The total number of pending cases for the Courts of Appeals decreased for the second year in a row-this time by nearly 10 percent.
- The Courts of Appeals disposed of 13,429 cases during fiscal year 2000, which was 14 percent more than the previous fiscal year.
- In fiscal year 1999, the justices of the Courts of Appeals wrote 12,798 opinions. Of these opinions 1,935 were published.
- The average number of cases under submission for more than 24 months was only 2.13 percent
- The Supreme Court transferred 289 civil cases and 680 criminal cases among the Courts.

the end of the year revealed a decrease of more than 7 percent from the previous year. In fiscal year 2000, again, the pending caseload decreased--this time by nearly 10 percent

Of the 5,973 criminal cases pending in the Courts of Appeals at the end of fiscal year 2000, 52 percent had been on the docket less than 6 months, 27 percent from 6 to 12 months, and 21 percent more than 12 months.

Of the 3,717 civil cases pending in the Courts of Appeals at the end of fiscal year 2000, 49 percent had been on the docket less than 6 months, 27 percent from 6 to 12 months, and 24 percent for more than 12 months.

Cases Added to the Dockets

The main contributor to the increasing number of pending cases over the years has been the large number of cases added to the dockets of the Courts of Appeals. The number of cases added has risen steadily since fiscal year 1994, averaging an almost seven percent increase each year.

In fiscal year 2000, a total of 10,914 new cases were filed in the Courts of Appeals during the fiscal year, which included 6,016 criminal cases and 4,898 civil cases. This was a decrease of 2 percent from the 11,114 total new cases filed in fiscal year 1999. New criminal cases filed decreased 4 percent from the 6,145 filed in fiscal year 1999, and civil cases decreased 1 percent from the 4,969 filed the previous year.

Figure 2 below shows the trends in the number of cases added and disposed in the Courts of Appeals over the past 10 years. In this case, cases added refers not only to new cases filed, but rehearings, granted, cases reinstated, cases remanded from the higher and transfers as well. As the charts reveals, the number of cases added has remained relatively stable over the last two years, henceforth, the explanation for the decrease in pending caseload appears to lie in the court's activities in regards to dispositions.

Cases Disposed

The courts disposed of 13,429 cases during the fiscal year, an average of 167.9 dispositions per justice. The 5,457 civil dispositions and 7,7,972 criminal dispositions marked a 2 percent increase over total dispositions in the previous fiscal year, and was 27 percent higher than the 10 year average of 10,595.

Criminal Dispositions

Criminal dispositions increased 13 percent from 7,895 dispositions in fiscal year 1999 to 7,972 dispositions in fiscal year 2000. The average lapse of time between the filing of a criminal case in a Court of Appeals and its dispositions was 10.5 months; the average amount of time between submission of a criminal appeal and its disposition was 1.6 months (a case is considered "submitted" when the court hears oral argument or when it is referred to the justices for formal consideration if no oral argument is heard).

Civil Dispositions

In fiscal year 2000, there were 5,457 civil dispositions by the Courts of Appeals, an increase of 4 percent from the 5,225 civil dispositions in fiscal year 1999. The average lapse of time between the filing of a civil case in a Court of Appeals and its dispositions was 8.8 months; the average length of time between submission of a civil appeal and its disposition was 2.4 months.

Opinions Written

In fiscal year 2,000, the justices of the Courts of Appeals wrote 12,798 opinions, 11 more opinions than written in 1999. Of these opinions, 1,935 of them were published, 10,863 were not published.

Transferred Cases

While the 14 Courts of Appeals operate to a large extent as autonomous courts in specific geographic districts, some equalization of the dockets occurs by transfer of cases among the courts on order of the Supreme Court, pursuant to statutory authority. The Supreme Court transferred a total of 289 civil cases and 680 criminal cases among the courts in fiscal year 2000, compared with 222 civil cases and 425 criminal cases transferred in fiscal year 1999. In addition, the two Houston Courts (1st and 14th) are authorized by statute to transfer cases between those courts. Figure 3 below demonstrates how fiscal year 2000 transfers affected the number of cases added per justice for each of the courts.

The following transfers between the Courts of Appeals were made on orders of the Supreme Court:

Performance Measures Implemented

In fiscal year 1998, the Courts of Appeals began tracking and reporting to the Legislature a new set of key performance measures: the clearance rate, the average percent of cases under submission for more than 12 months, and the average percent of cases filed but not disposed for more than 24 months.

Clearance Rate

The clearance rate addresses the issue of an increasing pending caseload from the perspective that the number of pending cases increases when the number of cases filed and added exceeds the number of cases disposed during the year. The clearance rate is calculated by dividing the number of cases disposed by the number of cases filed and added, and is expressed as a percent. For fiscal years 2000, the courts established a target of 100 percent, indicating that they expect to dispose of at least as many cases as have been added to their docket. The statewide average clearance rate for fiscal year 2000 was 102.8 percent.

Average Percent of Cases Under Submission for More than 12 Months

The average percent of cases under submission for more than 12 months focuses on the average amount of older cases under submission. This measure is an average of all month-end results for the fiscal year, and is calculated by taking the number of cases which have not been disposed of within 12 months from the date of submission divided by the total number of cases under submission as of the end of each month. For fiscal years 2000, the courts established a target of zero percent, indicating that they expect to dispose of all cases within 12 months of the date of submission. The statewide average percent of cases under submission for more than 12 months in fiscal year 2000 was 2.51 percent.

Average Percent of Cases Filed But Not Yet Disposed for More than 24 Months

The average percent of cases filed but not yet disposed for more than 24 months focuses on the average amount of older cases pending cases. This measure is an average of all month-end results for the fiscal year, and is calculated by taking the number of cases which have not been disposed of within 24 months from the date of filing divided by the total number of cases filed but not disposed as of the end of each month. For fiscal years 2000, the courts established a target of zero percent, indicating that they expect to dispose of all cases within 24 months of the date of filing. The statewide average percent of cases filed but not yet disposed for more than 24 months in fiscal year 2000 was 2.13 percent.

Kelly G. Moore 500 W. Main, Rm 204W Brownfield 79316 806/637-1329 The duties of a presiding judge include promulgating and implementing regional rules of administration, advising local judges on judicial management, recommending changes to the Supreme Court for the improvement of judicial administration, and acting for local administrative judges in their absence.

The presiding judge of each region convenes an annual conference of the district and statutory county court judges in the region to discuss the administration of justice and to adopt regional rules of administration. The presiding judge may assign active, senior, and former district judges and active, retired, and former statutory county court judges residing within the region. A presiding judge may request that another presiding judge assign a judge from his region to sit in the region of the requesting judge.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court convenes an annual conference of the nine presiding judges to promote the uniform administration of justice in the State. The Chief Justice is empowered to assign judges of one administrative region for service in another region whenever such assignments are necesary for the prompt and efficient administration of justice.

NINTH ADMINISTRATIVE JUDICIAL REGION

Assignment of Judges to Active Duty in the Trial Courts

The State is divided into nine Administrative Judicial Regions, in each of which a Presiding Judge is designated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. These presiding judges are authorized by Sections 74.054 and 74.056, Government Code, to assign judges of their respective regions for service on courts other than those to which they were elected. Judges who may be assigned are regular, retired ("Senior"), and former district judges, and regular, retired, and former statutory county court judges.

The presiding judge of one administrative judicial region may request that the presiding judge of another region furnish judges for assignment in the region of the requesting judge. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court also is authorized by Section 74.057, Government Code, to assign judges of one administrative judicial region for service in another. The Chief Justice may also assign active and retired appellate judges to the trial bench.

During the year ended August 31, 2000, a total of 8,639 assignments were made to the trial courts of the State and 25,956 days were served by the judges on assignment. Assuming 250 working days per year, this service was the equivalent of 104 full-time judges being added to the trial courts of the state.

Retired and former judges who served during the year totaled 279. These judges received 7,902 assignments and served 25,034 days -- the equivalent of adding 100 full-time judges to active service during the year.

Active judges serving a regular court were assigned to courts in other areas 737 times. These judges served 922 days, adding the equivalent of 3 full-time judges to service.

The highest number of assignments were made within or to the Second Administrative Judicial Region with 2,131 assignments and 5,597 days of service and the First Administrative Judicial Region with 1,655 assignments and 5,869 days of service.

The nine administrative regions made a total of 498 assignments of their resident judges for service in other regions: First (46); Second (67); Third (214); Fourth (30); Fifth (15); Sixth (23); Seventh (12); Eighth (75); and Ninth (16).

DISTRICT COURTS

Analysis of Activity for the Year Ended August 31, 2000

New Cases Added

In fiscal year 2000, there were 414 district courts in operation in Texas. The 76th Legislature, in 1998, approved the creation of 22 new district courts. On September 1, 1999, 9 new district courts were implemented and another 9 were implemented during the year. As of January 1, 2001 it is expected that there will be 418 districts courts operating in the State.

During the 2000 fiscal year, the district courts experienced a six percent increase in the number of new cases added during the reporting year-- from 700,578 cases in fiscal year 1999 to 746,015 in 2000. The number of new criminal cases increased 5 percent from 1999 additions, civil cases increased 7 percent, and juvenile cases increased 3 percent.

As Figure 1 below indicates, civil cases accounted for 65 percent (486,320) of all cases added

during the fiscal year. Family law matters (other than divorce actions) was the largest segment of civil cases added, constituting 42 percent of the civil case additions. Other types of cases that made-up the additions to the civil dockets were: divorce actions constituting 25 percent, tax cases constituting 11

HIGHLIGHTS

- The number of new cases filed in fiscal year 2000 increased 6 percent from filings in the previous year.
- Civil cases accounted for 65 percent of cases added, criminal cases 30 percent, and juvenile 5 percent.
- The district courts disposed of 97 percent of all cases added to their dockets, one percent more than in FY 1999.
- Forty-four percent of all criminal cases disposed and 27 percent of all civil cases disposed in fiscal year 2000 were disposed in 60 days or less.
- Among the criminal cases, the categories with the highest rate of disposition by conviction were felony DWI at 64 percent and capital murders at 59 percent.
- The district courts imposed 24 death sentences and 330 life sentences in fiscal year 2000 percent, accounts and contract cases constituting 5 percent, injury or damage (other than those involving a motor vehicle) constituting 4 percent, injury or damage involving a motor vehicle constituting 4 percent, and other civil cases constituting 10 percent.

Juvenile cases (Title 3 of the Texas Family Code) accounted for 36,813 or 5 percent, of the total cases added in the district courts.

Criminal cases constituted 222,882, or 30 percent, of the total cases added during the year. Of those criminal cases, 22 percent involved drug possession, 20 percent were felony cases (other than DWI), 11 percent involved drug sales or manufacturing, 9 percent involved a charge of theft (not including auto theft), 9 percent burglary, 8 percent assault or attempted murder, 6 percent felony DWI, 5 percent sexual assault, 3 percent were misdemeanor cases, 1 percent were murder of voluntary manslaughter cases, and .2 percent were capital murder cases.

Dispositions

During the fiscal year 2000, the district courts disposed of 97 percent of the total criminal, civil and juvenile cases added to their dockets, as compared to 96 percent in 1999. In a breakdown by type of case, 99 percent of the criminal cases added were disposed, 97 percent of the civil cases added, and 94 percent of the juvenile cases added to the dockets were disposed of during the year.

An average of 1,751 cases per judge statewide were disposed of in fiscal year 2000, as compared to 1,704 cases per judge during 1999.

Of all civil cases disposed during the fiscal year, 24 percent were by non-jury trials, and approximately 46 percent of these non-jury trials were in divorce cases. Of the total civil cases disposed, 38 percent were family law cases (not including divorces), divorce case dispositions constituted 26 percent, and tax cases 11 percent. Of all civil cases, 11 percent were dismissed for want of prosecution, and 15 percent were dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

In criminal cases during fiscal year 2000, the defendant entered a plea of guilty in 39 percent of the criminal cases disposed. Including these pleas, the defendant was convicted in 41 percent of the disposed cases, and acquitted in less than one percent. In 16 percent of the criminal dispositions, the defendant was placed on deferred adjudication. Dismissals accounted for 15 percent of the disposed cases. Transfers and other dispositions made up the remaining 27 percent of the total cases disposed.

Of these dismissals, 25 percent were because the defendant was convicted in another case, 9 percent were due to insufficient evidence, and 8 percent were because the case was re-filed, and 2 percent were because the defendant was not apprehended.

In those cases in which the defendant pleaded not guilty, the defendant was found guilty 73 percent of the time, and was acquitted 27 percent of the time.

Among the criminal cases, the categories with the highest rate of disposition by conviction were felony DWI at 64 percent, capital murders at 59 percent, followed by murder or voluntary manslaughter at 53 percent. The highest rate of disposition by dismissal was sexual assault of an adult at 29 percent, capital murder cases at 28 percent, and indecency with or sexual assault of a child at 22 percent. The lowest rate of dismissal was for robbery cases at 2 percent.

Disposition Rates

As Figure 3 indicates, of the 219,655 criminal cases disposed by the district courts, 33 percent were disposed of in a period of less than two months from the date of indictment or information, 11 percent took two to three months, 9 percent took three to four months, and 48 percent took over four months.

Of juvenile cases handled by the district courts, a finding of delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (CINS) was entered in 57 percent of the cases disposed. Probation was continued in 6 percent of the cases and revoked in 5 percent of the cases. Dismissals and other dispositions occurred in 31 percent of the cases disposed.

Of the 434,335 civil dispositions during the year, the courts disposed of 27 percent of the cases in under three months, 20 percent in three to six months, 20 percent in six to twelve months, 10 percent in twelve to eighteen months, and 23 percent in over eighteen months.

Tax cases tend to stay on the docket for long periods of time compared to other categories of cases. In fiscal year 2000, approximately 30 percent of the tax cases filed during the year, or carried over from the previous year, were disposed of by the district courts, leaving 123, 875 cases pending at the end of the year. Forty-four percent of tax case dispositions were dismissed by the plaintiff, for want of prosecution.

Cases Pending

At the end of fiscal year 2000, there were 781,237 total civil, criminal and juvenile cases pending in the district courts. The 571,066 civil cases pending in the district courts on August 31, 2000 represented a 5 percent increase over the 545,712 of the previous year. The 190,423 criminal cases pending was a 3 percent decrease in comparison to 181,781 cases at the end of fiscal year 1999, and the 19,748 juvenile cases was 5 percent more pending cases than the 18,764 at the end of fiscal year 1999.

At the end of the fiscal year, there were 10,153 post conviction writs of habeas corpus and 2,809 other writes of habeas corpus. There were also 2,101 contempt, extradition and other separately docketed proceeding, and 26,998 bond forfeiture proceedings.

Death Sentences Imposed

In fiscal year 2000, there were 24 death sentences and 330 life sentences assessed in the district courts during the year. In the previous fiscal year, there were 36 death sentences and 329 life sentences.

Explanation Of Case Categories

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is counted as one defendant per indictment or information. For example, if an indictment names more than one defendant, there is more than one case; three defendants named in one indictment equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one indictment, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case; the same person named in four indictments equals four cases.

Finally, if an indictment contains more than one count (Article 21.24, Code of Criminal Procedure) only one case per person named in the indictment is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories are:

1. CAPITAL MURDER:

An offense under Penal Code Section 19.03 (Capital Murder).

2. MURDER OR VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER:

An offense under Penal Code Sections 19.02 (Murder) or 19.04 (Manslaughter).

3. ASSAULT OR ATTEMPTED MURDER:

A felony offense under Penal Code Section 22.01 (Assault) or 22.04 (Injury to a Child or Elder); an offense under Section 22.02 (Aggravated Assault); or an offense of attempt (as defined in Section 15.01) to commit: Murder (19.02), Capital Murder (19.03), or Manslaughter (19.04).

4. SEXUAL ASSAULT OF AN ADULT:

An offense under Penal Code Sections 22.011 (Sexual Assault) or 22.021 (Aggravated Sexual Assault) where the victim is an adult (17 years or older).

5. INDECENCY OR SEXUAL ASSAULT OF A CHILD:

An offense under Penal Code Sections 22.011 (Sexual Assault) or 22.021 (Aggravated Sexual Assault) where the victim is a child (younger than 17 years), and an offense under 21.11 (Indecency with a Child).

6. ROBBERY:

An offense under Penal Code Sections 29.02 (Robbery) or 29.03 (Aggravated Robbery).

7. BURGLARY:

A suit brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 6. (Annulments are not reported here, but under All Other Family Matters.)

9. ALL OTHER FAMILY MATTERS:

Includes all family law matters other than divorce proceedings and those juvenile matters which are reported in the Juvenile Section, including:

- Motions to modify previously granted divorce decrees, or other judgments or decrees, in such matters as amount of child support, child custody orders, and other similar motions which are filed under the original cause number;

LEE COUNTY COURTHOUSE

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

COUNTY-LEVEL COURTS

Analysis of Activity for the Year Ended August 31, 2000

Overview

This section contains the court activity of the 254 constitutional county courts, the 192 statutory county courts-at-law, and the 15 statutory probate courts.

Cases Added

From the number of cases reported in fiscal year 2000, criminal cases constituted 74 percent (566,705) of the 774,764 total cases added to the dockets of the county courts. Total cases added includes all criminal, civil, and juvenile cases added to the dockets, as well as cases filed under probate and mental health. Of the remaining cases, civil cases accounted for 15 percent (114,414), probate cases represented 7 percent (56,627), mental health cases represented 4 percent (28,792), and juvenile cases represented 1 percent (8,226) of the total. Figure 1 below shows the breakdown of total cases added to the dockets of the county courts.

Civil Docket

Of the new civil cases filed, the appeals to the county-level courts, and those cases otherwise added during the year ended August 31, 2000, 32 percent were classified as suits on debt, 15 percent concerned personal injury/damage suits, 7 percent were divorce suits, 9 percent concerned other family matters, 36 percent were other civil cases, and the remaining cases were tax suits.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Criminal cases constituted 74 percent of the 774,764 new cases added or appealed from the lower courts.
- The county-level courts had a clearance rate (total cases disposed/total cases added) of just slightly under 100 percent.
- The county-level courts disposed of 689,072 cases during the fiscal year.
- Twenty-seven percent of all criminal disposition were by dismissal.
- Total cases pending on the dockets of the county-level courts increased by 2 percent -from 765,344 on September 1, 1999 to 779,906 on August 31, 2000.

Criminal Docket

Considering only criminal cases, 22 percent of the new cases filed, appealed to the county-level courts, or otherwise added, were for theft or worthless check, 19 percent were for driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs (DWI/DUID), 11 percent for violations of drug laws, 10 percent were for assault, 12 percent for traffic offenses, and 27 percent were for other criminal offenses.

In fiscal year 2000, 23,839 cases on the countylevel criminal court dockets came by way of appeal from justice of the peace or municipal courts rather than being originally filed at the county-level courts or added in another manner.

Dispositions

Although the county courts had a clearance rate (total cases disposed/ total cases added) of just slightly under 100 percent for the fiscal year, during the twelvemonth reporting period, the county-level courts of the State disposed of only 47 percent of the 1,468,978 total criminal, civil, and juvenile cases on their dockets (added during the year or carried over from the previous year). No statistics on the disposition of probate or mental health cases are recorded. The disposition rate was highest for juvenile cases, with 66 percent. Forty-eight percent of the criminal cases and 42 percent of the civil cases on the docket were disposed.

Of the criminal cases on the docket, the county-level courts disposed of 59 percent of the drug charges, 48 percent of the DWI/DUID charges, 34 percent of theft charges, 56 percent of assault charges, 56 percent of traffic cases, and 55 percent of other criminal cases. Of the criminal dispositions during the year, 47 percent of them were convictions, and less than 1 percent were acquittals.

Deferred adjudication accounted for 74,231 disposition, or 13 percent of the total amount of dispositions. Deferred adjudication was most frequent in traffic cases and drug offense cases—fourteen percent of traffic cases were disposed of by deferred adjudication, and 13 percent of drug offenses.

In fiscal year 2000, there were 2,951 total acquittals in criminal cases, a significant decrease from the 6,231 total acquittals in criminal cases. Of the acquittals, 51 percent occurred in non-jury trials, 43 percent were from jury verdicts, and 6 from direct verdict (or JNOV).

Twenty-seven percent of all criminal dispositions were by dismissal. Within each case category, dismissals accounted for 13 percent of the DWI/DUID case dispositions, 44 percent of the theft cases, 18 percent of the drug cases, 32 percent of the assault cases, 31 percent of the traffic cases, and 24 of the other criminal case dispositions. Seven percent, or 10,485, of the cases were dismissed due to insufficient evidence against the defendant, and 3 percent, or 3,964 of cases were dismissed due to Speedy Trial Act limitations

With regard to civil cases, only 1 percent, or 843, of the cases were determined by jury verdicts. Fifteen percent of the cases were determined by judgements after trial without a jury, and 36 percent of the disposition were by dismissals. The remaining 48 percent were default judgements, agreed judgements, show causes, or other dispositions.

Total Pending Caseload Increases Slightly

Total cases pending on the dockets of the county-level courts increased by 2 percent--from 765,344 on September 1, 1999, to 779,906 on August 31, 2000 This does not include probate or mental health cases. See Figure 2 below for the ten-year trend.

Of the pending caseload, 78 percent were criminal cases, 21 percent were civil cases, and 1 percent were from the juvenile docket. The number of pending criminal cases increased 2 percent during the fiscal year, from 601,544 at the end of fiscal year 1999 to 612,209 at the end fiscal year 2000. Civil cases also increased 2 percent from 159,773 to 163,549, and juvenile cases increased 3 percent from 4,027 to 4,128 over the fiscal year.

CRIMINAL DOCKET

A criminal case is counted as one defendant per information. If an information names more than one defendant, there is more than one case: three defendants named in one information equals three cases. If the same defendant receives more than one information, even if for the same criminal episode, there is more than one case; the same person named in four informations equals four cases.

Finally, if an information contains more than one count (Article 21.24, Code of Criminal Procedure) only one case per person named in the information is reported. The case is reported under the classification for the most serious offense alleged.

The case-type categories are:

1. D.W.L OR D.U.LD.:

A misdemeanor offense under Sections 49.04 or 49.09, Penal Code.

2. THEFT OR WORTHLESS CHECKS:

An offense under Penal Code Section 31.03 (Theft) or Section 31.04 (Theft of Service) or any offense of theft or theft of service if the defendant obtained property or secured performance of service by issuing or passing a check or similar sight order for the payment of money, when the issuer did not have sufficient funds in or on deposit with the bank or other drawer for the payment in full of the check or order as well as all other checks or orders then outstanding (Section 31.06, Penal Code). Also included are appeals of cases brought under Penal Code Section 32.41—Issuance of Bad Checks.

3. DRUG OFFENSES:

An offense under the Controlled Substances Act (Ch. 481, Health and Safety Code) or the Dangerous Drug Act (Ch. 483, Health and Safety Code).

4. ASSAULT:

An offense under Penal Code 22.01 (Assault) or 22.05 (Deadly Conduct).

5. TRAFFIC:

Violations of the provisions of Title 7, Transportation Code and related statutes, except D.W.I. Section 49.04, Penal Code.

6. OTHER CRIMINAL:

An offense not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

CIVIL DOCKET

A civil case, as opposed to a criminal case, is not counted by the number of persons involved in the suit. Each separate suit, normally commenced by the filing of the plaintiff's original petition, defines an individual civil case.

The case-type categories are:

1. INJURY OR DAMAGE INVOLVING MOTOR VEHICLE:

All cases for damages associated in any way with a motor vehicle (automobile, truck, motorcycle, etc.), with or without accompanying personal injury. Examples include personal injury, property damage, and wrongful death cases. Any type of driver's license suspension case, however, is not included in this category.

INJURY OR DAMAGE OTHER THAN MOTOR VEHICLE: Cases for personal injury or damages not arising out of an event involving a motor vehicle. Examples include "slip-and-fall" cases.

3. TAX CASES:

Suits brought by governmental taxing entities for the collection of taxes.

4. SUITS ON DEBT:

Suits based on enforcing the terms of a certain and express agreement, usually for the purpose of recovering a specific sum of 1, oney.

5 DIVORCE.

(Applicable only for some County Courts at Law.) Suits brought by a party to a marriage to dissolve that marriage pursuant to Family Code Chapter 6. (Annulments are not reported here, but under All Other Family Law Matters.)

6. ALL OTHER FAMILY LAW MATTERS:

This category includes all family law matters other than divorce proceedings and those juvenile matters which are reported in the Juvenile Section, including:

- Motions to modify previously granted divorce decrees, or other judgment or decrees, in such matters as amount of child support, child custody orders, and other similar motions which are filed under the original cause number;
- o. Annulments;
- c. Adoptions;
- d. Changes of name;
- e. Termination of parental rights (child protective service cases);
- f. Dependent and neglected child cases;
- g. Removal of disability of minority;
- h. Removal of disability of minority for marriage;
- Voluntary legitimation (Section 160.201, Texas Family Code); and
- All other matters filed under the Family Code which are not reported else where.

7. OTHER CIVIL:

All civil cases not clearly identifiable as belonging in one of the preceding categories.

JUVENILE DOCKET

Juvenile cases are based upon petitions for adjudication of a child alleged to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision (C.I.N.S.) as governed by Title 3 of the Texas Family Code.

PROBATE AND MENTAL HEALTH CASES

PROBATE CASES:

These are governed by the Texas Probate Code, and include matters involving the probate of wills, the administration of estates, and guardianships. A single probate case may involve more than one person.

MENTAL HEALTH CASES:

These are governed by the Texas Mental Health Code and other mental health statutes, and include the commitment of mentally ill or alcoholic persons.

DISTRICT & COUNTY-LEVEL JUVENILE ACTIVITY

Activity in Juvenile Matters Analysis of Activity for the Year Ended August 31, 2000

Introduction

Section 51.04 of the Texas Family Code provides for the designation of a court or courts in each county as the juvenile court, to hear proceedings under Title 3 of the Family Code. The court designated must be either a district court, criminal district court, county court at law, or constitutional county court. The designation is made by the juvenile board in each county, or if no board exists, by the judges of the previously mentioned courts.

This section contains the combined juvenile activity previously reported in the district and county level courts sections of this report. Of the 42,643 juvenile cases disposed by Texas courts in fiscal year 2000, the lion's share (81.1 percent) were disposed by district courts, and the remaining 18.9 percent were handled by county-level courts.

Historical View of the Juvenile Court Dockets

Over the past five years, the number of cases added to the juvenile court dockets has increased by 15 percent from 39,214 in fiscal year 1996 to 45,039 in 2000. To put this increase in perspective, during that same five-year period of time, the number of new criminal cases involving adults added to district courts' dockets has increased by just 5.9 percent.

The number of cases added to the juvenile court dockets in Texas have continued to increase over the past ten years. In fiscal year 1999, a total of 44,003 juvenile cases were added to the courts' dockets compared to 45,039 in 2000. This represents a modest 2.4 percent increase in new juvenile cases (See Figure 1).

The five most populous counties in Texas, based on the 1990 census, account for over half (56.2 percent) of the new juvenile cases added to the docket during fiscal year 2000: Harris County (10,871 cases); Dallas County (4,123 cases); Bexar County (4,753 cases); Tarrant County (2,755 cases); and El Paso County (2,813 cases). Harris County alone accounted for nearly one-quarter (24.1 percent) of the new juvenile cases added to the courts' dockets in 2000.

<sup>1</sup>New cases added to the docket include new petitions filed (35,865), motions to revoke probation filed (4,769), and other cases added (4,405).

In an effort to address the rise in juvenile crime over the past decade, juvenile courts in the larger Texas counties have been using juvenile law masters, referees, and associate judges to assist with detention hearings and the adjudication of cases under Title 3 of the family Code. Sixteen counties, including Hidalgo County which hired a juvenile law referee in 1999 through a Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant, are currently utilizing the services of juvenile law masters, referees, or associate judges to assist with juvenile matters.<sup>2</sup>

Juvenile Case Dispositions

In fiscal year 2000, a total of 42,643 juvenile cases were disposed by district and county courts in Texas, or 94.7 percent of the 45,039 new cases added to the docket during the year. Of the dispositions made in 2000, 25,066 (58.8 percent) resulted in findings of delinquent conduct or conduct in need if supervision (C.I.N.S).

The vast majority (88.7 percent) of findings of delinquent conduct or C.I.N.S, or disposition involving motions to revoke probation, resulted in probation being granted or continued. In 2000, probation was granted under parental care in 81.2 percent of the cases, to residential treatment facilities in 18.2 percent of the cases, and under foster care in the remaining 0.6 percent of the cases.

In fiscal year 2000, a total of 2,497 commitments (or 8.7 percent of all dispositions resulting in findings of delinquent conduct) were made to Texas Youth Commission (T.Y.C) facilities. This represents a decline of 18 percent in the number of children ordered confined to T.Y.C facilities in 1999.

During 2000, a total of 311 children were certified to stand trial as adults (or 1 percent of all dispositions resulting in findings of delinquent conduct). This total is down 11.9 percent from 1999, when 348 children were certified to be tried as adults, and down 45 percent from 1996, when 507 children were certified for trial as adults.

Other actions taken by juvenile courts during the fiscal year included the holding of 32,395 detention hearings and 3,618 hearings on motions to modify court orders.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE COURTS

Overview

There were 836 justice of the peace courts in operation in the State during fiscal year 2000. Each court was requested to submit a one-page report on activity of that court each month. Statewide, a total of 9,122 reports were submitted, out of a possible 10,032 for the year (91 percent reporting rate).

Revenue collected by the reporting courts during the year totaled $207,204,013 dollars, a nine percent increase over the previous fiscal year. The average amount of revenue per disposition was approximately $83 dollars. This revenue is deposited in the treasury of the county where the court has jurisdiction; however, certain court costs on each case are remitted to special funds of the State.

Criminal Cases Continue To Dominate Dockets

Criminal misdemeanor cases accounted for 91 percent of the total cases filed in the reporting courts; civil cases accounted for the remaining 9 percent of new cases filed. As Figure 1 below indicates, although there has been a steady increase in total number of cases filed in recent years, the docket composition for the justice of the peace courts has remained basically unchanged for the last ten years.

HIGHLIGHTS

- The state justice of the peace courts had an average clearance rate (total cases disposed / total cases added) of 87 percent.
- Less than five percent of the case dispositions at trial resulted in appeals.
- Sixty-six percent of all dispositions occurred prior to trial. Most of these, 73 percent, were resolved by payment of fine.
- Of the 330,159 cases that went to trial and were not dismissed, 96 percent were tried before a judge alone.
- Of criminal cases receiving final judgment at trial, 79 percent were awarded a guilty verdict.
- In their capacity as a state magistrate, the reporting justices of the peace accepted 78,288 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 47,516 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies).
- Justices of the peace reported holding 39,031 conferences prior to any legal action being filed in their courts. Of these conferences, 49 percent resulted in cases not being filed as formal cases.

Cases Filed

The 2,635,459 criminal cases filed during the year marked an increase of approximately 5 percent over criminal filings in the previous fiscal year. Traffic cases comprised 76 percent of criminal filings, with the remaining 24 percent for non-traffic misdemeanors. Traffic cases accounted for 70 percent of all cases filed.

The number of civil cases filed in fiscal year 2000 declined by 4 percent in comparison to 1999 filings. Forcible entry and detainer suits made up 50 percent of the 238,417 civil cases filed, with small claims and other civil actions comprising of 25 percent each.

Dispositions

The reporting justices of the peace achieved a clearance rate (total cases disposed / total cases added) of 87 percent. Total dispositions for civil and criminal cases increased 4 percent from 2,397,177 in fiscal year 1999 to 2,495,782 for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2000.

As Figure 2 below indicates, the majority of fiscal year 2000 case dispositions, 66 percent, occurred prior to trial. Most of these dispositions, 73 percent were by payment of fine. Of the 330,159 cases that went to trial and were not dismissed, 96 percent were tried before a judge alone. Jury trials disposed of 12,509 cases. Seventy-nine percent of criminal cases receiving a final judgment at trial were awarded a guilty verdict.

Percentage of Appeals to Dispositions Increases Slightly

The number of appeals filed as a percentage of all cases disposed at trial was slightly under 5 percent in fiscal year 2000-- a slight increase as compared to fiscal year 1999. Criminal appeals for 2000 decreased approximately 4 percent as compared to fiscal year 1999 appeals, and civil appeals declined approximately 8 percent.

Figure 3 shows the trend of appeals filed as a percent of dispositions at trial for the last ten years. While fiscal year 2000 did not reveal a decline in the number of appeals filed as a percentage of dispositions at trial, over the last 10 years there has been a significant decline in the percentage of appeals per disposition. As the chart indicates, the percentage of cases appealed has gone down by nearly 30 percent since 1991.

During the state fiscal year 2000, the reporting justices of the peace held 39,031 conferences prior to legal action. Of these conferences, 49 percent resulted in cases not being filed as formal cases.

Magistrate Responsibilities

The reporting justices of the peace, in their capacity as a state magistrate, accepted 78,288 complaints within the jurisdiction of the county courts and 47,516 within the jurisdiction of the district courts (felonies). The number of county court complaints accepted in fiscal year 2000 increased by approximately 3 percent in comparison to fiscal year 1999, while the number of district court complaints accepted remained virtually the same.

Explanation Of Case Categories

CRIMINAL DOCKET

1. TRAFFIC MISDEMEANORS:

This category includes all fine-only misdemeanor offenses found in the Texas Transportation Code and other laws relating to the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle. Maximum punishment is by fine and such sanctions, if any, as authorized by statute not consisting of confinement in jail or imprisonment.

2. NON-TRAFFIC MISDEMEANORS:

This category includes all other fine-only and Class C misdemeanor offenses.

Many of these offenses are found in the Texas Penal Code of Texas, for example: public intoxication, disorderly conduct, simple assault, theft under $50, and the like. Some common examples of other state laws that contain fine-only misdemeanor offenses are: the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code, Education Code, Family Code, and the Health and Safety Code.

CIVIL DOCKET

1. SMALL CLAIMS SUITS:

This category includes all suits for the recovery of money in which the amount involved, exclusive of costs, does not exceed $5,000. These cases are filed in Small Claims Court. The justice of the peace sits as judge of the Small Claims Court in accordance with Texas Government Code Chapter 28.

2. FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER:

This category includes all suits for forcible entry and detainer (recovery of possession of premises) brought by authority of Texas Government Code, Section 27.031, Texas Property Code Chapter 24 and Texas Rules of Civil Procedure 738-755.

3. OTHER CIVIL SUITS:

This category includes all other civil matters within the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace court where the amount in controversy is not more than $5,000, exclusive of interest. This includes foreclosure of mortgages and enforcement of liens upon or for possession of personal property in cases in which the amount in controversy is otherwise within the justice court's jurisdiction in accordance with Texas Government Code, Section 27.031.

Cautionary Statement

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

It is important to note that reported totals for justice of the peace courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts, because all courts did not submit reports on the activity of their courts to this office.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

Overview

During the state fiscal year 2000, municipal courts operated in 861 Texas cities. Section 71.035 of the Texas Government Code and Sections 171.1 and 171.2 of the Texas Administrative Code require each court to submit a monthly activity report to the Texas Judicial Council. Statewide, the Council received 9,333 reports out of a possible 10,332 for the year (a 90 percent reporting rate).

Revenue collected by the reporting courts totaled $411,337,731 for the year, a one percent increase over the previous year. The amount of revenue per disposition averaged approximately $57 dollars. The courts deposit this revenue in the treasury of the city where the court has jurisdiction; however, certain court costs on each case are remitted to special funds of the State.

Cases Filed

In fiscal year 2000, there were 7,305,255 new cases filed, approximately the same number as filed in fiscal year 1999. As compared to 10 years ago, however, the total number of new cases filed during the fiscal year has grown substantially-- by over 20 percent, or more than 100,000 cases per year. Figure 1 below indicates the number of cases filed over the last decade.

Traffic Cases Continue to Dominate Dockets

Of the total cases filed, traffic cases accounted for 84 percent, and non-traffic criminal cases accounted for the other 16 percent of the cases filed. Non-parking misdemeanors accounted for 82 percent of all traffic misdemeanors filed, with the remaining 18 percent for parking violations. Parking misdemeanors accounted for 15 percent of all cases filed.

HIGHLIGHTS

- The state had an average clearance rate (total cases disposed / total cases added) of 98 percent.
- Only 1.2 percent of the cases disposed at trial resulted in appeals, down from 12 percent in 1986.
- Forty-five percent of all dispositions occurred prior to trial. Most of these dispositions, 82 percent, were by payment of fine.
- Of the 1,201,965 cases that went to trial and were not dismissed, 99 percent were tried before a judge alone.
- Of all cases actually receiving a final judgment at trial, 97 percent were awarded a guilty verdict.
- Municipal courts issued an arrest warrant approximately every 15.8 seconds.
- In regards to juvenile activity, there were 121,167 transportation code offenses, 41,013 alcoholic beverage code offenses, and 2,898 DUI of alcohol offenses filed.

As Figure 1 indicates, the actual docket composition for the municipal courts has not changed dramatically over the last decade; however, non-traffic misdemeanors does appear to be slowly becoming a larger part of the total caseload. Although the number of non-traffic misdemeanors filed in fiscal year 2000 decreased approximately 5 percent over 1999 filings, in comparison to 10 years ago, the number has increased by nearly 62 percent.

In fiscal year 2000, state law violations made up 78 percent of all non-traffic misdemeanors filed, with violations of city ordinance accounting for the remaining 22 percent. As compared to fiscal year 1999, the number of cases involving state law violation has decreased by 6 percent, while cases involving a violation of city ordinance has decreased 3 percent.

Dispositions

The reporting municipal judges achieved a clearance rate (total cases disposed/ total cases added) of 98 percent. Total dispositions for traffic and non-traffic misdemeanors increased 4 percent to 7,183,748 for the year ended August 31, 2000, compared to the total 6,933,398 dispositions in fiscal year 1999.

As Figure 2 below indicates, 45 percent of disposition in fiscal year 2000 occurred prior to trial. Most of these dispositions, 82 percent, were by payment of fine. Of the 1,201,965 cases that went to trial and were not dismissed, 99 percent were tried before a judge alone, and jury trials disposed of 5,057 cases. Of all cases actually receiving a final judgment at trial, 97 percent resulted in a guilty verdict.

15 years.

In accordance with the trend of past years, the total number of appeals filed has been decreasing while the number of cases disposed of at trial has been steadily increasing. The 14,453 cases appealed in 2000 was a decrease of 20 percent from the number of cases appealed in fiscal year 1999. In comparison to 1993, the number of cases appealed has decreased by 80 percent, while the number of cases disposed at trial has increased over 40 percent.

Other Activity

During fiscal year 2000, there were 1,944,174 arrest warrants issued, 4,608 search warrants issued, and 4,731 emergency protective orders given. Safety responsibility and driver's license suspension hearing were held 6,027 times.

In regards to juvenile activity, there were 121,167 transportation code offenses, 41,013 alcoholic beverage code offenses, and 2,898 DUI of alcohol offenses filed. Non-traffic fine-only offenses accounted for 103,929 of the juvenile cases filed.

Appeals Continue to Decrease

The number of appeals filed as a percentage of all cases disposed at trial for fiscal year 2000 remained very low at 1.2 percent, a slight decrease from the previous year. Figure 3 displays the trend for the last

Explanation Of Case Categories

TRAFFIC MISDEMEANORS

This category includes all fine-only misdemeanor offenses found in the Texas Transportation Code and other laws relating to the operation or ownership of a motor vehicle. Maximum punishment is by fine and such sanctions, if any, as authorized by statute not consisting of confinement in jail or imprisonment.

1. NON-PARKING:

This includes all offenses which do not involve offenses for improper parking. Some common examples of non-parking offenses are: speeding, no driver's licence, no financial responsibility, expired registration, failure to wear a seatbelt and the like.

2. PARKING:

This includes those offenses, by state law or municipal ordinance, which involve the improper standing or stopping of a vehicle, for example: parking on a sidewalk, in an intersection, on a crosswalk, or where an official sign prohibits standing or stopping, and the like.

NON-TRAFFIC MISDEMEANORS

This category includes all other fine-only and Class C misdemeanor offenses:

1. STATE LAW

Many of these offenses are found in the Texas Penal Code of Texas, for example: public intoxication, disorderly conduct, simple assault, theft under $50, and the like. Some common examples of other state laws that contain fine-only misdemeanor offenses are: the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code, Education Code, Family Code, and the Health and Safety Code.

2. CITY ORDINANCE

These offenses include the non-traffic offenses found in municipal ordinances, for example: barking dog, dog running at large, operating a business without a permit, fire safety, zoning, littering and the like. The penalty range for these offenses is established by ordinance according to the following parameters set by state law: a city ordinance is punishable by a fine not to exceed: 1) $2000 for ordinances that govern fire safety, zoning, and public health; or, 2) $500 for all others.

Cautionary Statement

Perhaps more caution should be used in drawing general conclusions from court statistics than from statistics on other subjects. The included data do not attempt to portray everything courts or judges do, or how much time is spent on court-related activities not represented by these court statistics.

Particularly the county court judges, justices of the peace, and municipal court judges spend a large amount of time counseling with the people in their communities, and as a result of this counseling, many cases are not filed. In addition, as a result of their official position, many of these judges have non-judicial responsibilities in the community which are not reflected in these statistics.

It is important to note that reported totals for municipal courts do not reflect 100% of the activity of those courts, because all courts did not submit reports on the activity of their courts to this office.

TEXAS JUDICIAL SYSTEM

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION CENTERS

The Alternative Dispute Resolution Centers of Texas were reauthorized and expanded in scope in 1987 by the 70th Legislature "to encourage the peaceable resolution of disputes, with special consideration given to disputes involving the parent-child relationship,... and the early settlement of pending litigation through voluntary settlement procedures." (Acts 1987, 70th Legislature, Chapter 1121, Section 1.) Alternative Dispute Resolution Centers provide an opportunity to resolve conflicts creatively and effectively outside the courtroom using a variety of mechanisms including mediation, arbitration, negotiation, and moderated settlement conferences.

Eleven centers submitted reports for the period September 1, 1999, through August 31, 2000. Of the activity reported, 17,985 cases were received during the reporting period, 16,337 were closed, and 3,000 cases were pending at the end of the reporting period.

This summary is based on reports from alternative dispute resolution centers. It does not include information from judges and court clerks, nor from numerous private groups and other organizations which actively employ alternative dispute resolution procedures which are not reported.
